The Year That Was

In athletics it is habit to look back to the year of 10 wins, no losses! To look back to the year of the championship! To remember the year of the "big win!" That is always "the year that was!"

In an academic setting, years take on an individual character that non-academic institutional years don't know. Each year is unique for some reason or other. Each college president knows you put the year together and then you live with it. You no sooner get deeply into one than you start putting the next together. And with the swirling of events you hardly have time to stop and savor what is happening - good or bad! But each year has its character and as you look back on it you can see its profile.

When this year is history-and should our Lord tarry we be privileged to look back on it with long perspective - I believe we will say "That was the year that was!" It has those marks about it!

The enrollment story: New records being set each quarter and the greatest single fall increase ever. The growth of the junior class and the senior class (Bible College classes!) and the prospect of the largest graduating class of Seniors ever! And the increase in ratio of men heading for the ministry. These are all parts of "the year that was".

The new library building: Another story filled with "miracles" and wins! There are still financial needs! Costs have gone up! And unexpected extras have been required-a water main, a sprinkler system in the first floor, $18,000; and now a smoke detector system throughout the building as a fire prevention, $8,900. But friends continue to give! And I believe every need will be met!

The general-contractor tells us he will move out February 29! The building will be finished. Streets, walks, rockery and landscaping will remain. We will supervise the development of these things ourselves. We have been busy selecting new furnishings, some $50,000 worth.

Dedication is set for April 10, the 12th annual lay council session. General Superintendent T.F. Zimmerman will be on hand. It will be a good day.

These all suggest this will be "the year that was".

But its not size of student body and development of campus that count most. Human institutions will pass away and buildings are just steel, bricks and mortar. It's individual students that count at N.C. It's the personal faith victories each of them wins! It's the development of individual ministries that makes N.C. what it is! And from this perspective, I think this will be "the year that was!"

Pray with me that this will be true! Join with us in support of N.C. We can then look back together and rejoice over this school year '75-76, "the year that was".

1976 Senior Placement Profiles Published

—A "tools" publication designed to assist in the placement of the College's seniors has been published for the use of Church Leaders, it was announced at the College today.

The profile contains background information on 75 candidates for graduation including their field of preparation, internship, and Christian service experience while in College and prior to coming to college, in some cases, vocational and musical skills, marital status, age, and permanent home addresses and degrees for which they are in candidacy at the College.

The profile has been especially used by District Superintendents and pastors of the cooperating districts which participate in the support and administration of the College.

A photo section has again been included this year to enable prospective employers to identify the students in the profile write-ups. The Placement Profile has been regarded at the College as a "significant" tool in the success of the College's placement service efforts over the past several years. The profile was first published in 1971.

The primary aim of the service is to identify fields of need and opportunity into which graduates with corresponding skills, training, personal calling and gifts can be placed.

Pastors and other church leaders are invited to write in for a copy of the new profile and to avail themselves of the College's services when a ministry need in their church arises.

The "kick-off" event for each year's activities takes place during the Annual Superintendent's Week in the month of January. A significant number of pastors have found their way to the campus to interview seniors for various ministry needs in their churches. This activity constitutes one of the "harvest" efforts in the college's reason-for-being, College President, D. V. Hurst noted.

Work Study Program

Positions are available for on-campus employment under a program called College Work Study, which is one phase of Federal financial aid for students. It provides employment for students to assist them with their educational costs. Eighty percent of the wages are paid from Federal funds which are allocated to the institution. During the current year 34 students are employed under this program.

Two spots of historic and prophetic significance make up the scene in this photo taken in the ancient city of Jerusalem. The history in the picture sweeps back to the time of Abraham, and the prophecy, forward to the return of Christ, associated with the Mount of Olives

The Northwest College Flying Seminar will visit both places as part of its 7th annual Flying Seminar March 10-21.

Sign-ups for the tour can be accepted as late as February 6, but you would have to call the school immediately to be included. Call area code 206 - local number 822-8266 and ask to speak to Amos D. Millard.

Library Update

Our library will soon be a reality! We were told by the contractor that construction is on schedule. This means that in a few months we will be using the new facility. We praise God for this because we did have a few weeks when the weather made it difficult for the workmen.

The library dedication, April 10, will tie in with our annual Lay Council, April 9-10. Plans are already being made for this grand event. The General Superintendent of the Assemblies of God, Rev. Thomas F. Zimmerman, will be our dedication speaker. We hope that many of our college friends will plan to attend.

Presto...Came the Answer

The man was from the City Hall Water Department. He came to see Miss Guy, Employment Coordinator and Dean of Women, about a girl to work in his office. He explained he needed a conscientious girl who would stay with the job.

Meanwhile, Gayleen Wilson, Vancouver, Washington, and her parents had placed a prayer request on file with God about a job. Things happened fast. The man from the Water Department talked to Miss Guy who promptly contacted Gayleen who met the man. The job sounded fascinating to her. He hired Gayleen on the spot. But, of course, she reasoned to herself: "That means I can't go home for Christmas." Again her deep desire was heard by God, and she was told that she would have a Christmas vacation.

