Herb Crowder Honored At Retirement

This year we must say good-bye to an outstanding man who has been at Northwest College for nearly thirty years. Herbert W. Crowder came to N.C. in 1955 as an assistant to the President in fund-raising and then in 1957 became the Business Manager. In 1966, Rev. Crowder became the Director of Development, the position he has held since. As Director of Development, Rev. Crowder spends most of his time off campus, traveling to churches in N.C.'s supporting districts to raise the necessary funds for the college's development.

Before coming to Northwest College, Rev. Crowder held business and sales positions in several companies, including Zellerbach Paper Company and Johns-Manville. He received a diploma from LaSalle Extension University.

Being involved in the training of ministers and lay people at N.C. is not something new to Rev. Crowder, as he was himself a pastor for some 18 years in Washington churches, including churches in Auburn and Colfax. He was licensed by the Northwest District of the Assemblies of God in 1932 and ordained in 1935. While living in Tacoma, he served on the board of Youth For Christ. He was also the vice president of the board of Morning Cheer Radio Broadcast several years ago.

Currently, Rev. Crowder is a member of the Kirkland Kiwanis and a member of the board of the Chamber of Commerce. He and Dolly, his wife of eight years, are members of Bellevue Neighborhood Church. The newest dormitory facility, Crowder Hall, is named in honor of him.

This year Rev. Crowder is officially retiring from his position at N.C., but we shouldn't be surprised if we see him on campus periodically. After all, it would be difficult to break a habit of almost 30 years! Perhaps, though, in his retirement he will have more time for his other passion, golf, and other things he enjoys - his daughter, two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, and hunting.

Rev. Crowder, we thank you very much for your tremendous and faithful contribution to Northwest College over the years - we really do appreciate you and will miss you!

Skip Honored For A Job Well Done

▲ The Skip Bennett Family: Skip, his wife

▲ "It's a home run!"

▶ "Mr. P.R."

Over the years, members of the faculty and administration have been honored for a variety of noteworthy reasons. This year Rev. Sherman "Skip" Bennett, a motivated and hard working young man who is intensely dedicated to the cause of Northwest College, is one of those who has been chosen.

Skip Bennett is a man of many abilities and responsibilities. As the Director of Public Relations of Northwest College, he is responsible for new student recruitment: all printed promotional material that goes out from the college; the training and scheduling of the Summer Ministry Teams; assistance in planning various activities, such as Parent's Weekend and Campus Day; and advising the Karisma on Business matters.

Although this is only Skip's third year as PR director, Northwest College is not an unfamiliar place to him. Skip attended N.C. from 1962-1966. Public relations is not a new thing to him either, as he was a member of the traveling choir and of a PR group, the Conquerors, while he was here as a student.

It is very evident to us at N.C. that Skip has a very special place in his heart for young people. Gale, his wife, told us that he always said he would die a youth pastor. After leaving N.C. in 1966, Skip was minister of youth and music at the Church by The Side of the Road in Seattle, then at Yakima Stone Church, at Angle Lake Neighborhood Church, and finally at Spanaway Assembly of God. (Incidentally, while at Spanaway, he was involved in a busing promotion for the church and went on record in the Guinness Book of World Records for making the largest popsicle!) And today, Skip is still involved with youth ministry ... "touching the root of the future with the youth at Northwest College."

Although Skip is extremely busy in his PR position, high on his priority list is spending as much time as possible with his wife Gale, a secretary at the Northwest District Office and the editor of the Northwest Messenger, and his two children, Tami, 16, and Robbie, 13. An avid sports fan, Skip loves to play baseball and makes time for camping and backpacking with his family.

Skip, we thank you very much for your contribution to Northwest College and to Karisma. We really do appreciate you. Oh, yes, we will "keep smiling!"

Mrs. Stewart Honored For Her Many Talents

Mrs. Marjorie Stewart is one of the reasons why we are able to have such a publication as the Karisma. Aside from her duties as an English and Literature professor at Northwest College, Mrs. Stewart is the head advisor for the Karisma, being responsible for the printed copy, proofreading, and for the lay-out design.

One of the most impressive aspects about Northwest College faculty, administration, and staff is the number who have attended N.C. themselves. Mrs. Stewart is one of those people. In 1946, she received a three year diploma from N.C. and then in 1975 a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Washington in English with an emphasis on Composition and Advanced Writing.

Mrs. Stewart, now in her sixth year at N.C., received an honorary membership in Delta Epsilon Chi, the Honor Society of The American Association of Bible Colleges. She received this award through N.C. in 1976.

In 1981 she earned a Masters Degree in English from the University of Washington.

An English career is not something Mrs. Stewart keeps only in the classroom. She is an author in her own right, having articles published in the Sunday School

Counsellor, the Pentecostal Evangel, and Live. Mrs. Stewart has also written a neighborhood Bible studies manual, Neighborhood Evangelism, for the Women's Ministries Department of the Assemblies of God. Presently, she is correspondent for Beauty Dealer Press, a trade paper published in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Stewart has also been a featured speaker at churches, conventions, women's retreats and workshops. She is currently the Neighborhood Bible Study Coordinator for Calvary Temple in Seattle and for the Northwest District of the Assemblies of God.

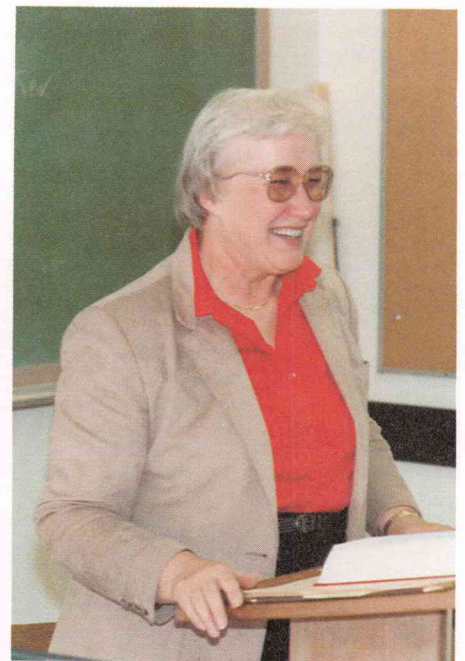

There are obviously many, many things to keep her busy, but also very important to her is her family: her husband, J. Robert; her children, Tim, Cindy, Kathy, and Gail; and her three grandchildren. In any free time that she can find, Mrs. Stewart thoroughly enjoys nature — being involved in almost any outdoor activity and reading on the subject. She also enjoys photography and has taken pictures to accompany some of her published articles.

"Mr. G" Honored For 18 Years Of Service

The consistency and tenure of the faculty of Northwest College is one of the things that help to make it one of the most reputable Bible schools of the Assemblies of God. We honor one faculty member who is completing his eighteenth year at N.C. -

Philip Gustafson, Professor of Sciences.

In addition to his responsibilities as a teacher, Mr. Gustafson is also the photography advisor for the Karisma. The Karisma staff appreciates his supportive attitude and his willingness to spend countless hours of his own time taking pictures at school activities. He has had an interest in photography for many years and

Mrs. Roberta Gustafson claims that his photography involvement and experience at N.C. is actually a dream come true for him.

Mr. Gustafson was born in Seattle but has lived in a variety of places in Oregon and Washington, as his parents were ministers. After being named Valedictorian of his high school graduating class, he attended Oregon State University and received honors in Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Eta Sigma.

The teaching profession must have been an area of interest right from the beginning as Mr. Gustafson taught in Mollala and Oregon City, Oregon, schools for ten years after graduating from Oregon State. He also must have had a very special impact on the students, for in leaving Oregon City he was honored as the "Greatest Science Teacher and Friend."

Currently, Mr. Gustafson and his wife Roberta are active members of Bellevue Neighborhood Church. They have two sons, Gary and Doyle, and a new daughter Monica, Doyle's wife since 1981.

In reflection of the past years, Mrs. Gustafson tried to capture both her and her husband's thoughts as she said, "Our 18 years at N.C. have been very fulfilling and rewarding."

Mr. Gustafson, we thank you very much for your contribution to Northwest College and to Karisma. We really do appreciate you. You can take our picture any time!

Let light shine out in the great Northwest" — that's the opening phrase of Northwest College's alma mater. For fifty years this light has been penetrating, increasing in intensity far beyond the earliest dreams of the College's founders.

The record is impressive. Over ten thousand students have passed through these halls. More than three thousand graduates — pastors, teachers, missionaries, leaders, associate ministers, lay persons — a veritable army encircling the globe. The light has penetrated to the far corners of the earth.

Foundational Years: 1934-1949

The early sparks that ignited this vision were almost lost. From unsuccessful attempts at beginning a school in the Centralia area, no sustained flame was realized. Then the light began to kindle in the vision of a pastor in Fargo, North Dakota, Henry H. Ness. A Presbyterian pastor was praying in those days for a Bible School in the Green Lake area of Seattle. He later acknowledged that Northwest Bible Institute was the answer to that prayer.

Founded under the auspices of the Northwest District Council of the Assemblies of God, Northwest College opened to students on October 1, 1934. Dr. Henry Ness — then pastor of Hollywood Temple — became the first president (initially referred to as the principal), and the school was housed in the church facilities. Although helping to fan the early flame, the District assumed no financial obligation for keeping the flame burning.

Eighteen students formed the first class, and the first student to register was Edithora Glew (nee Owen). Through the years this first student not only became a part of the ministry herself, but now points to a son-in-law, Richard, and a grandson, Kevin, also graduates of Northwest College in full-time ministry. The light has reflected from heart to heart. The story has been repeated numerous times.

The early years of the school found a largely voluntary faculty and staff; great emphasis was placed on practices and prayer. Instructors included E.V. Bronson, J.A. Bogue, Delbert Cox, P.S. Jones, and Helen Giles. Serving as matron was Mrs. A.B. Christenson. First full-time Dean was C.C. Beatty, whose rendition of "40 Years Ago" will long be remembered by scores of early students. Fondly, students referred to Brother Beatty as "Grace" and to President Ness, of a bit stronger disposition, as "Law." Both men, from their giftedness, left a profound impact on the students.

The first graduating class from Northwest Bible Institute was the class of 1937. It was forty-five strong, with twice as many ladies as men. Harry Pennington, the class president, was one of the first among nearly 350 missionaries who received their training at Northwest College — an enviable record. There was a great "togetherness" in this early student body, as evidenced by the send-off of the Tangens, missionaries to the Far East. The whole student body was present dockside to see them off.

The forties brought the war years and growing enrollment — 258 student total at the beginning of the decade. "Johnny came marching home again," and scores of veterans swelled the ranks of students to a high of 382 in 1946. That total would not be surpassed again until 1965.

The year 1949 was a significant year for Northwest College. Its founder and President, Dr. Henry Ness, resigned to accept appointment as Chairman of the State Board of Prison Paroles. The year also marked the beginning of four-year programs in the College curriculum.

The Developmental Years: 1949-1966.

God had a man prepared to fill the presidency during times especially challenging to the College. Henry Ness had given birth to a vision; now a new era of development was needed. Charles E. Butterfield, after years of successful pastoring in Everett, Washington, came to the helm of Northwest College (then Northwest Bible Institute), and the light spread. The Board of Control of the College was regionalized to include other districts within the Assemblies of God: Montana, 1951; Southern Idaho, 1957; Alaska, 1967; Wyoming, 1975. In 1953 the College received accreditation with the American Association of Bible Colleges. In 1955 a liberal arts division was organized.

Perhaps the highlight of the Butterfield years is found in the now-famous "Miracle Story." The conditions needed to get this property; the raising of monies; the absolute miracles that happened; the tireless work of men such as R.J. Carlson, H.W. Crowder, H.J. Secrist, President Butterfield, and the planning commission are chronicled elsewhere. Suffice it to say, Northwest Bible College had a new base from which its light would shine, and the intensity grew. Ground-breaking took place in 1958 and seldom has the sound of construction ceased since.

The original plan called for a campus to service four hundred students; enrollment has sometimes doubled that in recent years. Since completion of the new campus, enrollment has climbed steadily. In 1966, after many years of dedicated leadership, C.E. Butterfield stepped aside as President of Northwest College.

A new freeway planned for the city of Seattle threatened and eventually eliminated the old Hollywood Temple, then occupied by the College. The congregation of Calvary Temple, formerly Hollywood Temple, had built new facilities across the street from the old building.

Thus, property search was begun. In God's providence and timing, choice acreage became available as government surplus in Houghton, Washington (since annexed to Kirkland). President Butterfield, sensing God's leading, knelt on one of the old foundations (this had been a war housing project) and claimed it for the College.

God must have a sense of humor; The then mayor of Kirkland opposed the College's getting the property; today, Northwest College's president is the present mayor of Kirkland.

he Midwest was again to provide leadership for Northwest College. D.V.

Hurst, who had served at national leadership levels with the Assemblies of God and who had attended North Central Bible College in Minneapolis, Minnesota — a model in the early days for Northwest Bible Institute — became the third President in Northwest College's history. Under his articulate and competent administration, the College has continued to expand and its "light" to burn brighter than ever.

A master plan has been adopted and numerous buildings added to the campus. Guy Hall was completed, Gray and Crowder Halls built to accommodate the growing student body, the dining hall enlarged. More classrooms were needed, so the Learning Center was built. The Library was moved from the basement of the Chapel to a building constructed purposely to house the growing collection of books. Plant facilities, curriculum have all expanded, a new level of academics reached without sacrificing the original intent of the College. In 1973 Northwest College became regionally

Association of Schools and Colleges. Northwest College had come "of age."

