MEN STUDENTS: Those who drop below the minimum full-time load of 12 credits or those who fail to earn enough credits during the school year to gain advanced student classification in keeping with the Selective Service Normal Progress definition may expect difficulties in retaining their student deferments. This appears all the more imminent in view of expected changes in the Selective Service laws. To be on the safe side, men students are advised to keep their academic loads up to the normal 15-credit-hour level at all times.

HEBREW CLASS: For purposes of planning the schedule for next year we would like to know how many students would take Elementary Hebrew (three three hour courses) if it were offered. If you are definitely interested would you please sign the paper provided at the college reception desk in the Administration Building.

FROM THE BUSINESS MANAGER: A note co-signed by your parents or guardian will be required if your account is unpaid by June 1, or a very realistic program of payment must be approved by the Business Manager. The note will have a 6% interest charge.

These financial arrangements must be made prior to Exam week or the faculty will be requested to refuse to give your exam.

Please see Mrs. Hayman at once. Don't wait until it is too late.

FROM THE BUSINESS OFFICE: If you are not expecting to return to school in the fall and you have a National Defense Student Loan please come in and see Mrs. Hayman in order to make arrangements pertaining to paying off your loan.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS: Students should observe the dates for final examinations. DO NOT ask to take final examinations early.

Freshmen should observe that all English 103 classes will have their final examination at the same time regardless of the time the class normally meets.

GRADUATING SENIORS: Will all of the graduating seniors please meet with Dean Pecota in the chapel overflow room immediately after chapel on Thursday, May 18th.

ATTENTION: Suzanne Dawkins, a former NC student has requested those students who borrowed books from her last year to please return the books to her. Her address is:

Box 1170 Kamola
