W.O.M. Project: W.O.M. is pleased to announce its first project for the New Year, since this quarter we will be concentrating on home missions, this Friday our offering will go to a home missions church in Petersburg, Alaska. They have out grown their present small building and are constructing a new one. There are no carpenters working on this church and they are cutting a lot of their own lumber, they are also dependant upon outside sources for the majority of funds. This would be a nice New Year's gift from the Northwest College family to encourage them in their important efforts to extend God's kingdom.

W.O.M. Faith Promise Pledges:

It may be cold outside but it is warm within the hearts of the N.C. Family. One sign of this is the fact that $8,800 in giving was promised towards God's work this quarter. Let's pray that we can cultivate this attitude of giving into every area of our lives.