During these years many other significant steps have been taken to insure a bright future. The establishment of the Lay Council and the substantial financial support they have given will further strengthen NC's growth. The Alumni Council has taken a more active role in the recruitment of new students. The students themselves are involved in internships in local churches during their college days and the work goes on and on.

The future for Northwest College has never looked brighter. During its fifty years of continuous ministry in the training of young people for God's service, a great army of pastors, associate ministers, missionaries, teachers, leaders, and lay persons have trained at Northwest College and are serving the church. This year hundreds more will join the growing stream of workers. The alma mater still rings through the halls, a living reality — "Let light shine out . . ."

What a vision brought Northwest College into being! What a fulfillment it has seen! And the light goes on shining!

Like a mighty army
Moves the church of God.
Brothers, we are treading
Where the saints have trod . . ."

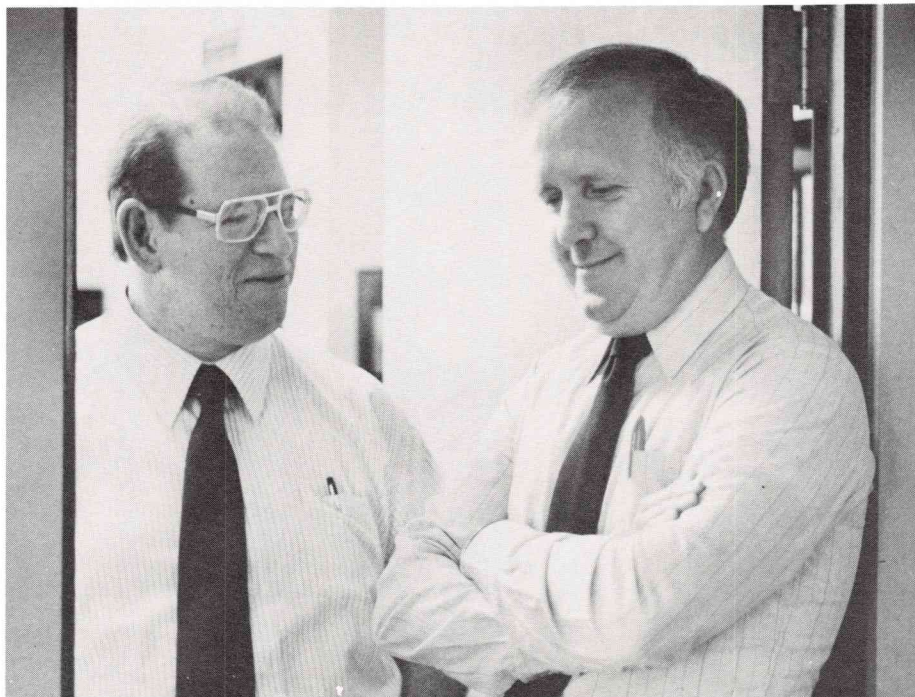

What greater task can there be than to be involved in the training of His Army? He became the "arch-leader" of salvation, pointing the way and saying, "Follow me." He has assured victory and reward.

Let the march continue!
Let the ranks of soldiers grow!
Let the enemy quake at the sound of the Conqueror's tread !

Board Of Directors

Whereas, Northwest College was founded half a century ago, the result of God-given vision and faith although lacking visible evidence of what its future might hold, and

Whereas, the prayers, labors, and sacrifices of many faithful men and women over the years have maintained and enlarged the founding vision to make Northwest College a source of shining light in this region and to the world, and

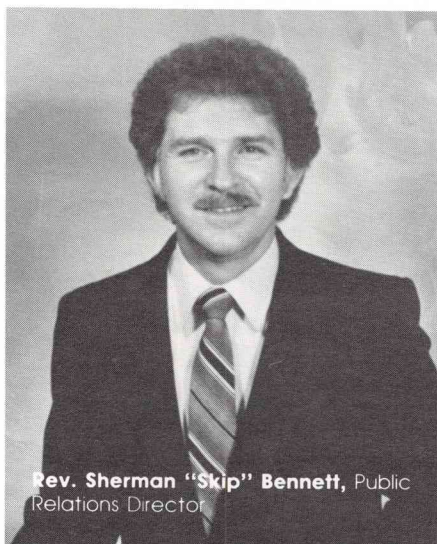

Whereas, Northwest College, under God, has experienced great progress which includes remarkable enrollment growth, able and dedicated personnel, and a spacious and beautiful campus populated with suitable modern buildings, and

Whereas, Northwest College has experienced through the years spiritual refreshings from God through which many hundreds of students have been motivated and prepared to give their lives to Christian ministry throughout the world, and

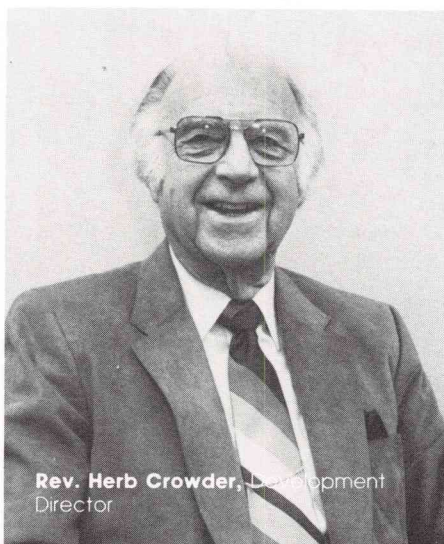

Whereas, Northwest College is presently enjoying evidences of God's blessing which give promise of great future usefulness to God's kingdom,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Northwest College Board of Trustees proclaim academic year 1983-1984 a Year of Golden Jubilee Celebration for Northwest College, and call upon all friends of Northwest College to join with past and present members of the Northwest College administration, faculty, staff, and student body in giving of thanks to God for His abundant blessings, in honoring the contributions of those men and women whom God has used to bring these things to pass, in praying for God's continued blessings upon His work, and in joyful celebration of God's faithfulness to Northwest College through its first fifty years of existence.

Deans And R.C.'s

Mrs. Virginia Mathison has been the Resident Dean of Women at NC for five years.

Dean Mathison encourages young people to live secure, joyful lives in Christ while she successfully maintains a pleasant atmosphere where NC students live. The close personal contact she shares with the students enables her to observe growth and maturity in NC young people which she says is what she likes best about her work.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathison

John and Christie Young

John Young, Resident Dean of Men, has a goal to see all the people he works with at NC achieve a sincere desire to live each day for God and His people, allowing Christ to live in and through each of them with joy. When asked about his work he said, "I love it." Dean Young is a communicator of love and duty, making the growing process for men at NC a meaningful experience. He has been Dean of Men four years.

Vickie Pettis

Being there to help other students grow together and in the Lord is much of what Vicki Pettis does as Guy Hall Resident Counselor. She serves as a friend and minister while carrying out her responsibilities in the women's hall. Vickie is a Bible Literature major with a minor in Missions. Her ministry begins right here at NC.

Steve Taylor looks at his job as Grey-Beatty Resident Counselor as an opportunity to be used by God in having a positive effect on students lives. Challenged, determined, and hopeful, he wants to help students find God's direction in their lives while experiencing fun and growth at NC. His wife, Alice, joins him in his ministry on campus. Steve is majoring in Pastoral Ministries.

Jael Howard

Steve and Alice Taylor

Jael Howard enjoys being able to reach out and share with the girls on campus. She likes getting to know people and being able to minister as Perks Hall Resident Counselor. She says, "most of all I want Jesus Christ to use me as his instrument and to love people through me." Jael's major is Bible Literature with a minor in Music.

Secretaries

Behind every great professor and administrator is a truly great secretary! And NC's thoroughly efficient crew of secretaries continually work to make this a great college. They prove their worth over and over again by laboring diligently and taking on tasks that otherwise would be neglected.

Library

Centrally located on campus, the D.V. Hurst library provides students with the resources they need to complete all those class assignments. "I find it so exciting to work with college students and feel that I am helping them prepare for work in the Master's vineyard," say librarian Ruth Petty.

In this frame of mind she runs the library in such a way that NC students really benefit. The library has been successfully managed for over five years by Ruth Petty along with Margaret Frye, Catalog Librarian, and Dennis Lee, Technical Services Assistant. Cindy McLean joined the library staff two years ago as secretary-bookkeeper. Together they work to assure students that volumes upon volumes are readily available to all who seek knowledge and understanding.

Bookstore/Snack Shack

Every student has gone to the bookstore for one thing or another — usually to buy all the books needed for the quarter or maybe just to buy some supplies. A lot of people like to go in and just look around. Mrs. Esther Pecota has been helping students find their books for twenty years in the NC bookstore, and Mrs. Jackie Randolph has been doing the same for ten years. After buying a good book some students want to go around the corner to the S.U.B. Snack Shack where they can get something to munch on while they relax and start reading something besides collateral. Spring Spiritual Emphasis

Dr. George Wood, pastor of Newport-Mesa Christian Center in Costa Mesa, California, was the Spring Quarter Spiritual Emphasis Week speaker, March 28-April 1.

The son of missionary parents to China and Tibet, Dr. Wood holds a B.A. degree from Evangel College in Springfield, Missouri, and received Bachelor of Divinity and Doctrate of Pastoral Theology degrees from Fuller Seminary in Pasadena California.

Dr. Wood has authored four books, including You Can't Beat The Beatitudes and Acts: A Study Guide. His book on Acts is currently being translated into Russian for use by the Evangelical Baptist Alliance of Russia in the training of ministers.

Currently, he serves as a member of the Board of Directors of Southern California College in Costa Mesa and as a member of the District Council of the Assemblies of God.

Dr. Wood came to our campus with a tremendous ministry and message for us, a ministry that both challenged and encouraged students, faculty, and administration.

World Outreach Ministries

The WOM program has been designed with the student body in mind. Without a student body, there would be no WOM program.

WOM is run by, financed, and used by the student body. They elect its officers, give offerings to support its foreign and home missions projects, and participate in its ministry opportunities.

WOM has basically two types of outreach. One is here at home through each of the ministry interest groups (MIGS). The other is away from home. In this outreach, we bring missionaries to speak to the students in weekly chapel services, and we support them and their missionary projects through love offerings from student giving.

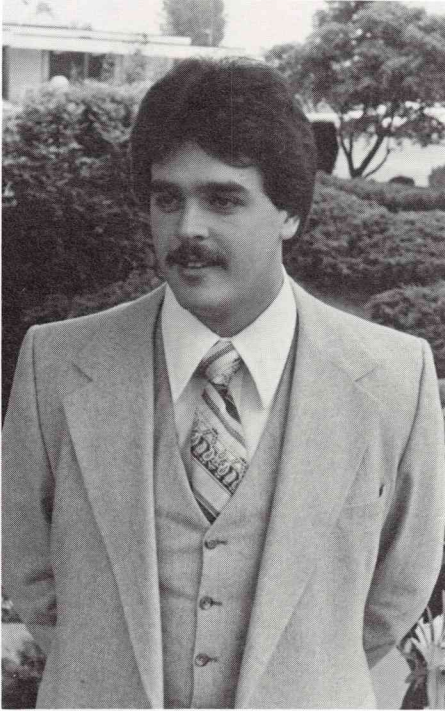

Through WOM we have tried to make the students more missions-oriented and more aware of the importance of missions at home and abroad. When we look at the Word from God's perspective, we see that the whole world is God's "mission field."

Campus MIG

The Campus MIG is a foundation-building group for Northwest College. It seeks to promote a Christ-like attitude in our students by a consistent prayer life and request list presented at various activities, including campus singspirations, share groups and prayer cells.

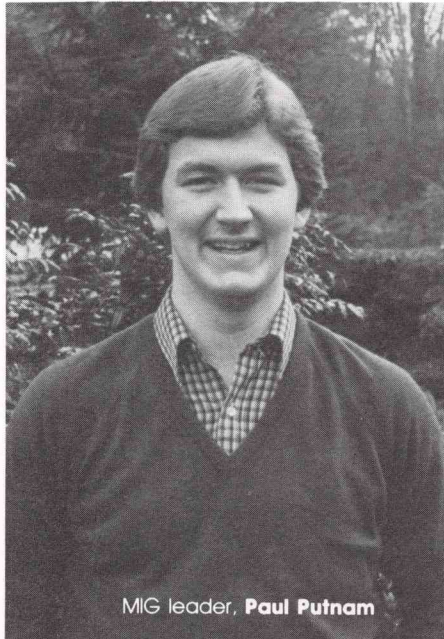

The Campus MIG, under the leadership of Debbie Burton and Paul Putnam, is responsible for selecting chaplains for every floor in the dorms. They also are responsible for the set-up and clean-up of our Chapel Communion times and for the Foreign Student Banquet, which is an annual Fall event. Paul shares his philosophy on the group: "Campus MIG's concern in prayer and spiritual growth provides a backbone for the very purpose of serving the Lord and doing His work. As WOM reaches out to the world in various ways, it is our desire to reach into the campus of N.C. and help create a prayerful attitude in those going out."

