STUDENT ACTIVITIES UNDERWAY

CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED

Tuesday morning, September 22, the NBC atmosphere was charged with election enthusiasm. Politicking was at a minimum, but quietly, definitely, student nominee supporters campaigned for their "man."

The outcome of the voting in the Senior Class brought a show of the unexpected. Bud Actipis, elected president, said, "I'm speechless." For Bud, this is unexpected. As his right hand man, John Weaver was re-elected vice-president. The election of a secretary-treasurer was no easy task. Twice the balloting figures showed 13 for Dorothy Bender and 13 for Ross Senff. After a few extemporaneous "plugs" for each candidate, the class re-elected Ross Senff.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY FORMED

Where there is no vision the people perish..Proverbs 29:18.

As we look forward to another year of missionary activity in our school, we must stop and ask ourselves just how much of a real desire is there in each of our hearts to see souls won for Christ. This is the primary motive of missions and unless this is our reason, whether it be giving or going, we have lost the vision.

It is the desire of the executive committee of the society that through the coming year that each student may have his vision re-newed that it will be the impelling force behind every decision in his life. Plans have been made to highlight various bands with exhibits showing some of the band's activity and the respective field. God is not interested in just one little part of the mission field, for the whole world is the field.

The executive committee welcomes the following leaders of this year's missionary bands.

Band leaders are listed below

STUDENT-FACULTY RECEPTION

"Won't you join your fellow students?" As they filed into the lower auditorium they found most of the chairs occupied by other students. A mixer game had the girls and fellows rushing around the room after answers which brought four people one-half a candy bar.

The main feature of the evening was some unearthed talent from the faculty. For example, Brothers Butterfield, Aasen, Fee, and Spradley rendered a "musical" selection with Sister Williams as pianist. Later in the program, Brother DeSpain and his wife laughed through a violin and piano duet. The rest of the program included introduction of new instructors, testimonies from all on the staff, and several musical numbers. The climax was an anointed solo by Mrs. Sistig.

After the evening's activities, refreshments were served by Yvonne Easterly's food committee. Mrs. Perks and Mrs. Aasen poured.

This Student-Faculty reception launched the year's ASB social activities.

SENIORS SNACK

"Hi! is it good to see you!" "How were things in Montana?" The Seniors warmly greeted each other early September 8th.

An aroma of coffee floated through the school. The Seniors occupied the kitchen and "Seniors Only" signs had been posted on both entrances. Over cups of coffee, brewed by Shirley Detling and Elaine Spady, and doughnuts, made by Ross Senff's mother, each Senior related his summer's activities. Victories in the Lord were voiced. Many stated that new lessons had been learned at the feet of Jesus. New members to the class were heartily welcomed. This short "homecoming" ended in a praise offering to the Lord for His goodness and mercy to all and prayers that God would move during this school year in a mighty way.

POWER UNLIMITED

Successful, powerful, christian living is expected of Bible students. Such a life of victory is accomplished by more than mere assent to truth. God's word is truth, but intellectual agreement only does not produce the positive, overcoming life. Personal application of the truth is prerequisite to a victorious life.

God's word, being truth, does promise a life of victory for any sincere Christian. The source of power is the use of the will. As a free moral agent it is within a man's power to choose victory in Christ.

The reward of serving Christ whole-heartedly is the life of power, anointing, and victory. This reward is won through full surrender of the will to Christ.

AASEN NAMED DEAN

At last NBC has an academic dean in the person of our brother David Aasen. The past year we have felt our need of a dean, and faculty and student alike are thankful that he has come to be with us.

Brother Aasen is a native of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, where he received his public school training. After graduating he was employed in the office of a certified public accountant and in connection with his work studied accounting from the La Salle Extension University, Chicago.

During this period of his life he had a definite call from God and went to Great Lakes Bible Institute, Zion, Illinois, to (Continued on Page 5 Col 1)

SPRADLEY RETURNS

Once again our fair state has reclaimed one of her former members, in the person of the new office manager, Brother Lyle Spradley. Although he comes to us from Montana, Brother Spradley was a former pastor in this state; having pastored in Oak Harbor, Mossyrock, and Tacoma.

After leaving Washington, he pastored at Billings, Montana, was a general presbyter in that state. For six years previous to his coming to Northwest Bible College, he was the secretary-treasurer of the Montana District.

Having served on the Board of Directors for Northwest Bible College, he is not entirely unacquainted with the school, but as a member of the office staff he has the opportunity to become better acquainted with school life. Brother Spradley who enjoys working with young people likes life at NBC.

His smiling face and fine Christian character are always a welcome sight in the office or elsewhere about the school.

FEE JOINS FACULTY

For twenty-five years previous to his coming to NBC Brother Donald Fee was pastor of five Assembly of God churches in Oregon, Washington, and California, and for three years he was in evangelistic work, particularly in a teaching ministry.

