FOREWORD

“But my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus.” (Philippians 4:19)

Our student body had outgrown the one building that had housed Northwest Bible College for twenty-five years. We needed a campus where we could expand, uncramped. In answer to faithful prayer God did supply in giving us land.

Next, we needed money to build. Graciously, God provided as we trusted in Him. Now buildings have been erected, new faculty and staff members have been led to us, and a generous supply of new students have enrolled in school.

With the new year have come new complexities: communal problems, personal anxieties, spiritual perplexities and material needs. Yet how wonderfully God has relieved each pressure, drawing from His storehouse of riches in Christ Jesus.

May this Karisma be a reminder of yesterday's provision and thus strengthen your faith for tomorrow.

Dedication

We dedicate this Karisma to one who is humble in his wisdom, and has been endowed with a deep understanding, thus finding a place in the heart of each student.

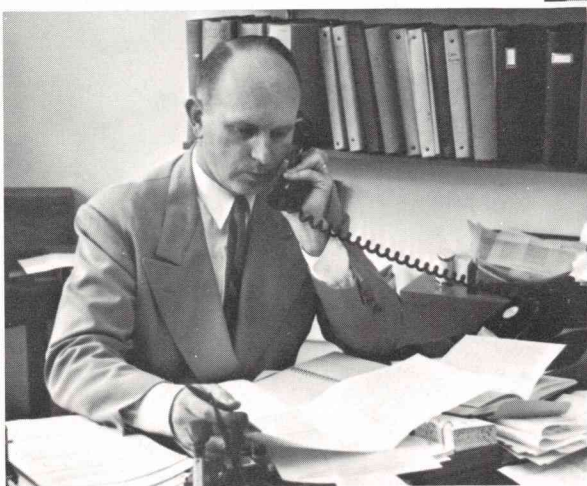

To you we say thank you for your efficiency, and for the excellent teaching we have received in your classes. Most of all, we thank you for yourself. We appreciate your cheery smile and the evidence of the close walk you have with the Master. It is to you, Brother Millard, that we proudly dedicate this 1961 Karisma.

In the consideration of God's benevolence to mankind in general and to His Children in particular, it must be remembered that God's love and benevolence are comprehended in the gift of His Son Jesus Christ to the world — all other gifts and blessings to mankind are ancillary to this act. The physical benefit found in His healing power for our bodies, the spiritual blessings to edify and encourage us, the supply of all our temporal needs — these are the lesser gifts which come to us because He has given us His Son. "He that spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not with Him freely give us all things?" So then, we praise God for all the many provisions that God has made for us on the college campus, but most of all we praise Him for His unspeakable gift — the Lord Jesus Christ.

It is with pride, anticipation, and humility that I step upon the campus of Northwest Bible College. Pride for the beauty of the campus, anticipation because of the potential that exists, and humility, for it is by the grace and goodness of God that we can enjoy such fine educational facilities.

