PRESIDENT
CHARLES E. BUTTERFIELD

OUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS . . .

For God is light and in Him is no darkness at all. Light is a heavenly symbol to a world in darkness. When the world was in physical darkness, God said, "Let there be Light," and it was so.

It has ever been thus, the voice of God dispelling the darkness of physical, moral, and spiritual night. When Jesus Christ, the Son of God, came, He was the light of the world, a light of the Gentiles, a light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

His Word was a light to the pathway of men, and when He spoke, the darkness of ignorance, sin, and death fled away. The blazing white light of truth which came from His lips, lighted up a world which had staggered in darkness for centuries. The people saw a great light.

When Jesus died on the cross, the earth shook, and darkness fell over the land. This was God's signal that "the Light of the world" had gone out of the world. But the countless lives that Jesus had touched, and on which He had breathed the Holy Spirit, sprang up as flaming torches to project their light from nation to nation, from generation to generation.

Those who receive His light are called "the children of Light," and are commanded to walk in His light. These have been saved from the doom of outer darkness. They shall dwell in that city where there is no need of the sun, for the Lamb is the light thereof.

Paul Butterfield
President C. E. Butterfield

REV. EUGENE V. BRONSON

OUR

They Instruct

We read in Genesis that God made two great lights, the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night. The sun shines by its own strength, but the moon has only reflected light. Jesus came as the Light of the world. He said to His followers, "Ye are the light of the world," that is, reflected light. "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

We are living in a world that is darkened by sin. Concerning the unsaved the Scripture says: Their foolish heart is darkened; their eyes are darkened; their understanding is darkened. To the believers the Scripture says: Ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord; He hath called us out of darkness into His marvelous light. What we have received from the Lord we are to pass on to others in need.

To you who are graduating this year my message is: "To whom much has been given from him shall much be required." You owe it to others to impart what God has given to you. Your privilege means responsibility. You have what this world needs. Freely ye have received, freely give. Go forth in Jesus' name and lead others into this same glorious experience of salvation with all of its blessings.

MRS. MOLLIE J. PERKS

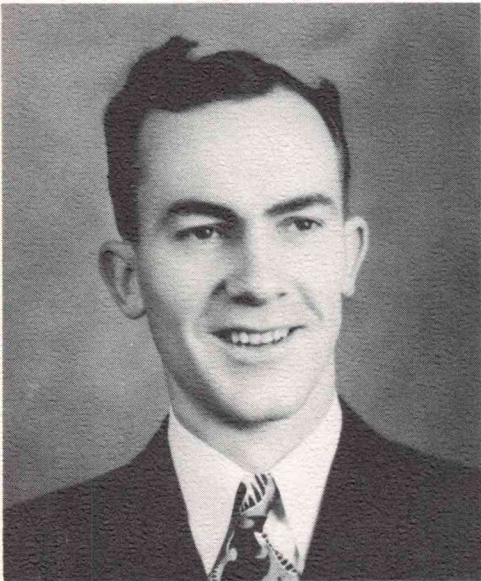

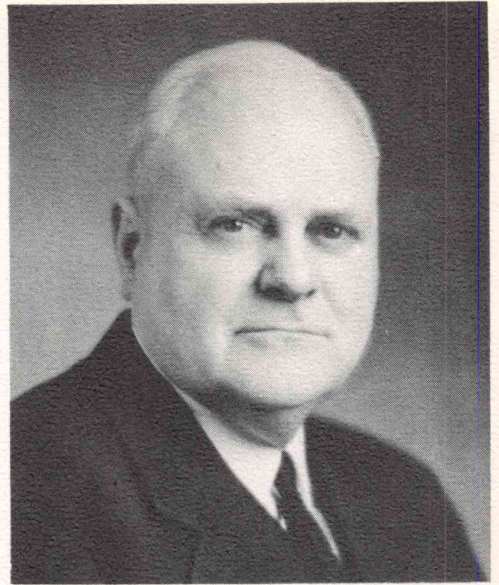

Darkness covered the earth and gross darkness the people; the lamp of faith burned low. But in the heart of the aged Simeon, faith still glowed. Had not God promised that a great light should come? Furthermore, had not the Holy Spirit revealed to Simeon that before his death he should see that great Light?

