Before the Throne of God Above

– L. Bancroft & Vicki Cook

Verse One

Before the throne of God above, I have one strong and perfect plea,
A great high Priest whose name is Love, who ever lives and pleads for me.

My name is graven on His hands; my name is written on His heart.
I know that while in heaven he stands, no tongue can bid me thence depart
No tongue can bid me thence depart.

Verse Two

When Satan tempts me to despair and tells me of the wrong within,
Upwards I look and see Him there, who made an end to all my sin.

Because the sinless Savior died, my sinful soul is counted free!
For God, the just is satisfied, to look on Him and pardon me,
To look on Him and pardon me.

Verse Three

Behold Him there, the risen Lamb, my perfect, spotless Righteousness.
The great, unchangeable “I AM,” the King of glory and of grace.

One with Himself I cannot die! My soul is purchased by His blood.
My life is hid with Christ on high, with Christ my Savior and my God,
With Christ my Savior and my God.

Blessed Assurance, Jesus Is Mine

– Fanny Crosby & Phoebe Knapp

Verse One

Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine. Oh, what a foretaste of glory divine!
Heir of salvation, purchase of God, born of His Spirit, washed in His blood.

Verse Two

Perfect submission, perfect delight, visions of rapture now burst on my sight.
Angels descending bring from above echoes of mercy, whispers of love.

Verse Three

Perfect submission, all is at rest, I in my Savior am happy and blessed,
Watching and waiting, looking above, filled with His goodness, lost in His love.

Chorus

This is my story, this is my song. Praising my Savior all the day long.
This is my story, this is my song. Praising my Savior all the day long.

The Pageantry of Academic Regalia

The traditional academic attire originated in the middle ages. It began as the regular garb of scholars, whether cleric or lay. In the unheated buildings and lecture halls of the day, the robes, hoods and caps were very practical wear.

The GOWN, whether it developed from clerical or civilian dress, was useful outerwear. In addition, it provided a uniform dress that served to equalize class and wealth distinctions in the community of scholars.

Today, in the United States, the gown is customarily black, though it may be one of the colors of the school (especially of universities following a European model). The wearing of the gown open or closed, the sleeve style, and added trim serve to distinguish the degree levels of the wearers. Bachelor gowns are very simple and are worn closed, while masters' gowns are frequently worn open at the front, sometimes with the arms exposed below the elbows. The doctoral gown commonly has trim down the front and three velvet bars on the sleeves, in black or in the color of the degree field. The sleeve is bell shaped, close-fitting at the wrist.

The HOOD originated as a practical head covering. In modern times it is strictly decorative and ceremonial. The hood is commonly worn by those holding master's or doctoral degrees and differs in length according to the degree (three and one-half feet, and four feet). The hoods are lined with the colors of the conferring institution, and trimmed with an edging (of three inches or five inches width) in the color of the degree field. The act of "hooding" is part of the traditional ceremony of conferral of advanced degrees.

The "Oxford" CAP or MORTARBOARD possibly developed as a ceremonial combination of a close fitting indoor cap and a soft square-topped academic cap for outdoor wear. (Some schools use a type of beret or tam for doctoral degrees.) The cap is topped by a button holding a tassel which may be black or the color of the degree field (gold for a doctoral degree in some schools).

The TASSEL is customarily worn on the left by degree holders, thus the bachelor's degree candidates wear the tassel on the right until the symbolic "moving of the tassel" at a climactic point in the graduation ceremony.

The MACE is the symbol of authority of the faculty and is carried in the Commencement Processional by the official representative of the faculty, the Faculty Marshal. The central emblem of the mace is the University seal.

The SEAL embodies the history, character, and purpose of the University. In addition to the legal name of the institution, the seal includes these elements:

- An open Bible, which underscores our commitment to God's Word;
- The lamp of knowledge, which demonstrates our tradition of scholarship and the integration of faith and learning;
- A dove, which represents our reliance on the Holy Spirit's leading and power;
- A cross, which asserts the centrality of Christ in all we do;
- A braid, which illustrates the bonds of Christian fellowship;
- The year 1934, which is the year of Northwest University's founding; and
- The Latin motto, Vocationem Dei Gerite, is translated "carry, carry out, and be characterized by God's calling." This phrase reconfirms the University's vision statement: Carry the Call with heart, head and hand.
