FROM THE LIBRARY:

Please do not remove the bands from reserve library books.

To whomever it may concern: All right, you have us (the library staff) curious! The post office has returned the copy of C.M. Ward's Revivaltime Pulpit which you took without checking out. From their notation, it appears that you dropped the book in a mailbox. We admit that doesn't sound too unusual, even though it's hardly in keeping with our students' usual standards of conduct, but in CHICAGO?!?!?!?