Faith had its reward. One day a babe was carried into the Temple. By the revelation of the Spirit, Simeon recognized the child and took him up in his arms saying, "Mine eyes have seen thy salvation . . . a Light to lighten the Gentiles." The Light had come!

The years pass, and in that same Temple stands the Man Christ Jesus. Let us give ear, for He is speaking: "I am the Light of the world, he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the Light of life." Again we hear Christ saying, "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid."

Walk as children of light; that ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world.

SENIOR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

During the past four years at Northwest Bible College the Word of God has become life to us through the light of His Spirit. For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. II Cor. 4:6. We have gained spiritual knowledge and understanding as we have allowed our minds to dwell on the truths of God. Our lives have been prepared for the King's service. His proclamation to us is, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." Our duty is to open men's eyes that they may turn from darkness to light and perceive God's gift of salvation.

We, the Gleaners, are aware of the shortness of time. The midnight hour is at hand. We must pierce the darkness of this world with the light of the Gospel and gather the remaining sheaves. God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

His field of labor has also comprised Sunday school and children's work. A good foundation has been laid on which to build his future ministry.

MAY DALAN, B.A.

Yelm, Washington

MISSIONS

Secretary of the senior class, May's person, endowments, energy, and spirit were all superb. Accustomed to assume responsibility and to be referred to in matters of importance, she has been a great asset to her class. As a chapel pianist, we have appreciated her talent and her willingness to use it.

DANIEL E. CROWDER, B.A.

Payette, Idaho

THEOLOGY

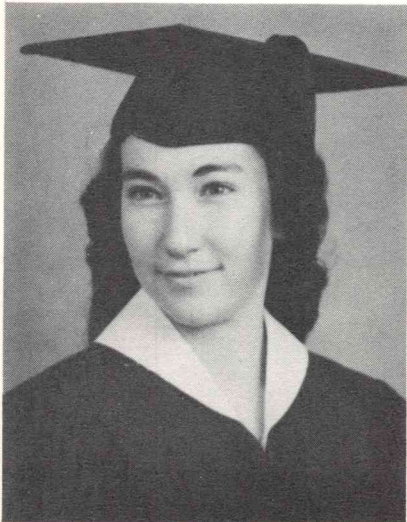

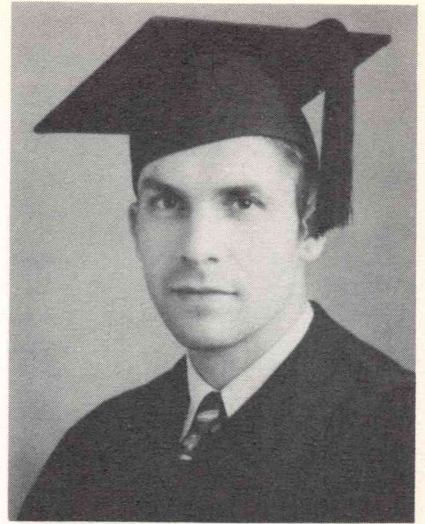

Daniel's slow and easy way is accompanied with a keen, studious mind. Though adopted to a quiescent mode, his work as a reporter for the "Courier" revealed the attributes of a clear thinker and profound writer. Preeminent in his school life was his faithfulness on gospel team assignments.

TUNIS R. FOUNTAIN, B.A.

Winlock, Washington

THEOLOGY

We often get the measure of a man by observing him under tests and trials. Tunis' testimony of God's faithfulness and healing power will always remain vivid in the minds of his fellow classmates. A man of many trades, from carpenter to preacher, Tunis displayed ability to pound the pulpit as well as a nail.

HAZEL I. DOUGHERTY, B.A.

Stillness, dignity, and ease meet in her; and in manners Hazel is refined, elegant, and engaging. Without doubt, she is talented. Her services as a saxophone player in the band were ever faithful. Possessed with a great passion for souls, Hazel would like to be a missionary wherever the Lord may lead.