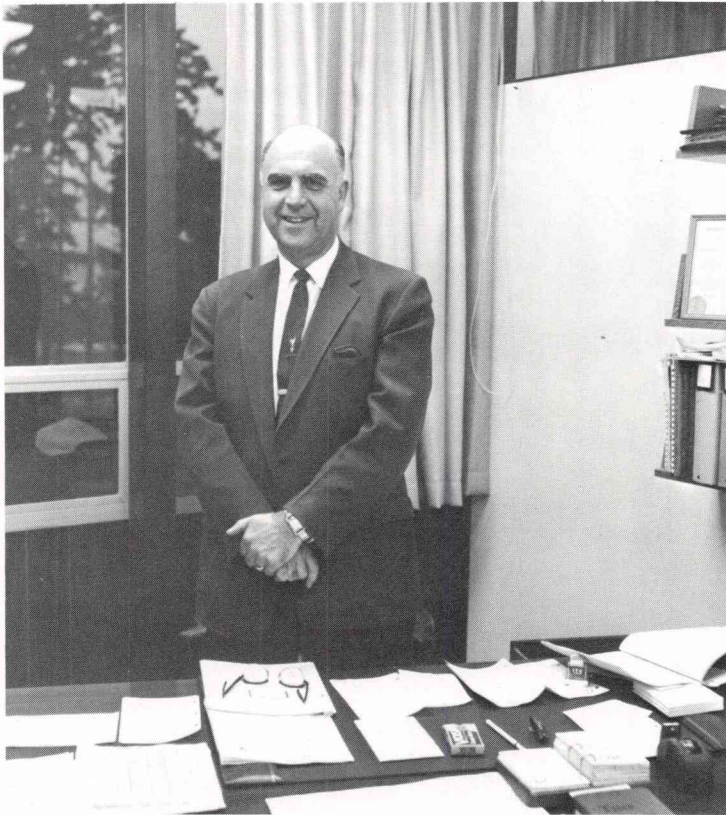

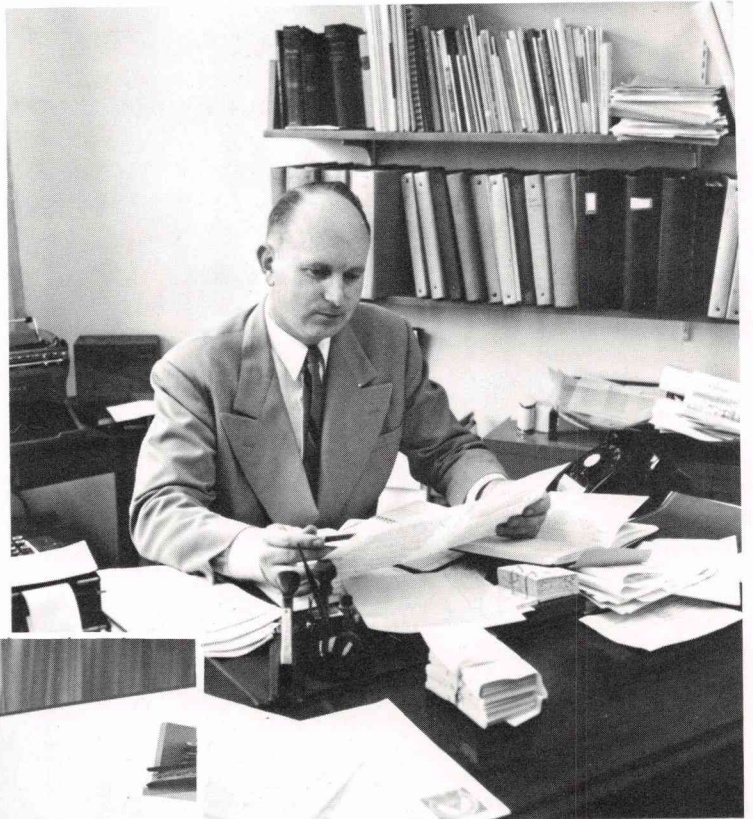

And yet greater thanks are offered for the spirit that exists. A spirit of inquiry, devotion to the Savior, and a compassion for souls. These are an even greater asset to the school than the possession of more visible things. Schools are great not because they possess physical facilities alone, but because they have the spirit to meet man's most crucial challenge — the challenge within. Faculty and staff members devoted to giving themselves, their time, their concern for the student, their love for evangelization of mankind; students devoted to acquiring a love for learning, a love for God, and a love for their fellow men. These are our greatest educational assets. For these I offer my greatest thanks.

