NORTHWEST COLLEGE • ASSEMBLIES OF GOD • KIRKLAND, WASHINGTON

D. V. Hurst

From the President

Parent. . . Undecided?

The headline is being written everywhere: "Higher Education in America is in Trouble!"

No less than President Nixon, in his message to Congress on Higher Education, spoke of the large, complex institutions which have lost their way.

To allege this is one thing; to see where and in what ways is quite another. One place is the ethical and moral realm!

One large mid-western university has changed its stance. As late as 1965 its by-laws read, "Students should conduct themselves in accordance with the rules of morality and decency which obtain in well-ordered communities. . . ." Now its "expectations" include this statement: "It is not the intention of the university to determine moral codes for individuals, but it is the expectation that students themselves determine moral principles appropriate to the society in which they live and conduct themselves accordingly". And the Governor of that state in his farewell address to the legislature said, "No university has any real responsibility or authority concerning student morals or conduct. These are personal, ethical and family matters". And his capstone statement was, "We cannot and should not expect our colleges and universities to assume our responsibilities as parents and exemplars of young people". So the university and the state, discarding divine codes, has disavowed all moral leadership responsibility and lost the way!

In contrast, speaking at an inauguration in a small eastern college, the Honorable J.D. Hodgson, Secretary of Labor, said, "It is in our nation's private schools and colleges more than anywhere else on the educational scene where the strongholds of our spiritual and ethical values are to be found. Here the ultimate meaning and goals of life are still taught. Here the foundations of high obligation to God and humanity are still laid. Here the eternal quest for moral strength and spiritual understanding still goes on. . . ."

A.S.B. PRESIDENT ASSUMES OFFICE IN SEPTEMBER

Marc Pearson, born in El Dorado, Arkansas, now residing in Los Angeles, California, will assume a new leadership role as the president of the Associated Student Body of Northwest College during the 1971-72 academic year. The 20-year-old Bible College division senior's parents are ministers in the Los Angeles area. Mr. Pearson has been actively engaged in a number of student leadership responsibilities in the past. During his junior year he served as a resident counselor in the men's residence hall and as Associated Student Body Vice-President. He was employed this past year by the Bellevue American newspaper. He plans to enter the ministry upon completion of his academic program.

Serving with Mr. Pearson in the student body government will be Mr. Dan Cook, of Richland, Washington, a senior. Mr. Cook is the 1st Vice-President and Chairman of the World Outreach Ministries program. World Outreach Ministries is a student-led Christian service organization in which students participate on a voluntary basis.

Other A.S.B. officers include 2nd Vice-President Mr. Don Smith, a senior from Homer, Alaska; A.S.B. Secretary Miss Judi Emerson, of Portland, Oregon; and A.S.B. Treasurer Miss Linda Pearson, of Cashmere, Washington.

Other World Outreach Ministries officers include Vice-Chairman Mr. Grant Hill, of Seattle, Washington; W.O.M. Secretary Miss Mary Shellberg, of Spokane, Washington; and W.O.M. Treasurer Miss Birdie Ballenger, of Kalispell, Montana.

In the face of this contrast, can a parent, thinking of sending his child to college and wondering if the extra cost of a Christian college such as Northwest (small over a lifetime of living, earning and service) is really worth it, ponder the question long? Could he possibly decide against a Christian college education? I think not!

New Faculty -Staff Additions Announced

Faculty and staff changes for the 1971-72 academic year were announced recently by Northwest College President D.V. Hurst. Noting that most of the personnel changes are in the category of part-time and special lecturers, President Hurst indicated that Mr. Robert Swaffield, who recently attained doctoral candidacy status at the University of Washington, will begin full-time teaching in the college music department. He served previously in a part-time capacity while pursuing his studies at the University. Professor Swaffield holds the A.M.U.S.—University of Saskatchewan; B.A.—University of Saskatchewan; B.Ed.—University of Alberta; M.A.—University of Montana. He succeeds Mrs. Phyllis Pincosy, who left the faculty in order to travel with her husband, Philip, upon completion of his doctoral studies at the University.