Children's MIG

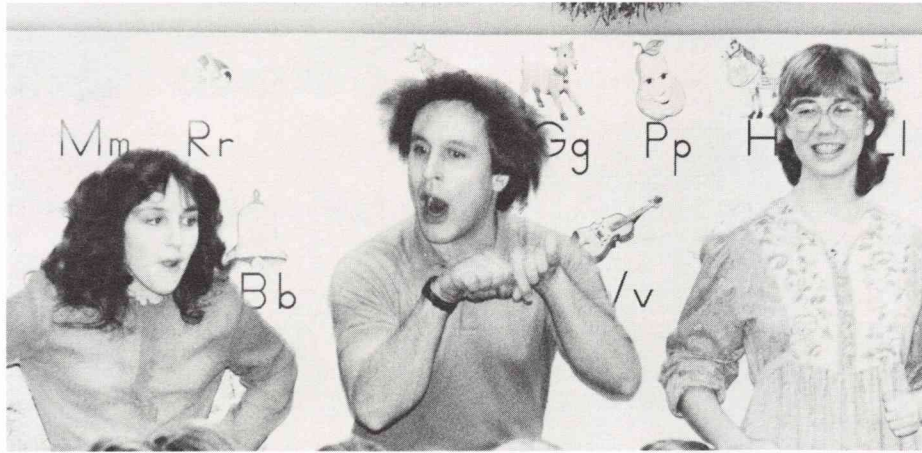

John Tenness, Linnae Swager, John Marvin, Jana Vigoren, Linda Sue Bennett, Sarah Kemper, Martin Michaelson

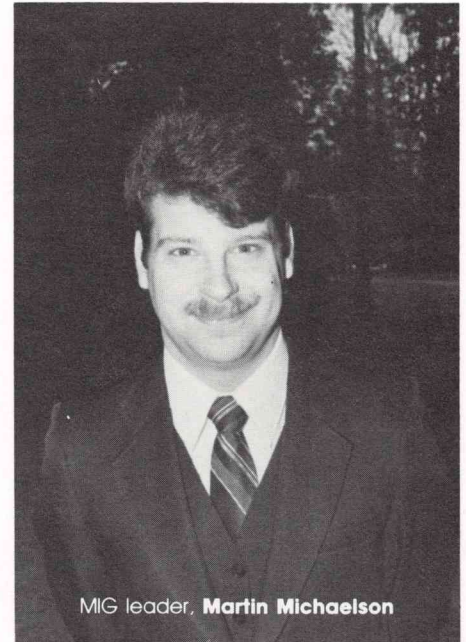

The Children's MIG has always been a very effective group that has been involved in a wide variety of activities. Under the direction of Martin Michaelson, about 15 to 20 students have been participating in the group this year.

The MIG usually begins the year with a weekend seminar. They then become involved in children's programs in local churches, Bible Clubs, Bible studies, and in a visitation program to the Children's Orthopedic Hospital.

Leading children to Christ and giving N.C. students the chance to be involved in children's ministry are the essential goals of the group.

Martin Michaelson and Lyndon Lyngele

MIG leader, Martin Michaelson

Community Service MIG

"Community Service MIG is ministering to the needs of our community and sharing the love of Christ as we meet its needs," says leader Pat Sweet.

And this is just what they've been doing! There are three very active groups within the Community Service MIG. One is the "CRISTA Outreach," led by Roger Phillips. Students are involved in Bible studies and sing-a-longs for the retirement center.

Another group is "Adopt-a-Brother," led by Harvey Walls, involving over 30 N.C. students. The other activity is called "Labor of Love" and is led by Pat Sweet.

This involves some 300 of our students who have volunteered their time and skills to help the senior citizens of Kirkland in whatever way is needed, including visitation, painting, various repairs, moving, wood cutting, shopping, and transportation.

Students active in this MIG were also involved in other projects this year, including harvesting over 350 pounds of apples for local food banks, and providing volunteer coaches for the Boys and Girls Clubs.

Youth MIG

Youth MIG - a group of caring N.C. students trying to be role models for young people who need to see Christianity in action.

The Youth MIG, under the direction of Greg O'Connor, is primarily involved with the Echo Glen Detention Center for Youth. Here they become involved with a group of hurting kids between the ages of 10 and 21. Our students develop relationships with them, enjoy sports activities, talk, share, become a friend, and just show them that they care.

Summing up the purpose of the Youth MIG, Greg says: "I believe with prayer and a burden for youth God will reveal himself in Christ to these kids."

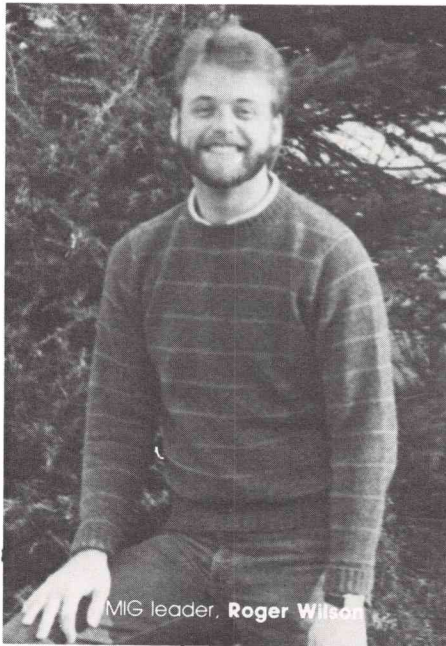

Gospel Team MIG

One of the greatest things about N.C. is the tremendous opportunity students have to become involved in ministry. WOM's Gospel Team MIG is just one of those ministry opportunities.

The purpose of the Gospel Team MIG is to provide the chance for students to develop their musical ministry on a personal level. Says leader Roger Wilson, "My goal is to see the Lord have His will with the teams as groups, but even more as people preparing for His work." There are several Gospel Teams available to sing in various churches, for special functions, banquets, and even for retreats.

Rhonda Stoller, Leah Greer, Megan Perkins

This is a great opportunity for students to not only have ministry experience, but for them also to represent Jesus Christ and Northwest College to a variety of people in the area.

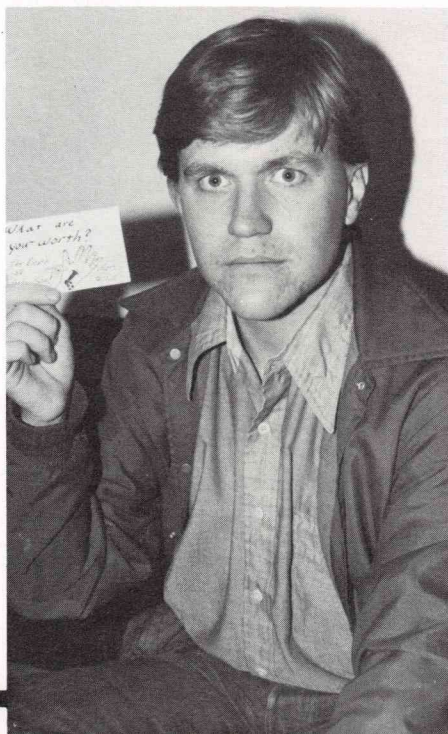

The Deaf Ministries Group

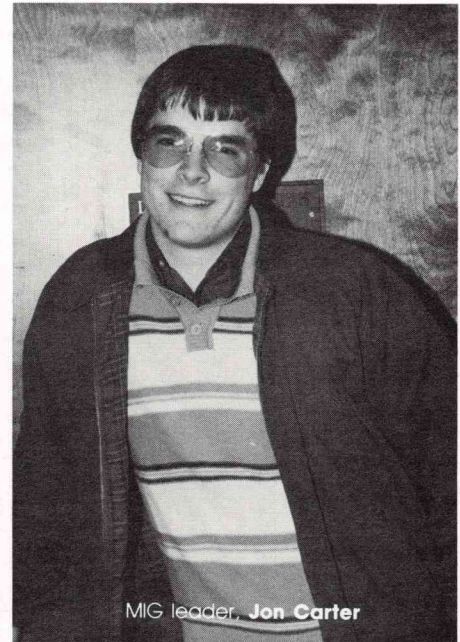

Shelly Ayala, Patty Covey, Linda Brooks

Evangelism MIG

The Evangelism MIG has a two-fold purpose: 1) to lead people to a saving knowledge of Christ, and 2) to give students practical experience in evangelism. It is putting our faith in action, practicing what we are learning in the classroom.

Possibly the greatest student involvement in WOM is realized in the Evangelism MIG. There is an average of 30 students involved each time that the group goes out from N.C., but there have been as many as 100 participants on one night! The group goes into downtown Seattle, the University of Washington, door to door, and even in parks to share the message of Jesus Christ with whomever they meet.

Says leader Jon Carter, "The MIG is important to N.C. because it is doing what most of us eventually plan on doing, no matter what our office — evangelism. It is ministry now!"

Missions MIG

"Missions MIG is good in the sense that it is the heart of WOM, caring for others, foreign or home." Scott Walberg, leader of the Missions MIG, believes the purpose of this group is to inform students about both foreign and home missions.

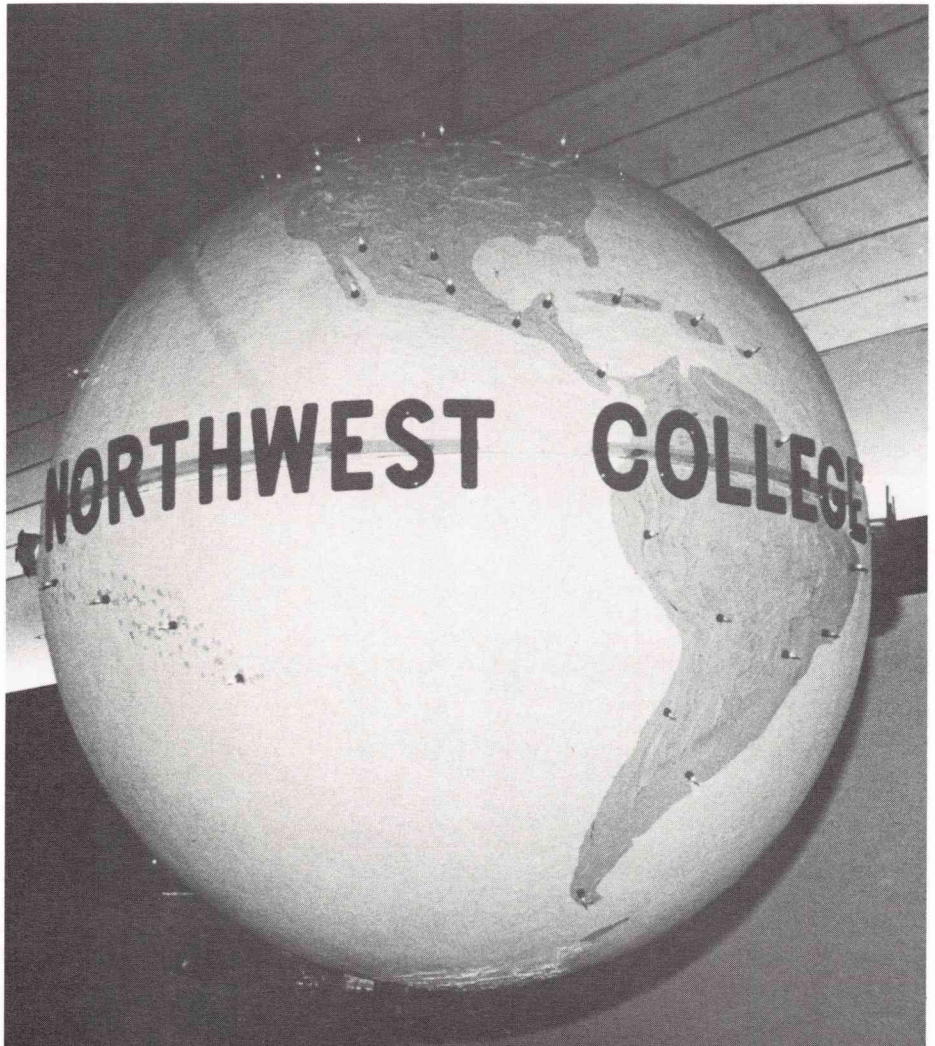

For several years, a very successful activity of the MIG has been "Operation Turkey," which takes place over the Thanksgiving Day break. Unfortunately, there were not enough people available to participate in the activity this year and so it was cancelled. However, a new activity,

MIG leader, Scott Walberg

"Operation Sunrise," has been included this year for the MIG. Who knows - maybe it will become a new tradition!

WOM Food Fair

The all-American hot dog and bubble gum shared the stage with Hawaiian, Korean, Japanese, Latin American, and Fijian delectables. It was a gourmet gala emceed by Doug Clark.

Not only was the food cosmopolitan, but the music and the speaker contributed an international flavor to the evening. In addition to songs by Celebration of Praise, MK's sang both Spanish and Japanese songs, and Dr. Pecota and Dean Jackson sang in Greek and Professor Hobson and Mike Flores in Hebrew. June Hurst, wife of Dr. Wes Hurst, spoke to the large gathering, urging everyone not to wait but to start ministering now.

Campus Day

Campus Day — a day when our spirits really did soar. The N.C. Campus was filled with the energy and excitement of 1079 high school young people, prospective N.C. students.

The Public Relations office and ASB officers, under the direction of Skip Bennett, planned a variety of activities for the visitors: a sing-spiration with visiting teen-talent participants; Chapel services with the Kings Choralons and Maranatha Sounds; a film "The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe;" drama and Summer Ministry team presentations; even an alumni basketball game.

