THE EAGLES COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

From The President

Having just concluded the Egypt-Israel-Athens-Corinth part of the first Northwest College Flying Seminar with thirty-three "Seminarists," I reflect. Was it worthwhile?

Emphatically, yes! Israel and church history, in fact, the whole Bible, seemed to "come alive" during the trip. The expressions of overwhelming satisfaction by all who shared in the seminar suggested they had absorbed much. This was not just sight seeing; this was study. It was one continuing spiritual experience! From early morning to late evening every day was filled with viewing it all and relating it to the Biblical records. There is so much to see and feel, to think through and digest. It's almost incomprehensible that so much has transpired in so small a geographic area. One's mind is bombarded at every turn as he covers the land and views its records.

But a trip to the cradle of Christianity is not just a study of history. It is a study of what will be! One senses prophetic fulfillment everywhere. The nation is marching forward in this fulfillment. One feels a rush of preparation. He senses destiny in the making all around him.

That God chose this people and this land and that he will accomplish the purpose of his choice presses insistently to the surface of awareness. There is something different here. There is a force at work. Without desiring it, the nations of the world must look this way and must be involved. Too much is at stake. Where for centuries armies have marched and where layer of civilization has been laid upon layer, the armies of the world will march once again, and the final showdown will be witnessed in one last layer.

It is inspiring and faith building to see prophecy being fulfilled in the land where so many of God's promises have been fulfilled before. For the young minister-in-the-making to see all of this first-hand early in his development has value beyond measure. Such a seminar must profoundly affect the very foundations of his ministry and enrich it from that day on.

All-School Banquet Set For April 25th

Plans are under way for the annual All-School Banquet slated on the College calendar for April 25. This formal occasion, the highlight of student social events for the Spring quarter, will be held in the San Juan Rooms at the Seattle Center. Tony Fontaine, a well-known sacred music recording artist, will be the featured guest. The banquet committee has chosen the theme "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" to set the atmosphere for the evening's activities. Decorations, as might be suggested by this title, will include a full spectrum of pastel shades.

Co-chairmen for the banquet are Cherie Miller, a senior who has served for the past four years on the committee which plans and coordinates banquet activities, and Dennis LaMance, second Vice-President of the Student Body Association. The committee is planning for 325-350 faculty members and students in this truly "All-School" event.

BACCALAUREATE AND COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

The baccalaureate service honoring the graduating class of 1970 will be held on Saturday, June 6. The guest speaker for this occasion will be the Reverend Eugene Born, pastor, Bethany Temple, Everett. Pastor Born has long been associated with the college. He served for several years as a member of its board of directors. Last February, Rev. Born was honored as the Northwest College Alumnus of the Year during Homecoming activities.

Sunday afternoon, June 7, Dr. Clarence J. Simpson, executive vice-president of Whitworth College in Spokane, will address the commencement service participants on the topic: "In the Forever Fading, Building Forever." Dr. Simpson is a graduate of Asbury College, the University of Cincinnati and Stanford University. He has been an educator since 1937, having taught or served administratively in the University of Cincinnati, Wheaton College, Southwestern College in Kansas, and at Whitworth College.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

There will be another Northwest College Flying Seminar. Every effort will be made to enable as many young ministers as possible to share in its benefits. The church will be blessed as a result!

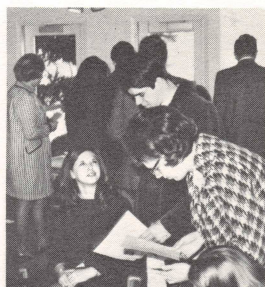

812 ATTEND CAMPUS DAY

NC - vs. - PSCB

Al Baunsgard speaks to chapel congregation.

Even Registration was fun!

Campus Day — '70 was a very busy time at Northwest College as a total of 812 guests registered for the activities. High schoolers, pastors, youth leaders and other friends from Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington were on campus.

The day included academic seminars, campus tours, faculty-student counseling, a basketball game between NC and Puget Sound College of the Bible, and two inspirational chapel services. Rev. Al Baunsgard, Northwest D-CAP, was the guest speaker in the morning chapel. The King's Choralons were also featured in a special musical drama. The evening was capped off by a musical chapel featuring several of the organized college musical teams. Also on campus during the day was the youth choir from First A/G, Missoula, Montana.

Campus Day is designed to give high school young people an opportunity to become acquainted with the faculty and the facilities available at Northwest College.

FORMER NC STUDENT RECEIVES HONOR

Mrs. Jean Smith, Pleasant Hope, Mo., has been selected for inclusion in the 1969 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America.

Those appearing in the publication are nominated by leading women's organizations and college alumni associations for their outstanding accomplishments in community service, in religious and political activities, and in professional endeavors.

Mrs. Smith is now working as catalog librarian at Evangel College. She attended Multnomah School of Bible, Portland, Ore.; Northwest College of the Assemblies of God, Kirkland, Wash.; and earned her B.S. at Evangel College, Springfield, Missouri; and her Master of Library Science degree at the University of Oregon.

