On Thursday March 5, Prof. Johnson's Contemporary Issues class will be showing the documentary STREET WISE second hour in F-7. This film on the street kids of Seattle received some national attention, and an Emmy nomination. Any students who are free at that time are invited to join with the class in watching this film. Here is an opportunity to get a frank look at what life on the streets is like, and to become more aware of the mission field right next door.

Cafeteria Information: Since there are very few students (usually 10-15) who eat dinner the evening of the Spring Banquet, this year we will provide sack dinners for you. Please sign up at the cafeteria. Thanks!

The MAPS office is in need of many more summer volunteers for 1987. It is not too late to send an application if you had an interview last semester with Lamar Headley or Evan Paul. If you had no interview, you are still encouraged to prayerfully consider the list of openings and your possible involvement. Applications are available in the Admissions Office, or by contacting the MAPS assignment, you should notify the MAPS office so your assignment can be given to someone else.
