Outreach

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." Acts 1:8

These powerful words present to Christians the command of God to spread the good news of Jesus Christ to every creature. It is a command with unlimited challenge, a task with infinite scope.

Students at Northwest College have risen to the challenge by gathering to study and to learn how they might become living, working witnesses for Him. They have undertaken the task by seeking a confirmation of God's will while teaching in the Sunday school, giving a personal testimony, or passing out tracts.

Thus, fulfillment in life is found in the OUTREACH to friends, community, and the uttermost parts.

New campus chapel meets the need of a growing student body.

Dedication

Karisma 1966 honors one whose cheerful smile and able counseling has endeared him to students and faculty alike.

We honor one who has given freely of his time and talents. His desire to do God's will has led him to many fields of Christian service.

This, in part, is the outreach of JOHN W. SIMPSON

President Butterfield

When Jesus sent out His disciples to preach the Gospel, to heal the sick, and to deliver the captives, He concluded His directions by saying, "Freely ye have received, freely give." There is evidently a close relationship in the mind of the Lord between receiving and giving so that the one is conditioned by the other. Jesus here established a righteous principle — a law of love.

To hear and receive the Gospel message is the most glorious experience mankind has known. It is the promise of life to come. To receive this wonderful hope of life eternal and not propagate its truth to others would be a sin against humanity.

It is the spiritual responsibility and moral obligation of every Christian to use every effort and means available to him to bring the Gospel message to his fellow men.

No church or Christian institution will continue long to receive the blessings of God which institution does not actively engage itself in giving out to others those blessings which it has received.

It should be remembered that the promise of the Lord Jesus Christ, "And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," was made to those who would carry out His command to preach the Gospel to every creature.

Let us then address ourselves to the privilege of giving that which we have freely received. The hand which we have stretched forth to receive the blessings of God must also reach out to give. This is our outreach.

President

Our World Outreach: Prayer Bands

EUROPEAN BAND OFFICERS: Hershel Lester, President; Suzanne Dawkins, Vice-President; Sharon Cook, Secretary.

Because students at Northwest College care that the world will soon be eternally lost, they have organized the Missionary Council and Mission Prayer Bands to send support, both spiritual and financial, to those on the mission field. Under the leadership of Bill Johnson the Council met every Thursday to plan its activities and pass on the projects of the bands.

Each Friday in chapel was set aside for missions. Special speakers presented to students the challenge and needs of their field. An offering was taken to supply the financial backing for the various band programs. Once a month students met together in the particular band to consider the needs of that area.

Our Outreach To The World Through Music . . .

Concert Choir, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Amundsen, is a select group chosen by audition for their outstanding singing ability. While small in size the Concert Choir presents to the student body many difficult and inspiring musical arrangements.

In the spring the Concert Choir performs a "Sermon in Song," arranged by Miss Amundsen, to churches throughout the Northwest District. This two week trip is a challenging outreach for members of the choir to present the gospel.

Mr. Larry Pember joined the faculty of Northwest College as director of the College Choir. The major activities of the College choir include a Christmas and spring concert, attended by students and members of the community.

The rewards of Christian ministry show on the faces of these students returning from a service at the rest home.

Opportunities for evangelism are numerous at Northwest College. Students may participate in rest home services, provide music for local churches, or teach a Sunday school class. Teen Challenge, in Seattle, was indeed a real "challenge" for many who went out on the streets to lead lost souls to Christ. Other students are active in children's church and as Christ's Ambassador leaders. The influence and outreach of these ministries brings spiritual blessing to those in need and promised rewards to those who go.

Students Fulfill Missionary Commission

As the preceding college year drew to a close, a number of students felt led to give their summer vacation to full time Christian service. For these students the summer of 1965 began with a departure from Northwest College in many directions and to many destinations. These pictures are representative of this band of dedicated young people who truly were "His hands extended."

1. A few of the youngsters show off their friend at Hillcrest Children's Home in Arkansas where Linda Williams and Sharon Hoskins spent a profitable summer. 2. Bill Johnston poses with some Bible School students in Ghana, Africa, where he taught as a Missionary Intern. 3. Dan Secrist took this typical picture while working with missionary Mike Hines in Michoacan, Mexico. 4. Don Hof helps prepare food for dinner in Quebec, Canada. Bonnie Bandt, Bernice Goehring, and Genevieve Wheeler were also members of this team who distributed Christian literature in that needy province. 5. Beautiful Karnten, Austria, brings back many wonderful memories to Suzanne Dawkins who spent two months presenting Christ in this country. 6. The Indian children of Vancouver Island, Canada, are reluctant to say good-bye to Carol Hayes after a successful V.B.S. there. 7. Ron Drye and young friends relax at the Fruit Land campmeeting where he, Marshall Ellison, and Elvin Huston ministered during their summer tour in the Homeland. 8. The village of Pouzac is typical of many in southern France. Here Wil Metcalf