Another associate with the college staff will be teaching in the field of sociology at the College. He is the Reverend Orville Clark, pastor of the Kenmore Assembly of God. Mr. Clark has served as a special counseling assistant at the College over the past two years. He holds the B.S. degree from Bethany Bible College; the B.A. from Willamette University and the M.A. from Oregon State University. His wife will teach Practical Nursing during the Spring quarter for students majoring in missions at the College.

A former special lecturer associated with the college is Pastor John McCullough of the Bethany Community Church in Seattle. He will be assisting in Homiletics and Preaching at the College during the winter and spring terms, supplying for Professor D.B. Pecota, who will be on leave of absence for further studies.

Another associate of the college from previous teaching experience is Mr. Loren Hagen. He will teach in the fields of Philosophy and Biblical Languages during the coming year. Mr. Hagen recently attained doctoral candidacy at the University of Washington, where he has been studying in the field of Philosophy. A former student at Northwest College, Mr. Hagen is a member of the Marysville Assembly of God in Marysville, Washington. Mr. Hagen took two years leave from his University studies to pursue courses in Bible, and Theology, at Northwest College, to augment his work at the University. He taught Introduction to Philosophy at the College last fall.

Another University of Washington graduate in the person of Mrs. Del Roberts, will join the Applied Music staff as an instructor in piano. Mrs. Roberts is the daughter of the Reverend Phil Wayman. Her husband, the Reverend Del Roberts, is a former student at the college and is pastor of the South Everett Assembly of God. She holds the B.A. degree in music from the University.

Another "returnee" to the College staff for the coming year is the Reverend Lyle B. Spradley, who will serve on a part-time basis as Financial Aids officer. Reverend Spradley served as the College Business Manager until his election to the post of Northwest District Secretary-Treasurer, a position which he held for the past 14 years until his retirement this summer.

Pastor Richard Strum of the Redmond Assembly of God Church will assist in the instruction in Personal Evangelism on a special-lectureship basis for the coming year. A graduate of the school, the Reverend Strum is president of the College Alumni Association, and serves on the College Board of Directors.

Still another pastoral tie with the College's staff for the coming year will be represented in the person of the Reverend Henry Bridgeman, who will serve as Assistant Dean of Men. Reverend and Mrs. Bridgeman have served for many years as pastors in the Northwest District of the Assemblies of God. Their most recent pastorate was in Darrington, Washington. They will take up residency in the Gray-Beatty Residence Halls, succeeding Reverend Roy Southard, who joined the pastoral staff at Calvary Temple in Seattle.

Another special lectureship will be offered in Church Building by Mr. Wendell Beckwith, Bellevue architect with the Beckwith, Spangler and Davis architectural firm. A well-known Christian layman in the Free Methodist Church, Mr. Beckwith has had a close association with the College in the development of the present campus. His firm designed and supervised the construction of the new Learning Center, Gray Hall and also the Master Campus plan which is the present overall guide for campus development.

NC's STUDENTS ENGAGE IN SUMMER INTERN MINISTRIES

Twenty-eight members of NC's student family are engaged in various ministries throughout the summer months, gaining practical opportunities to apply classroom theory.

Fourteen students have been sponsored by the college in a summer of ministry among highschool youth in camps and communities throughout the western USA. These collegians have formed four musical groups known as THE KING'S FOUR, THE MESSENGERS, THE NORTHWESTERNERS and THE DAUGHTERS OF THE KING. They present a Christ in Concert in churches, coffee houses; on beaches, etc. They also serve as counselors in youth camps.

Six students have received special scholarships through the World Outreach Ministries organization of students at NC. Darilyn Bennett (Ellensburg, Wa.) and Linda Valnes (Bremer-ton, Wa.) are working among the Indians in the Naniamo, B.C., area. Placed with them in this area are Ken Poole (Port Orchard, Wa.); Linda Rodgers (Lincoln, Neb.); John Tobin (Seattle, Wa.); and Marlene Wood (Bothell, Wa.).

Jim and Sallee Conn are serving in Alaska; Blair Overturf is working with Rev. Charles Lee in Shiprock, New Mexico; Barb Warneke, Gary Watne and Orin Marsh are serving ministry internships in Montana; Paul and Becky Hulka are in Oregon; and Grant Hill is a counselor at King's Teens Miracle Ranch near Seattle.

