Portraying His Image

“Dr. Elmes always has time to listen to others, and he offers just the right word of advice and encouragement to fit the need.”

“A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in the pictures of silver.” So goes the proverbial saying that so aptly fits the character and life of the man we have chosen to honor in the 1998-99 Karisma. This professor always has time to listen to others, and he offers just the right word of advice and encouragement to fit the need. This positive, affirming manner of his has lifted many of us out of discouragement and uncertainty. Coming to Northwest in the fall of 1991, he has a background in pastoring and social work. Since his arrival on campus, his warm, outgoing personality has endeared him to both his students and his colleagues. He is none other than Dr. C. David Elmes.

Dr. Elmes completed his bachelor's in Pastoral Studies from Bethany Bible College in 1965. He also holds a master's in Divinity from Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, and in Education from Whitworth College; he recently completed a doctorate in Education from Seattle University. While he worked toward this last degree, students and faculty alike became accustomed to seeing his big van parked on campus early and late, plus on weekends as he completed his dissertation while teaching a full academic class load. His accomplishments, his leadership skills, and his character are all reasons that his peers and administrators have chosen him as Dean of the Arts and Sciences division.

Dr. Elmes and his wife Patti have two daughters, both of whom are public school teachers. And they have four grandsons. Patti Elmes works as the Executive Assistant to NC President Don Argue, so together David and Patti serve the college, the students, their colleagues and friends. We as a community are fortunate to have them both and the Christlike influence that they bring to our campus.

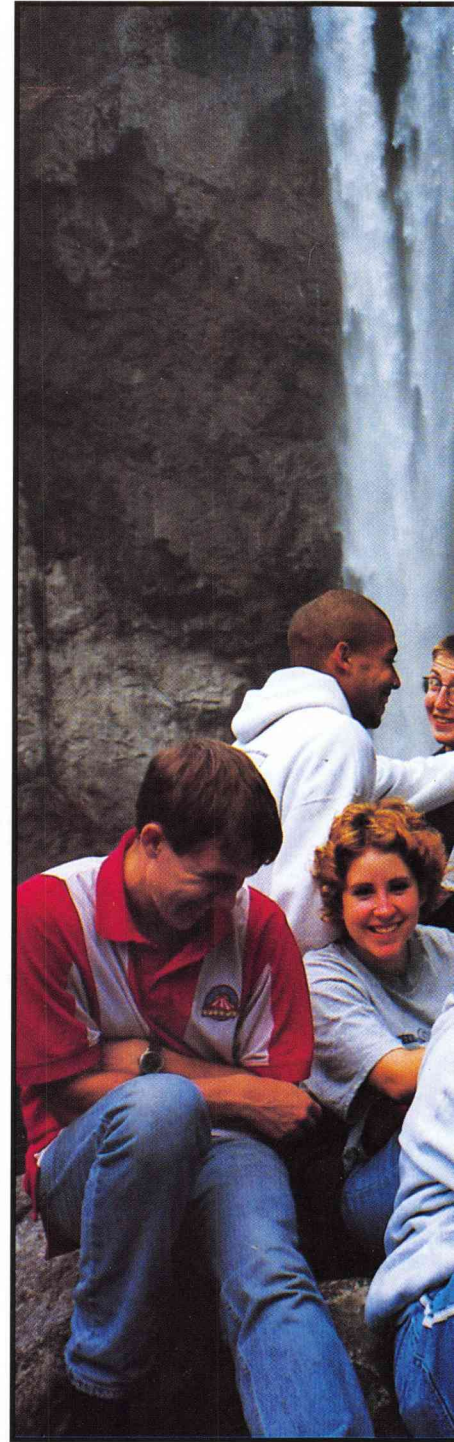

Professor Elmes, we thank you for your encouraging voice in our lives.

-Dr. LeRoy Johnson

Suiting Up: "Warrior," Melissa Hostetler, prepares for the annual Floor Olympics. Again, the 600 floor receives the championship trophy. Maybe it's in the paint.

Taking time to Bond: before the stress begins, 300 floor hikes Snoqualmie Falls.

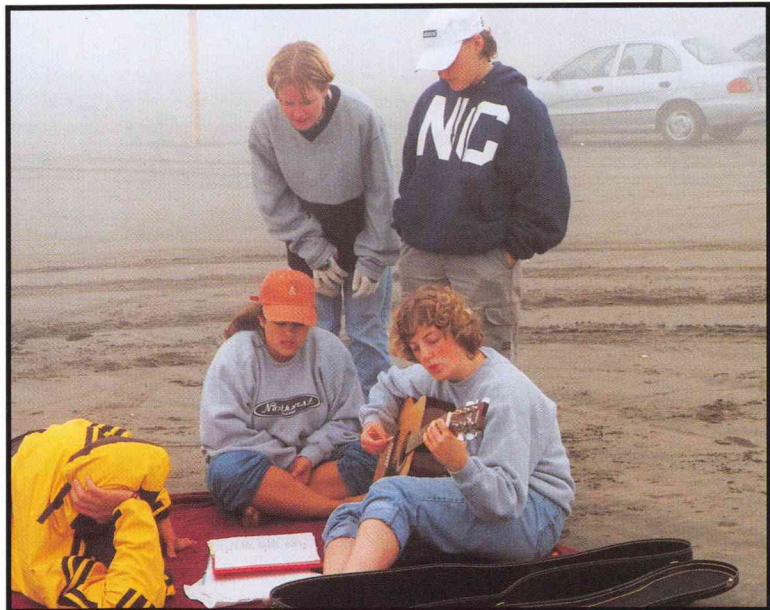

Some orientation groups meet at Bellevue Park to saddle up for "Night on the Town."

"Northwest seemed small compared to the 'big' plans I wanted to achieve. But I see now that it is the 'smallness' of Northwest College that enables me to have the focus for bigger dreams."

-Rebekah Vicknair, Sophomore

Life~Long DREAMS

Finding Him: Debbi Foster picks some tunes for friends Cathie Bender, Lisa McKenney, Kelly Miller, and Paul Terry in a last minute trip to Ocean Shores.

Bad Boy! RA Brian Reeder kicks off the year with a firm hand on wayward Jeremy Seaward.

Ridin' for Glory Land: John Shorb, Thys Wallwork, and Trevor Holly cruise along the Washington Coastline on a typical, cloudy day in the Pacific Northwest.

“God has shown me that I have depended too much on perfect moods to feel His presence. I need to acknowledge His spirit in good and bad times.”

-Gina Bartlett, Freshman

All in a knot! Orientation groups race against the clock, hoping to beat other competitors.

Life-Long DEPENDENCE

"Shrimp on the bar-b?" Cafeteria cook Doug Mitchell, and sophomore Edie Lalander, "fry up" for the All-School Picnic.

Junior Anna McMillan hopes to fit her carload of belongings into her new "itty-bitty living space."

It's obviously not midterms as Jared Cooksey, Curtis Hagen, Jerad Macauley, Sean Cumpton, and Kristen Schmidt roast dinner, and themselves, over an open fire.

Life-Long LEARNING

Eating his way to an ice cream headache, freshman Jeremy Inman challenges the current record. Junior Cathie Bender cheers on.

Friends gather on the lawn for a bite to eat as they enjoy the good weather and each other's company.

Jump start: freshman Katy Lockard assists "the gang" in pushing the school van over the finish line.

Jireh Ang sticks the beat for worship during an evening Spiritual Enrichment service.

“I really enjoy the faculty. They care about their students, even outside of the classroom setting.”

