NORTHWEST COLLEGE • ASSEMBLIES OF GOD

From the President:

WE MADE IT!

The 1985/1986 year books are closed. And we made it! Once again — thanks to the help of many Friends of N.C. and churches — we were able to close in the “black.”

And we were able to fund the accounts as budgeted, taking care of maintenance, debt service, equipment, etc. Also, it appears we will be able to go through the summer without borrowing to operate. And that represents a savings, too.

We are thankful for all this!

In addition, although I had said little about it, we were not able to grant a general salary increase to faculty last year even to keep up with inflation. But, as a result of the good giving at the close of the year, we were able to give faculty a small “bonus” at the end of the year as we had done earlier in the year to somewhat offset the lack of increase. They are thankful and we are, too.

Again, we thank all the Friends of N.C. who helped!

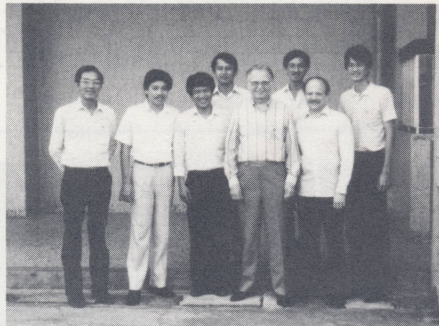

A FULL SUMMER

Believe me. I have been busy. Almost immediately after commencement and the close of the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors I flew through the night to Singapore. There I ministered to the retreat — hotel “camp meeting” — of the great Calvary Charismatic Center pastored by Missionary Rick Seaward. Some 1,300, of the approximately 4,500 who attend the church, were present. General services, leadership sessions, pastoral sessions were conducted all morning and evening. It was intensive . . . and blessed. My those people know how to worship!

The Friday night prayer service was marvelous. There were reports of victories . . . salvations . . . healings . . . and more. There was prayer and praise. These friends don't just talk of prayer . . . they do it!

Following the retreat I taught an intensive graduate level (3 credit hour) course in Church Management. Key leaders from Singapore, Burma and the Philippines were in the course.

Calvary Charismatic Center was everything I had heard it was . . . and more!

Upon returning to the States I headed almost immediately to Ohio to be with Superintendent Robert Crabtree in their adult camp — joining with John McDuff as evening evangelist (I had the morning sessions). We saw a great eight days. I've never been in a better camp. What balance and what a move of God. The “Buckeyes” are wonderful people.

Then I returned for a few days and headed out to Sunnyside Camp in Red Deer, Alberta. I had ministered there twenty-four years ago with C.M. Ward, when I was with Revivaltime. It was good to be back. My teammate this year was Pastor Dave Forrest, of Crossroads Cathedral in Toronto. I had not met him before, but we “struck it” off. What a preacher he is! Old time!

Now I'm back at campus getting ready for the new year. (And by the time you read these lines we will be almost into it.)

Dr. D.V. Hurst
President

THE GATHERING YEAR

Before one year closes in a college such as N.C., we are “pulling the new one together.”

I am looking forward to this, my twenty-first, at N.C. with more anticipation than ever. It's almost like coming of age.

We will have one fantastic faculty this year. I'm excited about the high quality — all those who are still with us (and many have been here so long) and all the new ones who will join us.

Former Missionaries Dwayne Turner and Larry Malcolm, Missionary Duane Stewart, Dr. Ray White, and Mr. Stan Durst, join the faculty this year.

Student ministries, missions and Christian formation and living are going to be emphasized at N.C. this year like never before.

At this point the “signals” about applications and returning students look good.

These are just a few reasons why I'm excited and anticipating the new year so keenly.

BIBLE AT N.C.

The Bible and Christian life are bigger than ever at N.C. All four-year students must take thirty semester-hours of Bible and four semester hours of Christian Formation — the foundations of Christian living. (That's equivalent to fifty-one quarter hours on the former system.)

Yes — the Bible is big at N.C.

CAMPUS DAYS

There is another change at N.C. Campus Days this year will be October 23-25. Exciting things are planned. This can be a most meaningful fall event for youth groups — Jrs. & Srs. in High School. Urge yours to join with us.