REGISTRAR

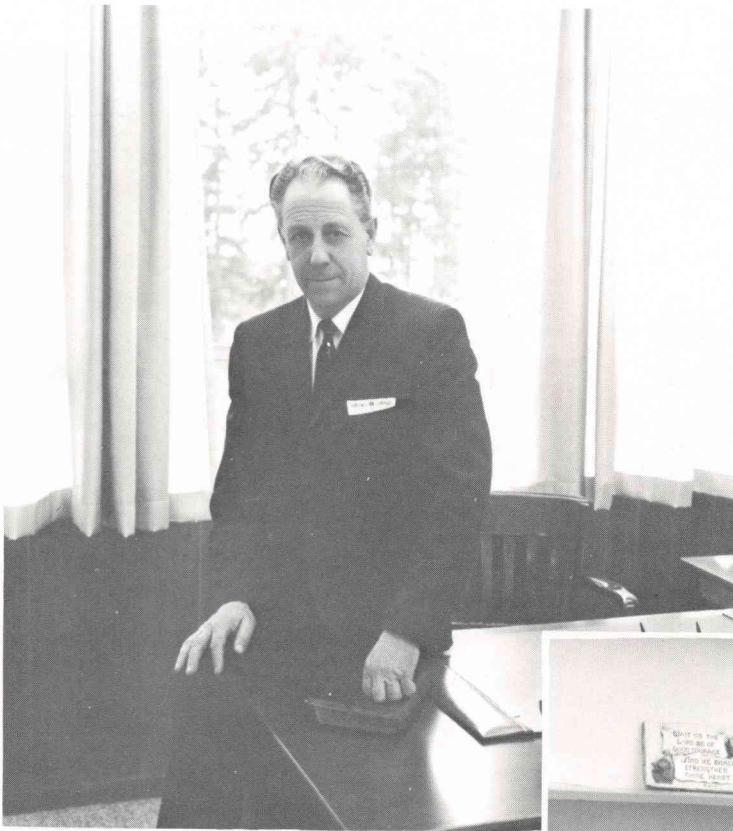

The academic and spiritual welfare of each student is the deepest concern of Registrar Amos D. Millard.

Efficiency in the business activities of N.B.C. is H. W. Crowder's field. Students needing financial assistance seek his advice.

BUSINESS MANAGER

DEAN OF STUDENTS

God has not only provided our campus with additional physical facilities but He has dwelt in them with us. In every phase of campus life He has been to us Jehovah-Shammah, "The Lord is there." We found Him "there" . . . in the daily Chapel Services . . . at the Student Body Prayer Meetings . . . in the Sunday Evening Chapel Services . . . in the prayer room at the Student Union Building . . . during the prayer sessions in the Girls' Residence . . . and at the three Spiritual Emphasis Meetings this school year.

"There they dwelt with the King for His work." (1 Chron. 4:23.) In type this speaks to us of our heritage to dwell continually with our King for His work. Of course, if we dwell only with the work . . . though favorable physical facilities surround us . . . we dwell with our feelings and frustrations. But when we dwell with the King for His work, we dwell where we can say, like Paul, "None of these things move me."

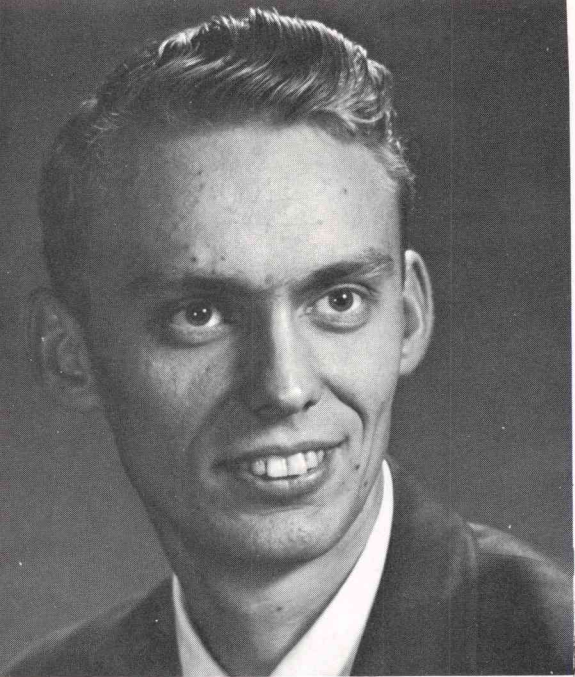

HOW GOOD GOD IS: A little over two years ago this scenic property overlooking Lake Washington, Seattle, and the Olympic Mountains, was nothing but brush and concrete foundations, the drab remains of a former housing project. TODAY what a transformation — six lovely modern buildings in use, with the district offices and the president's residence also nearing completion.

Bulldozers and graders have been busy, and now the grounds are being landscaped with some sections already in lawns.