N.C. students, somewhat inconvenienced during the duration of the activities, were very cooperative and hospitable; thus making Campus Day 1983 a huge success not only for one weekend but for many years to come.

Spring Banquet

Look How Far We've Come! And that's just what we did at the Everett Pacific Hotel on April 23, 1983, as students, faculty, administrators, and friends of Northwest College gathered there for the annual All-School Spring Banquet. Although school enrollment was down, the banquet attendance wasn't.

This year students were encouraged to attend for an exciting evening, with lesser importance placed on having a date or a specific type of clothing to wear.

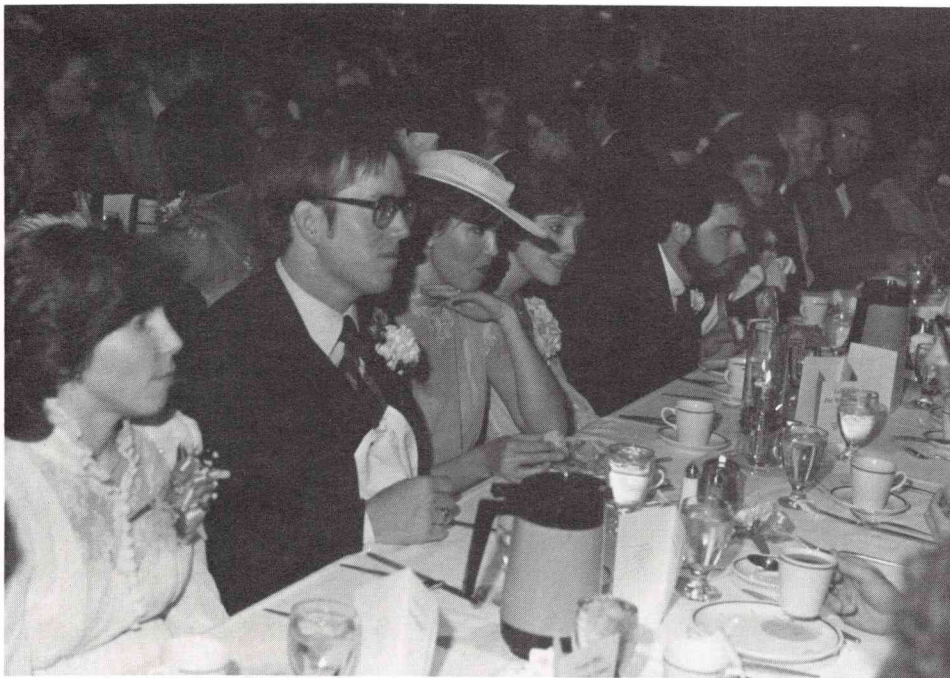

In keeping with the theme, the evening's activities included a movie produced by Jerry Dahlberg and Dave Jones, which looked at students, faculty and even Dr. Hurst and what it is really like at Northwest College; a slide presentation by Don Engelson; and the rebirth of "That'll Be The Day," featuring Darrell Hobson and LeRoy Johnson. Dr. Hurst also made the annual presentation of engaged couples and then introduced his new wife, Patty Mhoon Hurst.

The special musical guest at this year's banquet was a veteran to the Contemporary Christian music field, John Fischer. He provided a tremendous selection of entertaining and encouraging music and was presented with an N.C. shirt by ASB Second Vice President, Ellen Lamm Parr, the coordinator and M.C. of the banquet.

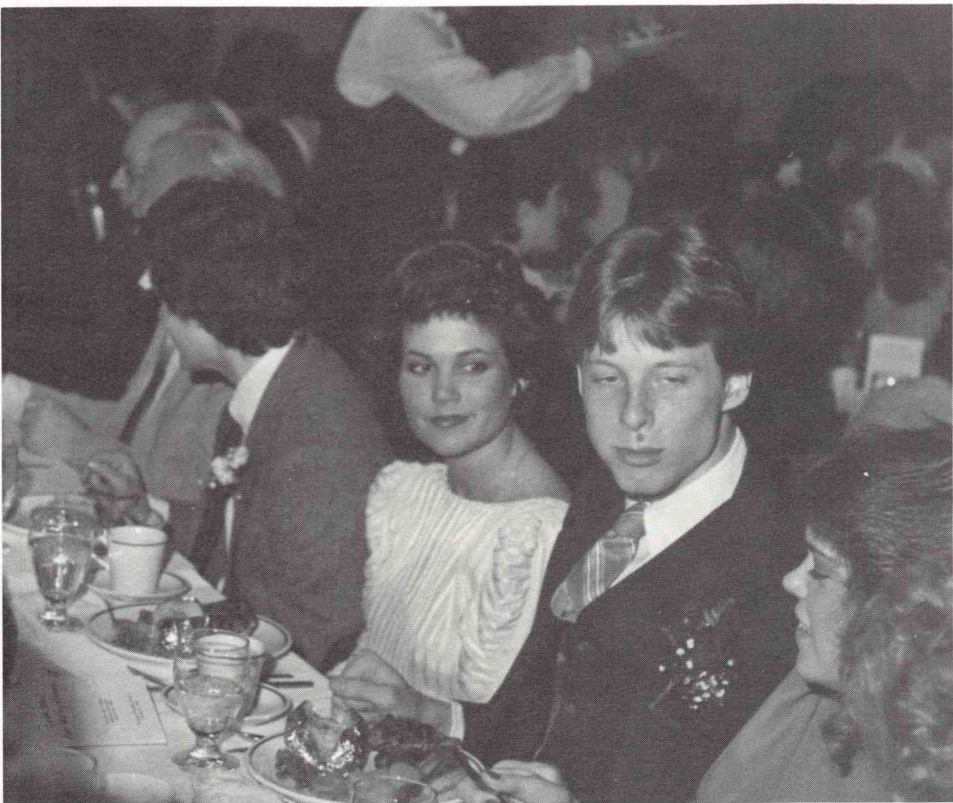

Several special presentations were made: the ASB Appreciation Award was given to Dr. Amos Millard; the senior class honored Dr. Dan Pecota for his 25 years of service to N.C.; and Dean of students "Tex" Rutledge recognized the ASB and WOM student leaders.

The Spring Banquet 1983 was a special evening of fellowship, a time of reflecting on the year behind us, and a time to challenge for the years ahead.

All-School Picnic

“... for it's one, two, three strikes you're out at the old ball game!”

Yes, it was a day filled with fun, fellowship, relaxation, and recreation as students and faculty alike joined at Marymoor Park for the All-School Picnic, an annual ASB sponsored activity.

The Senior class ran away with the title in the inter-class softball tournament, and the energetic student leaders defeated the able and impressive faculty team in another softball game.

Other activities enjoyed by students and faculty included tennis, frisbee, football, and of course, conversation. In the afternoon, between lunch and dinner, the Sophomore class engineered a very difficult obstacle course for the brave and daring (and maybe a little crazy) folks. Even Doc Pecota and Skip Bennett gave it a try!

It was truly a day filled with enjoyment and memories for those who were able to attend.

Graduation

"All good things must come to an end." And so it is with the time we spend at Northwest College preparing ourselves for the Lord's work. Yet, it's not only the end of something; but it is also the beginning of a new era in our lives; new experiences, dreams and goals.

With thoughts of the future, the forty-seventh graduating class of Northwest College participated in the Commencement exercises on Memorial Day weekend.

Commencement speaker G. Raymond Carlson, Assistant General Superintendent of the Assemblies of God, challenged the graduates.

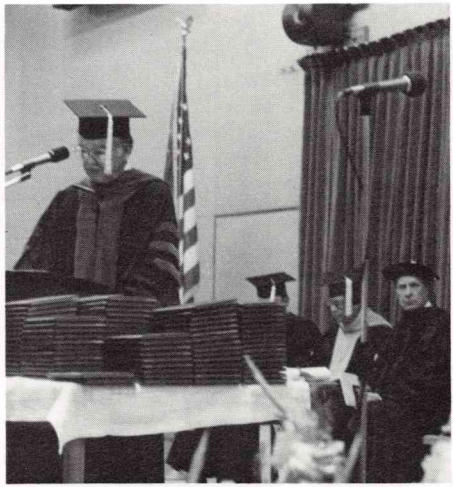

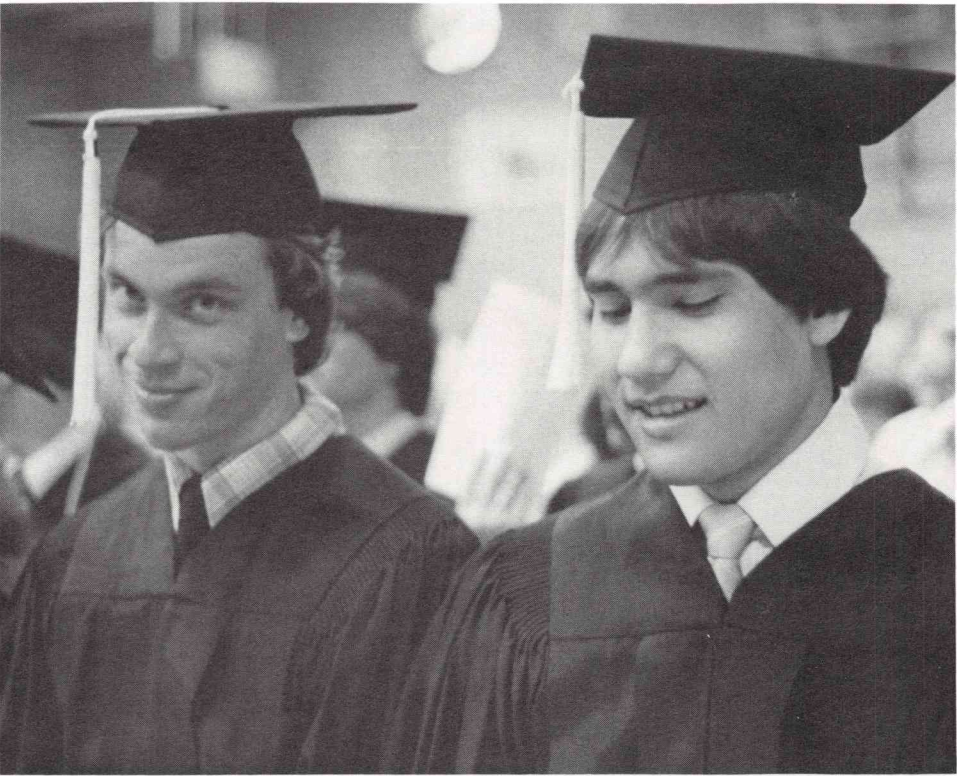

Dr. Hurst, Dr. Rice, and Dr. Millard presented the degrees and special honors to Associate of Arts graduates, the Bachelor of Arts graduates, the one Bible Diploma recipient, and the two Bachelor of Theology graduates.

The crowded and very warm gymnasium, the special music by the Kings Choralons, the "pomp and circumstance" of the occasion, the gathering of family and friends, and the anticipation of things to come made it an exciting day, in spite of the inevitable parting of special and close friends.

All School Skating

Late-night skating — a special highlight of each quarter. Studies were forgotten as we loaded into cars and vans and headed for Totem Lake Skate King. For some, skating was a time to relax and fellowship with close friends. Others used the time to develop new relationships.

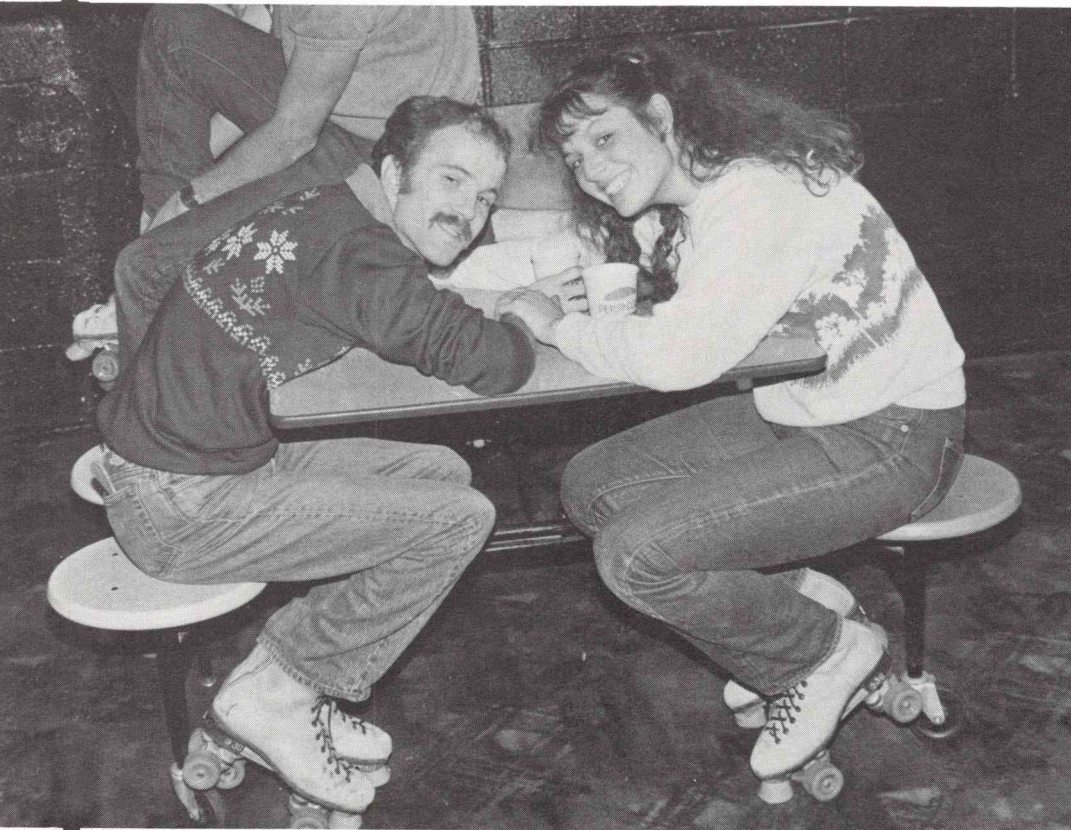

Skate night featured couples skate (a favorite of most N.C. women), "Whip it" (N.C. guys play daredevils), good contemporary Christian music, some of our own N.C. disc jockeys, and performances by the "Northwest College Airband". Skating was definitely a night to remember.