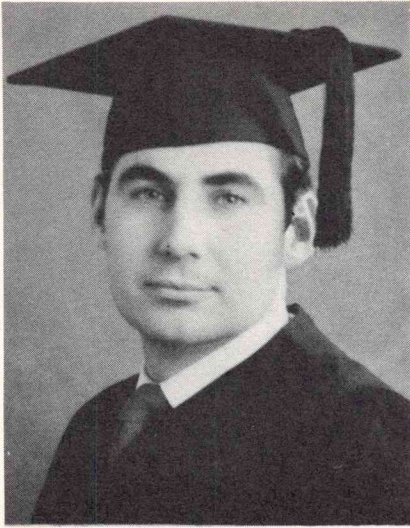

JOHN S. GERLICHER, B.A.

Charles City, Iowa

THEOLOGY

John has a brilliant career of study. Combined with his thinking power, there is a great desire for the truth. His decisions on any subject are usually the result of much reasoning. Whenever his hand was raised in class, you could be sure he had a question demanding the reason why.

MORRIS E. HAYES, B.A.

Jackson, Ohio

THEOLOGY

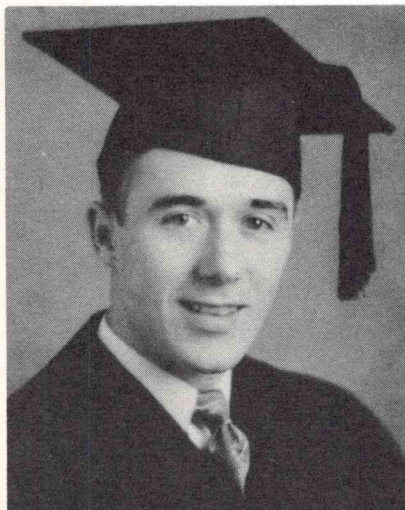

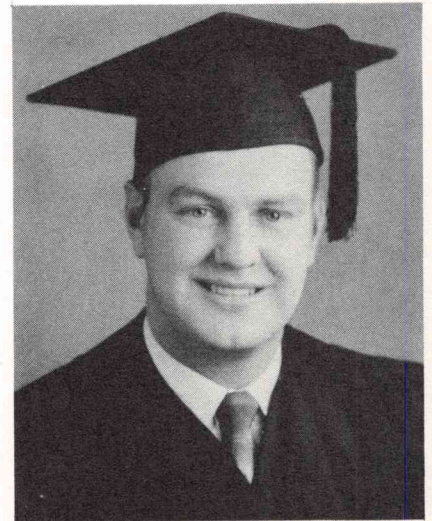

Those who have heard him can never forget Morris' voice. Full, deep, and penetrating, it takes you captive from the moment it strikes your ear. As vice-president of the Missionary Council, Morris' extensive travels in the Orient have aided him in presenting the missionary challenge.

OSCAR LINDSETH, B.A.

Cosmopolis, Washington

MISSIONS

For him there were few idle moments. President of the senior class, leader of a gospel team, member of both band and choir, Oscar continued to prove throughout the school year his perpetuity for God's work. He never does things by halves, but is thorough in the details of his Christian life and work.

CLAYTON D. JOHNSON, B.A.

Tacoma, Washington

THEOLOGY

A person of strong sense and penetrative judgment, Clayton's everyday life bears the earmark of consecration. The work of God demands his constant attention and unhindered activity. JUNIOR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hardships, sacrifices, and heartaches that have seemed so mountainous along the way of our Bible college years now appear only as stepping-stones in the pathway of service for our wonderful Lord. We cannot afford to look back over the past for even a moment. We must keep looking ahead, and by His grace, apply what we have learned toward the gathering of souls for His kingdom.

Unable to stand alone against the enemy, we trust in the faithful leadership of our Captain. It is through the blood of Christ that we are victorious. He commands that we proclaim His message, and He never gives us a command that He does not enable us to fulfill. With righteousness as our breastplate and faith as our shield, with the Word of God as our Sword and the Holy Spirit as our Guide, we go forth as Overcomers to conquer the forces of evil in these days when His coming draweth nigh!

