

STUDENT BULLETIN

Tuesday, April 5, 1966

FROM THE LIBRARY: This quarter library fines which are not paid when the books are returned will be payable at the Administration building as part of the student's regular account.

"NOBODY KNOWS EVERYTHING!" - Are you a 'B' student or better? Do you want a profession which will give you contacts with many people, plus a chance for exercising a good influence in your community? You can consider such a profession, one where there are now eighteen job openings for every graduate, Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m., in C-3. Dr. Irving Lieberman, Director of the School of Librarianship at the University, is visiting NC on a recruitment tour for the Washington Library Association. He will show the film "Nobody Knows Everything," and conduct a discussion period. We would urge all interested students to attend.

Almost all of the library's Bible Atlases are still missing. We would like them back. At the least we would like information on where they are. This sort of borrowing may not always be thought of as theft, yet it is that - even if the books are returned later, it is theft from those students who could not get material to finish their paper because the books were gone. Some books besides the Bible Atlases are also missing.

COLLEGE DAY: Please accept the sincerest thanks of the College Day Committee for the wonderful way you helped us last Friday. Many of you so graciously open your rooms to guests and in other ways showed a very gracious spirit. Thanks again and God bless you.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET: You have only a few days to get your ticket for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The question has been asked, "if I don't have a ticket, can I go to the banquet?" The answer is yes! However, you won't have a place to sit or be able to eat. All junior and seniors who plan to attend must get their tickets this week. Seniors' and their spouses' tickets are free. Juniors and their spouses must pay one dollar. Juniors or seniors who bring guests will pay $2.50 for them unless their guest is a Northwest College junior or senior. Tickets are available at the P.A. booth at the rear of the chapel after each service or in the Sub lounge first period each morning or in the bookstore. See Doug Garman today for tickets!