-Robert Jackson, Junior

Girls stand and direct the men hauling their load of belongings into their dorm room in Crowder Hall.

Life-Long MINISTRY

Teamsters unite for the 20-legged race, a sure test of endurance and coordination.

Jamie O' Clock reaches for a spike on Jaamar McKelvey . Does he even have to jump?

In the early morning hours, Dan Metteer and Dr. Marshall Flowers lead a group of students in prayer and worship "around the pole."

“ I love NC! I’m really excited about the things I’m learning in my classes that will help me have a better ministry for the Lord. ”

-Rachel Huey, Sophomore

Dr. Blaine Charette, Dr. Francis Thee, and Dr. Glenn Settle chat and dream of a weekend escape from correcting papers to Hawaii. But, they’ll settle for the staff retreat.

“But for right now, something else isn’t what you’ve been called to do. You’ve been called to do the work of getting an education. And part of that work will result in your developing academic and professional competency skills. That’s great, but I think there’s a much greater issue that’s at stake here. And that is not just learning how to earn a living, but learning to live a life. To me, education means coming to realize what it means to be created in the image of God.”

Dr. William Swaffield

Dr. William Swaffield has been a major part of the music department since his arrival thirty years ago. Actually beginning here as a part-time orchestra conductor, he later directed the King's Chorale (now the Master Chorale) and then added music theory and church music ministry courses to his ensemble.

Among Swaffield's favorite rewards as a professor, he says jokingly is "The paycheck. I like getting paid. Plus, I like to eat, and if don't bring home a paycheck, my family will starve and so will I." However, anyone who has taken a class with Dr. Swaffield knows that he considers teaching more than a paycheck. Dr. Swaffield has made a practice to pray for absent students before he begins class. He searches for the best in his students; he never assumes students are "skipping" class.

When asked for a few last words of advice, Swaffield exclaims, "Turn off the lights when you leave. Especially those lights up in the chapel, those big ones take up a lot of juice. When you leave NC, they'll probably give me a check for $5,000 for saving all that electricity upstairs."

Whether turning off the lights, or praying for students, Swaffield's hard work and caring spirit will always be appreciated.

Years of Investment

Professor Philip Gustafson

Rarely does the NC family see the Professor of Physical Science and Mathematics without a smile. When he leaves, we will all miss his kind smile and generous spirit.

Professor Gustafson, a pastor's kid, has always had a heart for God's plan in his life. He says, "I am tremendously blessed to be a part of many students' preparation for ministry. I can see that God has used and is using my talents and gifts to further His Kingdom . . ."

Before coming to NC,

Professor Gustafson taught for ten years in a public high school. When he arrived here, there were only 250 students enrolled. He has watched that enrollment more than triple in the thirty-three years that he has taught math and science here. Gustafson has also contributed greatly to the Karisma yearbook staff as photography advisor.

Gustafson is grateful for his experience at Northwest. He says, "It has been enjoyable to teach here at Northwest. I would like to continue to see students being challenged her at NC, just as they would anywhere else they will go."

Inauguration

A word from the President:

Being inaugurated as President of Northwest College was an extremely positive experience. I am excited about what God can do through this great college.

Building on the theme of "We are Heirs of the past, Guardians of the present, and Architects of the future," I feel that Northwest college is positioned to make a major impact on the Pacific Rim.

As I sat on the platform awaiting Dr. Jack Hayford's inaugural address, I thought about the idea that we are Heirs of the Past. So many have gone before us and paid the price to develop a very strong institution. Northwest College has been very well managed and has an endowment fund that is very strong for the size of the enrollment. We are Heirs of the Past!

I also thought about the beautiful campus overlooking Lake Washington, the City of Seattle, the Olympic Mountains, and the very strong faculty and administration. I realized, in fact, we are Guardians of the Present! I was about to be given the task of maintaining the heritage and commitments of the founding fathers of the college.

The challenge of what lies ahead makes me think that we are, with God's help, Architects of the Future. Northwest has a variety of attributes that aids in its preparation for a great future: a low faculty to student ratio, a highly trained Christian faculty, a beautiful campus, a growing endowment, and a campus-wide commitment to producing graduates who are world-changers for Christ. I am excited that by faith God is going to do something great through this college.

The theme for Harvest Social this year was "Saturday Morning Live." Students came dressed as their favorite animated character. There was everything from Lucky the Leprechaun to Strawberry Shortcake. The games all revolved around something someone might do on a Saturday morning.

Harvest Social was an opportunity for the new kids on campus to show their stuff. The freshman class officers kicked off the year with the first annual All-School Car Smash: a chance for students to take out their aggression on a 1984 Puegeot. By the end of the evening, nothing was left but a pile of scrap metal and some very happy students.

Homecoming 1999 was an exciting event. Northwest parents, students, and faculty had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Eric Steinkamp and Prof. Debbie Pope announce the 1999 Homecoming court. With slides and stories accompanying each participant, students were able to discover many attributes of the Homecoming court they had elected.

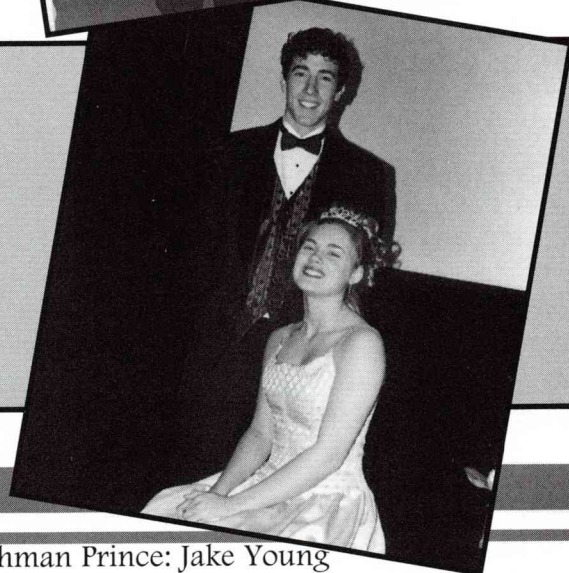

At half time of an entertaining men's basketball game, Tiffany Ruska and Jeff Duchemin (1998 Royalty) passed the honor on by crowning King Peter Blue and Queen Alicia Duchemin, followed by an impressive and victorious men's basketball win.

H.O.P.E. Hospital Outreach People Encouragement is a great ministry for those who have a heart for children and want to encourage them and their families. This team goes to hospitals and ministers one-on-one through puppets, clowns, playing games, and reading stories. There are usually three or four outreaches a semester (on a Saturday or Sunday) for a couple of hours each.

Hope Team Members:
 Kristen Swafford,
 Marisa Hawk, Leah Lamm, Holly Pomeroy, Jerry Robenson, Krystal Smith Kendrick, Angela Engelhardt, Danielle Alsup, Melissa Hostetler

Lighthouse: A relationship based ministry, Lighthouse is focused on Broadway Street (Capitol Hill) in downtown Seattle. Lighthouse meets on Friday and Saturday nights in the Eagle's Nest at 7:00 P.M. for prayer and preparation. Members spend most of their time on the streets building relationships with homeless teens, adults, and with anyone else hanging out on Broadway. The outreach concludes with prayer and reflection around 11:00 P.M..

Ministry Groups

V.I.B.E.S. Volunteers In the Bellevue Education System is a program for anyone who wants to help children in grades K-12. Many of these students either have difficulty learning in the classroom or dealing with family or social problems, and want help. This is an in-the-classroom experience, tutoring one-on-one opportunity to befriend a student and help him or her academically and socially. (Not pictured.)