Now I ask you to join with me in prayer. The theme for this year (1986-1987) is going to be “Spirit Led.” Oh, how I want that message to burn deep into the hearts of N.C. students.

Will you pray with us that it will happen?

Launching the Year:

EVANGELIST DAVE ROEVER TO CONDUCT N.C.'S FALL REVIVAL OCTOBER 6-10

Evangelist Dave Roever

Throughout the week of October 6-10 the strains of "We've got the power . . ." and the message of Dave Roever will fill the Chapel at N.C. morning and night. In its Fall revival the college will feature the ministry of one of its favorite speakers, returning at the specific requests of hundreds of students.

Evangelist Dave Roever, burned beyond recognition or hope of survival in the Vietnam war, attributes his remarkable recovery "entirely to a miracle working God." While serving with the River Patrol Division of the United States Navy in South Vietnam, a phosphorus grenade, hit by a sniper's bullet, exploded in Roever's hand six inches from his face as he was poised to throw it into an enemy bunker. Hospitalized for fourteen months, and undergoing fifteen major operations (during one of which he was thought to have died), he says his ordeal has served to heighten his love for America and most of all his God.

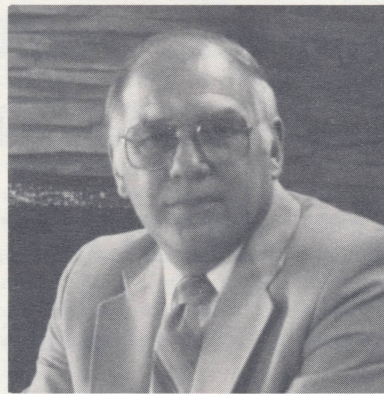

In 1974 and 1975 Evangelist Roever returned to Vietnam, "this time," he says, "not with a M-16, but with a John 3:16" and reports that many of the South Vietnamese "gave their hearts to Christ." In addition, his missionary evangelistic crusades have led him to thirty-six nations, and he has had many appearances on university campuses, in high school assemblies, in concerts, youth conventions, and churches of many denominations throughout the United States and Canada. National television shows, such as the popular "PTL Club," have found his attitude and ministry most intriguing. The movie industry has solicited his story, Soul Survivor, for network television.

After his week with us two years ago, Dave returned to campus to film three telecasts and aired them during his program on T.B.N.

Those who can are invited to join with us in the services. All friends of N.C. are encouraged to pray with us that God will make it a week of true revival, commitment, seeking God and finding direction for life.

NEW ELEMENTARY EDUCATION PROFESSOR FOR 1986-87

Mr. Stanley H. Durst

Professor Stan Durst comes to N.C. as professor of elementary education. For the past 34 years he has served as teacher, counselor, vice principal and principal in the Seattle School District. For the last eight years he has been principal of Whitman Middle School.

Professor Durst has distinguished himself as an educator and will bring a great deal of expertise to the elementary education classroom at N.C.

He is an active member of Calvary Temple in Seattle having served on the Church Board for many years.

His educational background includes the following: B.A. and M.Ed. from the University of Washington, N.D.E.H. Guidance Institute at Washington State University, additional work at the University of Oregon and Workshops and Seminars too numerous to mention.

ATHLETICS

This year is going to be a special year in men's athletics at Northwest.

After many years of patient waiting, the men's soccer team is finally getting a home field, and what a facility it's going to be!! With the Seahawks relocating on our campus, one of the facilities they provided was a covered astro turf field. We are probably one of the only collegiate teams with a facility like this. It's no wonder our soccer staff and team can hardly wait for the season to start.

In men's basketball we will be participating in our first season as a member of the NAIA District 1, competing against teams such as Western Washington University, St. Martins, and Simon Fraizer University.

This move is going to provide a stiff challenge to our program but we feel that with some of the new and young recruits that have already enrolled at N.C., we will be building a strong program in the future.

WHY CAMPUS DAYS?

