IT'S HOOP TIME AGAIN! It's that time of the year!!! Hoop, Hoop, and more hoop! Fastbreaks and shooting will be the keys for this year's men's basketball to be successful. With eight new players and two new coaches, this year's team will be extremely young and unexperienced. However, what they lack in age and experience, they make up with a lot of hustle and shooting! The new head coach is Doug Filan, originally from Walla Walla, Washington. His last coaching job was at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, where he coached football. However, he did manage to pick up a few things from "Tark the Shark" - mainly fastbreak and hard nose defense. His assistant coach is senior Mike Marcus who played the last two years here at Northwest College. Coach Filan said he would have loved to have Marcus play for him, but he ran out of semesters to play, so the coach did the next best thing and asked him to be his assistant. Mike is a great help to the team. Rounding out this year's leadership will be Doug, who coached track in Oregon before coming to Northwest College. Doug has worked years to learn how to train an athlete to get better at stretching and flexibility, etc. Doug will be a good addition for the Eagles as a trainer.

The only two returnees from last year's team are Joel Simonson and Tim Marks. Both players will be relied on heavily for contributing to the success of this year's team. The new players include freshmen 6'6" Wes Davis, a point guard out of Tacoma; 6'6 1/2" Eric Konsmo, a guard from Auburn - look to see some beams from him; Jeff Portmann, one of the stars in this year's intramural football - look to see some tough defense from him; Brock Baker, a 6'1" guard that you'll also see great shooting from; 6'4 1/2" Dave Nordby will be one of our key rebounders this year, along with 6'4" Kevin Weaver, who is the newest addition to this year's hoop team - you will see a lot of him under the hoop. Two other faces you will see in January are Russ and Troy Jammerman who are in school but not eligible until January. This year's team promises to be exciting and fun to watch! Look to see some high scoring games. The first home game is this Saturday the 11th, at 7:30 in the Pavillion. Come and support the hoop team!

SKI INSTRUCTORS NEEDED: No experience necessary. John Mohan Skiing, Inc. is looking for caring individuals; not necessarily advanced skiers. If you can ski most of the groomed runs at Ski Acres, using a step or parallel turn, call Ski Acres Ski School at 823-2690 by December 1st. Their two day training/hiring clinic is $35.00. Benefits include a season pass.

CONGRATULATIONS!!! to the guys 100 floor - Birds of Pray. They won the intramural championship! If you weren't there, you missed a great game!!!