AWS Fashion Show

The 1984 AWS Fashion Show ... A show to sparkle your fancy and entertain your eyes ... A fashion forecast for the future. Spring, summer, winter or fall — this show covered it all, from warm winter ski wear furnished by Olympic Sports Wear to looks of the June Bride from Weddings Unlimited.

Speaking of Brides, 7 lovely lasses showed styles that combined the magic of gauze, lace, and ribbons in the long ultra-formal as well as the snappy midcalfs that any bride would be proud to wear. If you thought the bride looked good, what about those grooms wearing designer fashions from Paris, London, and New York in the after-six looks, complete with tails and top hats introduced by Julie Zimmerman?

If you think GQ and Vogue set the trends here at N.C., you're wrong. The students went for a "reach-for-the-best" attitude in picking clothing for this category.

There was fashion sense that knocked you out, along with traditional values just right for the up-and-coming business man or woman.

Student wear? I'm glad you asked. The clothing included fresh imaginative dresses and separates designed in Seattle to provide exceptional high quality at unbelievable low cost. Menswear was contemporary country-gentleman that showed the flair of the country with city styles.

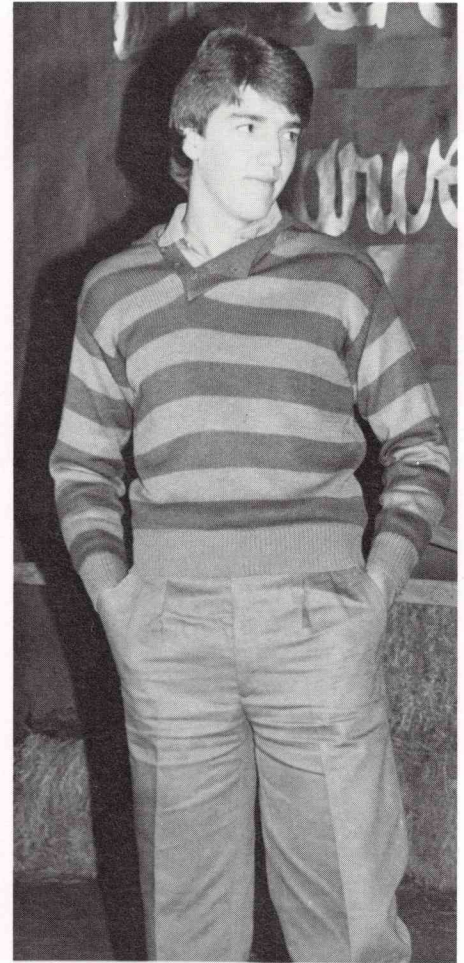

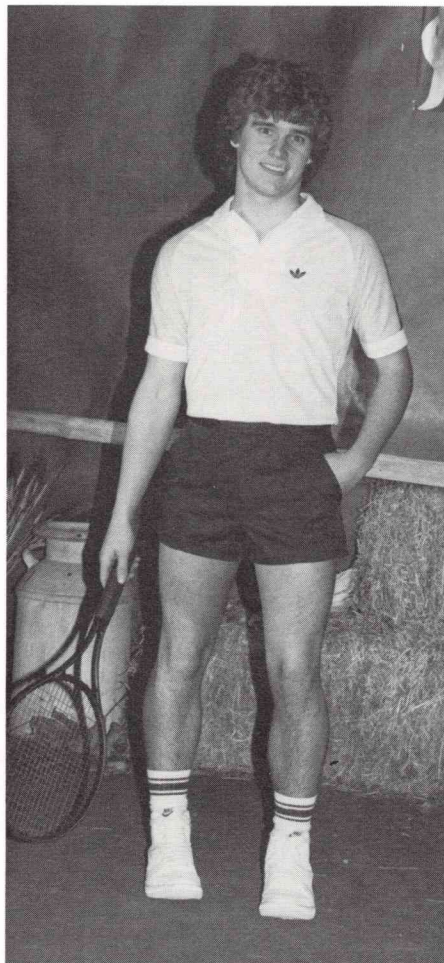

Products were from places like Bay Street, Ltd. and Bernie's.

Who made all this possible? The incredible work of many hours from the AWS. Special recognition should go to five girls who put in the little extra that made things run so smooth. Karen Stocker, Julie Zimmerman, Susan Bain, Rosemary Layton and Lisa Dye, thank you so much for bringing us the styles of the 80's.

Harvest Time Social

The season was fall. Rumor had it that Harvest Time was near. There wasn't an apple picker to be seen; there were no combine drivers from the Columbia Basin wheat fields, not even a cranberry picker from the Oregon coast. But everything else was present at the annual Harvest Time Social.

There was everything from Vietnam vets to New England debutants dressed for their "coming out." There were thirty-ish style gangsters seen trying to keep the 1980's punkers in line.

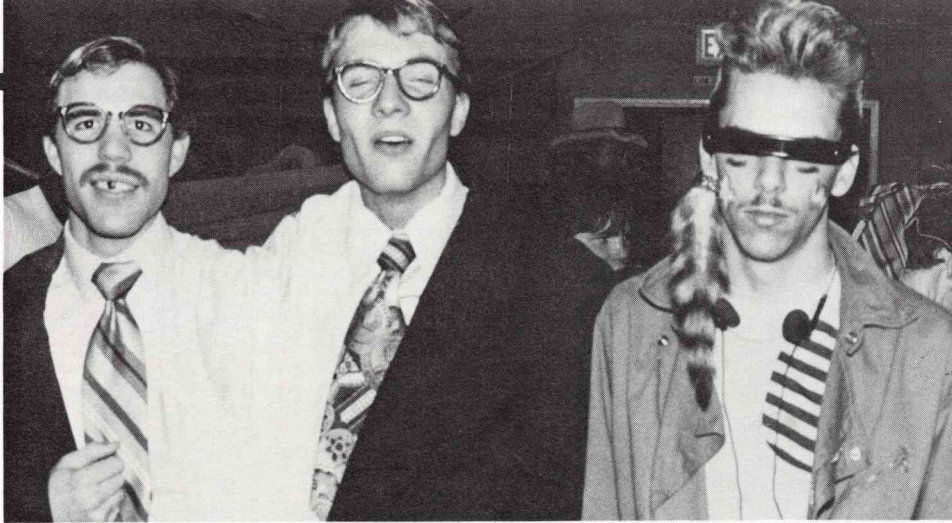

Martin Luther King was seen escorted by a friend in white in a pointed hat. Believe it or not, there was even a little ol' lady reportedly of 90 years throwing wet sponges at a local scholar of "renoun."

It seemed that none of the people present had anything to do with the current harvest; they all seemed content to celebrate it anyway. After the preliminaries were over, the celebrants retired to the grandstands to observe the craft of a local band of dramatists, who left everyone holding their sides and some their heads. If this wasn't enough, a comedy and juggling team of international reputation were then presented. The only problem was that they weren't famous for comedy or juggling but for being the only siamese twins with an act. The act wasn't that bad, in fact, their nose whistle duet brought the house down. Someone was heard saying, "This is a Harvest Time Social where almost anything goes." And indeed, he was telling the truth.

"And all the way from Los Angeles, California ..."

Almost anything goes?

Open Dorms

Northwest College celebrated Open Dorms Night this year with all the traditional excitement. The dorms came to life as rooms and halls were lit up and decorated to bring in the holiday season. Sounds and smells of Christmas filled the air.

The women's residence opened first. Their overall best room was "A Biology of Christmas" by Cathy Crandall and Deanna Helland.

Placing second was Teresa Woolsey and Julie Markwell's "Garfield" room. The "Stuffed Toys Shop" by Wendy Cool and Jeanna Kyser was right in there for third place.

When the men's residence opened, all the excitement shifted in that direction. Josh Okpik had the best presentation among the guys. Then Brin Duncan's

"Snoopy" came in second and "Seasons Greetings" by Jim Mocha came in for a close third.

Just about everyone exhibited great enthusiasm and holiday cheer while the dorms were open.

The award-winning floors were Crowder 200 with "Over the River and Through the Woods" and Beatty 100 with "A Charlie Brown Christmas."

All-School Bonfire

Amid the hustle and bustle of first week activities, there stands a time of rest and fellowship under the stars — the Annual Bonfire. As the fire was ignited, the flames leapt fifty feet into the star-filled night. The blaze on the football field was visible from the entrance of the men's lounge, and as the crowd began to gather nobody was able to sit closer than fifty feet from the bonfire. Mike Flores and Gary Cox led the students in singing and praises to the Lord, after which there was a time of sharing and testimony. Then A.S.B. President Jeff Wood welcomed the student body and shared from his heart. As the flames died down everyone retired to the S.U.B. for doughnuts and hot chocolate. The evening left the students with a fresh commitment for the new year and warmed spirits with anticipation for an outstanding fall quarter.

Parents' Weekend

Students sent letters on behalf of the school to invite their respective parents to a special weekend of celebration. And they, the parents, arrived by car, plane and train from all over the country to visit N.C. Those who were able to attend were greeted with hospitality and lots of action.

The weekend began with the elegant and special Homecoming chapel Friday morning. Princesses and escorts (previously chosen from each class) were dressed in formal attire fit for royalty. Each princess, along with her escort was presented to the student body and attending parents.

The master of ceremonies, Professor Leroy Johnson, was accompanied by his lovely wife, Marilyn. Together, they led the festivities of Homecoming with great elegance and charm.

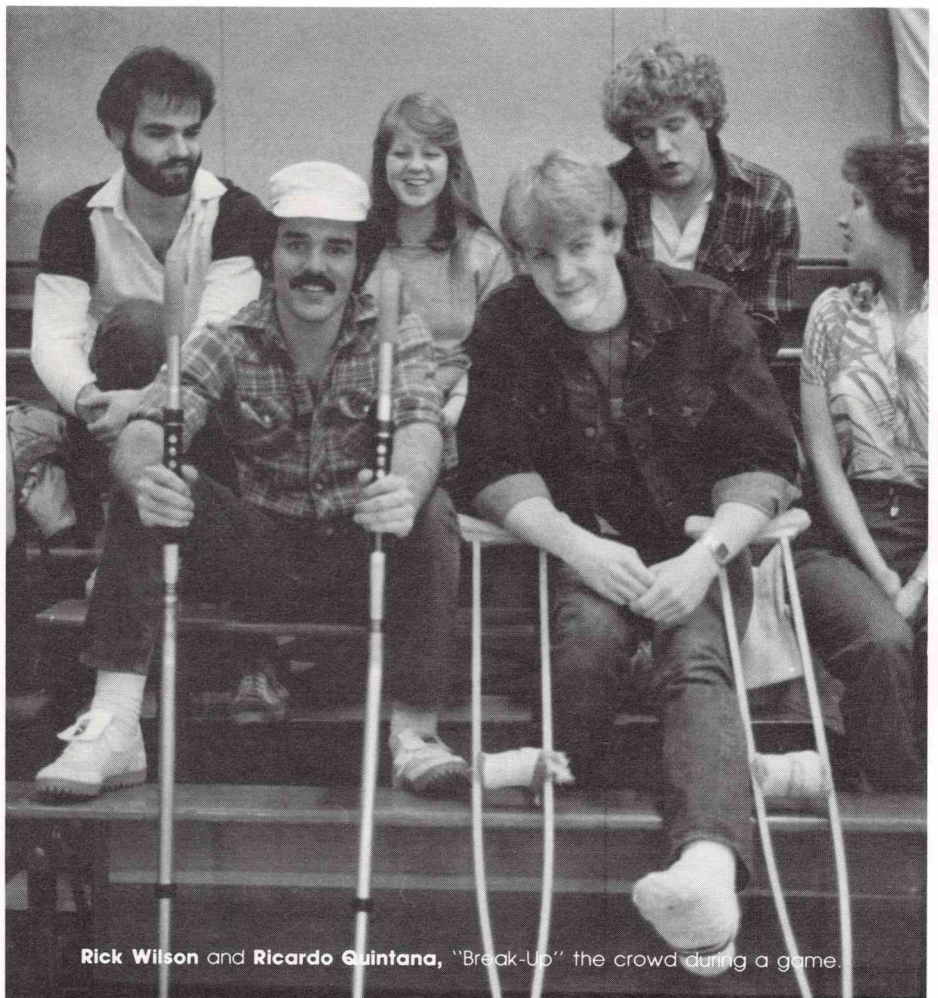

Russell Dickhoff, a former NC student, wrote the theme song, "Golden Opportunity", which was sung by senior, Nancy Teeter. As part of the Homecoming Chapel, each princess was asked what each of them considered to be her "golden opportunity." Responses ranged from marriage and missionary work to singing and skiing. Every "golden opportunity" mentioned contained a secret hope for the future.