Voices: A children's ministry where students minister to children between the ages of two and ten. Students dress as clowns to perform skits, tell Bible stories, sing songs, juggle, and make balloon animals in order to communicate the message of Jesus Christ. Voices conducts several services at churches and retreats throughout the year. (Not pictured.)

P. B.'n J.: Peanut Butter and Jesus is different from any other team that is here on the Northwest campus. P.B.'n J.'s priority is ministry to shape the lives of children. As a result, it is also a public relations team that impacts counselors, siblings, and church youth groups. A high energy team, P.B.'n J. shows a genuine love for God and His children. The members of the team include: Stephanie Kenney, Erin Warner, Darell Handley, Noelle Congleton.

Esperanza: A ministry focused on the Hispanic community, Esperanza meets once a week to pray and prepare, and is involved in various outreaches at churches and parks throughout the year. This year's representative is Esmeralda Hernandez.

S.M.C.'s

Student Ministry Coordinators: With approximately 400 students living on campus and the same living off, we realized that two ASB officers couldn't make the personal contact with students that is needed to maximize everyone's involvement in ministry. There are representatives on each floor, and two that serve the off campus students. Their work consists of hanging posters, informing students about ministry opportunities, and the planning and participation of chapel services. Their involvement has helped Outreach Ministries fulfill our mission statement. We send a HUGE thanks to every SMC that participated in the 1998-1999 school year!

In September, NC started the process of rebuilding the radio station previously run by students. With the start of the new Broadcasting course, students take airshifts for the new local station 1620 AM. The staff has seen the need for a station which reaches the youth and young adults in the Seattle area. They hope to be a source of encouragement for those who return from church retreats or concerts and have no options for Alternative Christian Rock. KCNC acknowledges the impact that music has on lives, and isn't content with leaving it at that. They are doing something about it.

KCNC kicks it off live on 1620 AM.

“ We want to lift up the name of Jesus by promoting area Concerts, Churches, and Ministry Organizations, while providing music in a style that is accepted by the young people of the Seattle area, encouraging them to grow in their personal relationship with Christ, and giving them the motivation and opportunity to witness to non-Christians through Alternative Christian Music. ”

Missions Emphasis

Missions Emphasis Week is a time set aside in chapel every semester to focus on various missionaries and monthly projects sponsored by Northwest College students.

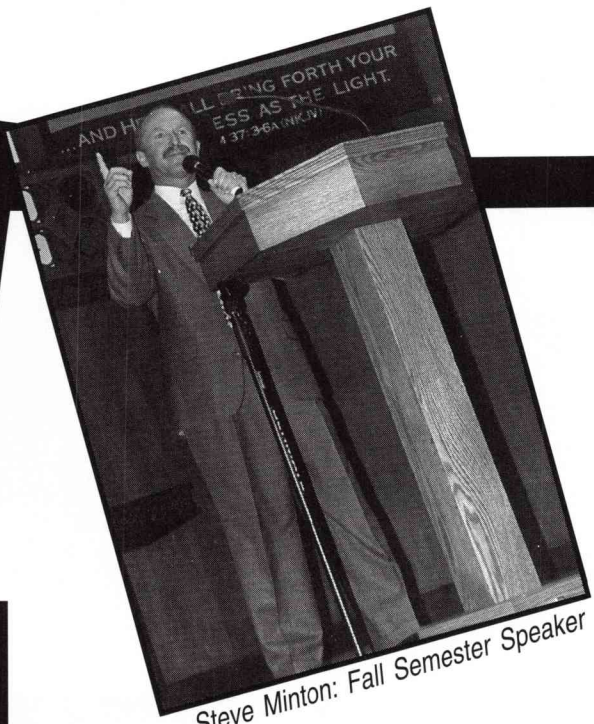

The Fall Missions Week focused on Kevin Strum-Missionary to Honduras; Betty Jo Kenney-Missionary to Southeast Asia; and Rod and Sherry Boyd-Missionaries to Panama. Fall outreach projects included a Speed-the-Light car for Phil Malcolm and Spring Break Mission Trips.

The Spring Missions Week featured Rev. Dr. Bob and Carolyn Houlihan. The Houlihans are the directors of Mission of Mercy in Calcutta, India. Spring Projects included Redwood Hills Church, Mission of Mercy, and Summer Mission Trips.

Doug Oss: Spring Semester Speaker

Steve Minton: Fall Semester Speaker

Spiritual Enrichment Week is a time set aside during chapel at the beginning of each semester for students and faculty to grow closer to God.

During the Fall Semester, Northwest was privileged to have two speakers: Jim and Carol Cymbala, and Steve Minton.

Jim Cymbala, from Brooklyn Tabernacle Church in New York, spoke on September 8 and 9 on topics ranging from walking a straight path out of Psalms 51:10-12 to "Guard the Unity of the Spirit Between God's Church and His People," out of Mark 3:25-26.

Steve Minton, a youth ministry veteran for the past three decades, spoke on September 10 and 11 from four major passages of scripture: Psalms 27:1-6, Hebrews 12:1-13, Revelations 12:11, and Acts 16:16-34.

The Spring Semester featured Rev. Dr. Doug Oss. He is currently the pastor at Capital Christian Center in Salt Lake City, UT. On all three days (January 13-15) Dr. Oss spoke on the theme "There's Got to Be More." Dr. Oss was "relevant and 'down to earth,'" says Rev. David Gerig. "He strongly encouraged the NC community to not be content with religiosity."

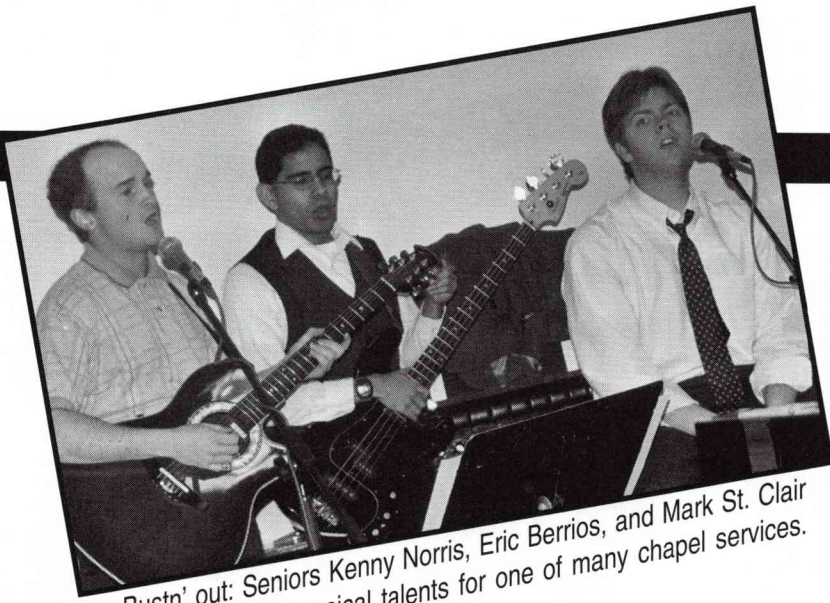

Roman Hill, Timothy Yepes, Mike Bishop, Matt Wakefield, Gabe Bray, and other students gather at the altar for prayer and worship.

Chapel

Chapel: one of the rare moments at NC where the entire student body can gather together, throw off the stress of the day, and enjoy a time of fellowship and praise.

Chapel consists of wide varieties of worship and services including special guest speakers, praise and worship, class break outs, ASB, AWS/AMS, senior speakers, and many many more.