She is a graduate of Ridgefield, Washington high school.

Spring Musical Tours Well Received

The annual Spring interim vacation was utilized to the fullest advantage as the King's Choralons and the Maranatha Sounds, two of NC's traveling musical groups, toured the states of Oregon and Montana, respectively.

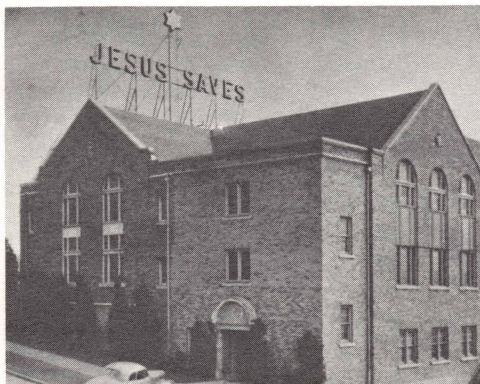

The King's Choralons, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Amundsen, received an enthusiastic reception throughout the state of Oregon. They ministered in churches, youth rallies, Canyonville Bible Academy, etc., for ten days. Many souls responded to the ministry of the choir and made decisions for Christ.

The Maranatha Sounds, under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Pincosy, toured throughout Montana. They ministered in churches, youth rallies, a coffee house, the state hospital, the state prison and trustee farm. This unique ensemble found, as did the choir, a fine response to their ministry and were instrumental in the decisions for Christ of several persons.

Rev. and Mrs. Hodges served as tour directors for the Montana tour. Rev. Tanneberg traveled with the King's Choralons in Oregon as tour director.

EAGLES COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Northwest College Eagles recently completed a successful basketball season with an over-all win-loss record of 16-8, with one additional postseason victory over Puget Sound College of the Bible. The Eagles came from behind on Campus Day to beat PSCB 84-77.

The Eagles finished their league play in third place, behind Western Baptist and Northwest Christian. Since Bob Fox is the only senior on the ball club, Coach Hillbrick is looking forward to the possibility of a strong veteran team effort in 1970-71.

Alumnus Chaplain Awarded Bronze Star

Chaplain (Major) John W. Simpson was awarded the Bronze Star Medal by the U.S. Army for distinguishing himself by meritorious service in connection with military operations against a hostile force in Viet Nam during his current tour of service there. The citation states that "Chaplain Simpson demonstrated exceptional diligence and perseverance in his demanding duty assignment." Due to the shortage of chaplains in the area he was commended for not only covering the personnel in his area of primary responsibility, but for spending much of his time in isolated areas conducting services, visiting and counseling. The citation further commended him for initiating projects through regular military channel and for working with and through local Vietnamese pastors and military personnel—something that contributed "immeasurably to the personnel in the IV Corps area and to the improvement of Vietnamese-American relations." In summary the citation said, "Chaplain Simpson's performance of duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the U.S. Army and reflects great credit upon himself and the military."

Chaplain Simpson, who has been recipient of several army awards for outstanding service, was graduated from Northwest College in 1953. His father, Mr. John Simpson Sr., was on the faculty of the college teaching in the field of biological sciences until his retirement several years ago.

— RECENT CHAPEL GUESTS —

Artistry at the keyboard and an inspiring testimony from a most talented young musician marked the recent Chapel service on February 25 with Dino Kartsonakis. Dino began his musical career "by accident" at the age of three when he went to the piano as his family returned from a Sunday morning worship and began to play simple melodies. Following high school the pursuit of his musical career included studies at the Julliard Conservatory of Music. While in the armed forces Dino played with a military orchestra. His overseas duty in Germany also highlighted his musical talent as he played in the Officers Club and in morale-boosting concerts for the servicemen as well as in foreign relations capacity for the government. Dino also had the opportunity, during his tour of duty in that country, to study in the renowned music conservatories of Munich. He is currently residing in California.

Dino's ministry is unique in that he utilizes his musical genius, molded by years of dedicated study, to beautifully express the Gospel message in music. During the chapel service he took several requests from the floor and delighted faculty and students alike with those songs. The standing ovation given him at the conclusion of the chapel was testimony to his inspiring presentation.

Reverend Dwight McLaughlin was also a recent chapel guest at NC. Reverend McLaughlin, a native of the Centralia area and ordained in 1930, has ministered for several years throughout the state in pastorates which include Walla Walla and First Assembly of God, Tacoma. He served as district superintendent for the Northwest District from 1951 to 1958. His more recent ministry includes pastorates in Bakersfield and Ventura, California. Reverend McLaughlin has also served as a general presbyter and executive presbyter of the General Council of the Assemblies of God.

In his recent chapel message, Reverend McLaughlin spoke of the youth emphasis of the church's ministry in his recent California pastorates. He told of several key high school athletes in the city who have accepted Christ as Saviour and have since become vitally involved in the church. With that same youthful touch, Reverend Mc-

Laughlin communicated effectively to the chapel audience on the importance of the Word and prayer.