Campus Days at Northwest College — those three exciting days this October when prospective students will come to N.C. and experience firsthand what campus life is like. A major event like this takes a lot of planning, preparation, organization, and follow through by the College as well as by those many pastors, youth pastors and sponsors who bring their young people each year. Therefore, evaluation becomes necessary, raising the question "Why Campus Days?"

There are many purposes or objectives for having Campus Days of which we will mention four. First is the tremendous experience that is had in that short Campus visit. Youth Pastor Tom Baker of Bellevue Neighborhood Church once wrote: "There are two things in high school that you should not miss. No, three things! First, experience the incredible week of a summer camp. The spiritual high of a week of intensive training is great. Second, experience the sweaty palms, the broken voice, the exhilaration of your first date. Third, experience the great time of a Campus Day at Northwest College." It is a great experience! To live in a dorm, to attend college classes, to fellowship in the cafeteria, to enjoy the great chapel services, and to share in the recreation, music, tours, seminars, etc., all add up to an unforgettable experience.

Another purpose for Campus Days is the potential recruitment of students for N.C. The nearly 800 guests who visited the Campus last Spring viewed our beautiful Campus, the modern well-kept facilities, and the fantastic setting here in the Seattle area. They were also exposed to N.C.'s tremendous academic program, classroom atmosphere, student life, and spiritual environment. Their questions were answered concerning work opportunities and financial aid. By this, a very positive image of the College was conveyed and many of these visitors will come back later as students.

A third benefit of Campus Days is the spiritual uplift it brings to those who attend. Like going to Youth Camp or District Youth Convention, chapel services and worship times while visiting N.C. prove to be a great blessing. Letters have returned to our office with reports of some who accepted the Lord while here for these special days.