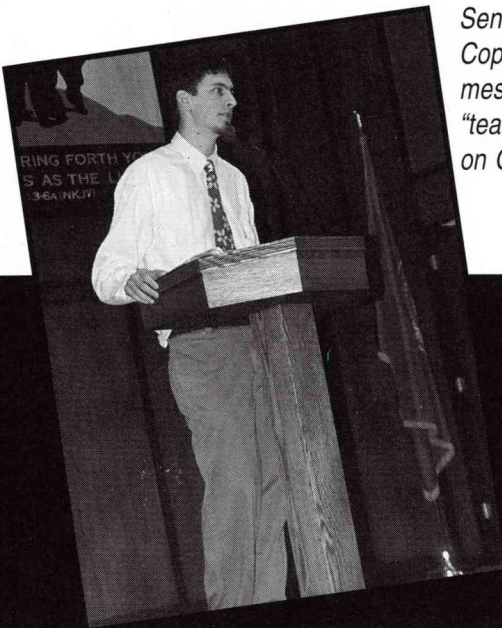

Chapel is a Northwest Trademark, a mark that takes time out of the academic day to honor our Heavenly Father.

The 1999 Summer Ministry Teams . . .

Not long ago, in a building just up the hill, a battle was fought, which has become known as the SMT Wars.

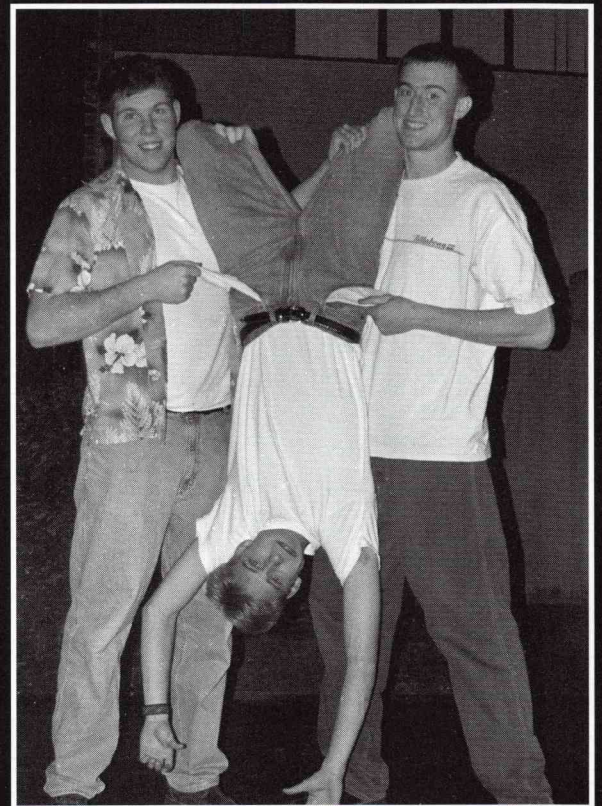

All players were valiant, and put up a good fight against Darth Vader (Chaz Rainwater) and the Storm Troopers.

With the help of Luke Skywalker (Scott Lenzion), Hans Solo (Chaz Rainwater), Chewie (Shane Abbot), and Princess Leia (Dave Gustafson), five teams challenged the forces of evil. Mr. Tumnus and his band were nearly Cited Blind. Luckily, they got their Acts together, and came up with enough Pocket Change to call the Millenium Falcon, which flew quickly to the teams' rescue. After a long, sweaty battle, the crew relaxed around a bon fire, and toasted glasses of H2O in honor of their victory.

Though the battle was won, the war is not over. Pocket Change, Cited Blind, and H2O will continue their war in a new arena: the Northwest District, Summer of 1999. Here they will minister to thousands of teens who are lost to the dark side.

ASB

The 1998-1999 school year has come and gone with many great memories. Hopefully, many of them come to you from your local ASB office!!! Between the All-School Games at the beginning of the year, ASB chapels, the Harvest Social, free ice-cream, Missions Emphasis Week, Student Ministries, and Spring Banquet, your six ASB officers have been joyfully working hard for you!

Priscilla Hines served as your loving Treasurer; Alicia Duchemin was your delightful Secretary; Larra Gonzales was your talented Secretary of Outreach; Ben Thomas was your dynamite V.P. of Outreach; Dan Metteer was your funky V.P. of Activities; and Valerie Kiesser, your devoted President.

But more than our commitment to give you lots of fun and worthwhile activities, is our commitment to see to know Christ. Hopefully, we have spurred you to do the same. If we could capture the heartbeat of the ASB officers with one Scripture passage, it would definitely be Philippians 3: 10,11 which says, "I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of sharing in his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, and so somehow, to attain to the resurrection from the dead." The ASB team loves the NC students bunches (!) and will continue to pray for your growth and development as individuals, and, particularly, as followers of Jesus Christ. God bless, and have a phenomenal summer!!!

Reaching out in Love with a Him.

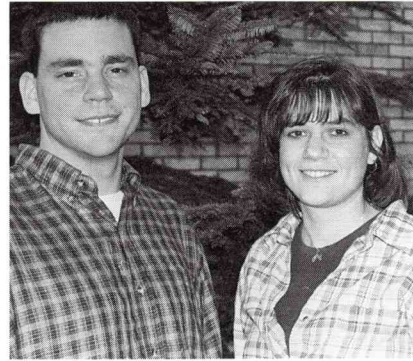

Servant's heart . . . that is what Resident Life Staff is all about. Resident Assistants and Directors dedicate their time and hearts to assist in the development of the students here at NC. From burned out light bulbs to times of personal crisis, RLS is committed to serving the student body with their whole hearts, souls, and minds. RLS strives to "create community and invest in lives."

This year has been yet another one of change in RLS, but God has proven Himself faithful once again. The members of RLS have faced many challenges which have helped unite their efforts and hearts. God has stretched and molded the hearts of each member of RLS and has challenged each to become more like

The unity and passion of the RAs' is reflected on each floor and can be seen on the faces of those whose lives they have touched. Their hard work is shown through the different floor meetings, prayer times, activities, guest speakers, one-on-one contact with students, creating accountability, leadership training, and encouraging those around them with God's joy and love. Residence Life is a place where "friends are found, lives are changed, and dreams are made."