SOPHOMORE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A soldier in the service of his country pledges his life for the cause of liberty. He is ever ready to defend his nation and to pursue freedom for all. Sword-Bearers in the service of the King, we pledge our lives for the cause of Christ. We are ever ready to defend the Cross and to fight to liberate lost humanity from the toils of sin.

The Son of Man came into this world not to be ministered unto, but to minister. We came to Northwest Bible College not to receive knowledge for self-edification, but to study to show ourselves approved unto God, workmen that need not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. The Word of God is sharper than any two-edged sword. Our responsibility is to go forth with this weapon to prepare the way for the gospel light. We must be ready. The command is given: Go ye!

Ready to go, ready to stay,

Ready my place to fill;

SPRING

FRESHMEN PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Gethsemane and Calvary lie before us. We see Christ in bitter agony, overthrowing the power of Satan. The raging crowd shouts, "Crucify Him!" Then the raging ceases and we hear Christ commend His spirit into the hands of the Father. They who love Him bury our Lord. Three days later, this Conqueror over death, hell, and the grave, arises with a glorified body. Satan has been defeated. The Cross has opened for us the gateway to life. Joyfully we enter into communion and right relationship with God.

Jesus said, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." We must follow Him through the sufferings of Gethsemane; follow Him to the Cross for salvation; follow Him through the waters of baptism; follow Him that we might receive the Holy Spirit; and, follow Him that we might give our lives so that others may find eternal life.

Our message to you is, "Come! Come with us as we follow Jesus." He said, "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." John 8:12.

WE GATHER FOR PRAYER

MORNING CHAPEL

At the beginning of each day, the students assemble in the Chapel to testify, sing and pray, and to worship God. God's Word is presented by students, members of the faculty, missionaries, and other selected speakers. Each service is a time of consecration where new visions are received and new determinations are established. Again and again the Holy Spirit sweeps down upon the entire assembly, filling students with His Divine Glory, until services are converted into periods of anointed song and praise. Frequently His presence is so manifest that the whole day is given to prayer and worship.

The testimonies of students confirm the fact of many answered prayers concerning needs of every nature. Written prayer requests are often received by mail, and are presented to God in prayer by the entire student body. These prayers have been answered in marvelous ways, for which we thank God. Such experiences have proved that our Chapel period is one of the most important and thrilling parts of an academic day, and are a continual inspiration and blessing to the school.

STUDENT SERVICE

The thrill of songs, the sparkle of testimonies, and the hush of prayer reveal the presence of God in our Friday evening student services. Each week of instruction and learning is consummated by this service which is conducted entirely by students. Much spiritual progress is made as testimonies of God's grace are given with fervor and messages from the Word of God are preached with conviction. These services frequently prove to be the meridian of school life, as students diligently seek for the baptism in the Holy Spirit and a closer relationship with God. Imprints of God's ways and leadings are left in humbled hearts, reminding us that the Holy and Supreme Creator still condescends to meet with those who are willing to take up their cross and follow Him.

Throughout the Day . . .

When dawn breaks through the shades of night
And morning light is shown,
Our eyes are lifted heavenward
As we approach God's throne.

We ask that He will go before
And guide throughout the day;
In everything His will be done,
At school, at work, at play.

Then when the shades of evening spread
Across the moonlit sky,
Again we have our quiet time
With Christ, our Lord Most High.

Communion sweet we have with Him—
Gone all our cares and sorrow,
And as we rest, 'tis joy to know

COUNCIL MEETING

RONALD DEBOCK . . . Vice-President

AGNES AGNEW ...Secretary-Treasurer

Every Tuesday morning the Student Council meets to conduct the business of the Associated Students of Northwest Bible College. Its membership consists of the student body officers, class officers, and faculty adviser. Each session is opened with prayer, for God's guidance is coveted in the conducting of current business.

