Dr. D.V. Hurst

From The President

A GRAND SURPRISE

The College Board of Directors made a surprise award to Dr. Hurst at the College Commencement May 30. They honored our College President for his ten years of outstanding service to the college as its chief administrator and spiritual leader, by naming the college's new library building in his honor.

Dr. Hurst has a driving desire to assist our young people to become as qualified as possible to serve our Lord and fellow man. The new library is one more step which will support and advance this goal. There was a standing ovation demonstrating audience approval of the Board's action. Dr. Hurst was visibly moved. Following the commencement an open-house and reception in honor of Dr. & Mrs. Hurst was held in the newly named D.V. Hurst Library.

Looking Back With Thanksgiving

Just one year ago we broke ground for our library. It was truly been a year of progress. It has all been made possible by the generosity of people like yourself.

We are truly thankful for:

1. All who took part in the library share program,
2. All who gave cash for the project, and,
3. All who made funds available through short term loans.

Last but not least, we praise God that so many have placed Northwest College on their prayer list. Continue to pray for us—we need God's continued blessing.

College's Fortieth Commencement Milestone Event

The colorful processional of graduates led by a color-guard, faculty, administration, and College Board of Directors signalled a momentous event on the campus of Northwest College on May 30th. It was the College's 40th annual commencement. An overflow crowd, of an estimated 1100 persons filled the auditorium.

Highlighting the occasion was the conferral of degrees upon an all time record of 112 graduates of whom 36 received Associate degrees; one a diploma; two, Bachelor of Science degrees; 75, Bachelor of Arts degrees; and one the Bachelor of Theology.

The previous record for the size of the graduating class was in 1973 when 88 were graduated. The new graduation roster brings the total number of graduates from Northwest over the 40 years up to 2093.

Bringing the commencement address was the Reverend Frank McAllister Superintendent of the Northwest District Council of the Assemblies of God. Recognizing this as the Bi-centennial Class, Rev. McAllister held up Spiritual revival as the nation's greatest need on its 200th birthday challenging the graduates to not only be bearers of the Gospel message but examples of it.

A number of special honors were conferred including the induction of five members of the 1976 graduating class into the Delta Epsilon Chi Honor Society. They were Kenneth Aho, Daniel Anderson, Ken Dobson, Steve Hunt, and Rick Vickery. Three alumni were cited for honorary membership: Marjorie Stewart, 1946; the Rev. David Womack and the Rev. Dennis Davis, 1956.

Rev. Lyle B. Spradley was the recipient of the college's first Distinguished Service Award. The College's highest award was the conferment of an honorary doctorate upon 23-year veteran professor of Bible and Applied Theology, the Rev. Donald H. Fee. Both men are entering full retirement.

To the Glory of God and the Edification of His Church

A mile-stone in the 42-year history of Northwest College was celebrated on April 10 when the NW College dedicated its new library building located at the center of its campus in Kirkland, Washington. The new edifice of concrete, steel, and brick construction will represent an investment of nearly one million dollars, when fully equipped. It is the most ambitious construction project yet completed on the college's 50-acre campus.

The dedicatory ceremonies were led by College President, Dr. D.V. Hurst, and participants included College, Lay Council, Church, civic and community leaders. Among guests present were Assemblies of God General Superintendent, Dr. T.F. Zimmerman, and Kirkland Mayor, Mr. Robert Neir. Bringing the prayer of dedication was former president, Dr. C.E. Butterfield. Also present at the occasion was Mrs. Henry H. Ness, wife of the late Dr. Henry H. Ness, founder and first president of the College—thus giving the occasion linkage with all three presidents who have served during the college's history.

The new three-floor edifice will provide immediate space for nearly 78,000 volumes in its present phase of development, plus 200 study positions; ten staff work positions, six conference rooms, and a board room for the College's Board of Directors and committee meetings. The building has also been designed to provide for future installation of electronic equipment, increasingly a part of modern library technology. A basement level floor was added for future expansion.

It is expected that the new facility will be put into service in the fall quarter of the coming academic year. The space currently used to house the library in the basement of the C.E. Butterfield Chapel, will be remodeled to house class rooms, rehearsal rooms, studio and office space for the College's music department.

It was recalled at the dedicatory ceremonies that the new library is the first permanent facility for the College library in the college's 42-year history. The library, which started with a single book case in the college's original location in Hollywood Temple in Seattle, will have gone through seven location moves by the time the new facility is put into service.

Thus what the Temple represented in the early history of Israel so this building represents in the academic history of the College—a permanent facility dedicated to the "glory of God and to the edification of His church."

8th Annual Flying Seminar Announced

Northwest College's 8th Annual Flying Seminar to the Holy Land and to at least three other lands of the Bible were announced by College President, D.V. Hurst. Leaving Seattle next March 13th the tour will go to Athens, Corinth, Damascus, Amman, Petra, Israel, and return by way of Copenhagen. It is possible that the itinerary might also include two or three of the cities of Revelation on the west coast of Turkey, as a "bonus feature," he added.

Leading the tour this year will be President Hurst who will be assisted by Dean Amos D. Millard. Dean Millard just returned from leading the college's 7th annual seminar, which included a party of 36 persons. Billed as "the best yet" the seminar completed an "intense" itinerary which literally traveled Israel from Dan to Beersheba plus three other countries associated with the Bible.

This year there will be a European Extension, Dr. Hurst announced. The precise extension itinerary is in the process of being refined, but it is expected that it will include London, England, plus another significant travel point, either Turkey or Rome.