After the busy day of classes and arriving parents, everyone attended a roaring game of basketball. The N.C. Eagles played hard against the tough teams of Trinity Western. The women's game was first, followed by the men's competition. At eight o'clock sharp, the men's team took to the court to give their fans a challenging first half.

Half time brought the anticipated presentation of the Homecoming court. The Homecoming Queen for 1982-83, Denice Baunsgard, made a special appearance to crown the incoming queen for 1983-84. Three Senior princesses had been nominated for queen; however, only one could receive the crown. The waiting crowd cheered and filled the gym with applause when the emcee announced Karen Stocker as the winner. Karen, and her escort, Doug Clark, who was voted Homecoming King, made a most handsome couple for N.C.'s "golden anniversary" Homecoming. Then to top off the evening, the Eagles won the game with fantastic skill and expertise.

After all the fast action and Homecoming events, parents, gathered in the cafeteria for a special brunch Saturday morning. Delicious food, delightful entertainment and loads of socializing made this year's brunch a success. Quality music, performed by Prism, demonstrated the fine new talent our school promotes. Their songs of praise and celebration provided an atmosphere of fellowship and fun.

Oh, yes, how could we forget the "comedy" team! They call themselves Ned and Ted. Ned and Ted are Jeff Davis and Charlie Salmon, dressed up as a mismatched pair of Siamese Twins! The two of them sang, juggled, cracked jokes, performed "magic" and displayed an amazing talent with yo-yos. Yes folks, Ned, Ted and "what's his name" did every yo-yo trick ever invented. Much to the embarrassment of Ned and Ted, "what's his name" (Arnie Dixon) had incredible talent with a yo-yo!

Following the brunch, parents and faculty engaged in a loud and lively game of volleyball in the Northwest Pavillion. Despite the wonderful effort of both teams, the faculty captured the victory.

A memorable weekend of activity and fun finally came to an end. They say that "time always flies when you're having fun." Parents' Weekend proved this to be true. But we can look forward to the fun we will have again next year!

Women's Volleyball

A team with a definite goal will overcome amazing obstacles. "Play for Jesus" was the goal which became the winning drive in the athletic excellence shown to us by the N.C. women's volleyball team.

Being a team of new players (with the exception of only two veterans) they started from scratch and built a team that really performs. Our women's volleyball team proved time and again that excellent team work and hustle give the game the excitement and challenge.

This past season, they played hard for their victories. Not only did they win over Bellevue Community College, but they also were the only team in the league to win over Trinity. This kind of team effort won N.C. the third place position in the P.N.C.C. league. N.C. fans witnessed top volleyball action and showed their enthusiasm with cheering support at all home games.

This school has a special pride in its women athletes who strove for excellence in sportsmanship and Christian living.

Men's Soccer

Soccer fans never knew the meaning of the word, "disappointment" this season as the NC soccer team crashed its way to many victories. The ball club presented to us this year displayed fine athletic competition. Each game was met head on by a united team effort with each player taking the challenge upon his own shoulders.

According to one player, the team "ignored the illusions of grandeur and went for the glimpses of glory found in true sportsmanship." Players felt they possessed the skills to win the championship but sadly enough they "fell under the pressure."

Despite losing their chance for the championship, the team gave Northwest College something to be proud of. A soccer team from Northwest College that plays a ball game with honest effort and exciting challenge will always deserve our applause.

Intramural Football

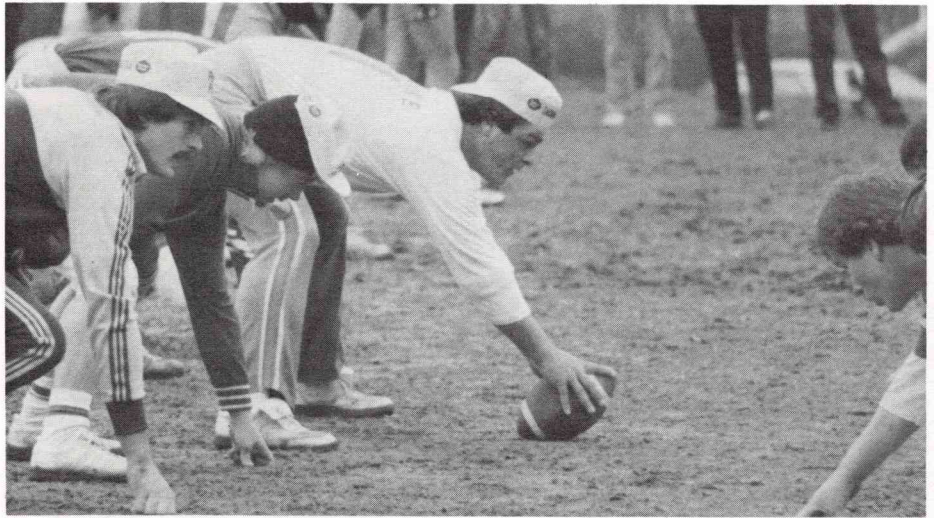

Tough, fast-paced, sneaky, fun, aggressive, and exciting are just some of the words used to best describe the 1983 Intramural Football season.

The 500 floor, with their new-look painter hats, looked like the team to beat, and it looked as if they were an easy shoe-in to repeat as champions. But as this year's style of play proved, the teams were a lot more balanced and competitive. The 500 floor kept on winning and looked unbeatable until they met the "mighty married men" of the Firs. Suddenly, the Firs became the number one team to beat. But, lurking in the shadows was a soon to be noticed team of destiny.

Throughout the season, the teams showed their aggressiveness with entertaining and sometimes sneaky plays (i.e. the famous sideline sneak play). The regular season ended with the two worst teams playing in what turned out to be a wet "mud-bowl", with the 100 floor beating the 300 floor 6-0. The following four teams came out on top making the playoffs: Off-Campus, 400 Perks, the Firs, and the 500 floor. The four teams fought tough battles with Off-Campus and the Firs coming out as the sole survivors. The two teams squared-off in the championship game with Off-Campus winning handily to take home the coveted Northwest College Intramural Football championship!

All-in-all, it was a great season and exciting for the spectators as well. Thanks goes to Steve Taylor and all the other faithful people who labored as refs throughout the season. Thanks Guys!!

Intramural Basketball

As the Northwest Eagles went to Nationals, there was another group of hoopers hoping for some glory of their own. The Intramural basketball players were at it again during Winter quarter. The season began with ten teams playing each other two times during the season. As the season boiled down to playoff time, two teams emerged as dominant, the Smurfs and the Aerial Bombers. The season was filled with the usual controversial calls by the "experienced" referees and the game-winning thirty footers by the would-be "Gus Williams."

John Young and his Graduates tried to stack the deck from the start, but things don't work out for their select team. Six and Over looked like another team to beat with four of the five starters capable of stuffing the basketball, but they also failed in the clutch.

Most teams started the season with high hopes only to find them crushed by the Steve Long thirty-foot bombs or the spectacular drives by Mark Edens. This year was also marked by the largest participation in a number of years, and rest assured there will be even more out next year.

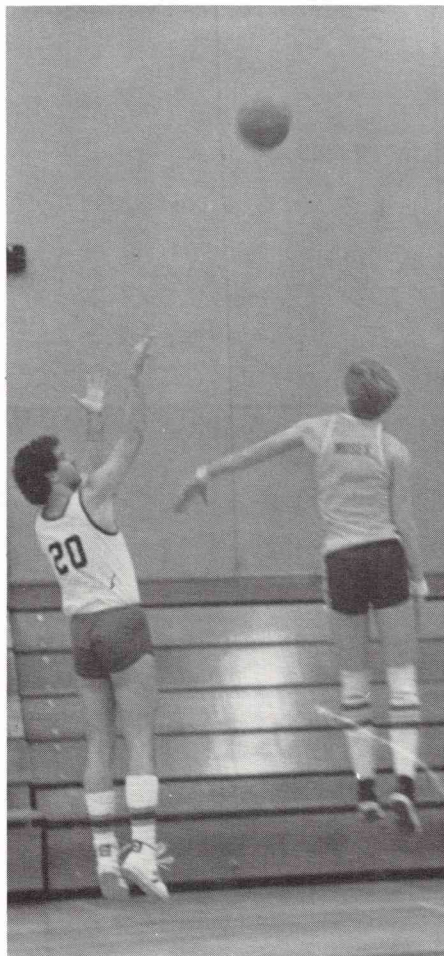

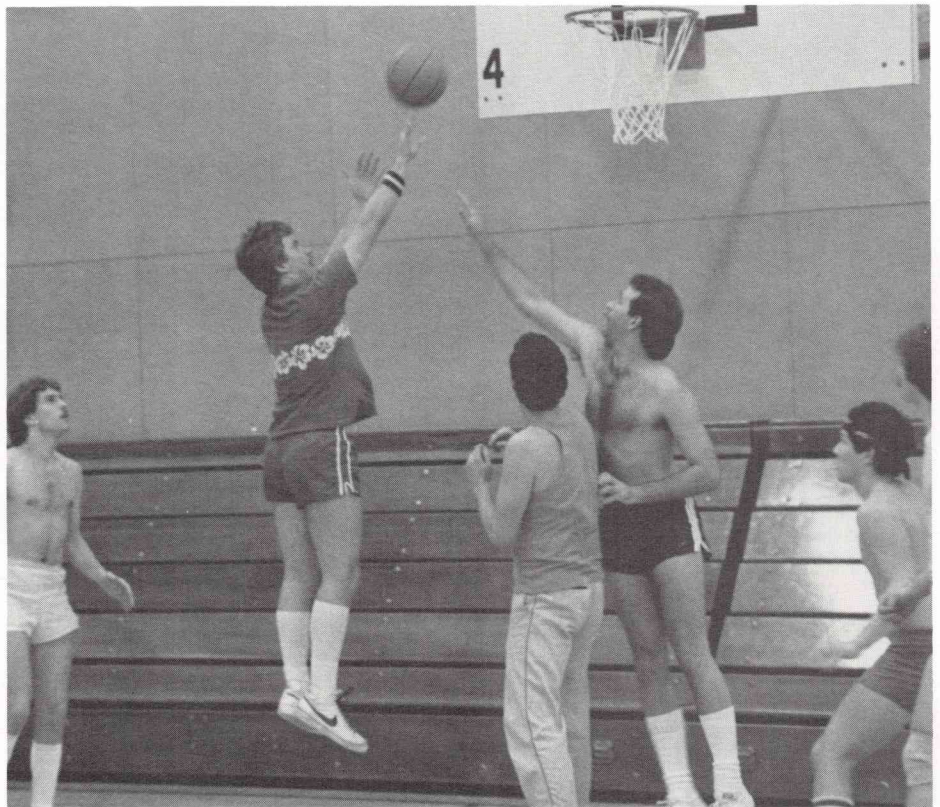

The season ended with the following probable ranking:

