PREFACE

This manual is intended to assist Northwest College Student Leaders to obtain an understanding of the nature and scope of student leadership and the general policies and procedures of the College that impact student activities.

This manual contains the Northwest College Perspective, Student Leadership Responsibilities, and the Constitution and By-Laws for the Associated Student Body and the by-laws of student organizations that are fundamental in procedures of government and authority for student leadership.

The five organizational departments of the College – Student Development, Academic Affairs, Administrative Services, College Advancement and the Presidents Office – are designed to assist all students succeed during and after their college experience. Therefore it is important that all student leaders understand the way the College is organized and know they, primarily, fulfill their responsibilities in close relationship with the Student Development department.

I. The Northwest College Perspective

Our Vision

CARRY THE CALL with Heart...The founders of northwest College built a community of faith and learning, focused on serving people who are pursuing God's call on their lives. We are convinced that God continues to call every man and woman to a life of faithful, devoted service. Northwest College is committed to being a college of choice for students passionate about confirming and clarifying God's call.

CARRY THE CALL with Head...We believe that the best response to God's call is to develop exceptional character and competence. A commitment to scholarship and discipleship grows out of a worldview anchored in Scripture. Northwest College integrates Faith and Truth with powerful, effective teaching in Ministry, Arts, Sciences and the Professions. The entire College community strives to engage biblical Christianity with every aspect of life.

CARRY THE CALL with Hand...Northwest College finds its crowning joy in thousands of alumni serving in nearly every profession around the world...they are people showing Christ's love through hands of compassion. Our faculty model lives of wholehearted service. Our students make an impact for the Kingdom in numerous outreaches and ministries. Northwest College is committed to preparing people for service and leadership, doing God's work around the world.

Our Mission

The Mission of Northwest College is to provide, in a distinctly evangelical Christian environment, quality education to prepare students for service and leadership.

The College experience should develop the whole person through general studies integrated with biblical knowledge; include professional and vocational skills in the student's preparation for service in the world; and help to fulfill the Great Commission and to propagate the historic faith of the sponsoring church.

Our Educational Philosophy

Northwest College's concept of education is distinctively Christian in the evangelical sense. It recognizes the authority of the Bible as a divine communication of truth. It views humanity as having been created by God with intellectual, physical, social, and spiritual potentialities which require development and needs which require fulfillment if the individual is to be a whole person whose life is useful, complete, and satisfying.

As a morally responsible being whose choices and actions determine usefulness to the Creator and to humankind, as well as the ultimate ends of one's existence, the individual has a need to recognize and appreciate righteousness, beauty, and truth wherever one finds them. Education should develop moral, spiritual, intellectual, and aesthetic awareness and values.

As a creature of God, each person is an individual of intrinsic worth and dignity. In a society of free persons it is essential that each learn to respect humankind and understand their views while maintaining one's own integrity. The individual must have knowledge of one's culture and of self, in order to solve the complex problems of modern life.

Northwest has a commitment to truth and believes that all areas of true knowledge are ultimately compatible. The accumulative experience of humankind has resulted in a residue of tested wisdom and knowledge communicated. True knowledge may be discovered, too, through the careful and reverent scientific scrutiny of nature and of humanity. Neither the past nor the present has a monopoly on truth.

Our Educational Goals

In view of its distinctive philosophy, Northwest College seeks to provide education that will introduce the student to the organized fields of learning and will acquaint one with the Christian theistic view of the world and of humanity and one's culture. Such an education is intended to develop the whole person in a balanced and useful manner.

Since Northwest believes that responsible actions in the present are dependent in part upon knowledge of humanity's past experience, it seeks to communicate to the student what may be known of people's cultural heritage. It seeks to impart knowledge, stimulate awareness, and develop appreciations.

Northwest seeks to cultivate Christian character in its students. It offers a core of biblical and theological studies as the foundation for faith, practice, and spiritual maturation. It desires that each student shall maintain a right relationship to God and to humanity, and be prepared to act responsibly and maturely in contemporary society.

Northwest is concerned with the intellectual development of its students. It desires that its students will learn to evaluate and use knowledge, so that they can continue to make new discoveries throughout life.

Northwest recognizes that people are social beings and that they are debtors to society; no one stands alone or exists without purpose. It seeks to awaken social understanding and concern and to motivate its students to commit their lives to worthy goals of service to God and humanity. At the same time it endeavors to stimulate in its students a social and moral perceptiveness that will make them worthy and constructive critics of contemporary society.

