"Grampa, is a wheelchair-bound funny, given to lapses of memory, who misses his late wife, Birdie. He's thinking of entering a convalescent home, but his family won't hear of it. It's also a story of growing old, leaving the nest, saying good-bye, and saying "I Love You" when the days and hours are too precious to ignore. "Grampa" will make you laugh and it will make you cry. But mostly it will make you want to hug those closest to you while there's still time. It is an exuberant musical celebration of Christian values and lifestyle."

Jim Heuvel is a sophomore originally from Camas, Washington. He was involved in both the fall and spring productions of last year, and has been in several productions prior to this time. Jim's major is Behavioral Science, with an emphasis in marriage and family counselling, and working with abused victims.

"Jim would like to dedicate his performance as 'Grampa' to his father, John - A Beloved Father, Grandfather and Great Grandfather."

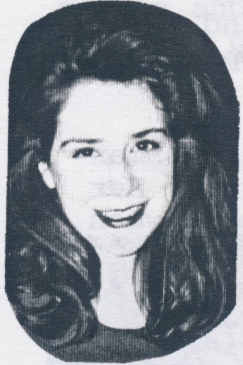

Daniel Schmoll is a senior from Portland, Oregon. He has been actively involved in theatrical productions since 1987. During Daniel's time at Northwest College, he has directed and acted in numerous productions. Some of his most recent productions were, "The Agape Boat," and "Somebody Please Make Me Laugh." During the summer of '93, Daniel traveled with the Mr. Jones Tour across the Mid-West and along the East Coast. He considers theater to be a great ministry in the church and in society.

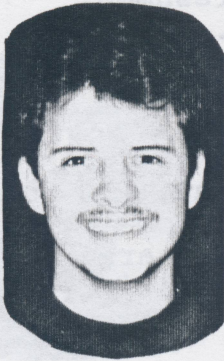

Hilary Roberts is a freshmen from Pocatello, Idaho. Although this is Hilary's first major production, she began to develop a great interest for drama in high school, and has been involved in church productions. Some of Hilary's other interests are singing, reading, and writing poetry.

Erik .C. Larson is a freshman from Anchorage, Alaska. Erik's involvement in drama began in the fifth grade. Since this time, he has attended a drama training camp in Canada, as well as The American Musical and Dramatical Academy, School of Fine Arts, in New York. Erik finds music/drama to be his greatest talents and joys.

Joy Donnelly is a junior from Seattle Washington. Joy's interest in drama began last year when she was cast in the plays, "The Agape Boat" and "Somebody Please Make me Laugh." Joy is a music major and she is interested in performance and composition.

Mark Douglas Gould is a Junior from Kalispell, Montana. He has been involved in drama productions since he was in the sixth grade. While in high school, Mark wrote a one act play, and was cast into the play, "Pilgrim's Progress." His interests consist of playing a variety of different sports - tennis, being one of his favorite sports.

Juley Sullivan is a sophomore from Great Falls, Montana. Juley has been involved in numerous theatrical production since her interest for drama began in the sixth grade. It was during this time that she was cast in the play "The King and I." Juley considers acting to be one of her greatest interests, and as an effective tool she hopes to use in ministry.

Christy Bunting is a freshman from Connell, Washington. Her interest for drama began when she was in the third and fourth grade. It was during this time that she began touring with a traveling choir and drama group. Christy has also been involved in several theatrical productions.

Amyjoy Munson is a freshman from Prichard, Idaho. Her interest in drama began in the second grade, after being involved in a Christmas play at her church. While in high school, Amyjoy became very involved in a group called The Odyssey of the Mind, where they would write and perform a variety of different plays for competition.

Special Thanks to the Cast

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to you all for making "Grampa" a success. Because of your hard work and dedication we have the privilege of putting on one of the best musicals this college has seen. All of those late nights and countless hours of rehearsals have not gone unnoticed. I love you all dearly.

Your beloved:

Director