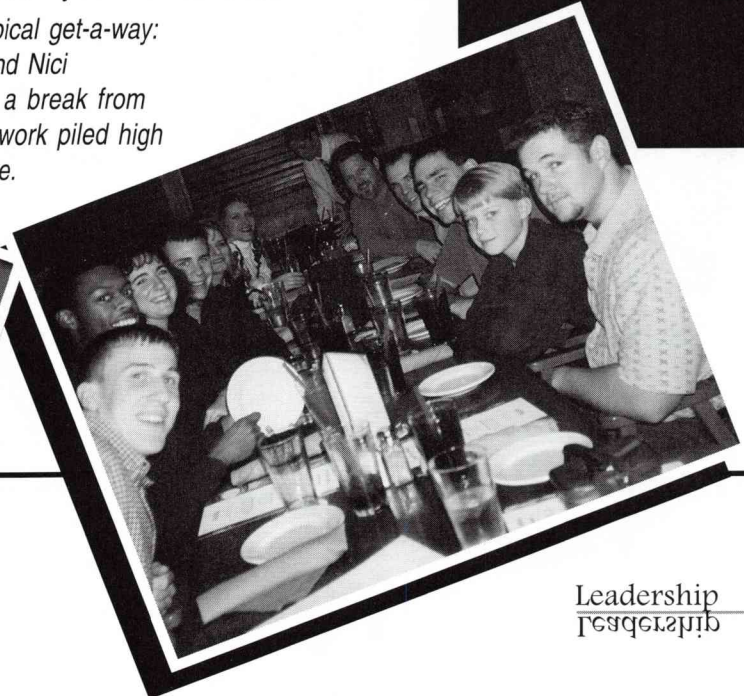

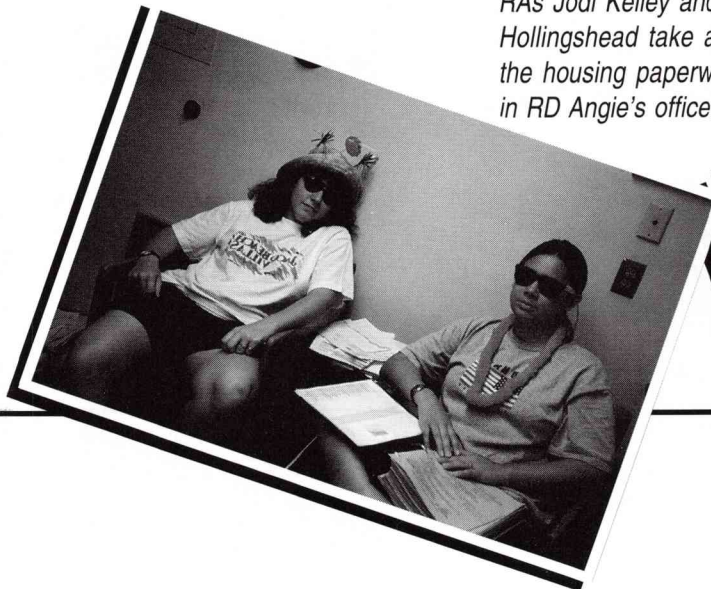

Thank you to those who have made this year a success.

MSA

MSA (Married Students Association) is a group designed to provide for the needs of married students. Often times, like many off-campus students, married students do not have the connections of on-campus students.

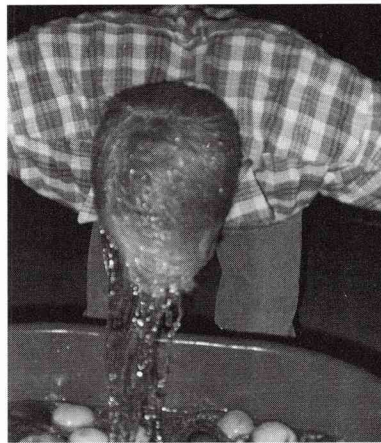

The 1998-1999 staff was led by: Peter Bergford-President; Adam Hrebenick-Vice President; Laura Bunda-Secretary/Treasurer; and Steve Keiser-Hospitality.

Due to hectic and conflicting schedules, planning activities was a challenge. However, for fun and fellowship, married students made time for a Harvest Fall Fling in the gym with events like bobbing for apples. They also met for break-out chapels, an evening spent with President Don Ar-gue in September, and a couples desert evening with Teresa Regan in November. The men also had a chance to develop a Bible Study.

During the Spring Semester, another barbecue is being planned. This year they have also kept going the emergency food pantry and have established a baby clothes closet for those who need some extra help.

Whether with an organized or spontaneous activity, students in the Firs take time to socialize and bond with one another.

Biting a chunk out of an apple, Steve Keiser flings water in an attempt to pull ahead of the competition.

During a chapel time, Andy Casper, Hans Willis, Glen Jackson, and Rob Croswhite join together to work on some prepared Bible study questions.

Newlyweds Dowayne and Lovetta Gessey recover from the intense apple bobbing competition.

Buy, sell, and trade . . . it's all business when Thys and Betsy Wallwork, and Josh and Melissa Jacobs get together for a game night in the firs.

AMS

The year started out a little bit unbalanced for the AMS. During most of the Fall Semester, the men's dorms were in transition from saying farewell to one RD and looking for another. However, during that time, any guy who participated in AMS's first chapel will not soon forget watching WWF on the big screen. Talk about a bonding experience.

Soon after choosing Steve Cave for the RD position, the AMS invited him to speak to the men in the next chapel. He shared his heart, and under his guidance, the AMS moved into the Spring Semester with greater direction and focus.

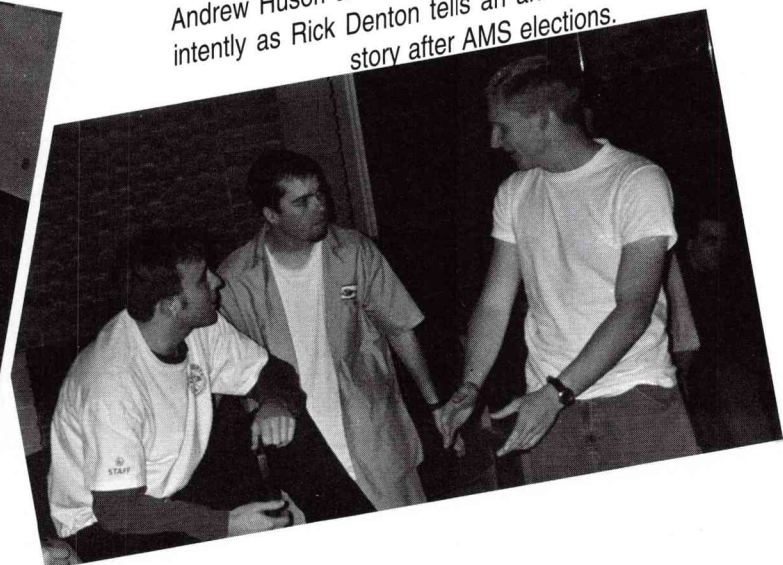

During the Spring Semester, the AMS launched several Lounge Nights for the men to hang out, play video games on the big screen, participate in tournaments such as ping pong, and listen to rockin' music on a heavy duty sound system. Along with Lounge Nights, the AMS helped organize and participate in several other events, such as Valograms and Valentine's Banquet. However, through all the activities and chapels, the main focus of the AMS is to bring the guys on campus closer together in fellowship and unity.

Associated Women Students (AWS) is an organization designed to aid the women at Northwest. Among their shared responsibilities with AMS are Floor Olympics, Roomies Night Out, Open Dorms, Valograms, and several chapels throughout both semesters.

Associated Women Students faced many difficulties, as the positions have changed hands three times. However, during the Spring Semester, new leadership was voted in to fill open positions.

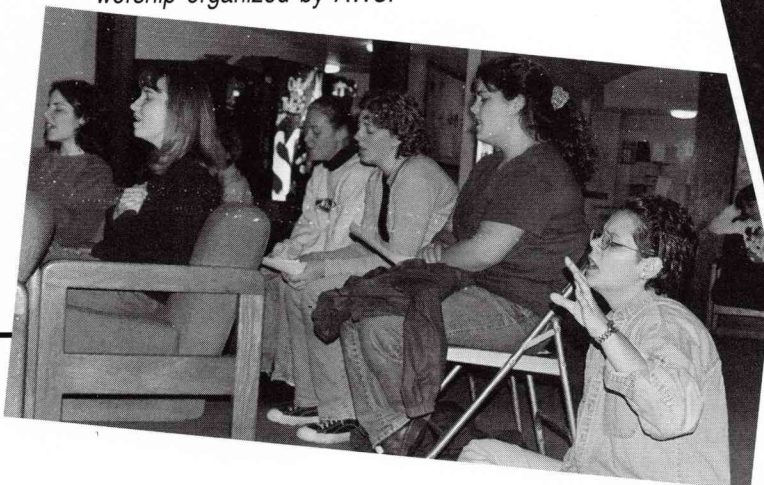

The new AWS officers are: Holly Goodell-President; Jenifer Ramm-Vice President; Karli Blagg-Secretary; Autumn Donnell-Treasurer; Jodi Kelley-Supervisor; Angie Gillespie-Advisor. "I think the prospects look promising for AWS this semester," Jenifer Ramm says. "I'm excited for the upcoming activities."

