HARVESTIME - 31st

MARK BUNTAIN CHALLENGES Y.P.

We are living in the most dramatic hour of world history and the lives of young men and women are momentarily being shaped by these tremendous happenings. For instance, I picked up the newspaper tonight and I read about a test pilot plunging his Super Sabre jet into a "power dive" from 15,000 feet, and when pulling it out of the dive at 1,000 feet the impact of rushing air is so great it shattered the windows in the buildings around. These are the instruments and this is the speed that spells (Continued on Page 5, Col2)

HARVESTIME SOCIAL 31st

Saturday night, October 31, is to be one of the BIG nights in the social life of NBC. This is the night for the Harvestime Social, an annual affair at NBC. Many of the students who attended the social last year are anxiously awaiting it again this year. Here are the opinions of some who attended the social last year.

June Schafer: "The Harvestime Social was one of our most outstanding parties last year. The games, devotions, food and all were well planned.

Shirley Heck: "The Harvestime Social was 'tops'."

Phyllis Craver: It was well planned and the decorations were really terrific."

Barbara Voltz: "The Social was a real success last year, in fun as well as the time of devotions. I thoroughly enjoyed it!"

Don Ostrom: "Packed full of fun and ended in a wonderful spiritual atmosphere."

Al Gisselberg: "The students all had a good time, and I got to meet more students there."

Eddie Hinkle: "It was one of the highlights of the all-school activities where students became better acquainted."

Earlien Reamy: "I never laughed so hard in all of my life. It was loads of fun."

RECORD BROKEN ON S.W. DAY!

Station Wagon Day was a huge success. The offering last Monday morning was $533. The response in giving was outstanding. This offering was nearly double any other offering of NBC.

In comparison with offerings of previous years, the offering for the Station Wagon was far above any other. Last year, 1952-1953, the largest offering received was approximately $185 given for the Speed-the-Light program. Several years ago when the Student Body was almost twice its present size, the largest offering was around $300. And yet, Monday our Student Body responded with $533. It is thrilling to say the least, and thanks must be given to everyone for the wonderful spirit of unselfishness shown on Station Wagon Day.

MISSIONARY DOLLAR DAY
 Friday, October 30th

LITERALLY LITTERED

The "boys" of the school have found the waste containers to be just the place to practice their favorite basketball shots. The young ladies seem to have a more appreciative attitude towards them, perhaps because of their experience in "picking up" prior to cleaning.

Our custodian would never raise his voice in protest to the unthoughtfulness of students, but I would. Do you think that your actions go unseen? Indeed not! Others are noticing your actions and although would not mention it to you, they are thinking of the days when a congregation will be watching your every move.

Waste containers are for waste ..the floor about them is to support the container, and not the papers that should have been placed in them.

Let's work together, and stop this unthoughtfulness. Cooperation will keep NBC neat and clean.

GYM SCHEDULE OPENS

Coach Leid was very pleased with the turnout for gym Wednesday night. Twenty-two men turned out for practise. A smaller number of girls enjoyed basketball practise earlier in the evening.

The next gym night will be October 28th at the Roosevelt High School Boys Gym. There will be volleyball from seven to eight o'clock for girls and from eight to nine for boys. The last hour the boys will play basketball. The intramural schedule this year will include tournaments between classes in volleyball and basketball.

CONSTRUCTION UNDERWAY

The construction of two ping-pong tables is underway. These tables will be used in the Lower Auditorium, at times designated on the posted schedule. Other new equipment in the athletic department will be a dart board, and a small game table.

HONDURIAN ATTENDS NBC

Our president visited British Honduras several years ago and conducted a series of meetings in the Assemblies of God church there. Una Cain attended these meetings, and enjoyed the inspiration of the Lord. She had the opportunity of conversing with Brother Butterfield during these meetings, who told her about the college. Una was very interested in attending NBC as British Honduras has no Bible Colleges.

Her interest turned into reality in 1953. She came by plane to Mexico and from there to Seattle by bus.

Many difficulties confronted her in connection with NBC life; but the friendly Christian atmosphere and the lessons learned in the classes make up for it abundantly.

After completing her study in NBC she plans to go back to British Honduras and work among her people.

Una wishes to thank Brother Butterfield for making it possible for her to attend NBC and also the others who are assisting to make her stay in Seattle a pleasant and comfortable one.

Una's cheerfulness and willingness in all that she does makes her an asset to our school.

WE'VE BEGUN

Cal Robertson, with a sure upbeat, started the newly organized Chorus of N. B. C. on their first public appearance, in chapel, October 13.

N.B.C.'s Chorus is composed of forty members and is accompanied by Gary Dunn.

The Chorus, in cooperation with the choir, expects to participate in a Christmas presentation.