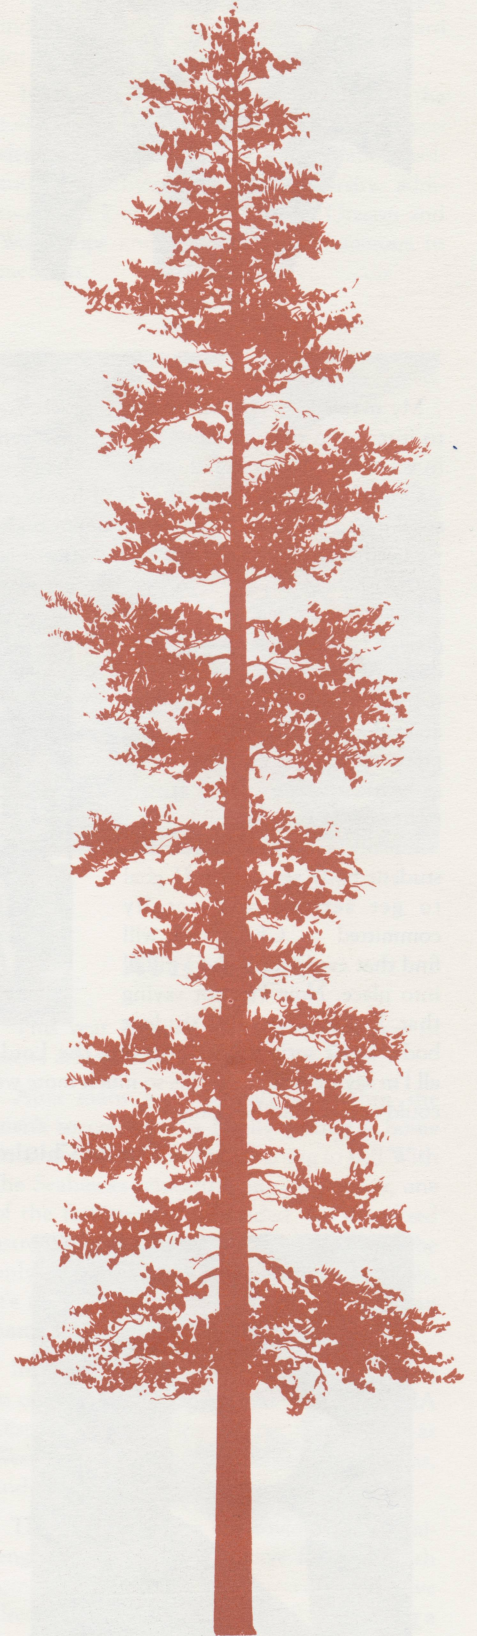

A fourth answer to "Why Campus Days?" is that Christians should keep the doors open for God to lead in their lives. God calls individuals, prepares them, and then uses them in service for Him. God called Moses to lead His people out of Egypt, but first He prepared him for forty years on the backside of the desert of Midian. God has called you as well as many others all around you. Maybe Northwest College is the place He wants to prepare and train you. Many young people are asking questions like "What College should I consider? Should I go to Bible College? What does God want me to do with my life?" Keep the door open and let God lead you, and answer those questions.

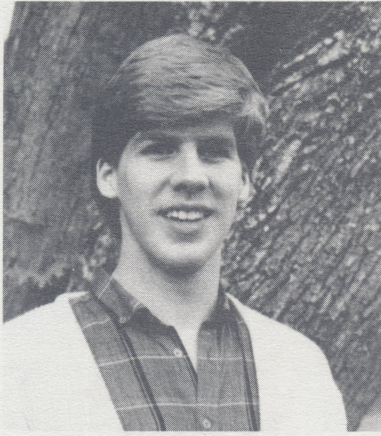

One letter came to our office from a Campus Day guest who will be a student this Fall. He said, "This was our first visit to the area and we were impressed by the beauty and tranquility of the Campus. More importantly, we were thrilled by the enthusiasm and commitment of students and faculty toward our Lord Jesus Christ. I was looking for a school where evangelism and discipleship have first priority and I know I have found it in Northwest."

Pastors, Youth Pastors, sponsors, students, parents, prospective students — Come! Experience Campus Days at Northwest College! October 23-25, 1986.

STUDENT LEADERS ANTICIPATE NEW SCHOOL YEAR

John Marvin
V.P. for Student Ministries

My major is Youth Ministry. My goals are to internship this year and become involved in youth work after I graduate.

One of the main things that God has been speaking to my heart is that as a student body we need to get serious about our relationship with God.

I want the spirit to lead us into greater things such as a greater commitment to prayer, a reorganization of priorities and an evaluation of how well we are preparing for our future ministry as well as how involved are we right now in ministry.

I really feel that if we as a student body set as our #1 goal to get serious and totally committed to Christ, we will find that everything else will fall into place. Now I'm not saying that I think we, the student body, aren't serious about serving the Lord, all I'm saying is that there is so much more we could and should be doing.

1986-87 Student Leaders

I am excited for the near year, and am looking forward to see what great things God has in store for us.

We are a family at Northwest. My goals are to encourage new students to get involved and become a part of our family. I am also anxious to see the entire student body grow in love for each other and our Lord.

As we commit ourselves to God and to each other we will see God work in mighty ways in and through our lives.

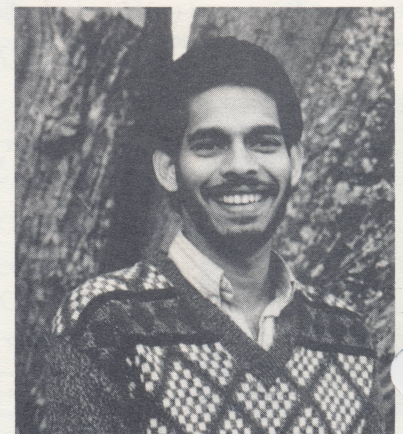

— Cheryl Hutson

Yohan Fernando, the Vice President for Student Missions, will be returning from his summer in Sri Lanka. He joins all our student leaders in prayer for, and anticipation of another great year at N.C.

My major at Northwest is in Missions. As Vice President of Student Ministries, I envision getting more students actively involved in ministry, both during the school year and in the summer. I would like to get a summer ministry group of about 20 people to go to Jamaica to establish a church. We would be involved in crusade work, follow-up, church planting, and maybe even some construction work. Also, during the school year I want to see increased involvement in one or more of the seven ministry groups. God has called all of us to go, what we need to do is find out where He wants us to go and then go!