Every semester, AMS/AWS sponsor the semiannual Roomies Night Out. For the Fall Event, Chris Christensen won a $25 certificate to Red Robin for the most creative date. His date, Jodi Kelley, became Chris' fiancée after their night out. Congratulations!

During Fall Semester, a group of women gather in Perks Lounge for an evening of worship organized by AWS.

Lights, Camera . . . Christopher McNichols assists the drama club by operating the sound system and other equipment for the play.

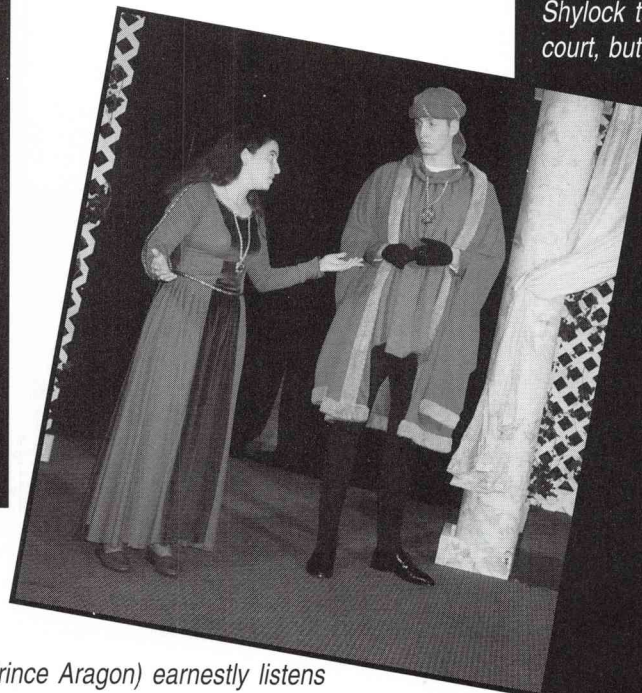

The Spring Drama presentation was entitled The Importance of Being Earnest, directed by Loren Reynolds. The play showed March 18-21 and featured Josh Holden, Jacob Young, and Margie Schuh.

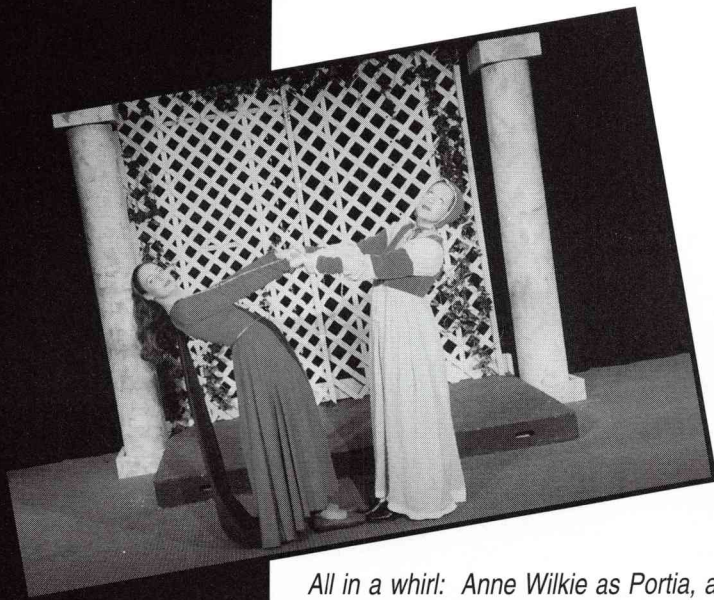

Scott Lenzion (Bassanio) mediates a dispute between enemies Doug Lloyd (Shylock) and Jack Downs (Antonio). Antonio had borrowed some money from Shylock and hasn't paid him back. In turn, Shylock takes Antonio to court, but loses his case.

"The quality of mercy is not stained.
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath."

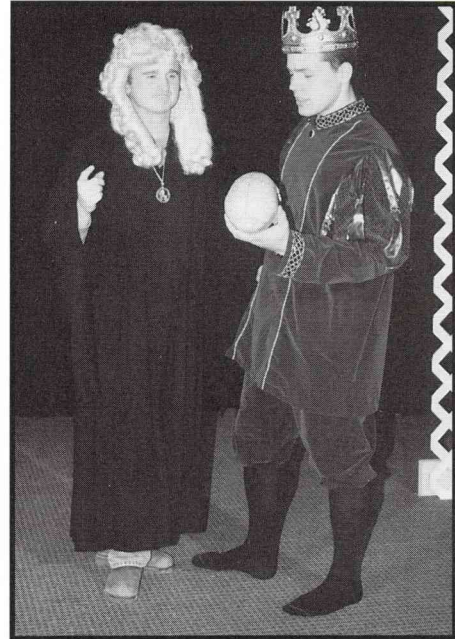

These sweet words of the Bard rang out on December 6th and 7th as students from the Shakespeare class and from the drama club joined to perform The Merchant of Venice. Displaying their considerable talent, students built the set, directed, and presented the play. The performance, just over two hours long, both entertained and enlightened the audience with one of Shakespeare's darkest comedies about love, faith, and prejudice in sixteenth century Venice. It portrayed a classic romantic entanglement as well as a disturbing story of Shylock the Jew, his court battle with Antonio - the actual merchant of Venice - and his search for justice.

Shane Abbott (Prince Aragon) earnestly listens while Anne Wilkie explains the details of his "test" to win her hand in marriage.

All in a whirl: Anne Wilkie as Portia, and Sarajane Downs as Nerissa (Portia's maid) embrace each other under the spotlight. In this Shakespearian drama, Portia disguises herself as a man and gives legal advice to Antonio.

Kenny Norris as the Duke, and Rodney Stock as the Prince of Morocco stoop to examine a skull. The Duke's role is to judge the court case between Antonio and Shylock.

Emily Notter busily works off stage on one of the props. She plays granddaughter to the commentator (Todd McDevitt.)

Eagle Debate Soars

1998-1999 will be remembered for outstanding achievements by NC debaters. Not only did the program for the first time rank top in the state for total winning points, but after a national search of the best debaters in the nation, one student was chosen to represent the United States in a series of debates in Europe.

Our debate success proves the academic quality of our college and the intellectual prowess of the students we attract. Debate seeks to fulfill one of the vital missions of the college: to train future leaders to be effective communicators, able to use reason and persuasion to help provide positive changes for society. This season NC debaters earned local, national, and international recognition by the medias such as KCPQ television news, the Seattle Times, the Anchorage Daily News, the Eugene Daily News, the Pentecostal Evangel, and the Eastside Journal reported numerous victories.

The Eagles began the year ranked 12th in the nation in the National Parliamentary Debate Association, an organization with more than 250 participating institutions.

During deadline week, we've experienced catastrophes

Despite all the frustrations, this year has been an enjoyable experience. As a staff, our goal is to honor God through all the yearbook's functions. Our prayer is that this book reflects Christ, whose image is alive in the stu-

NCCAA Regional Champions hold their banner from their 1997 conquest.