He has found in NBC a most important job to be done--that of teaching those who will someday teach and tell others about Christ.

He appraises the school in this way--that it is the finest of this type in the country and that the student body is one of the finest.

Mrs. Fee and daughter Donna Fee are teaching in a remedial school in this city. Miss Fee has a particularly interesting work in that she works with kindergarten children who are blind. Gordon Fee, their son, is preparing at Seattle Pacific College to be a missionary in Japan.

Brother Fee's objectives in his position are to see that the students are well grounded in a systematic understanding of the Word of God and for them to be taught the art of studying.

Brother Fee's wit, good nature, and Christian life are a real asset to the school.

APPOINTMENT CANCELLED

An appointment with a noted Doctor, for the cure of an obnoxious disease requires promptness in keeping that appointment, and readiness for the doctor's work.

The doctor would probably not give another appointment if the patient were only to sit in his office and read one of the current magazines or try to memorize some scriptures for Acts. When the doctor is there he wants the full attention of the patient.

Each morning at 8:00 A. M. the student body of NBC has an important appointment with the Great Physician for the healing of sin-sore bodies. As the natural doctor would be perturbed by indifference at the appointment our Physician is grieved and turns to find someone who is willing to be helped.

Chapel is for worship. Studies, exams, collateral and the like when done in chapel are comparable to reading a magazine while the natural doctor seeks to give relief. He who cooperates with the Physician will be helped. He who fails to make his most of the appointment will find it has become a disappointment.

For who hath despised the day of small things? Zech 4:10

6 (Con'd. from P. 2, Col. 1) gard to the school was extremely critical. This unhealthy influence spread through the home and through the church. It was the reason that two prospective young people in that town later sought their training in another school. Even today some of the bad influence remains in that church.

From a midwestern college comes this illustration of good public relations. The Glee Club from that school was on tour and the students were being housed in private homes. The hostess for two of the young ladies was a widow whose late husband had been a wealthy engineer. She was so impressed by the attitudes and the speech of her guests that she became one of the strongest supporters of the college. This relation lasted until her death at which time she left the greater portion of her fortune to the college.

These two incidents emphasize the influence students can have on public relations by their deportment. Rev. D. L. McLaughlin, Superintendent of the Northwest District, summed up good public relations when he said, "If you like our school,--tell others. If you don't like our school--tell us."

Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof. Ec. 7:8

"Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her." Luke 10:42.

Jesus came into the world not to be ministered to, but to minister and it was with this purpose that He came to the home of Martha and Mary. Immediately Martha set about to prepare some food for the Master. She represents a practical person. She wanted to express herself with what her hands could do. But our relationship is infinitely more important than what we do for Him. Martha failed to understand Jesus. She thought that He wanted her to do something for Him--He was wanting to do something for her! He says, "If I were hungry, I would not tell thee for the world is mine and the fulness thereof." Martha was living for many things, Mary had singleness of purpose. Mary wanted to know Christ. She sought the best things. It was not a matter of her temperament, but an act of the will--"Mary hath chosen." Let us not become so engrossed with what we can do for Christ, but let us like Mary take time from our works to sit at the feet of Jesus and learn of Him. It is then that He can mold us and fill us with His presence.

president, with Carl Douglas as vice-president. The Sophomores, recognizing quality, named Dorothea Thompson as secretary-treasurer.

The Freshmen, after prolonged balloting, voted Bud Lyden in as president. The meeting adjourned with the other two officers to be elected. Wednesday, the Frosh completed their election. At this time they elected Vice-president Sam Vigna and Secretary Jennie Duncan.

POODLEDOGS CHALLENGED

Anyone in the Green Lake district on Saturday between 1:30 and 5:00 probably heard some shrill screams and shouts. The upperclassmen Dodgers had challenged the freshmen Poodledogs to a baseball game, but the Poodledogs were apparently frightened away by the publicity. Teams I and II were formed and Yvonne Easterley's Stars, Team I, was victorious. The score was 7-6.

After a brief intermission there was a loud roar from the grandstand when the Frosh-Sophomore football team filed onto the field from the left and the Junior-Senior team from the right. The thrilling game was started with a touchdown by Loyd Hinkle for the Frosh-Sophomores and the extra point was made. There was a touchback made which brought the score up to 9-0. The Junior-Senior team saw they had to begin showing their colors, so John Butterfield and Harry Leid came to their rescue with a touchdown from each. This gave the Junior-Seniors a victory of 13-9.

Most classes are satisfied to have one advisor, but not the Freshmen. Showing a trend for different ideas, the Frosh followed through by choosing as their advisors Brother and Sister Lunger.

These twelve class officers, plus the executive committee elected by the student body last year, form the Student Council.