SCRIPTURAL INTERPRETATION

"Give us this day our daily bread." Matt. 6:11

The Lord's prayer is familiar to all. Perhaps it has been repeated in the home, or in the church, or in private devotions. Jesus prayed it. Everything in the first half is for the interest of God, the Father. Then at verse eleven the prayer turns to our needs. Surely God provides for the sinful as well as the saints, but we have the privilege of fellowshiping with Him in the Holy Spirit and asking Him directly for our needs. As we pray in faith, He hears us. And then as He answers us, we can thank Him for hearing us, having wonderful fellowship in His presence. We are admonished by the Scriptures to ask of God and it is our opportunity to receive from Him in an intimate way, with the joy and pleasure of fellowship and getting immediate results. Jesus prayed, "Give us this day our daily bread." How blessed it is to receive that Word of God that gives us assurance for the day. That Word is alive, vibrant, and powerful, and is sharper than any twoedged sword piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit. Our prayer for food for the body becomes a means by which God is glorified. There are accounts of those who have sat down at mealtime to a table, bare except for the plates and the silverware, God, by the Holy Spirit, caused food to be sent to them perhaps by a neighbor or even one entirely unknown to them. Bread is assured us for our day, when we pray in faith, believing our Father.

FRESHMEN BEGIN ACTIVITIES

Now the freshmen are showing the qualities of a good class by joining in weekly Wednesday evening prayer meetings. A social committee consisting of Sam Vigna as chairman, Darlene Weddle, Ethel Eliason, June Burgess, Marvin Reems, Nancy Paine and Paul Lindstrand was appointed for this quarter by the president. This committee is to plan the social calendar for the year and decide on the amount of class dues.

They are still seeking a motto, name, and a choice of colors.

CHOIR SOCIAL

Brother and Sister Munger played host to thirty-five hungry souls on Friday evening, October 10. The Songbirds of NBC met together for a time of merriment and laughter after many days of practicing for this year's music season.

After two mixer games, the chairs were shifted around to (Continued on Page 6, Col.1)

CONSTITUTION CORNER

"Say, Jerry, what did you think of the ASB president's remark concerning the hereafter when he took the offering?"

"I thought it was clever, Jim. But you've mentioned the thing that's been bothering me lately. It seems as though taking offerings is all that the student body president does."

"That isn't so. Receiving the Monday morning offering is just one small part of his many duties. He presides at all student body meetings and Student Council meetings, is an ex-officio member of all student body committees, and conducts the business of the student body."

"You mentioned conducting student body meetings, Jim, we haven't had any yet, have we?"

"No."

"Then what are they?"

"In the spring the entire student body meets to elect the following year's officers. He is the chairman of this meeting. He also acts in this same capacity in the Student Council."

"Just what business does he conduct and where does he get it?"

"He sees that student body projects are carried out and completed and that student body funds are correctly disbursed."

"But where does he get his business?"

"From the needs of students. He contacts prospective students in the summer and arranges to meet them if they need transportation from the depots. He works together with the school administration in Orientation week. He is responsible for promoting the spiritual life of the school, and to see that the various all-school social activities are well-planned."

"That clears it up a bit. Any thing else?"

"Perhaps his most important job is to represent us students to the faculty."

doom to this Christ--forsaking world. Judgment is coming! And yet my young friend, I feel confident that this Pentecostal movement has "come to the kingdom for such a time as this."

You remember the story--Esther was Queen to Ahasuerus, Haman had plotted for the destruction of the Jews. Mordecai, Esther's uncle, was sitting in the king's gate in sack cloth and ashes, praying and seeking God for the deliverance of his people. Esther was the key character of the hour. She held the spotlight for deliverance. If she failed, the nation perished. The scene became tense when Esther after days of fasting and prayer made her appearance before the King. Again, you remember the story, with her faith steady in the God of her people she moved towards her monarch---the cause is won.

Times have changed but not the hearts of men. Sixty percent of this world is Haman at heart as Communism sweeps the earth. And yet above it all I hear the voice of the angel speaking to Daniel, "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever." Young people let's press on!

"Prayer changes things"

"That calls for tact and diplomacy, doesn't it?"

"Yes, it does! He must be able to command the respect of both the students and the faculty in order to do this part of his work effectively."

"Thanks, Jim. I see that there is more to his work than just Monday morning offerings. I think I'll appreciate our president more now."

Leona Thomas: "The Social was one I'll never forget. It was a great benefit to me.

Bud Actapris: "It was a big deal!"

Gene Ross: "I enjoyed everything about the Social--the devotions, food and games, especially rolling eggs across the floor."

Elsie Forest: "I had loads of fun and found much to laugh about."

Joan McMillan: "I liked it because it was a time of getting acquainted, and we didn't have to dress up in high heels."

Evelyn Kalles: "It was one of the social highlights of the year."

Ken Minniker: "It was well balanced with good social and spiritual qualities. A good time for relaxation."

The Social Committee promises you a good time if you will come to the "Harvestime Social" this year.

MUSIC TEACHER ADDED

Mr. David Olson, of the music department, is the newest member of NBC's growing faculty.

Mr. Olson is a graduate of the University of Washington and has also attended St. Olive College and Seattle Pacific College. He has had seventeen years of formal training in music and holds a B. A. in music.

His testimony is that he is glad that he is a Christian and that the Christian life holds more for one than any other way of life.

The Courier staff joins the other students in welcoming Mr. Olson.

WANTED!

The athletic department desires a name for our school teams. Other schools, S. P. C., for instance, have a nickname, the "Falcons". Every college team should have a nickname and we should be no exception. We need a name!

Please submit names to Harry Leid, Box 107, before October 30. Entry rules are as follows:

1. Submit a name.
2. Give a short statement why you have chosen that name.

A prize will be given for the winning entry.