With the utmost concentration, Zach Hoffstad works hard during practice last fall.

This was a difficult and exhaustive season for the Eagle's soccer team. The league fall out wasn't necessarily dominated by a one team powerhouse, rather it was more of an any-team-could-win-it type of season.

Although this was the case, the Eagle's couldn't seem to find their niche. Many games ended in overtime losses and one point deficits. However, a loss is registered as a loss no matter what the deficit.

Despite the difficulty, the team is looking forward to the new season in the Fall of 1999. The team will have a new look and new work ethic. It is difficult to hit the "fine line" of being a professional class athlete and share Jesus at the same time. Our main focus is to display Christ Jesus in our lives in a way that honors the Lord.

Our awesome team chemistry off the court helps us in games. We have had a very successful season so far, and hope we can do some great things for the rest of the year. We've had a lot of great memories. I think we will end up turning some heads around at our conference saying that Northwest College is for real.*

~~Dr. Calvin White & Dr. Deborah White~~

Cal White came to Northwest as a music professor in the Fall of 1975 to direct the smaller traveling choir, known then as the Maranatha Sounds, and visited churches all over the greater Pacific Northwest. Cal's leadership set a high standard for music groups at Northwest; he has many good friends from among those traveling choirs, and they have many tales to tell about their trips with Cal.

While at NC, Cal went on to complete a Masters and a Ph.D. in music at the University of Washington, completing the doctorate in 1983. In addition to showing his work ethic and discipline, the further education certainly enhanced his teaching and his influence at the College.

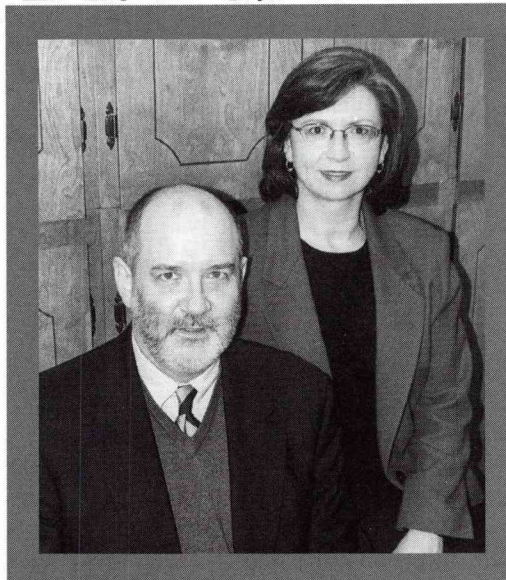

Cal is known for a lot of things. One of them is his insistence that things be done thoughtfully, thoroughly, and correctly, whether one is talking about his classes, his choirs, or his work in the other positions he has held at NC. Cal was Registrar from 1988 to 1991, at which time he became the Director of Enrollment Services. He has made significant changes and improvements in both of those departments in his tenure at Northwest.

Cal is a die hard Husky football fan, and he and Debby have been season ticket holders for years. Actually an avid sports fan, Cal has quite a collection of sports memorabilia, and is a big supporter of both men's and women's basketball at NC, occupying the top row middle behind the home teams in the Pavilion, where he keeps track of the score, the fouls, etc., with characteristic accuracy!

Thanks, Cal, for your visible support for Northwest and for your continued efforts to improve what we do here. Your expertise will be sorely missed, and we wish you and Debby all of God's best!

-Dr. LeRoy Johnson

For many reasons I feel honored and privileged to have been able to share teaching duties in the same department with Debby White. Because our offices are located side by side, I have frequently shown up at her door with questions, which she always patiently answers. This location also allows me to note her open door policy with students. It is apparent that students know they are welcome and valued. Building strong relationships with students and colleagues is obviously a major goal of hers. During several semesters Debby and I have collaborated in a practicum experience for students who major in Education. During those times she has always been professional, congenial, and flexible. On a personal level, she has been encouraging and affirming to me. Every inch a professional, Debby is an extremely skillful and effective teacher. In addition she possesses spiritual depth and insights that have on numerous occasions blessed me. She truly practices the integration of faith with her teaching. Northwest College has every reason to be proud of Debby White and her many contributions. We will miss her greatly!

-Prof. Ernestine Rice

~~Professor David Stoops~~

We meet many people in life who make an impression on us, not for what they have accomplished, not for the fanfares and accolades that surround them, but for their goodness and humility. David Stoops is that kind of person. I have worked closely with Professor Stoops for three years. I have observed his humility as he has endeavored to accomplish what is best for students at NC. On several occasions, he and his wife have put personal finances on the line to support causes benefitting many a student. He has asked no acknowledgment of these gracious donations and has downplayed his contributions.

There is an excellent model of Christ-likeness in this man, evident in his honoring others over self. There is a passion for serving students that drives David Stoops, a needed core value in the academic arena, exemplary to anyone involved in or contemplating a career in academia.

David does not take himself too seriously. This characteristic reflects not merely in his generous sense of humor, but also in his keen sense of his own humanness. It keeps him in balance as an academic, preventing him from becoming arrogant and condescending about his evident expertise in business.

It has been a real pleasure for me to call him friend. I have encountered great people on several continents who have made an impact on my life, ones whom I can count on, call on, and remember with deep regard and fondness. You are right up there, David Stoops! It is our loss for him to leave; it is a blessing for the places he will go. A Setswana idiom describes it best, "Re tla go floafaletse" - "We will long for who you are to us..." -Prof. James Stewart

Dr. Donald Fee 1907-1999

Donald Fee, a retired minister and teacher with the Assemblies of God for 64 years, died in Seattle on January 19, 1999, at the age of 92. He was born in Decatur, Illinois, on January 3, 1907, the oldest of four children. After attending Bible College in Victoria, BC, and Chicago, Illinois, he commenced ministry in Arlington in 1926. He pastored churches in Lodi, CA; Ashland, Grants Pass and Corvallis, Oregon; and Port Angeles, WA, before joining the faculty at NW in 1953 where he taught for twenty-three years before retiring in 1976.

While pastoring Glad Tidings Church in Vancouver, Washington, I had the privilege of performing the wedding ceremony for Donald Fee and Dagny Mattson. What a joy it was to see two wonderful families joined together through the God-honoring love that Donald and Dagny shared.

In God's providence, Patti and I have been blessed to maintain contact with this wonderful couple through the years and look forward to heavenly fellowship throughout eternity.

What a sterling model Dr. Fee was for all of us. His life proclaimed his love for God, his wife, his family, and the church. May his devotion and determination live on in those of us who had the rare privilege of knowing him.

Don Fee was a friend who was fun to talk to. He was always so "level headed." He gave insight into some of the scriptures which I had questioned, and I missed his warmth and friendship when he retired from NC. Roberta and I had some nice times with Don and Dagny. He is one of the great treasures we had the opportunity to know here at NC.

-Prof. Phil and Roberta Gustafson

My Dad was a wonderful preacher and teacher; as one of his colleagues told once after hearing him preach: "Gordon, if you can ever put as much meat on the bone as your dad did today, you'll be all right." But more important, as one who lived with him over many years, I know he lived what he preached. His consistent, godly life surely impacted me more in my growing up years than any of the sermons I heard him preach. Northwest College was privileged to have him as a teacher and mentor for so many years.

-Dr. Gordon Fee

When I was a young boy my father was the pastor of Calvary Temple, Seattle. During those years Dr. Don Fee was a member of the faculty at Northwest College and attended Calvary Temple. My parents held Dr. Fee in great esteem and recognized him as a godly scholar and teacher. As a boy, I always looked to him as a man who was kind and caring about me and would take the time to talk to me. He had a positive impact on my life.

