SPIRITUAL REFRESHING

During the week of October 10-14, students of Northwest Bible College enjoyed a time of real spiritual refreshing. Each day, morning and evening, services were held. Evangelist Mark Buntain ministered the Word of God under the anointing of the precious Holy Spirit.

Before Rev. Buntain arrived in Seattle, many students expressed their anticipation of receiving wonderful things from God during the meetings. From the very first service these students were certainly not disappointed, as the spiritual tide mounted higher and God's blessings became richer with every service.

Several students received the baptism in the Holy Spirit, many were healed, and consecrations were made.

Although the meetings have been closed for several weeks, the hunger of God continues.

N.B.C. GRADS FEATURED ON CBS TV PROGRAM

The story of Leon, '39, and Gertrude Ayers (nee Gertrude Kroeze, '39), new pastors at Klamath Falls, Oregon, was featured on the CBS television network program, New York, entitled "Love Story," November 2, 1955.

Among the first scenes introducing the story of their married life was that of a "Northwest Bible College" pennant with the narration of how Leon and Gertrude had met in Northwest Bible College and their ministry following their school days. Their ministry has been that of holding pastorates in Montana and Washington and also their move to Sitka, Alaska, where they did missionary work among the Eskimos and Indians.

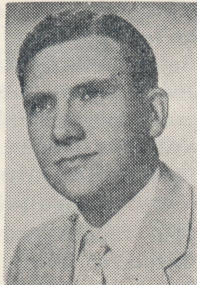

The story mostly centered around their experiences in Alaska and particularly the loss of their fifth child, "Sandy," and how they faced the darkness of that experience through the strength of their devotion and love for God and their love for each other.

Leona May Thomas was born in Brainard, Minnesota, but has lived in Yelm, Washington, the past ten years. From her childhood, she has had a deep desire to know and serve God. Outstanding events that have helped her in this purpose have been Silver Lake Bible Camps, the Baptism in the Holy Spirit in 1948, teaching Sunday school classes, and being C.A. leader.

Leona felt the call of God to go to Bible college where she has trained as a theology student in preparation for a ministry of child evangelism, vacation Bible schools, children's revivals, and choir directing.

During her freshman year, she was class night speaker, was class secretary when a junior, and is now secretary for the Associated Student Body. She plays the steel guitar, sings solos, participates in duets and trios, preaches, and frequently assists on Gospel team assignments.

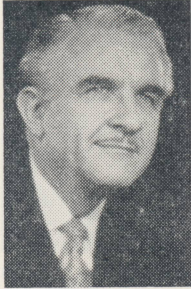

Gospel team leader, has been coordinator for the all-school banquet, and is currently serving as vice-president of the senior class. He traveled with the Gospelaires Quartet one summer.

When asked concerning his post-graduation plans, Denny said, "I plan to enter the full-time ministry wherever God leads me."

A Message From Our President . . .

BEAUTIFUL FEET!

"How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! Romans 10:15. Feet are not generally considered beautiful. They are in fact, often considered the most ugly part of the body, and people often hide their feet in shame because of their size, shape, or general appearance. Strange as it may seem, feet are the only specific part of the human body that is gray hair on an old man. Is it not strange that God sees feet—feet that touch and tread the pathway of life. As the ceaseless stream continues the unending march down the pathway of life, from the cradle to the grave, God observes the feet of these who are marching. Theirs are the feet of every class, every race, and every creed. God observes the feet that wear the jewelled slippers of royalty, and He also observes the calloused, bare feet of the peasant. He sees the feet of the black, the brown, the yellow and the white; the large feet and the small feet pass before God's vision; the slow feet of the halt and the quick-stepping feet of the athlete. These, the moving feet of humanity, march across the stage of time, a vast intermingled stream going only in one direction, to the grave.

Rev. C. E. Butterfield

Occasionally, in this moving stream of human feet God's eye catches a pair of feet that are beautiful. So beautiful are these feet, that God has inspired the prophet to write of them and to call them beautiful. These feet are the feet of those who bring glad tidings of good things. These feet have a radiance about them for they are the feet of them that preach the Gospel of Peace.

Before the eyes of God the feet of kings, presidents, warriors, and great men of the earth pass, but they have no special significance to God for they are the feet of mere men. But the feet that cause the heart of God to rejoice are those beautiful feet which are the feet of the messengers who bear glad tidings throughout the earth. Their message turns many, from the broad path that leads to destruction, down the narrow path that leads to everlasting life.

Those who have these beautiful feet perhaps do not even know that their feet are beautiful in the sight of God; they are not conscious of their feet, but they are conscious of God, and a message, and the call of God to preach the Gospel to every creature. Their feet have trodden the dusty roads of India; they have climbed the sheer mountain passes of Tibet; the hot desert sands have been no barrier to these feet, nor have the hard pavement of the bustling cities; the bush country of the tropics know these feet, as well as the frozen tundra of the far northern wastes. Jesus loved those whose feet would carry the glad tidings of good things, and with tender hands He washed the feet of His own disciples.

My friend, if you are the bearer of glad tidings and the preacher of the Gospel of Peace, your feet are beautiful in the sight of God; your feet are the symbol of you, your life, and of your call. And because they are the symbol of you, God has termed you, your life and your call, beautiful. May God help that servant who bears His good tidings to the earth, whether it be a Sunday school teacher, a faithful pastor, a consecrated missionary, or a flaming evangelist, to see and to know that his life, his call, and his feet, are beautiful, for "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace and bring glad tidings of good things."

C. E. Butterfield,
President.