We recognize the fact that buildings and property constitute only the material and physical aspects of a campus; and while we rejoice in what God hath wrought, our hearts are filled with praise for the wonderful student body, and for the spiritual atmosphere that prevails. It causes us to exclaim with the Apostle Paul, "Oh the depths of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways past finding out."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a representative group of students promoting the practical and spiritual life of the college. The purpose of the Council is to promote fellowship among the students, and to encourage united participation in all the many school projects. Christian Service, Spiritual Emphasis Week, paying for the Student Union Building and many other things keep this body of students busy.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE DEPARTMENT

Northwest Bible College not only provides academic training but also affords the student opportunities in applying what has been learned in the classroom in actual Christian service. The old adage, "Experience is the best teacher" still holds true today. Booklearning cannot replace the experience of the practical application of accumulated knowledge. N.B.C.'s CHRISTIAN SERVICE DEPARTMENT is actively engaged in providing the students an actual ministry in various denominational church services, youth rallies, local nursing homes and other avenues of service. The teams, individually consisting of a team leader, speaker, and vocal or instrumental combination are systematically assigned to these various outlets of ministry upon the request of pastors and youth leaders. A gospel team is designed to be a synchronized effort to present the gospel in word and song. Usually eight to ten teams are in operation throughout the school term. Comprehensive questionnaires given to the team leaders before the date of assignment allow the team and the host pastor to evaluate the team's ministry. At present we meet twice a month with our team personnel to point out areas of improvement and efficiency.

Not only do we have gospel teams serving in these various capacities but also many more students are engaged as assistant pastors, Sunday school superintendents, teachers, directors of children's church, and pianists. The college concert choir goes on tour at least once each school year and several gospel teams itinerate through the Northwest area during the summer months. All these make a valuable contribution to the cause of Christ.

The success of our Christian Service Department is evidenced by the pastors' reports expressing thanks and appreciation for our students and their ministry. These young people have been instrumental in leading souls to Christ and in encouraging others in a deeper experience with God. With an eye to the future our department is developing an efficient follow-up program designed to encourage new converts in maturing spiritually. As can well be seen our Christian Service Department is another component part of our expanding Christian institution, Northwest Bible College.

SPIRITUAL WEEK SLATED

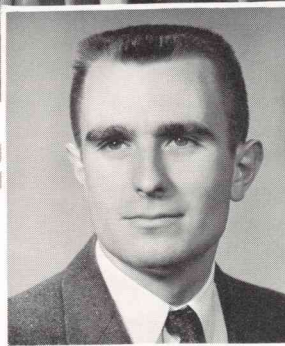

The Spiritual Emphasis Week, for the Winter quarter, begins January 23rd and will continue through January 27th. Our speaker will be Rev. John Watts, former missionary to Palestine. Rev. Watts is now pastoring in Calgary, Alberta, a position he has held for the past eight years. Former students as well as present ones will be interested in knowing that Rev. Watts is a son-in-law to Rev. S. Jones, a former teacher.

Keep in mind that evangelists do not bring revivals in their briefcases. Revival is a personal thing before it spreads to the church, the community, the district, or the denomination. The key to revival is hunger in the individual heart for more of God. It is this which brings revival to a church, and the same will bring revival to N.B.C.—hearts which are hungry for the moving of God.

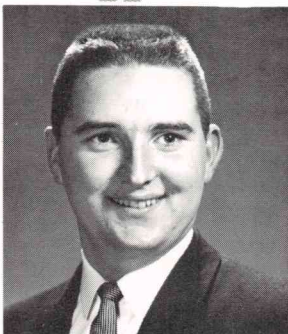

A student news publication, the NORTHWEST STAR, became a reality this year at Northwest Bible College. The STAR tells of student life and thus helps to keep everyone posted on the latest events.

CHAPEL

The chapel services each day contribute much to the spiritual life of N.B.C. Throughout this year there has been felt a deep moving of God's Spirit in the lives of the students. As hearts were challenged by the Word of God, lives were changed and dedicated anew unto God.

Charles Scott, Director of the Educational Department of the Assembly of God, presents to President Butterfield, a check donated by Mrs. Hallie Garrison of Childress, Texas, to start a revolving student loan fund.

Rev. Hardy Steinberg, Secretary of the Education Department of the Assemblies of God, brought an inspiring message to the students as he and Brother Scott visited from Springfield.

Ira Stanphill, noted gospel singer and composer, ministers in song.