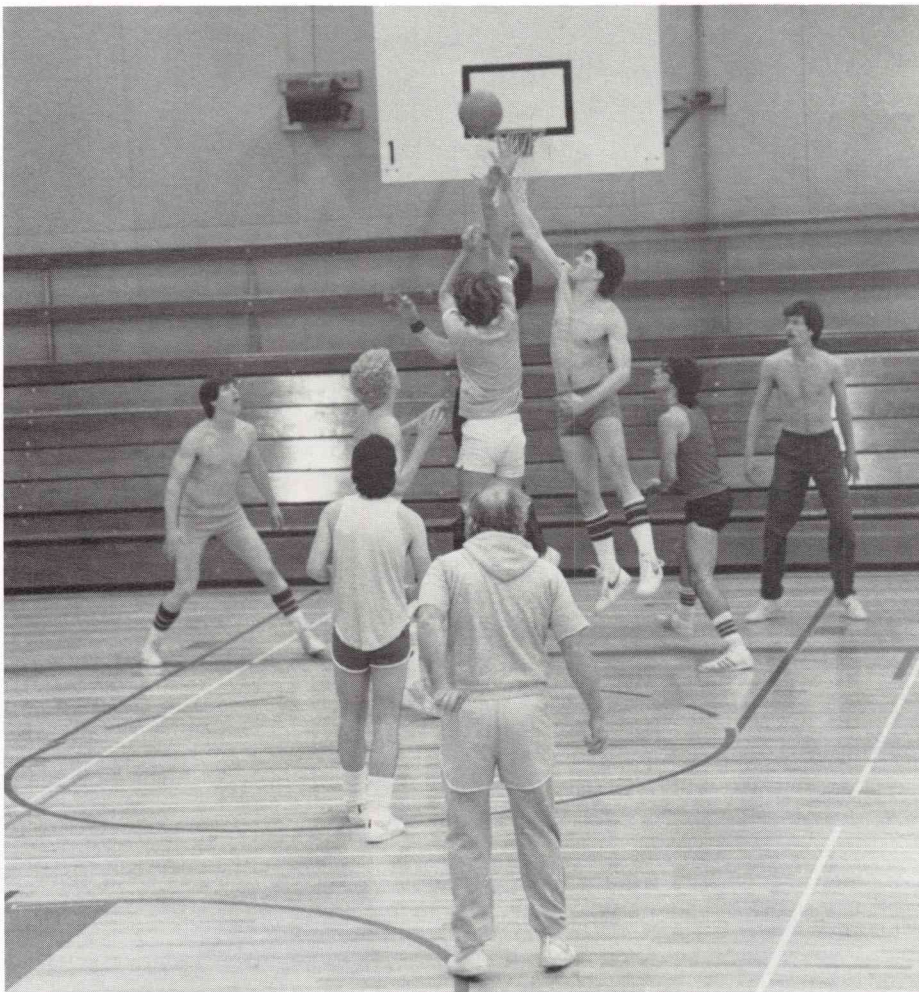

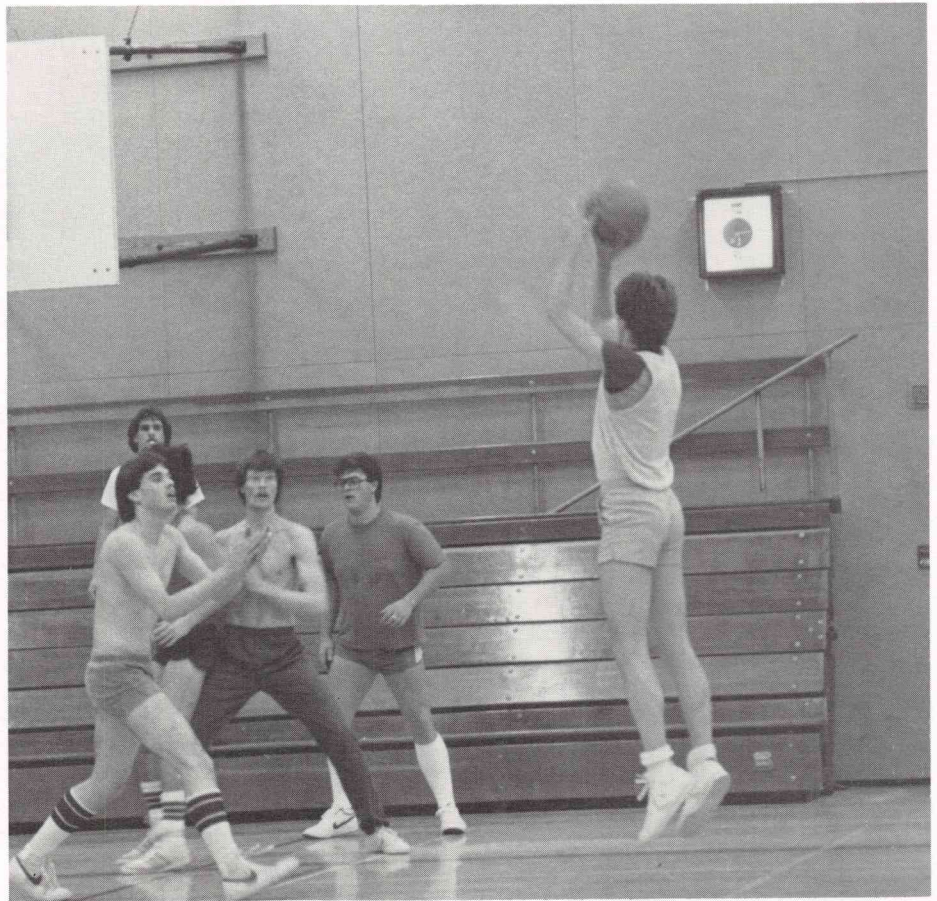

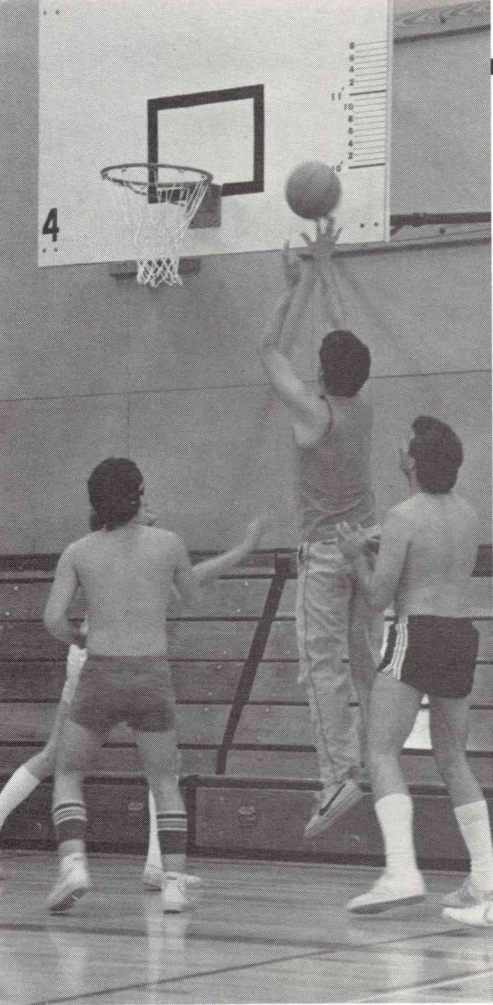

1. Aerial Bombers
2. Phi Slamm-Jamma Smurfs
3. Six and Over
4. The Graduates
5. Purple shoe Gang
6. The Puffman's
7. Cream Abdul DeCrop
8. Sweetness
9. Crusaders

Women's Basketball

Chattanooga, Tennessee, here we come!" March 7 saw our woman's basketball team head for Tennessee and the Women's National Tournament of the NCCAA, Division II. After the first four games of the season, things looked bleak. All four games had been lost, but the team started a turn around that carried them to eleven wins in the next fifteen games.

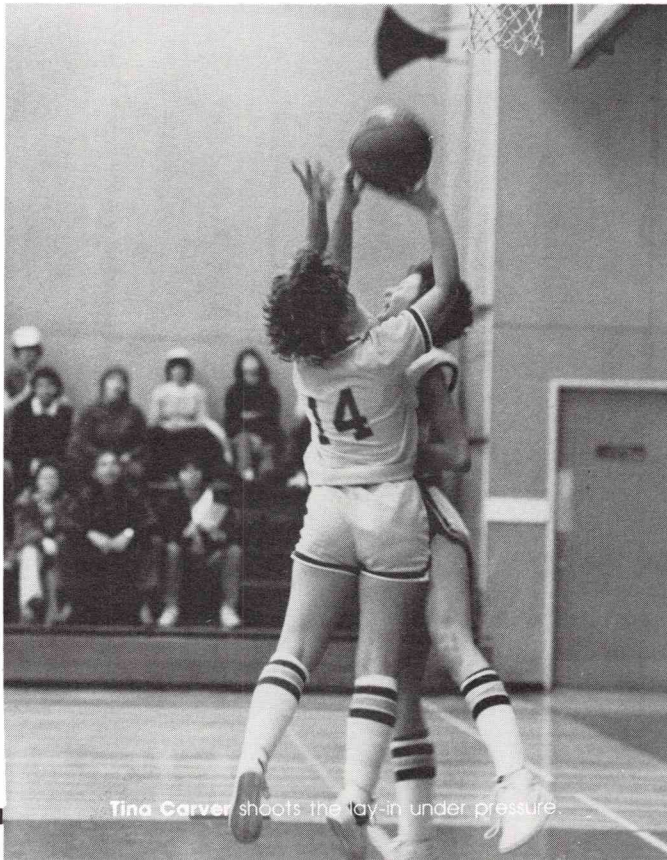

Beating Trinity Western from Langley, B.C. at our Homecoming game put our women in the position of co-champions in the PNCC league and ranked them number one in the Pacific Northwest Region of the NCCAA, Division II. This opened the way to travel to Tennessee to compete in the national tournament.

What was the secret of their success? Coach Kris Brodin says it was team work. With only two returning players from a year ago, Tina Dower and Terrie Mort, a new team had to be formed.

Barb Borchers, Carolyn Cameron, Donna Jeffries, Wendy Kelley, Dawn Kvernenes, and Donna McCasland worked hard with Tina and Terrie as co-captains. The team took advantage of Terrie's scoring and rebounding abilities by getting the ball to her. It was team work all the way, and they produced a great season.

Mens Basketball

With the loss of "Flat" the expectations of the 83-84 squad were not too high.

Coach Brown didn't get his dream "seven-foot freshman" that he's always wanted, so it looked like another mediocre season for the Eagles. But the determination, competitiveness, and pure hustle of the 83-84 squad proved us all wrong. Our schedule put us against some real tough teams (we won't talk about the California trip), and as always the NCCAA league was as competitive as ever. Record-wise our team didn't look too good, finishing 13-14, but our presence was felt in the league. The team showed some real potential at certain points of the season, i.e. the Homecoming game. When tournament time came around, Northwest College was honored to be the host for the NCCAA tournament.

The guys behind their great fan support stomped the heavily favored Bethany Bruins and then flew by Multnomah to win the coveted NCCAA Northwest Division II Championship! Then it was off to Springfield, Missouri, where the competition proved to be too tough. After losing their first game against the #1 seed, the guys stormed back and won their second game handily 105-80, thus finishing seventh in the nation. The team established a tournament record for most points in a game with their 105 points. Special recognition must be given to Glenn Potts, who scored 44 points in their second game (also a record) and also becoming the 1st Northwest College All-American for the NCCAA in the school's history!

It was a great year for basketball at Northwest. We'll miss those graduating

Also credit must go to Coach Brown, who only in his second year of coaching at Northwest brought us a Championship team. Also, not enough can be said for those Northwest College fans who in their own unique way inspired our team on to a successful season.

ASB Officers: Leaders With A Dream

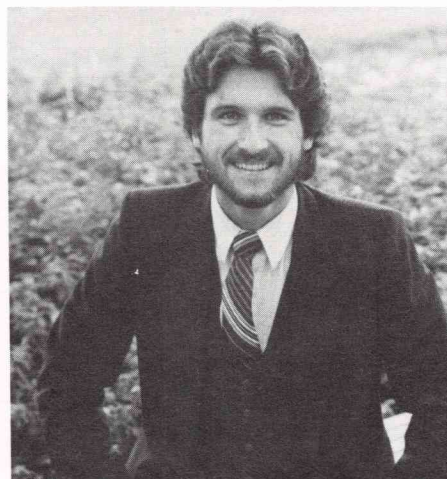

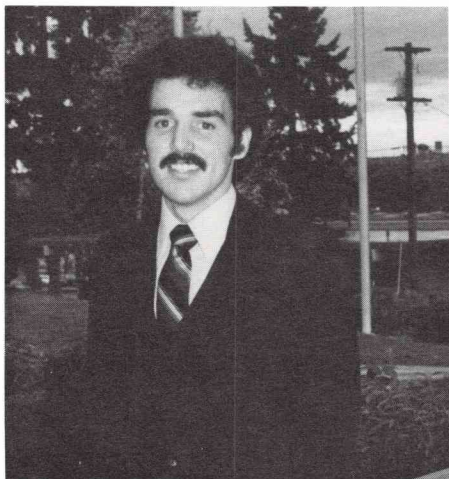

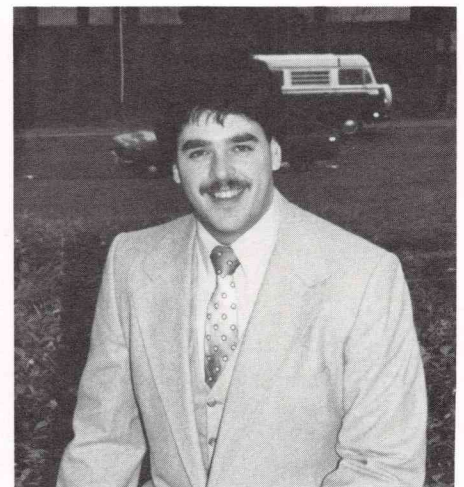

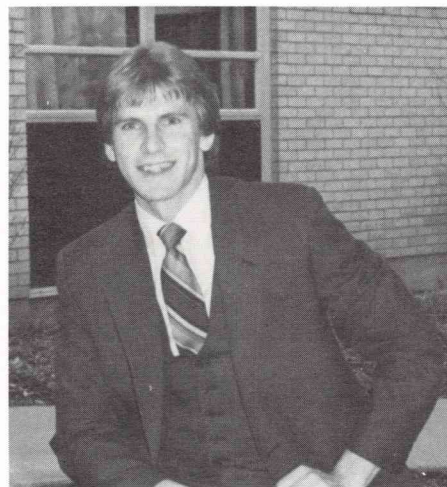

"As ASB leaders we are tremendously excited about what God has done and will continue to do among us! Our greatest desires are to serve one another, to praise and worship the King of Kings, and to "Go out into all the world . . . "

"We are seeing a fulfillment of Acts 13:41, 'for I am doing a deed in your days, a deed which you will never believe, even if one clearly declares it to you.' My hope is that people will be able to say, 'These men who have turned Northwest College upside down have come here also.' Indeed, we are in His service, in His Kingdom, and destined to triumph."

From beginning to end this year has been one of excitement and fun! Working together in God's strength has been the success of our activities; such as the Fashion Show, Open Dorms, Valentine Social. We have laughed a little, cried a little, annoyed each other but always rejoiced together. We learned valuable lessons that only these experiences could have taught us, lessons that will carry with us and develop our leadership abilities. We can truly understand the meaning of the simple truth "To Lead is to serve." There is nothing more honourable and fulfilling than investing your life in the people around you, "for the glory of Jesus Christ."

Blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked or stand in the way of sinners or sit in the seat of mockers. But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and on his law he meditates day and night. He is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither. Whatever he does prospers." Psalm 1:1-3

"Our efforts this year have been to provide quality Biblical Fellowship among the students. On Mondays and Fridays, in cooperation with the Campus MIG, we provide leadership for the 'Prayer and Share,' and 'Prayer and Praise' meetings. Also, on a monthly basis we bring in special guests who minister to the men students. We feel this quality time with each other and the Lord, will work to build Christ in us."

No, married students are not old fuddy-duddies who never have any fun! Married students have even been known to be wild and crazy people who have just as much fun, if not more, as most single students. In fact, the Married Students Association, MSA, lost no time in organizing exciting activities this year.

The 1983-84 school year got off to a great start for the married students with a picnic at Marymoor Park where they enjoyed a potluck lunch, table games and volleyball. Throughout the year, they were involved in various other activities, including special meetings, participation in the Harvest Time Social with a miniature golf booth, volleyball and table game socials and a lot of fellowship.

Another important aspect of MSA is something that is available for their use, the Married Students Pantry, located in the SUB. The Pantry is operated by the Women's Auxillary and consists of various food items that are given to needy married students. Anyone can contribute to the Pantry; many married students have brought food into the Pantry to help their fellow students.

The married students are having a great year by keeping themselves busy with a variety of activities. Watch out N.C. — the married students are alive and well this year!

Karisma

The night was dark, cold, and rainy, but a looming deadline forced the fearless Karisma workers to forget their homework, their jobs, and even their sleep. The task: to accomplish an almost unimaginable feat — thirty-six pages of headlines, copy and pictures due by dawn. Could these brave souls do it? Would they fall asleep before they finished? Would the typewriter stand up to the pounding? Would the caffeine pop hold out in the SUB? Only the glaring all-revealing sunrise would bring forth the truth! They made that deadline and more! The long nights, the short fights and the 3 a.m. breakfast at Denny's all provided Northwest College with the 1983-84 Karisma.

Forensics

The Northwest College forensics program covers all aspects of competitive public speaking. Our students have the opportunity to participate in debate; persuasive or information speaking; dramatic, poetry, or prose interpretation; duo interpretation; extemporaneous or impromptu speaking; and speeches to entertain. We compete at most of the major western Washington tournaments against schools from California, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and, of course, Washington. Our participation in national organizations allows students who are especially talented to participate at national tournaments and receive nationwide recognition. The growth students achieve through forensics cannot be duplicated. Perhaps more importantly, forensics is fun!

Resident Assistants

Known by most as RA's, but to some as Restless Amoebas, are the few, the proud, the Resident Assistants. Serving in the student living quarters becomes a job often taken for granted by the restless dorm residents; thus, the RA's seem to be on a never-ending quest for the observance of quiet hours! So, what motivated these men and women to accept such a task? In all honesty, we can rule out money, prestige, fame, and popularity! Actually, instilled in each RA is a deep sense of understanding, concern, and willingness to give of themselves. There is a certain kind of pride that only the RA can feel; seeing personal growth and sharing in victories makes it worth all the work.

Drama

In the past, drama has not been fully accepted by the Christian community as a legitimate form of ministry. But, the drama club at Northwest College, under the direction of Greg Peck, is actively involved in presenting positive Christian drama to young people and adults in churches, retreats, and various meetings.

As a group, the drama club tries to develop two or three ACTS teams that are able to travel throughout the whole year. They are also involved in drama Gospel Teams, drama Summer Ministry Teams, campus plays, skits in chapel, and entertainment at various campus functions.

Says Greg: "Drama Club has gone from being a small club to being a vital part of Northwest College's ministry outreach. ACTS reaches hundreds of youth and many adults each month. We see many lives changed, people dedicating and rededicating their lives to serving Christ."

As one member put it, "The Choralons allowed us, as students to return to God the gift of music He has given us. We can use what we have received to glorify our source."

The King's Choralons traveled in Washington and Oregon during the school year and over the Spring break. Doc was assisted by the officers- Roger Wilson, Paul Gamlen and Jael Howard throughout the year. The group was used by the Lord to bring new life with the good news of the Gospel.

In Memory Of Dan Davis

Gone But Not Forgotten

How will we remember Dan Davis?

Let us count the ways.

Christian commitment was the passion of his life, the consuming energy of his soul.

Christian love flowed from his heart like the sea billows roll.

A sturdy faith, a determined resolve, a vision clear-

These paint a picture of a man who lived without fear.

How will I remember Dan Davis?

Let me count the ways.

As a minister the sun of his life was rising;

As a student the sun of his life was always shining;

As a person the sun of his life never went into hiding;

As a husband and father the sun of his life was always climbing;

As a christian and God's son the sun of his life will never be setting!

How will I remember Dan Davis?

Though he is dead, he will rise again

To enjoy an eternal life that will never end.

Dr. Dwaine Braddy

Not just another floor . . . but an adventure.

JOE BOESE: "Lord, teach me to love others, that in turn you may be glorified."

BRIAN BRODERICK: "If the best of things are not possible, make the best of things that are possible."

HUGH BURSH: "Hey Joy, thanks for all the fun times down at the lake."

BRENT FAGERSTROM: "Are we having fun yet?"

MARK FAGERSTROM: "Train up a child . . ." Prov. 22:6. Thanks mom & dad!" "I love You!!"

MARK ALAN FISHER: "To my sisters: Laura, Theresa, Jacqueline, Casey, and Marlene: Jesus loves you and so does Mark."

ROBERT "TRON" FRAZIER: "Someday the 400 floor will be converted; after that, the rest of the world will be easy."

JOHN GIFFIN: "Think before you speak, and pray before you think. To the 400 floor guys; B.O.U."

GILBERT HINTZ: "Lord, I'm at the end of my resources," "Child, you are at the beginning of mine."

RICH GRIFFITH: "And on the eighth day, God created Euphrata."

MATT "CHIEF" KALLAPA: "We're history! See ya Pele!"

SCOTT KINDALL: "Spawn and die."

REGINALD KINNAMAN: "Go, and darken my towels no more! Also, special thanks to the Risk Ketteers!"

STAN "FRIEND" LEBAHN: "For the purest gold, it must go into the fire. Perseverance is the name of the game."

JOHN MARVIN: "Laugh and the world laughs with you; snore and you sleep alone."

DAN NELSON: "Wise men still seek Him."

VERN OLSON: "Think about it, who has feet big enough to ski on? — itty bitty."

GREG PECK: "Big boys don't cry; they just bleed internally."

MIKE PIZZO: "Lord, thank you for Precious. One plus one really does equal three!"

PAUL PUTNAM: "Youth Pastors of America unite! The class of 1984 is knocking at the door."

CARL ST. HILAIRE: "An honest answer is like a kiss on the lips." Proverbs 24:26

JEFF WOOD: "The greatest sermon: Jesus loves me this I know, for the Bible tells me so."

GREG ANDERSON, PHILLIP BROWN, WARREN COOMBER, MIKE FLORES, SCOTT WALBERG, AND BOB RAYGOR, are a few hard to find people on our floor.

Celebrate

Celebrate!!!

But isn't 4:30 in the morning a bit early for a celebration? At least that's the response I got from the staff when I told them what time they had to be in the gym to help me with the latest Skip Bennett project. That was a morning several of the Karisma staff workers will never forget. It started out with a quick run down to 7-Eleven to stock up on donuts and hot chocolate. This was going to be great fun I thought to myself, and then we realized that Coach Brown had forgotten to leave the equipment room unlocked which contained two full tanks of helium, 700 very flat balloons and two rolls of gold and blue ribbon. I'm sure Coach Brown really appreciated that frantic phone call at 5:00 a.m. It's amazing how brave I've gotten in the last two years while I've been editor.

Well, four and a half hours later the hallway in the gym was filled to capacity with 700 helium-filled balloons. Many of us had very sore fingers and Mike Pizzo's voice was irreversibly damaged from swallowing so much helium. I think next time we should order a whole tank of helium just for him to swallow. At least he kept us awake by entertaining us.

Of course, there were other times when things didn't go quite as smooth and some of us got a little bit upset. Like the time Kevin, in a moment of despair and frustration, threw a pair of scissors at the ceiling and they never came down (and still haven't).

And then there's the time I skipped town and left Kevin to contemplate the joy and thrills of ecstasy that only an editor can experience as the clock ticks out the final minutes before the first deadline is due. I spent that weekend in consultation with Kevin over the phone, but he made it through and I had a great weekend.

Our "All-Night Long" sessions were made easier and kept running smoothly to the strains of Lionel Richie's album "Can't Slow Down."

I have a lot more memories of the past year . . . Kevin's birthday party, Dominoe's Pizza, Lionel Richie, Diet Coke and more Diet Coke, breakfast at Denny's, going to Hawaii over Christmas break, our famous motto written by Esther Dekker, "When the going gets tough, the tough go shopping!" (Needless to say I did a lot of shopping.)

Roomies night in Vancouver, Twix, the staff party, "discussions" with Mr. Palm, "discussions" with Kevin which always ended with me saying, "I'm the editor, next year you can do it however you want; this year we're doing it my way."

I will never forget the last two years. They have definitely been a growing time for me — not always easy but I know my steps were ordered of the Lord, and I feel I have succeeded.

I would like to say a special "thanks" to all my professors who were so understanding and patient and took the time to ask how things were going. That really meant a lot to me.

I hope this annual will bring much happiness and remind you of the fun times you had while at N.C. "Celebrate!" - after all, it's not everyone who can say they were a part of N.C.'s 50th year of "Golden Jubilee."

God bless you as you continue to grow and learn how to be better servants of Christ.

Love ya,
Kathy White, Editor

Mom & Dad-You're the greatest parents! I love you!

Marilyn White-Affectionately known as "Lucy Ball-head", "Deerslayer", "Merlin" and "Marlon" but preferably "Strange Stella". Thanks for putting up with my coming in late during Karisma deadlines, cleaning up my share of the apartment and for just being there.

Susan White-Thanks for all the treats, for giving me good advice and for the great postcard!

Jim-Bob-Thanks for being the best brother I've ever had!

Kevin Reich-Thanks for everything . . .

Jim Karnes-Thanks for sticking it out to the end. I appreciate all your help!

Kristi Young-Thanks for being business manager! You did an excellent job!

President Hurst-Thanks for being so supportive, and for making this a real "year of Jubilee" for the Karisma staff.

The Golden Jubilee Committee-Thanks for your help on the historical section. We could've never done it without you.

"Skip"-PThanks for always being willing to help and keepin' me smiling! You're the greatest!

Mr. Gustafson-Thanks for letting me talk in your classes.

Mrs. Stewart-Thanks for being so understanding.

Dean Tex-Thanks for keeping an eye on us!

Jeff Wood-Thanks for the 6:45 a.m. meetings!

Kent Redfearn-Thanks for helping clear the Karisma debt. We really miss you!

Jeanie McLaughlin-Thanks for doing the cover again! Aren't you glad I'm not Editor again?

Rhonda Furnier-Thanks for all the good talks and helpin' me with the big "D" . . .

Glen Johnsen-Thanks for tryin' to hang in there! You're great!

Scott Mackle-What else can I say but, yeah! uh-huh!, mmmm, squeeze! Think about it! Lionel Richie.

Jim Sweeney-Thanks for all your help'.. You saved Jim's life!

Shannon Brown-Thanks for all your help in the darkroom. P.S. Good Luck!

Lisa Lovelace-Thanks for meeting all your deadlines; and you only had to stay up all night a couple of times . . . and you were the first one done!!!

Doug Clark-Thanks for putting some of your hot air to good use (the balloons) and for making me laugh. How's your love life? Sorry about the soccer picture!

Russell B. Dickhoff-Thanks for all your great ideas, the Homecoming song, the "cards" and for the great fun at Disneyland.

Paul Gamlen-Thanks for being my friend!

Roger Wilson-Thanks for being so reliable and so much stinkin' fun.

efBrian Funk-Thanks for being such a hard worker and for being the calm one of the bunch. What would I have done without you?

Doug Sagon-Thanks for being so patient and doing your layout over and over and over . . .

Keith Howell-Thanks for your photography skills. Remember, to stay away from the babysitter. P.S. You know what I really wanted to say!

Randy Gould-Thanks for teaching me that patience is truly a God-given gift.

Jael Howard-Thanks for sharing your bright smile and your outstanding artistic skills.

Jacob Vohs-Thanks for your special "on-call" literary skills.

Ed & Ellen Parr-Thanks for letting me come down to your apartment for my gripe sessions, for sharing some great ideas with me and for writing such great copy.

Marcie McCartin-Thanks for being so patient and understanding. Also for keeping Skip and his files organized.

Jeff Richards-Thanks for showing your smilin' eyes and face around the office even if it wasn't often enough.

Karen Stocker-Thanks for being the greatest "Stockie" ever!

Charlie Salmon-Thanks for being ready, able and willing.

Julie "Jungle" Barden-Thanks for trying to organize us and for the wonderful weekend.

Stan Lebahn-Thanks for working so hard.

Allan Fox-Thanks for coming up to the office and giving good backrubs!

Drama Club-Thanks for trying to be normal! You almost succeeded a couple of times.

The End—Glory!