Northwest realizes the importance of physical and mental fitness, and encourages its students to participate in healthful activities and to develop habits which will contribute to their physical well being. It seeks to give them a better understanding of humanity's biological and psychological constitution.

Our Statement of Faith

- We believe there is one God, eternally triune as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; who is Creator and Sustainer of the universe and of mankind, the Savior and Judge of all.
- We believe the Bible is God's written word, inspired by the Holy Spirit and thus infallible in all its statements.
- We believe God has completely, with finality, and infallibly revealed Himself in His son, Jesus Christ, the living Word, who was both fully God and fully man.
- We believe in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, in His literal return to this earth to establish His millennial kingdom.
- We believe the Holy Spirit indwells all who put their trust in Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, and that through them He demonstrates in the present world the powers of the age to come.
- We believe the experience of the baptism of the Holy Spirit is for all believers today and is accompanied by the spiritual manifestation of speaking in other tongues.
- We believe mankind exists in a state of sin, which involves moral and spiritual separation from God, but that through repentance and faith they can experience restoration to God in which God declares them free from guilt and gives them eternal life.
- We believe the restored person will seek to demonstrate his love for God by a life of obedience and holiness.
- We believe there is one true and universal church embracing all true believers of all ages.
- We believe in the resurrection of the righteous to eternal fellowship with God and of the unrighteous to eternal separation from God.

Our Community Affirmation Statement

NORTHWEST seeks to relate biblical Christianity to every area of life, both on and off campus: to academic disciplines, to co- and extra-curricular activities, in the residence halls, in the local community, and in one's personal life. It assumes that all members of the NORTHWEST community desire meaningful involvement in the process of Christian higher education as they seek to express their faith in the context of an Assemblies of God college. Faculty and staff members commit themselves to be facilitators and learners in this educational endeavor. Students, by enrolling, join with them in accepting the responsibilities of membership in the community.

Since NORTHWEST holds that the Scripture is the infallible rule for faith and conduct, the Bible will always be the authority in all matters pertaining to personal and corporate behavior. The College believes that its statement of faith and its statement of principles regarding behavior find their basis in the Bible. This affirmation attempts to provide a means to understanding the nature of this community of believing learners and to encourage a sincere commitment to it.

We affirm the Lordship of Christ over all of life and thought; our responsibility to love God with all our being and our neighbors as ourselves; our obligation to seek righteousness, to practice justice in all situations, and to express mercy to all; our need to exercise Christian freedom responsibly and lovingly and our dependence on the empowering of the Holy Spirit if we are to faithfully fulfill what God requires.

We affirm the biblical description of attitudes and behavior unfitting for a Christian: "The acts of the sinful nature are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity and debauchery, idolatry and witchcraft, hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissension's, factions and envy, drunkenness, orgies, and the like" (Gal. 5:19-21a, NIV). Through the help of the Holy Spirit we strive to allow none of these to be part of our behavior. We affirm also the biblical description of attitudes and behavior fitting for a Christian: "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control" (Gal. 5:22-23a, NIV). We seek to maintain a vital relationship with the Spirit so that such attitudes and behavior will be evident among us. We seek to follow Christ's example of unselfish love in our actions, attitudes, and relationships. We strive to maintain stewardship of body, mind, time, abilities, and resources. We strive to integrate corporate worship, personal faith, and intellectual growth. Attendance at the College chapel services and faithful attendance and support of a local church are integral parts of the process.

NORTHWEST recognizes that not all believers share the same standards in matters of behavior the Bible does not specifically address. As members of this community, however, we also recognize the importance of respecting the values and goals of the College and will, therefore, seek to conduct ourselves in a manner that will bring only credit to the gospel and to NORTHWEST. Since we are also part of the larger society, and in order to "let our light shine out," we will strive to maintain good community relations in respect to governing authorities, social activities, and business dealings.

This affirmation provides a positive and constructive framework to aid one's personal development and for ongoing relationships with all other members of this community. We join with each other as we seek to live out this affirmation in a spirit of unity and openness, of helpfulness and caring.

