BACCALAUREATE SPEAKER NAMED

Dennis A. Davis, Superintendent of the Oregon District Council of the Assemblies of God, has been named baccalaureate speaker for 1990 at Northwest College. Rev. Davis graduated from Northwest College in 1956 with a degree in Theology. He has served the Oregon District as its superintendent since 1987.

Prior to his election as District Superintendent, he pastored People's Church in Salem, Oregon for twenty years. He has also pastored in Pacific Grove, California and served as evangelist, crusade speaker, and pastor in the years prior to that.

Superintendent Davis has conducted over 200 crusades, seminars and conventions. His ministerial involvement was also interdenominational during his long tenure as pastor in Salem where he served as president of the Ministerial Association for two years and secretary of the Association another year. Among the many interesting assignments he has held is that of denominational chaplain at Fort Ord, California in 1966.

In serving as baccalaureate speaker for the College, Superintendent Davis returns to his Alma Mater where he has been speaker on many occasions and conducted the Fall Revival in both 1975 and 1980. Interestingly, he was speaker for his graduating class in 1956.

Missouri Governor John Ashcroft

GOVERNOR ASHCROFT TO SPEAK AT N.C. COMMENCEMENT

The Honorable John Ashcroft, Governor of the State of Missouri, has been selected as the Northwest College commencement speaker for 1990. Son of the well known educator in the Assemblies of God, Dr. J. R. Ashcroft, the Governor has served his state in this post for the past five years, as Attorney General for eight years and as State Auditor for two years.

Governor Ashcroft is the first Republican governor in the State of Missouri history to serve consecutive terms. He was re-elected to his second term with a 65 percent vote, the largest victory margin of any Missouri governor since the Civil War.

Governor Ashcroft is known for his education reforms in the State and is credited with generating a very favorable economic climate with programs having created more than 250,000 jobs.

The Governor graduated with honors from Yale University in 1964. He and his wife, Janet, received law degrees from the University of Chicago Law School at the same time in 1967.

Governor Ashcroft is an athlete and a musician. He has sung at a variety of events including the World Series, Republican National Convention and the Grand Ole Opry. He has recorded albums and has written several published songs.

Governor Ashcroft is an ardent promoter of Assemblies of God higher education. He was selected speaker in behalf of education at the churches' recent General Council session in Indianapolis, Indiana, 1989.

Commenting on the appearance of Governor Ashcroft during the commencement of 1990, President D. V. Hurst stated, "The College is honored to have this distinguished Assemblies of God lay person as its commencement speaker this year. I have known Governor John Ashcroft since he was a young man and am very well acquainted with his parents and his entire family. In his Christian commitment and in his public service he has distinguished himself and has set an example for young people today who, themselves, would be servants of our Lord, His church and their country. As President I count it a special honor to have him deliver the address during the final commencement over which I will preside."

NORTHWEST COLLEGE CAMPUS REDEDICATED

On May 5th prior to commencement the campus of Northwest College will be rededicated. Since ground was first broken on the campus on October 5th, 1958, many additions and developments have occurred. The campus has grown from its original 35 acres to approximately 60 acres.

Since 1966 when President Hurst joined the College, three single residence halls have been added, the Millard classroom building has been added, the library has been built, the cafeteria has been doubled in size, the music center in the first floor of Butterfield Chapel has been developed, some 9,000 square feet have been added to the administrative complex tying all four of the original classroom and administrative buildings together, 78 married student units have been built, 13 other single residents units have been purchased and added to the campus, and a shop and service facilities have been added. Most recently the new entrance, central road system, athletic field and additional parking facilities have been developed. The Student Center has been totally refurbished on the outside making it appear as a new building and part of the academic quad between the Student Center, Millard Hall and Hurst Library has been developed.

In the mid 1980's the College leased 10 acres of its undeveloped property to the Seahawks who developed three football fields including an artificial turf field and a 38,000 square foot administrative and team service center. This entire complex is on lease to the Seahawks but will eventually revert to the College.

1990 Summer Ministry Teams

SPRING BREAK OUTREACH

Los Angeles, California was the destination for eleven Northwest College students during Spring Break, March 10-18. They were not headed for the glitter of Hollywood or the fun of Disneyland. Their objective was the inner-city for ministry and hands-on learning.

Sandy Pauls, Edie Miller, Diana Rowland, Julie Watterud, Cynthia Janzen, and Lachelle McMath help in Kid's Crusade in L.A. Outreach

Under the leadership of Evangelist Doug Clark, a Northwest College graduate, they spent the mornings doing church repairs and separating scrap metal for recycling to provide funds for the church. Early afternoon was classroom time dealing with the subject of "Urban Ministry" and "Street Evangelism." This was followed by practical application as they hit the streets to witness. The evenings were spent in youth rallies and kids crusades.