-Dr. Don Argue

My great-grandpa made an incredible impact on my life. More than any of his words, it was his life. He was a man who truly reflected Christ. It didn't matter if he was in the role of a professor, pastor, or great grandpa, he was the same man.

I thank God for bringing him into my life. Through his life I have gained a greater desire to live life fully and to glorify God in all that I do.

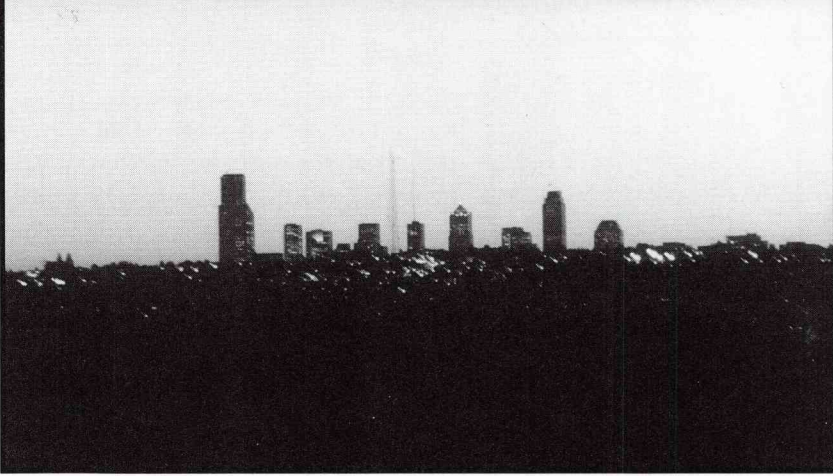

-Katrina Croutworst

Dr. Fee impacted me in two ways: 1) His commitment to authority and importance of Scripture for Christian living. 2) The buoyancy of his spirit, his sense of humor, and his genuine smile when he would greet me and give me a "firm" handshake always communicated a sincere interest in me as a person. I will not forget that.

Rain

Mid-winter rains pattered against the pain;
drab Seattle rains drizzled . . . rains that drain.
The mix of grays in billows above overshadowed remaining leaves of fall.

She wished for rains of spring, ones that erupt with sunlight, that start, then end. But corrupt was this rain. Her spirit a wet, moldy sponge swimming and swirling in pools of mud.

A lump rises within, a quiver slight,
but evident. Each breath is a fight.
She's emotionless. Yet she weeps for loss, for hard-pelting storms that crash against hopes.

She listens for the voice, for serene bliss;
she awaits the Sun's voice to clear the mist,
to seize the frigid storms. She hears nothing, she feels nothing, except the splash of rain.

-Becky Ouldhouse

Never Alone Even Though

I look out the window and wince at my life. I see myself running but I'm still inside. Is all this pain part of God's will?
Very slowly and heavily, I sigh - eventually I push myself outside in the rain. I am pushed through the dark chill not wise, I'm tempting psychopaths to kill a girl running alone, I fear. Until very slowly and heavily it pours;
all around God surrounds me with His drips little by little I feel his presence lifting my eyes and feet off this rough course.
eventually I convulse with great sobs,
yielding to Him in the midst of darkness.

Just Do It

Meditate on Him.
Think on Him.
Grow in Him.

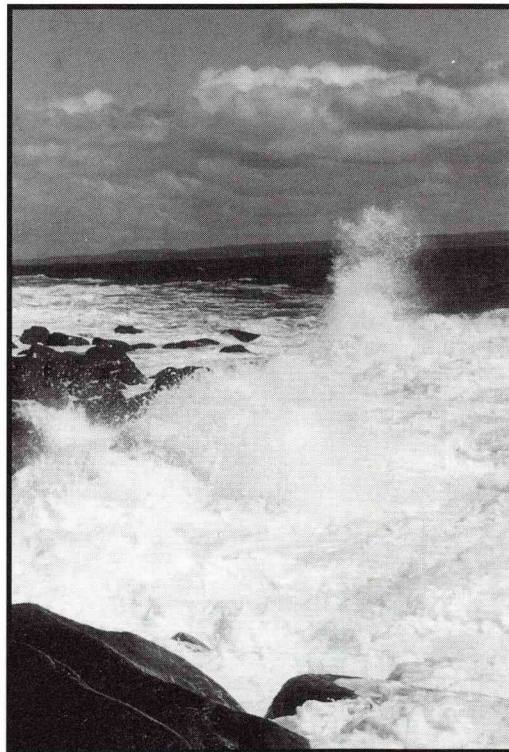

Easily said--not so easy
To do . . .

In the midst of homework
Think of Him?
In the busyness of life
Meditate on Him?
In the stress of jobs
Grow in Him?

Yes----- but how?
Don't think about it,
Just do it.
Don't groan about it,
Just do it.
Don't contemplate about it,
Just do it.

Ok.

Shadow Race

Every time I've raced my shadow
When the sun was at my back,
It always ran ahead of me,
Always got the best of me.
But every time I've raced my shadow
When my face was toward the sun,
I won.

Editor's Note

The 1998-1999 year has been quite eventful for the Karisma Yearbook Staff. With the exception of Katrina Croutworst, the Executive Editor, the staff is new with Becky Ouldhouse as the Assistant Editor, Mary Walker as the Photography Editor, and Mike Bishop as the Business Editor.

As a staff we would like to thank all of those who have contributed to the creation of this year's book. A great big thanks to our advisor Jennifer Fetters, and to our Walsworth publisher, Mike Archer. We could not do without your constant advise and encouragement. Thank you Dr. Nelson for your administrative support. To Julia Young, you are wonderful. Thank you so much for proof reading in the last hours before deadlines. Thank you Phil Gustafson for all of your long hours put into the mug shots, and for helping us with our photography supplies. We would also like to extend our gratitude to all of those who contributed their photography skills: Jed Rusyniak, Thys Wallwork, Jessica Dux, Gordon Sherman, Sean Wilkerson, and all of you who graciously donated your personal pictures. We would also like to thank John Hache, a personal friend of Mike's, who inspired the title In His Image.

All of the staff would like to extend their thanks to Mark St. Clair in the Eagle's Nest and Starbucks, who furnished us with the caffeine necessary to make it through the late nights.

Finally, each of us would like to show our appreciation to God. Without His strength and inspiration, this book would not be in existence. We hope this book will be one-way in which Christ's image can be reflected in the life of Northwest College.

Colophon

Volume 57 of Northwest College's Karisma was printed by Walsworth Publishing Company in Marceline, Missouri. The press run was 800 copies.

Cover: The cover is black linen. The print is silver silk screen, varnish and silver foil. Copy is Footlight MT Light and Helvetica Narrow.

Endsheet: The endsheets are 90# white matte with silver and black ink. The photos were scanned using Photo Shop 4.0.

Paper finish: Pages are printed on 80 pound Monarch enamel.

Color: 8 pages are printed in the four-color process with silver ink.

Typography: All pages were designed using Aldus Pagemaker 6.0. Type styles included Footlight MT Light and Helvetica Narrow.

Photography: Photographs were taken by staff and volunteers. Some photographs were borrowed from participating members of organizations and from a variety of students and staff. Color photographs were processed and printed Costco and Walgreens. Student portraits were taken by Phil Gustafson, Mary Walker. Faculty portraits were taken by Gordon Sherman.

Distribution: The Karisma Yearbook was distributed on April 29, 1999 during chapel. The Karisma office is located in the Pecota Student Center.