Through Summer Outreach To Foreign Lands

and team members went door-to-door with Bibles, Christian books, and tracts. 9. Witnessing on the streets of Mexico was a daily privilege for Arnold Clark, left, and other Northwest students, Noy Pruitt, Lola Rice, Leslie Jones, and Kathy Younglund, who worked with Send the Light, Inc. for two months south of the border. 10. Waregem, Belgium, was the base from which Hershel Lester operated. Each door was an opportunity to witness. Literature in French and Flemish helped overcome the language barrier as the gospel was presented.

Students are realizing more and more the value and potential of a summer given to full time work for Christ. It is a fruitful avenue of Christian outreach.

A Modern Hero Of Faith

After eighteen years of service to Northwest College as teacher, spiritual leader and president, Rev Charles E. Butterfield retires from the presidency to take up a ministry at large as the Lord leads him.

Under his leadership the student body has grown from approximately two hundred fifty students to a record cumulative enrollment of approximately four hundred fifty students during the present year. When the freeway construction through Seattle called for the removal of the rented church building in which the school was operating, an obvious need for relocation came into being. The College had neither facilities nor financial means, but God undertook and provided the college with its first campus. Since the move from Seattle to the present location, the school has constructed eleven buildings used for spiritual, educational, housing, foodservice, and recreational purposes.

This crisis period in the history of the school was met through God's direction of the leaders of Northwest

College, and in particular President Butterfield. His faith and vision were instrumental under God in bringing into the possession of the college the lovely campus which so adequately meets the needs of the students.