Our Reconciliation Statement

Whereas we believe that:

every person, regardless of ability, age, gender, race, ethnicity, or religion shares equally in the image of God;

all are sinners and that we equally partake of the consequences of sin;

Jesus Christ died for all and that we equally have access to redemption;

God is sovereign and that He calls into His service whomever He chooses and that He gifts and equips those He calls in order that they might accomplish that calling;

there is hope for all believers for fellowship with the Lord and with each other presently in His Church and in His coming Kingdom.

Be it resolved that:

we, as members of the Northwest College community, desire the equality of opportunity and respect that results from true Christian community where we cherish unity in diversity and practice mutual support as evidence of God's presence, by His Holy Spirit, in us;

we seek forgiveness for all attitudes, language, and actions that have intentionally or unintentionally contributed to discrimination regarding race, ethnicity, gender, physical ability, and age within the Northwest College community and within the society in which God has placed us;

we pledge not to engage intentionally in any act that would result in unlawful discrimination against any person, or group of persons, based upon race, ethnicity, gender, physical ability or age;

we pledge to engage our College community in activities and communications that will develop greater awareness and sensitivity to interpersonal intolerances that would be considered unacceptable by biblical teachings and would lead to tolerance that is reflective of God's character;

we further pledge to develop ongoing formal and informal opportunities to facilitate the process of reconciliation of God-honoring relationships among all people, based upon the clear call of God through the Scriptures;

we commit ourselves to dialogue, study, and affirming initiatives and actions designed to enable us to bear one another's burdens and rejoice in the privilege of fulfilling the law of Christ.

III. Student Leader Responsibilities

The Leader and Lifestyle

Northwest College is a biblically centered baccalaureate and graduate institution. It seeks to develop a biblical lifestyle for students, faculty and staff. Lifestyle is the way a person lives - the character of the whole person responding in all situations in ways that honor God. Listed are some of the distinctive characteristics of life at Northwest College.

Principled and free. Life is self-disciplined and built on biblical principles that produce God-honoring freedom. It is built on a freedom from guilt and the burdens of past sin, from the power and dominion of sin, from forces, pressures and powers contrary to God's word. It is a life that is in touch with the power of God that works from within to outwardly reveal the love and will of God.

Sensitive to the Holy Spirit. A Spirit-filled and directed life is an abundant kind of life that is full of Christ, biblical grace and produces the fruit of the Spirit.

Genuine joy. Joy emanates from a real faith and a living relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. It is not a somber, aesthetic life weighted with imposed discipline, ritual and empty rhetoric. It is a life that is joyful independent circumstances.

Fulfillment. Life is stabilized with sense of biblical purpose and direction. They know who they are, why they are here and where they are going. As the Call is carried with heart, head and hand, the result is satisfaction and fulfillment.

Other-person oriented. Living finds genuine pleasure in relating to others - it has faith in them, love for them and is at peace with them. It seeks to serve them, thereby fulfilling the Great Command, "love others as yourself".

Humane and human. Life is deeply appreciative of human dignity and worth, of human intelligence, of human creativity in the arts, communication skills and of the development of whole person and culture. This life understands relationship with God as the highest of human experiences and knows the ultimate dignity and meaning produced by this relationship.

Appreciation. This lifestyle loves nature and appreciates it, treating it with respect, thankfulness, awe and preservation. It respects its powers and laws. It seeks to know its wonders and to enjoy its gifts.

Moderation. Avoiding extremism in attitudes, actions and appearances is a necessary component of this lifestyle.

Responsible Christian citizenship. Living to contribute to the quality of community life by enjoying but not insisting upon personal rights and freedoms and not infringing upon those of others is important. This includes giving directly of abilities and resources and influencing others to act responsibly as members of the community.

Christ-centered living. This lifestyle is passionate about the establishment and maintenance of a Christ-centered environment of worship, recognizing that everything a person is and does should be true worship of God. Priorities are focused on eternal biblical values and the pursuit of faith, hope and love.

The Leader and The College

Northwest College is dedicated to the task of preparing students for effective ministry in the church and in the world. The objectives of the College are to develop the spiritual, intellectual, emotional and physical areas of the student's life. To assist in this quest, everyone is expected to positively contribute to the health and welfare of the College community, especially leaders.

Student leaders are a vital part of the College community. They are responsible not only for their personal conduct but also for the conduct of those they lead. It is important that student leaders fully comprehend their responsibilities and diligently apply themselves under God. It is important that student leaders be in harmony with and committed to the Vision, the Mission and all supporting statements of the College and influence all members of the student body to be similarly committed to the values and unique perspectives of the College. These are the general objectives that student leaders should seek to develop in their programs and activities.