John Hall, noted Gospel and sacred music recording artist, presented a musical concert in the college chapel on March 3. Known as "Big John Hall" to many acquainted with his bass part in the Stamps Quartet and in the Blackwood Brothers Quartet, he is currently involved in evangelistic services across the nation. He is a Texan and he is big! His six-foot frame, his "big" smile, and his talented bass tones were a unique blend as he "reached down" both in bass notes and in devotional message to present several inspiring musical favorites. Taking advantage of the occasion, John Hall spoke to the students of some lessons learned during his own college days.

John Hall is from a minister's family and among thirteen brothers and sisters are numbered several ministers and missionaries. Although not with him on campus, his wife Theta and their small daughter also travel with him. John Hall is often joined by his wife in concerts and worship services which take them many miles from their home base in Nashville, Tennessee.

Reverend A. S. Ellis, pioneer Pentecostal minister and former instructor at Northwest College, addressed the faculty and students in chapel on March 10. Reverend Ellis gave an informal and very inspiring resume of what the ministry involved in the early days of pioneer work in northern British Columbia. Mr. Ellis spoke of the rigors of travel and other challenging experiences occurring during the opening works in logging camps and other isolated zones. His was a testimony concerning God's faithfulness to guide, provide, and bring many persons to Christ during his ministry there.

Reverend Ellis first came to the Northwest District in 1923 and was involved in evangelistic work. Ordained in Canada in 1925, Rev. Ellis ministered throughout the district including pastorates in Anacortes, Leavenworth, Puyallup, and Sumner. During the ten-year span, 1943-53, Mr. Ellis served Northwest College as an instructor in missions. Rev. and Mrs. Ellis presently reside in Seattle.

From the Roll Call file comes many interesting reports of where our alumni are and what they are doing. Here are a few: Byron Ditty, pastor in Kittitas; George Riffe, nursing home owner-operator; Livingston, Montana; John and Wanda (May) Lehmkuhl - manager, Tallman Piano, Medford, Oregon (they are directors of music, First Assembly); Glenn and Anita Park, engineering technician, Santa Clara County, California; Jessie Miller, a nurse in Everett, Washington; James Reed, civil service, Ft. Lewis; Ruth Frank Stephens, clerk in a clinic in Alaska; Ron Whitney, pastor, Bremerton, Washington (recently made second stereo album with youth choir); Linda Anderson, student nurse, Seattle Community College; Larry Newman, executive director, Maranatha Ministries, Seattle, Washington; Marilyn Wiklund Modine, technical librarian for an Idaho corporation; Jose Filardo, maintenance, Oakland: "I go to . . . skid row mission. . . sing, testify for my Lord" (those who know Joe will appreciate this excerpt). Carol Wight Bliss—student-wife, Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma; Paul Fenton, National Sunday School representative, Springfield, Missouri; Ric Kellogg, pastor, Winthrop A/G (Ric married Peggy Strickland—a teacher); Mabel Hair, Boeing employee—takes care of 91-year-old father; Palmer Olson, real estate broker, Tuscon, Arizona. Gaylord Wilson, pastor, Bethel A/G, Vancouver, Washington; Dale and Mrs. Hatloe, businessman (floor coverings) Everett, Washington; John Butterfield, contracting and attending school, Tacoma; Dwayne Klein, wheat rancher, member State Board of Education, Spokane area; Gertrude McKnight Israel, Morningside Manor Nursing Home, Alcester, S.D.; Teachers: Jan Cason, Brooks, Oregon; Luella Seig, Shoreline, Seattle; Margaret Corcoran, Geraldine Gawith - Auburn; Mae Lewandowski Marsolek-Prosser. Retired: Lillian Mader, Colfax, Washington and Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Bishop, King's Garden Royal Apartments, Seattle. If you enjoy news from the Roll Call, let us know by sharing what you are doing.

From the missionary file: Ken and Linda (Morse) Benintendi were approved for missionary service in Formosa; from near Paris, France, John Lecosse writes concerning his missionary work, assisting his father in ministry to the Gypsies of France and Europe.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO INSTALL NEW PRESIDENT AT WALLA WALLA MEETING

The Northwest College Alumni Association will install a new president on April 29 at its annual business meeting and luncheon to be held in Walla Walla in connection with the Northwest District Council of the Assemblies of God. Nominees selected by the Nominating Committee are the Reverend Orville Danielson, pastor of Trinity Assembly of God, Seattle, and the Reverend Richard Strum, pastor of the Assembly of God, Redmond, Washington. Alumni will decide their choice by a mail ballot before the annual business meeting. The retiring president is the Reverend Walter Buck, pastor of Evangel Temple, Seattle, who has served for the past three years.

Alumni are also planning to feature the work of the Northwest College Lay Council and the newly unveiled Master Plan development of the college campus at the annual meeting.