The tour is open to students, faculty, parents and friends of the college, Dr. Hurst said.

Already some initial sign-ups for the tour have been received.

The College publishes a monthly tour news bringing up-date information on the tour as it develops and also offers instruction on the tour through its Winter Quarter lecture series or by materials prepared for independent studies.

Information about the tour can be obtained by writing to the College at P.O. Box 579, Kirkland, Wash. 98033 (telephone: 822-8266).

Spring Spiritual Emphasis Week

Faith and intellect will mix! That was the clear message of the Spring Quarter Spiritual Emphasis Week with Dr. J. Edwin Orr. His sermons on the theme "Faith That Makes Sense" demonstrated that the Christian faith is not naive, but can stand the light of scholarly inquiry. N.C.'s students stood a bit taller after those inspiring meetings.

Dr. Orr is a professor of missions at Fuller Seminary, a missionary evangelist known on every continent, and an authority on past and present movements. He is the author of some thirty books. His presentation of basic Biblical truths in a scholarly manner elicited spontaneous applause from the students on several occasions.

College Honors Two Colleagues

Northwest College honored two of its colleagues who have long and distinguished records of service with the College at its Commencement services on May 30.

The Reverend Mr. Donald H. Fee, professor of Applied Theology and Bible is leaving the College for full retirement after 23 years of service to the College. The College conferred upon him the honorary degree Doctor of Divinity at the recent commencement exercises. He was also granted faculty emeritus status.

The Reverend Mr. Lyle B. Spradley left the college for full retirement after two tenures of service to the College. In 1953 he joined the College administrative staff as Business Manager, a post which he filled until 1957 when he was elected as District Secretary-Treasurer for the Northwest District of the Assemblies of God. Upon his retirement from that post, he returned to the College for a second tenure of service as Financial Aid Officer on a part-time basis. Conferred upon him was the College's first Distinguished Service Award.

It was noted that both men grew up together in Anacortes, Washington and that both men have fulfilled double tenures of service to the College—each one having completed a second tenure after initial retirement but continuing on a part-time service basis with the college since then until now.

The annual All-School Banquet was a time of good food at the Holiday Inn in Bellevue. Special musical guests were the Joyous Celebration. As usual, it had a romantic touch.

Four members of the travelling ensemble, Maranatha Sounds, are loading the van prior to leaving for their spring tour. This year the Sounds travelled through Big Sky Country in Montana. Their ministry was well received.

Funds Are Available

This past academic year saw Northwest College disperse $122,966 through the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant. In addition to this, $14,002 was dispersed through the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the State Need Grant amounted to $3,990. In addition to grants there is the National Direct Student Loan program which provided $58,973 to students. If you know of a student planning to attend Northwest College this next year, encourage him to write the college and apply for these funds. Mr. Buel Brodin will be happy to answer their questions and help them in any way possible.

Whole Man Seminar For Pastors

By the time you read this the Whole Man Seminar will be history. But it is such a unique presentation and opportunity that we thought it good to mention some of the things which will have happened. The seminar, the first of its kind, is limited in enrollment to twelve pastors. Featured speakers were Dr. Roger H. Butz, Dr. Jack Rozell, Dr. Sig Weedman, and Rev. Fulton Buntain. The idea was to minister to the three major areas in man's makeup: the physical, the spiritual, and the psychological. Included in the seminar was a complete physical examination with various medical tests being performed, including blood tests, EKG, x-ray and personal guidance interview regarding various findings. The Rev. Fulton Buntain of First Assembly of God in Tacoma gave input on unique elements of the spiritual as relates to the pastor. Psychological testing and personal interviews by Dr. Rozell and Dr. Weedman were also conducted to help identify growth needs and resources. The seminar ran for three days. Hopefully it will be possible to have a similar seminar at a later date. For more information on future seminars relating to the pastor contact the college or Dr. Jack Rozell.

Alumni Scholarships

It was announced at the annual alumni banquet and concert that the Alumni Association was again able this year to give four scholarships to students attending Northwest College. This is made possible by the generous gifts of NC Alumni who in addition to their dues make liberal contributions toward this fund. It is the hope of the Alumni Association to increase the amount of scholarship, which at this point is $250.00. And to also increase the number of scholarships as more alumni participate in the program.

Coin Drive— Great Success

The sectional WMC representatives gathered together at District Council in a great rally at which time their efforts were pooled together. The project was aimed to help the college raise funds for their new library.

Summer P.R. Travel Groups

Again this year Northwest College is sending out PR teams to represent the college and minister in churches and camps. This year four groups will be touring the Northwest area. Sweet Communion consisting of Estelle Nicholson, Chris Isaak, Cindy Blakley, and Lorna Alcorn will be ministering in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Southern Idaho and Oregon.

Soul Purpose, which consists of Angela Pitts, Melonie Hutchcroft, Ruth Arneson, and Judy Rice will be ministering in Washington, Montana, Southern Idaho, and Wyoming.

Sweet Salvation made up of four girls, Colleen Roberson, Joni Welk, Cheryl Ross, and Connie Reems will be ministering in Washington.

the Northwesterners whose members are Les and Darice Welk, Todd Wagner, and Dave Ritter will be ministering in Southern Idaho, Oregon, and Washington.

Last year four teams travelled over 33,000 miles representing the college. We are thrilled that we have high quality groups to minister and represent Christ.