Spiritual. Since the spiritual character of the College constitutes a primary objective toward which faculty and administration are working, it is important that this objective be kept in clear focus of all student activities. All student activities should be consonant with the high spiritual ideals of the College. The social, cultural and physical activities of College life should never be promoted at the expense of spiritual life nor should they be neglected under the pretense that they are unrelated to true spiritual life. True spirituality should pervade every area of life.

Intellectual. Since one of the primary reasons for students attending Northwest College is to grow intellectually and complete an academic program of study, student leaders must intentionally design student activities to complement academic pursuits. Although there will be occasional scheduling conflicts, flexibility, understanding and deference will help student leaders succeed.

Social. One of the strongest ties in student life is social life; opportunities for fellowship on a social level should be provided in the program of student activities. Activities such as intercollegiate sports, the Talent Show, the All-School Banquet, All-College Picnics, organized intramural sports and other activities constitute areas in which fellowship and teamwork may be realized.

Cultural. "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." Our Lord's development as an adult establishes a pattern for all Christians. Cultural development may be emphasized through special lectures, evening gatherings, exchange programs, music recitals, etc.

The Leader and Success

Leaders are not born; they are developed. Leadership success is not given; it is earned. An authentic Christian leader is:

- One whose heart is sparked by and burns with a conviction that the work of Jesus Christ is of utmost importance and has corresponding convictions, discipline, ideals and worldview.
- One who is a student of God's Word and lives its principles and standards being an example to others.
- One who is reliable and willingly accepts and fulfills responsibility.
- One who is a coach and team player, not abusive with authority or position.
- One who has vision and sees possibilities in people and situations.
- One who is a quality follower, first of Jesus Christ and shows gracious submission to all authority - willing to take direction and cooperate.
- One who is a hard worker: "Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might. (Ecclesiastes 9:10)"
- One who is an example in thoughts, words and behaviors (1 Corinthians 11:1).
- One who knows and applies God's leadership principles in every area of life. There are many references to leadership from Genesis through Revelation. Some New Testament examples and descriptions of true servant leadership are found in: Matthew 5-7, 10:16, 20:26-28; Romans 12:9-21; 2 Corinthians 4:2, 6:4; Galatians 5:22-26; Philippians 2:5-11, 3:7-14; 1 Thessalonians 2:4, 5:12-24; 2 Thessalonians 3:6-13; 1 Timothy 3:1-13, 4:11-13; 2 Timothy 2, 3:17, 4:5; Titus 1:7-9, 2:6-10; Hebrews 11; James 1-5; 1 Peter 1-2

Leadership Personality

Your personality is the expression of your character that determines your place in other's hearts and minds. It is that which shows your reaction to people, to life, to responsibilities, to problems and to opportunities.

By your personality you are liked or disliked, followed or ignored, a success or a failure. Sometimes one or two poor traits dominate your personality insomuch that your true character cannot be seen. You may develop a good personality by recognizing undesirable characteristics (fear, harshness, bossiness, criticalness, cynicism, negativeness, etc.) and through praying and working you can change them with God's help. Here are tips for good leadership personality. Pray for wisdom to recognize any lack in personality factors that are important to your leadership.

- Be Friendly. Don't wait for others to greet you, take the friendly lead.
- Be Enthusiastic. Enthusiasm is contagious. It quickens the pulse, stirs the imagination and arouses the will as it passes from one person to another on contact.
- Be Cheerful. Keep a happy positive outlook. Avoid whining, complaining, doubting, arguing and negativeness.
- Be Neat. Your appearance – grooming, clothing and countenance – is very important .
- Be Tactful and Kind.
- Be Patient. Expect perfection from no one. Remember God is at work.
- Be Helpful. Be alert to needs of others.
- Keep Your Sense of Humor.
- Be Trustworthy and Truthful. Never betray a confidence. Keep your promise.
- Be Humble.
- Be a Good Listener.
- Be Big in Spirit. Too big to hurt and to be hurt by the words and/or actions of other people.
- Guard Your Mental and Physical Health. Refuse to give in to fears, anxieties, emotional upsets, nervousness and suspicions. Answer these tyrants with compassion, thanksgiving, childlike trust and relaxation. "Cast all your cares on the Lord and He will sustain you (Psalms 55:22)." Take good care of yourself by eating right, get enough sleep, relax and exercise.
- Finish Well. Whatever you are doing or experiencing will end; make sure you complete the assignment in such a manner as to know you did your best.

