CONGRATULATIONS to NC FLUTE and PIANO students! Sharon Foss, who is a First Place winner in the Eastside Performing Arts Festival, was accompanied by Molly Cummings. They will play in the Honors Recital April 27 with other Festival winners at Bellevue Christian Church. Tricia Langaker and Molly won Second Place in this Festival. Tricia has been invited to perform with an organist who will present a recital in the Plymouth Church Organ Concert Series in Seattle in June. Church music by major 20th century composers for flute and organ and for piccolo as well as a piccolo concerto and a flute sonata were performed by these students. You are welcome to come listen to you friends at these April and June concerts.

YES VIRGINIA, THERE IS LIFE AFTER FINALS! It's called Summer School at NC. The atmosphere is relaxed, the classes are small. Sound good? Take a look at the syllabus for Bible 424: Ezra, Nehemiah and the Post-Exilic Prophets. You'll learn about Judah's return from exile, and the people who experienced it. The message of God's covenant restoration, and the hope it gave them in time of trouble will challenge and inspire you. (A sample syllabus is available from Professor Hobson in B-2)

FEAR OF PUBLIC SPEAKING RANKED ABOVE DEATH: Studies show that most people fear speaking in public more than death itself. This can be a problem for students required to take the basic speech class for college graduation. But wait - there is a solution. Sign up for the Summer Semester Speech 121 Course on May 6 - 17. This course will be small - 8 or 10 students (compared to 25 other semesters) and it only lasts two weeks. Get this required course over with in two weeks in beautiful sunny Kirkland and enjoy the small class size. Go to the Registrars Office and sign up for Speech 121 today and then RELAX!

THE LAST DUE DATE FOR LIBRARY BOOKS IS THIS FRIDAY, APRIL 26. Please check your books' due dates to make sure they are returned on time to avoid paying fines. No exceptions. To borrow reserve materials after Friday, you must have returned all library materials. All library materials are LIBRARY USE ONLY after Friday, April 26, 1991.

---