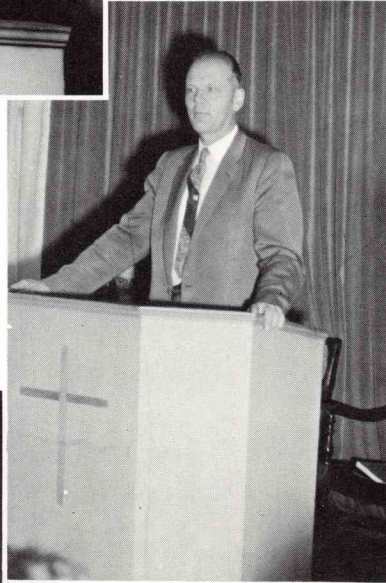

John Watts, second quarter spiritual emphasis speaker. Many spiritual victories were won during the week Bro. Watts spent ministering here at N.B.C.

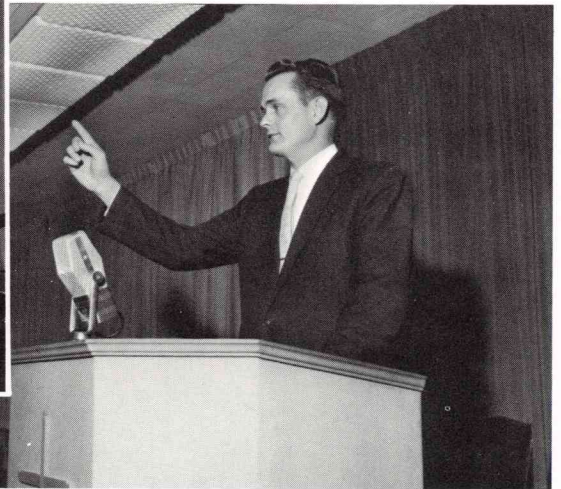

Dr. David du Plessis, world renoun Pentecostal leader.

This year there has been a large number of inspiring chapel speakers. Missionaries, evangelists and pastors brought stirring messages to the heart of each student.

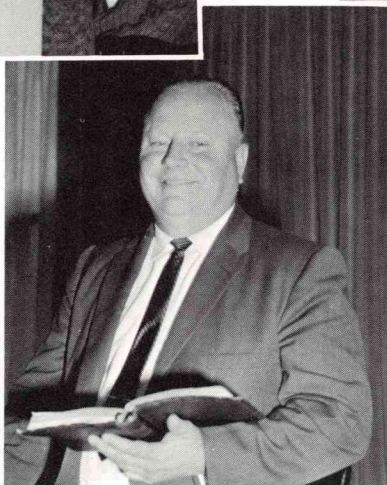

Morris Devon, missionary to Indonesia, spoke at a Friday night missionary rally.

Rev. Eugene Born, Pastor at Missoula, Montana.

Maxine Richardson, missionary to Cuba.

Rev. Earl Goodman, Mont. District Superintendent

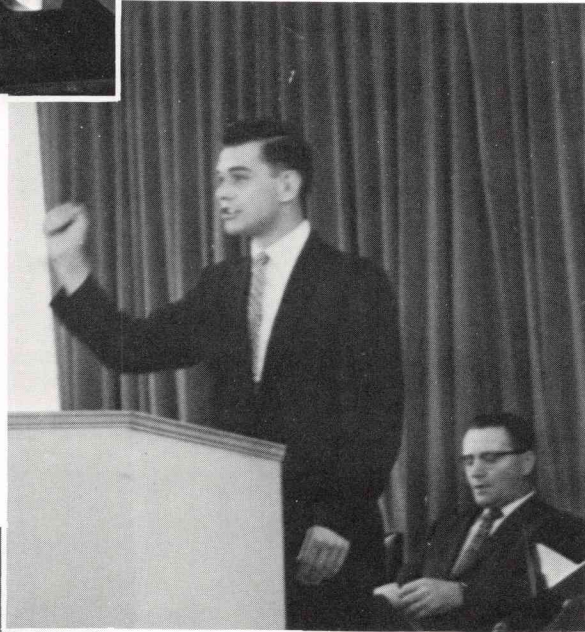

Mark Buntain, missionary to India.

CHURCH BUSINESS

Your school is like the potter's shop where vessels are formed for many uses. Here the skilled and patient hands shape, reshape, finish and fire. In a school such as yours, there is an added step—the vessel is not only formed—but filled as well. May God bless you all—students, faculty, administration, and graduates as your lives are poured out in Christian service.