The Leader and Relationships

Student Leaders – The Student Body: Student leaders are the chosen leaders of the Associated Student Body. As such, they should regard themselves not only as leaders, but also as the servants of the students. Such an attitude characterizes true leadership. Leadership carries with it responsibilities and privileges including being examples in every area of life regarding thoughts, words and behaviors. Student loyalty to the College should result from the total demeanor and activities of the student leadership.

Student Leaders – The Faculty and Administration: Student leaders are liaisons between the Associated Student Body and the faculty and administration of the College. It should be the attitude and aim of the leaders to promote goodwill between students and faculty and administration. If there are points of difference and challenges which exist in this regard, the leaders should frankly discuss these with the appropriate faculty members and/or administrators so that there may be a relationship of goodwill and cooperation. Student leaders must recognize and respect prerogatives that properly belong to the students and those that properly belong to the faculty and the administration of the College. The faculty and the administration must recognize and respect prerogatives that are invested in the Associated Student Body.

Student Leaders – The Public: Because Northwest College is a community within larger communities and cultures; it is vital to understand that the students, the faculty and the administration are representatives of the College everywhere. This reality must always positively influence everyone's thoughts, words and behaviors plus all planning, promoting and implementation of plans. Others are reading out lives (2 Corinthians 3:2).

The Leader and Meetings

Executive Meetings: The President of each organization is responsible to set up regular meetings with her/his executive officers and the group's advisor for the purpose of quality planning and communicating. Establishing a regular meeting schedule benefits everyone concerned. It is beneficial for the organization's President and Advisor to meet and determine the agenda for the executive and full council meetings.

Committees: The constitutions and by-laws of various organizations will provide for the appointment of committees to facilitate the work of the organization. Persons appointed to committees should be chosen on the basis of their qualifications to effectively serve. Before persons are appointed to committees, the Vice President for Student Development, who will confer with the Vice President for Academic Affairs, must grant approval of candidates for offices and committees. As a matter of general procedure, there should be faculty representative serving on each committee. This may not always be direct representation, but indirect representation through consultation for the purpose of quality communication. The Associated Student Body Officers and the Vice President for Student Development must approve all activities and events.

Councils: Meetings of the Councils should be conducted in a business-like manner in the spirit of accepted rules of parliamentary procedure. Officers should be acquainted with the basic rules of parliamentary procedure and should implement their use in the meetings as called for in the By-laws. It is expected that officers and council members will be familiar with parliamentary procedure. This will contribute efficiency, protection of rights and harmony to the meetings.

The first official council meetings of the college year should be called within the first three weeks of the fall term and thereafter on a regular announced basis. The minutes of the previous meeting should be read at each meeting and approved. The chair and secretary should prepare a definite agenda for each meeting according to the accepted form of parliamentary procedure. All proposals should be made in the form of motions and voted upon after due discussion. The chair should determine the presence of a quorum before conducting council business.

While the chair will need to assume more directive leadership in presenting business on the agendas, she/he should avoid debate on issues as much as possible. She/he should present information for clarification, but endeavor to get the council to express itself as to the merits or demerits of each proposal considered. If she/he feels that an issue being discussed is urgent and wishes to debate it, she/he should properly vacate the chair temporarily to the vice-chairperson until action on the question is completed.

Absenteeism should be recorded as it represents a default in carrying out delegated responsibility. A systematic manner of keeping attendance and following up absentees should be instituted. Where absenteeism persists on the part of a member, appropriate action as per the By-laws should be followed.

Meetings of the councils should be properly announced and carried out on schedule. Irregularity in keeping meeting appointments and schedules will create irregularity on the part of the council members to attend and effectively participate. The faculty advisors to the councils should be included in the circulation of all announcements pertaining to council meetings to assist in faithful attendance.

Associated Student Body Chapel Events: The Dean of The Chapel supervises all Chapel events. Student leaders must coordinate ASB oriented chapel events with the Dean of The Chapel and, as good leaders, follow the Dean's direction and council.