This experience reminded Gayleen how faithful God is in meeting needs and in answering prayer.

BEOG

Thus far our students have received $120,000. in Basic Education Opportunity Grant commitments. This is a wonderful source of revenue and is available for Spring Quarter.

Public Servants

Northwest College has always been interested in the community of which it was a member. Through the years, members of our faculty and staff have participated in various ways and have had a respected voice in our community. College President, Dr. D.V. Hurst, was recently elected to the Kirkland City Council for a four-year term. We feel this a vote of confidence for our college as well as for Dr. Hurst.

Another important election was that of Rev. Herb Crowder as President of the Kirkland Chamber of Commerce for one year. Last year, he held the office of vice-chairman. These elections mean that there is a Christian witness in two very important areas of our community.

Speaking concerning his election and Mr. Crowder's, President Hurst said, "We believe we should be a part of the community. Kirkland is a city of 17,000 just the right size for a college like Northwest. The college can be felt in the community. Since college personnel can exact a positive influence in city affairs, they should."

APRIL 2

Make sure you don't miss out on the fun! A three step approach will help you arrive on campus: First, ask around among high school youth in your church to find out who would like to go (by phone or in your Sunday School class or youth group). Second, make a list of their names. Lastly, give the list to your pastor and discuss with him the matter of suitable transportation. We will take care of your meals and housing. Now isn't that easy? See you on Campus Day, April 2.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

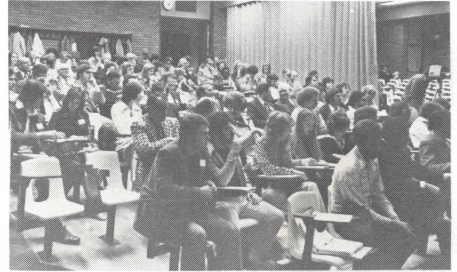

Registration

Even Dr. Hurst, our College President, has birthdays. Here, with his wife, he is being honored by the faculty in the lounge. He is still this side of 40!!

The Samoan Singers in Chapel.

The workshop on, "Conscience, Guilt, and Grace" was held in the college Learning Center. It was led by Dr. Rozell.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Dean of Women, Miss Guy, with Miss Nancy Teague. Nancy is director of Job Line, a very effective source of employment for our students. There is no charge for her services.

This is not the result of a disaster. Students in Carl Kinney's First Aid class are practicing tying splints.

Estate Planning

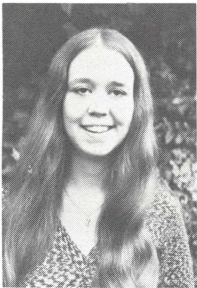

by using a
LIFE INCOME CONTRACT

You may transfer money or other property to Northwest College and retain the right to receive the income from the property for your lifetime. This plan removes the property from your probate estate and saves the cost of administration. You are entitled to a current income tax deduction for a portion of the property's value, and no capital gains tax is payable.

Any estate taxes payable on account of your death are reduced. If you have a home, non-income producing, which you desire to use for your lifetime, a similar gift with a life estate reserved to you may be desirable. This permits a current income tax deduction, reduces probate costs and death taxes. Of course in order to qualify for any tax consideration, the gift must be irrevocable. Revocable gifts of future benefit to a non-profit organization carry no tax benefits.

For further information or assistance in Estate Planning, write or call:

Anita Scarbrough, from Akron, Colorado, is an active student leader. She is one of our R.A.'s in Perks Dorm and serves as Leader of the Children & Youth Missionary Interest group.

E.C.E. Conference

"Teaching the Lollipop Generation" is the theme for the upcoming Early Childhood Education Conference to be held at Northwest College April 24 from 9 A.M. to 3:45 P.M. The keynote speaker will be Dr. Bonnie Dreves of Bellevue who serves the Archdiocese of Seattle as E. C. E. Specialist.

Other workshop personnel include: Shirley Newton, Mrs. Ernestine Rice, and Clint Borders.

The Registration fee is only $10.00 which includes lunch in the College Cafeteria and a registration packet with workshop handouts.

Winter Quarter Enrollment

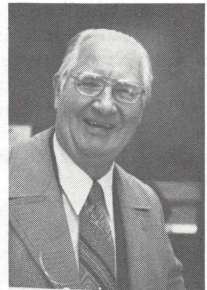

As of press time, the winter quarter enrollment is nearly 600 - the sixth consecutive quarter of record enrollment. Last year's winter quarter enrollment was 542 which was the record up to that point.

"Enrollment is not the whole story of Northwest College but it goes without saying that an air of excitement and a sense of progress rides with enrollment gain," commented President Hurst when he heard of the gain.

Cynthia Wilson, the 1975 Northwest District Miss C.A. winner, is attending Northwest College. This is made possible in part by the scholarship which accompanies this honor. Cynthia attends an Assembly of God church in Tacoma, Washington.

Rev. Roy Southard spoke to Dr. Rozell's Practical Theology class. He told of the needs of the Senior Citizen and the opportunities of ministry to them.