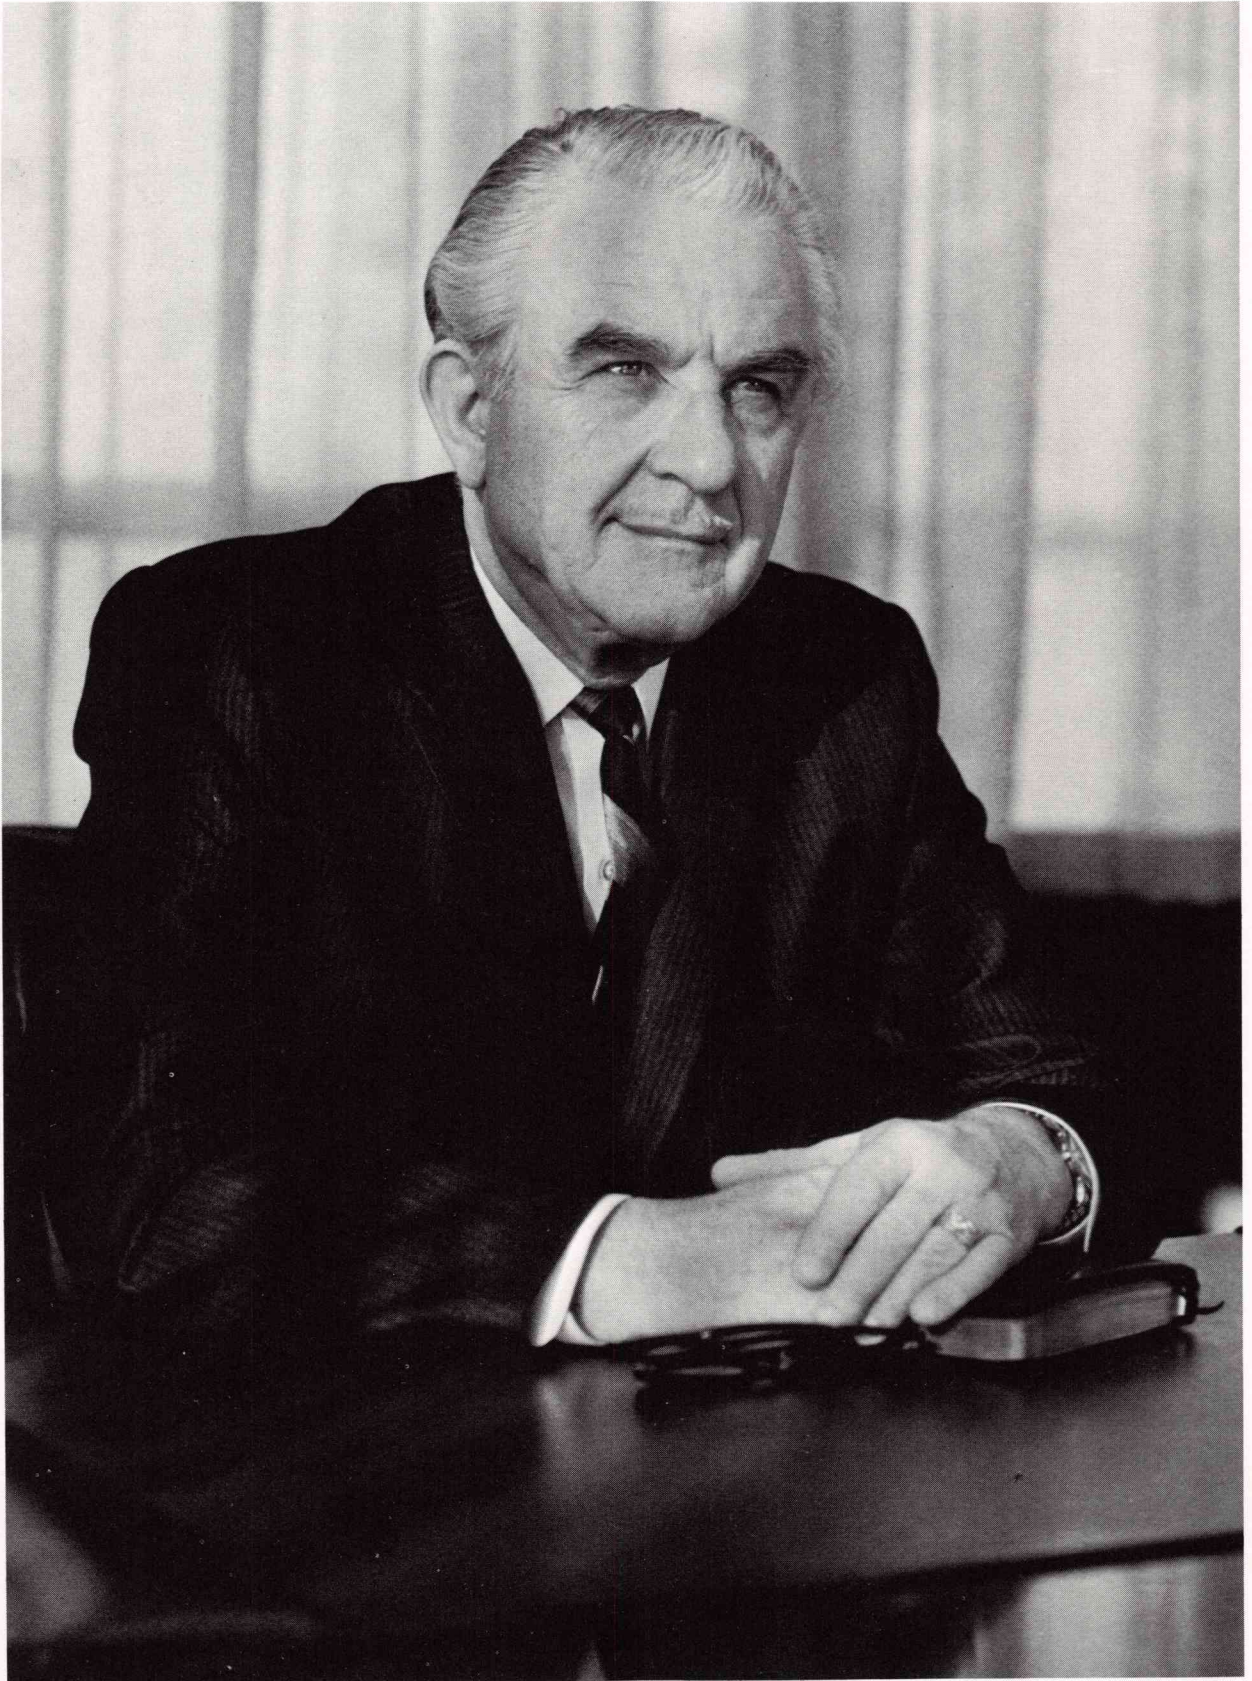

As a teacher he has drawn on a vast knowledge of personal experience in church and missionary work to give the students a dynamic outlook toward their work in God's kingdom.

As a spiritual leader he has sought to implant in the students the love of God and a desire to enter His service as laymen, teachers, missionaries, and ministers.

As a college president he has presented to the students an incentive to learn, so that whatever their fields of endeavor they will have the tools, both spiritual and academic, to reach the world for God.

President Butterfield's life has been, and is, one of God-centered outreach, and he is remembered as a "modern hero of faith."