The Leader and Financial Matters

Student Fees and Offerings: The ASB Constitution and By-Laws provides for finances to be raised through the receiving offerings. The levying of fees as a means of revenue is conducted by the Administration of the College. The Administration collects, on behalf of the ASB, an annual student fee which is intended to help cover the costs of extra-curricular activities such as social events, publications and sporting events.

Students' offerings should be given through the ASB to respective College ministries. The Accounting Department of the College will give an account of all monies collected. Students, who are members of area churches or churches in their hometown, should contribute their tithes and offerings in keeping with membership obligations.

The use of envelopes is encouraged to enable systematic giving and to provide a record for income tax purposes. If the ASB is to receive such funds as may be claimed for income tax deduction, the ASB Treasurer, with the help of the College accounting office, must provide some systematic means of keeping a record of such contributions where desired by the contributor.

The ASB Council will be encouraged to adopt special projects each year towards which funds will be raised through the collection of offerings. When a project is identified for funding, collected funds must be so designated and not spent for any other purpose. Designated offerings should be carefully handled and accurately kept separate for the specific purpose for which raised.

When inter-department loans are made they should be handled in a business-like manner, e.g. if funds are loaned from the general ASB fund to the Karisma fund, such a loan arrangement should be secured by a note or other specific means of payment so that default in payment is least likely. The appropriate Associated Student Body officer or officers should always authorize the disbursement of Associated Student Body funds or use of student property.

Financial Reports: Monthly financial reports should be prepared to accurately record the use of resources. A copy should be given to the faculty advisor and one copy to the Vice President for Student Development. A semester-end financial report should be given to the Associated Student Body officers and a copy should be posted for all students. Financial records should be open for inspection by students, faculty and administration at all times.

Budgets: A budget schedule of costs should be determined each year by the respective student organizations. It is suggested that a percentage of each council's budget be designated for socials, spiritual life development, traditional activities or causes and a reserve fund for future events and programs. Disbursements not approved by the respective councils and the Vice President for Student Development will not be paid.

All monies budgeted by the ASB general fund to organizations, clubs, etc., not used in the current budget year, will revert to the ASB general fund at the close of the college fiscal year unless a holdover of the funds of a specific group is submitted in writing to the Vice President for Student Development by the group's leadership and advisor before May 31st and is approved by the Vice President for Student Development and the Financial Planning and Priorities Committee.

Exceptions to this policy would be:

- The Vice President for Student Development may exercise initiative in retaining monies in a given group or club fund from year to year subject to her/his recommendation to the Financial Planning and Priorities Committee and its approval.
- A class through its senior year retains class funds automatically from year to year. Any monies not spent after a given class has graduated will revert to the ASB general fund.

Class Projects and Gifts

All groups that identify and donate a project or a gift to the College will be appropriately recognized by a plaque, an identification plate on the project, etc. For information about projects, contact the Vice President for Student Development or the President's Office. In choosing a project or gift:

- Consider the overall importance of the project to the Vision and Mission of the College;
- Consider the practicality and lasting value of the project;
- Submit a project proposal to the Vice president for Student Development;
- Sophomore and Senior classes may give class projects/gifts to the College. Monies may be designated in the Freshman and Junior years for this purpose;
- Consider class identity; and
- Classes may go together when larger projects/gifts are desired.

Use of College Property

There are certain properties purchased by the ASB that come under the Administration of the College and there are items that come under the direct administration of the ASB.

Student office equipment is maintained in the ASB room. Student leaders and students are to use this equipment. If or when a student organization may be unable to do certain aspects of its work because of the lack of proper equipment, a College office may assist the student organization in every way possible in order to accomplish the task. Any time and material costs incurred in this process are to be appropriately charged to the proper organization's line item account.

Audiovisual equipment may be checked out of the Library by an organization's advisor for the use of the organization; not for private use. Careful use and proper return of the equipment is required.

Sound equipment may be checked out of the Campus Ministries office by student leaders and/or an organization's advisor. Careful use and proper return of the equipment is required.

The cost of repairing damages during equipment use will be properly charged to the organization's account.

Publicity and Publications

The Dean of The Chapel must approve all Chapel announcements and appropriate announcement procedures must be followed.

All poster and bulletin board publicity must be approved by the Student Development Office or, when appropriate, the Campus Ministries Office. Proper guidelines are to be followed in attaching poster-type material to appropriate surfaces. All doors, especially glass doors, are off limits for all poster-type material.