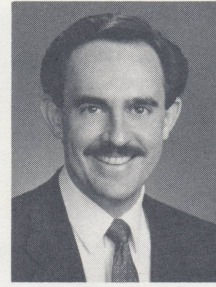

As a student leader, I want to help people discover their calling and then work with them to find ministry opportunities.

1986 SUMMER TIME A BUSY TIME AT N.C.

The Summer of '86 has been a busy time at the N.C. Campus. Activities have included N.C. Summer School, the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary classes, the housing of Summer Ministry Teams and students who work during the summer. Special groups this summer have included the A.C.S.I. Cheerleaders Camp, and now the Seattle Seahawks training camp. Almost 20 students and N.C. staff have been given jobs by the Seahawks for the summer training camp. The busy summer schedule and diversity of use has created a unique opportunity to minister, interact, and share the "light" right here on Campus. Several of the Northwest College men's basketball team members who are working as security guards for the Seahawks, stated their unique opportunity of fellowshipping with a group of rookies about their personal relationships with Jesus Christ. A N.C. maintenance person shared the chance he had to pray for another rookie Seahawk during a stressful time after a football practice.

The peak of the summer campus "rush" came when the Seahawks sponsored an open house and almost 35,000 people showed up on N.C.'s Campus.

With summer coming to a close, the Campus will soon be even busier as classes resume September 8.

1985-1986 OPERATION HELP GOAL IS MET

Northwest College is pleased to announce that the books have been closed for the 1985-1986 fiscal year and the year-end Operation Help Goal was reached. This makes 19 out of the last 20 years that Northwest College has finished the year in the black financially.

A special thanks goes to all of our friends, alumni, churches and sponsoring districts who so faithfully support N.C.

Funding and Endowment Board members not pictured are: Rev. Ben Birkeland, Mr. Rob Gilmore, and new members Rev. Edmund Lother and Mr. Sandy Heins.

OCT. 4, 5, & 6 SET FOR FUNDING AND ENDOWMENT BOARD

The N.C. Funding and Endowment Board has set its second annual meeting for October 4, 5, & 6. The group of attorneys, accountants, bankers, insurmen, businessmen and A/G leaders from Washington, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Wyoming, and Alaska will be meeting to continue to develop a comprehensive regional Assembly of God stewardship program for both estate and financial planning and to launch N.C.'s annual fund drive. The Funding and Endowment Board members are: Dr. Randall Barton, Rev. Ben Birkeland, Mrs. Thora Jean Bulger, Mr. John Christman, Dr. Ron DeBock, Mr. Art Dickhoff, Mr. Clarence Foster, Mr. Bruce French, Mr. Rob Gilmore, Mr. Sandy Heins, Rev. Owen Hodges, Mr. Howard Hoskins, Mr. Jerry Hudson, Dr. D.V. Hurst, Mr. John Jenkins, Rev. Edmund Lother, Rev. Ralph Miller, Mr. Jim Rice, Jr., Mr. Dave Rodli, Rev. Erwin Rohde, Mr. David Trautman, Mr. Richard Vierzba.

PLAN FOR A STEWARDSHIP SEMINAR

Many churches have taken advantage of the comprehensive stewardship program provided by Northwest College to the churches and people of the Northwest region. The main purpose of the program is to help people avoid costly errors in their own personal financial and estate planning and to find out what stewardship is all about. If proper planning is employed, people will not only be able to take better care of their families, but also be able to do something substantial for the kingdom of God.

The seminar includes a short slide and narration presentation, a seminar packet with multiple planning and information tools, an instructional presentation by a qualified seminar leader, a question and answer session and individual consultation time. (The packet alone makes the seminar worth attending.) An opportunity to secure a basic will at a reasonable cost is also presented along with this packet of information to each person attending.

A stewardship seminar will help meet needs that exist in our churches. It will help people be better stewards, and in turn help them bless the family, the church, and the kingdom of God. Plan for a stewardship seminar in your church. Contact the Development office at Northwest College for more information.