Amos Millard Authors 1972 Training Volume

Learning from the Apostles, the 1972 workers training book-of-the-year, emphasizes the Spirit-powered work of the early church and its application to today.

The author, Amos D. Millard, dean of admissions and faculty member of Northwest College of the Assemblies of God, Kirkland, Washington stresses the need for a Spirit-powered existence. He covers such topics as the Church's mission, prayer and waiting on God, obedience and submission, the Spirit-filled life, and the Christ-centered life.

An Instructor's Guide and visual aid will also be available. Author of the Instructor's Guide is Hugh Jeter, faculty member of Southwestern Assemblies of God college, Waxahachie, Texas.

The text, Learning from the Apostles, is available for $1.25 from the Gospel Publishing House, Springfield, Mo.

NC ALUMNUS AUTHORS NEW BOOK

"The Quiet Revolution" is the title of a new book authored by a Northwest College alumnus, Mr. Gary Henley, who is the Director of Inter-Church Ministries in Chicago, Illinois. The book describes a "move of the Spirit of God to bring the people of God back to the spontaneous simplicity" that characterized the early church. The book is making its appearance in bookstores across the country and is receiving publicity in some of the leading magazines of the evangelical church world.

Mr. Henley, who came to Northwest College from Spokane in 1961, where he was a radio announcer and disc jockey for a Spokane radio station, completed three years of studies before moving to Chicago to work with Inter-Church Ministries. He had previously completed some academic studies at Whitman College in Walla Walla. In addition to serving as director of Inter-Church Ministries, Mr. Henley also serves on the Greater Chicago Billy Graham Committee.

Author Henley recently honored the College with several autographed copies of his new book which will be placed in the College library. Copies may be purchased through the College Bookstore, P.O. Box 579, Kirkland, Wa. 98033. $3.95 plus 25c postage and handling.

FLYING SEMINARIAN RELIVES TOUR TO LAND OF BIBLE

Mrs. Dora Rouse, one of Northwest College's Flying Seminararians on a Bible Lands Tour, recently penned her evaluation of the experience, in study and travel to the lands of the Bible. An excerpt in her letter reads, "Each day I relive some portion of the tour and thrill anew. . . Just to know that I walked where my Saviour walked, rode among the hills where He journeyed to minister, visited the Sea of Galilee where He stilled the waves. Recently our pastor spoke on the subject, "So Naomi Returned." I was enraptured because it was all so clear—the land of Moab. . . into the land of Naomi's birth. . . the fields of Boaz where Ruth gleaned. My heart quickened and I was spellbound to know I had just recently looked over those same fields. Seeing the land of the Book has made the Bible really come alive."

Since returning to her Lewiston, Idaho, home, Mrs. Rouse has gone over the study materials sent her by the college and has even gone beyond that—reading available books from the city library. Moreover, she completed the requirements for college credit, researching and writing a creditable paper on Cyprus, first missionary field of the Apostle Paul.

Mrs. Rouse also commented on the harmonious relations which non-student members of the seminar enjoyed with college students. "I enjoyed the Christian fellowship of the group. Everyone was so kind and sort of looked out for the older ones; the students were wonderful. I enjoyed them so very much."

Mrs. Rouse's experience will be a possibility for others who might be interested in the 1972 Flying Seminar. Bible Lands Tour, schedules for March 10-24, 1972. Further information may be received from the Office of the President, NORTHWEST COLLEGE, P.O. Box 579, Kirkland, Wa. 98033. (Phone: 206-822-8266.)

New Faculty-Staff Additions (Continued from center section)

President Hurst noted that four members of the regular faculty will be on leave to work on doctoral programs during part of next year. This is the reason for the increase in part-time faculty. Those who will be absent include Dean Frank B. Rice, at Washington State University during the winter and spring quarters; Professor Francis Thee, at University of Chicago to work on his doctoral dissertation during the autumn quarter; Professor Donald Tarno who will journey to India for research on his doctoral dissertation during the Winter quarter (he is a former missionary to East Pakistan); and Professor D.B. Pecota who plans to engage in doctoral studies at Phillips University in Oklahoma during the winter and spring terms.