Some of the comments about their experiences were:

Our ministry trip to the streets of L.A. was one of seeing, hearing and fulfilling the need. We saw gangs, we saw a prostitute being beaten and thrown out of a truck, but we also saw God healing broken hearts and hurting lives. We heard gunshots, we heard the cry of a drug addict, but we also heard God's voice saying, "I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for the harvest." (Jn. 4:35)

--Scott Moe

During the Kid's Crusade that we held, I found out how much the children just want to be loved. I had as many as five kids trying to sit on my lap at a time. I know now I will never look at the needs of the people in the inner-city as lightly as I once did.

--Cynthia Janzen

I learned that God wants men and women who are totally committed to Him with all their heart and soul. There need to be people of God who are willing to take the risk and bring the only answer of hope to the lost of the world. God wants people who will trust Him totally and allow Him to do something of eternal worth through them.

--Ken Rowland

Before going on the ministry trip to L.A. I thought of the city as a place of crime and violence. But now, with God's help I see the city as a place of hurting people who are looking for the purpose of their life. I have been so impacted that I have got to do something about it.

--Julie Watterud

Melanie Wagner and "Barney the Clown" (Gary Modine) minister to children at Cottage Brook Assembly of God in Woodinville

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

This year the Northwest College Children's Ministry team has worked with two local churches to reach children in their neighborhoods. Their desire was to give kids the choice of Christ before they got caught up in all the attraction of this world. They also tried to help build the local church through bringing in the children and their parents.

The fall semester was spent working with Pastor Bryan Ashpole at Cottage Brook Assembly of God in Woodinville. An entire family is now attending the church as a result of the team's ministry. Several children accepted Christ at the Super Saturday program. Bruce Murphy, the team leader, said, "We didn't do anything spectacular. We taught them and loved them."

The team's efforts in the spring semester have been focused on the home missions church in East Bellevue, Eastgate Assembly of God. The Saturday services are held in the home of a lady with ten children of her own. The kids are open to the message of Jesus that the N.C. students bring through the puppets, clowns, magic tricks, story-time and just giving attention one-on-one.

TARGET 2000 TASK FORCE

On March 19, 1990, the Target 2000 Task Force Committee met to discuss financial resource development strategies for "Target 2000-A Dream and Blueprint for the 90's."

Target 2000 is a plan adopted by the Northwest College Board of Directors to assist NC in meeting challenges the College will face in the next decade. Achieving enrollment, academic, student life, student ministry, campus development and financial resource goals will make the "gem" called Northwest College shine even more brightly and enable it and its students to carry out their mission even more fully.

ANONYMOUS DONOR MAKES COLLEGE A REALITY FOR TACOMA STUDENT

Michael Price, a high school senior from Life Center in Tacoma, Washington, was recently awarded a $7,000 scholarship to Northwest College. The scholarship was provided anonymously by an individual who recognized the young man's ministry potential. "Michael is an investment in God's Kingdom ... his burden for the lost, compassion for others and commitment to God's will for his life are exemplary." A surprised Michael Price received the scholarship at a recent service at Tacoma Life Center.

Dr. Randy Barton stated that scholarship gifts from our churches and individuals will play a vital role in fulfilling the College's goals for the Decade of Harvest.

Individuals interested in helping young men and women at Northwest College can do so on a tax deductible basis and should contact the Development Department.

New Programs

NEW B.A. MAJOR Interdisciplinary Studies

An exciting new major has been developed which provides students with the opportunity to explore a broad range of knowledge from a biblical world view. Areas of study include foreign languages, English and literature (including Teaching English as a Second Language), communication, history and political science, philosophy and religion. The Interdisciplinary Studies major equips students who feel called to careers other than vocational ministry. The comprehensive nature of the major may also help students prepare for graduate studies in a chosen field of interest. The core courses in the major total 40 credits in the Division of General and Professional Studies, and students can choose from two tracks in pursuing this degree.

NEW PROGRAM Teaching English as a Second Language

The TESL program provides students with training to teach English to speakers of other languages. It is designed to serve as a focus area in the Elementary Education major, complement the Missions major, or meet the requirements for Track B in the Interdisciplinary Studies major. The Basic Certificate can be completed in one semester, and the Standard Certificate can be completed in an academic year. Certification by the Superintendent of Public Instruction is offered to Elementary Education majors for completion of a focus in TESL.

NEW A.A. PROGRAM Option III, Transfer Degree

A new A.A. degree program has been developed which facilitates transfer to other four-year colleges and universities, particularly within the state of Washington. While completion of this program does not guarantee admission to another school, it helps ensure that a proper distribution of courses will have been taken prior to transfer. The Transfer Degree requires 62 credits and includes Bible Survey, Christian Doctrine, and two classes in Christian Formation.

NORTHWEST COLLEGE CAMPUS REDEDICATED (Continued)

In the mid 1960's an entire new campus master plan was developed and presented to the city for its approval. Following approval as "planned area No. 1" in the City of Kirkland, the College simply needed to apply for building and development permits as they were needed. Development and buildings have proceeded along the line of the plan year after year with a major development occurring on the average of once every two years since the plan was originally approved. Now the plan is complete as then designed.

The Board of Directors considered the many additions and developments which have taken place over the past quarter century and determined that in conjunction with com-