Various projects, made possible by student offerings on Monday mornings, were undertaken for the betterment of N.B.C. These included a contribution to the painting of the chapel auditorium, the purchase of an addressograph, and the purchase of athletic and music equipment. Many dollars were also spent to finance the transportation of the gospel teams and to provide for the operation of the school bus.

Among its other duties, the Student Council appointed the staff members for the Karisma and the Courier, subject to faculty approval. And it may also be stated that many hours were spent this year in formulating a Constitution and By-Laws for the Student Council.

Looking back over a prosperous year, we can say that God has blessed our Student Council in its administration of student government.

BASKETBALL

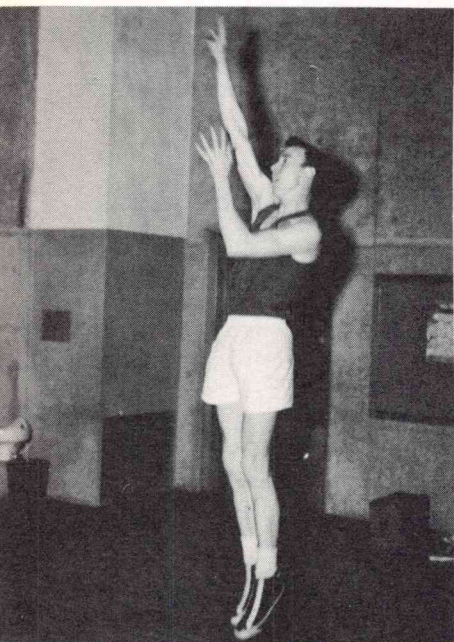

A dribble, a pass, a shot—two more points scored for N.B.C. The varsity basketball squad showed excellent team work in their hoop schedule this year.

Coach Floyd Schrader directed the team through exciting competition as they battled with other school and church basketball teams.

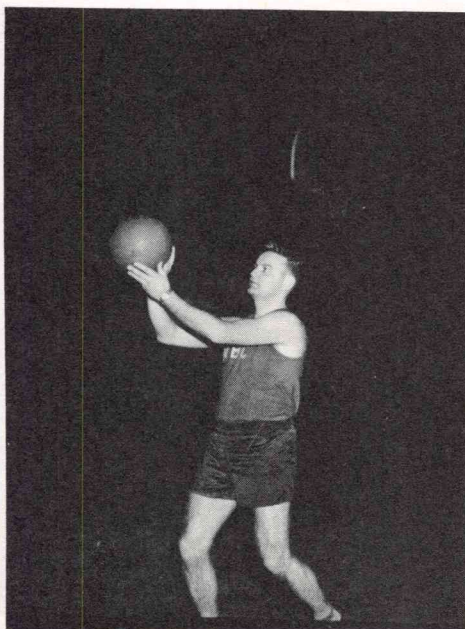

Monday evenings afforded time for hard practice for skill and accuracy in plays. The fellows exhibited a fine spirit of cooperation in following the leadership of their coach. They formed some outstanding plays and were able to increase their own ability through intramural games.

Monday nights witnessed scenes of stiff competition in basketball and volleyball. These games were entered into with vigor, showing a fine spirit of co-operation on the part of the players. The tennis courts of Green Lake afford endless opportunity for recreation during any week of spring or fall.

THEOLOGY

The department of Bible and Theology forms the core of the curriculum of the Northwest Bible College. In order to qualify for graduation, each student is required to earn at least one-third of his academic credits in this department. One of the principal aims of the College is: "To offer a thorough course of instruction in God's Word to all students, so that, by the time of his graduation each one will have studied every book in the Bible." In addition to this, each student pursues courses of study in the great doctrines of the Bible, in order that he may be "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

What a blessed privilege it is for young people to be able to study the greatest Textbook in the world—the Holy Bible—in a school that is 100 per cent Christian and under a faculty that is 100 per cent Spirit-filled!

There is nothing more essential in the development of Christian missionaries, evangelists, or pastors than practical experience on the field.

Seattle with its surrounding territory affords marvelous opportunities for every type of gospel ministry.

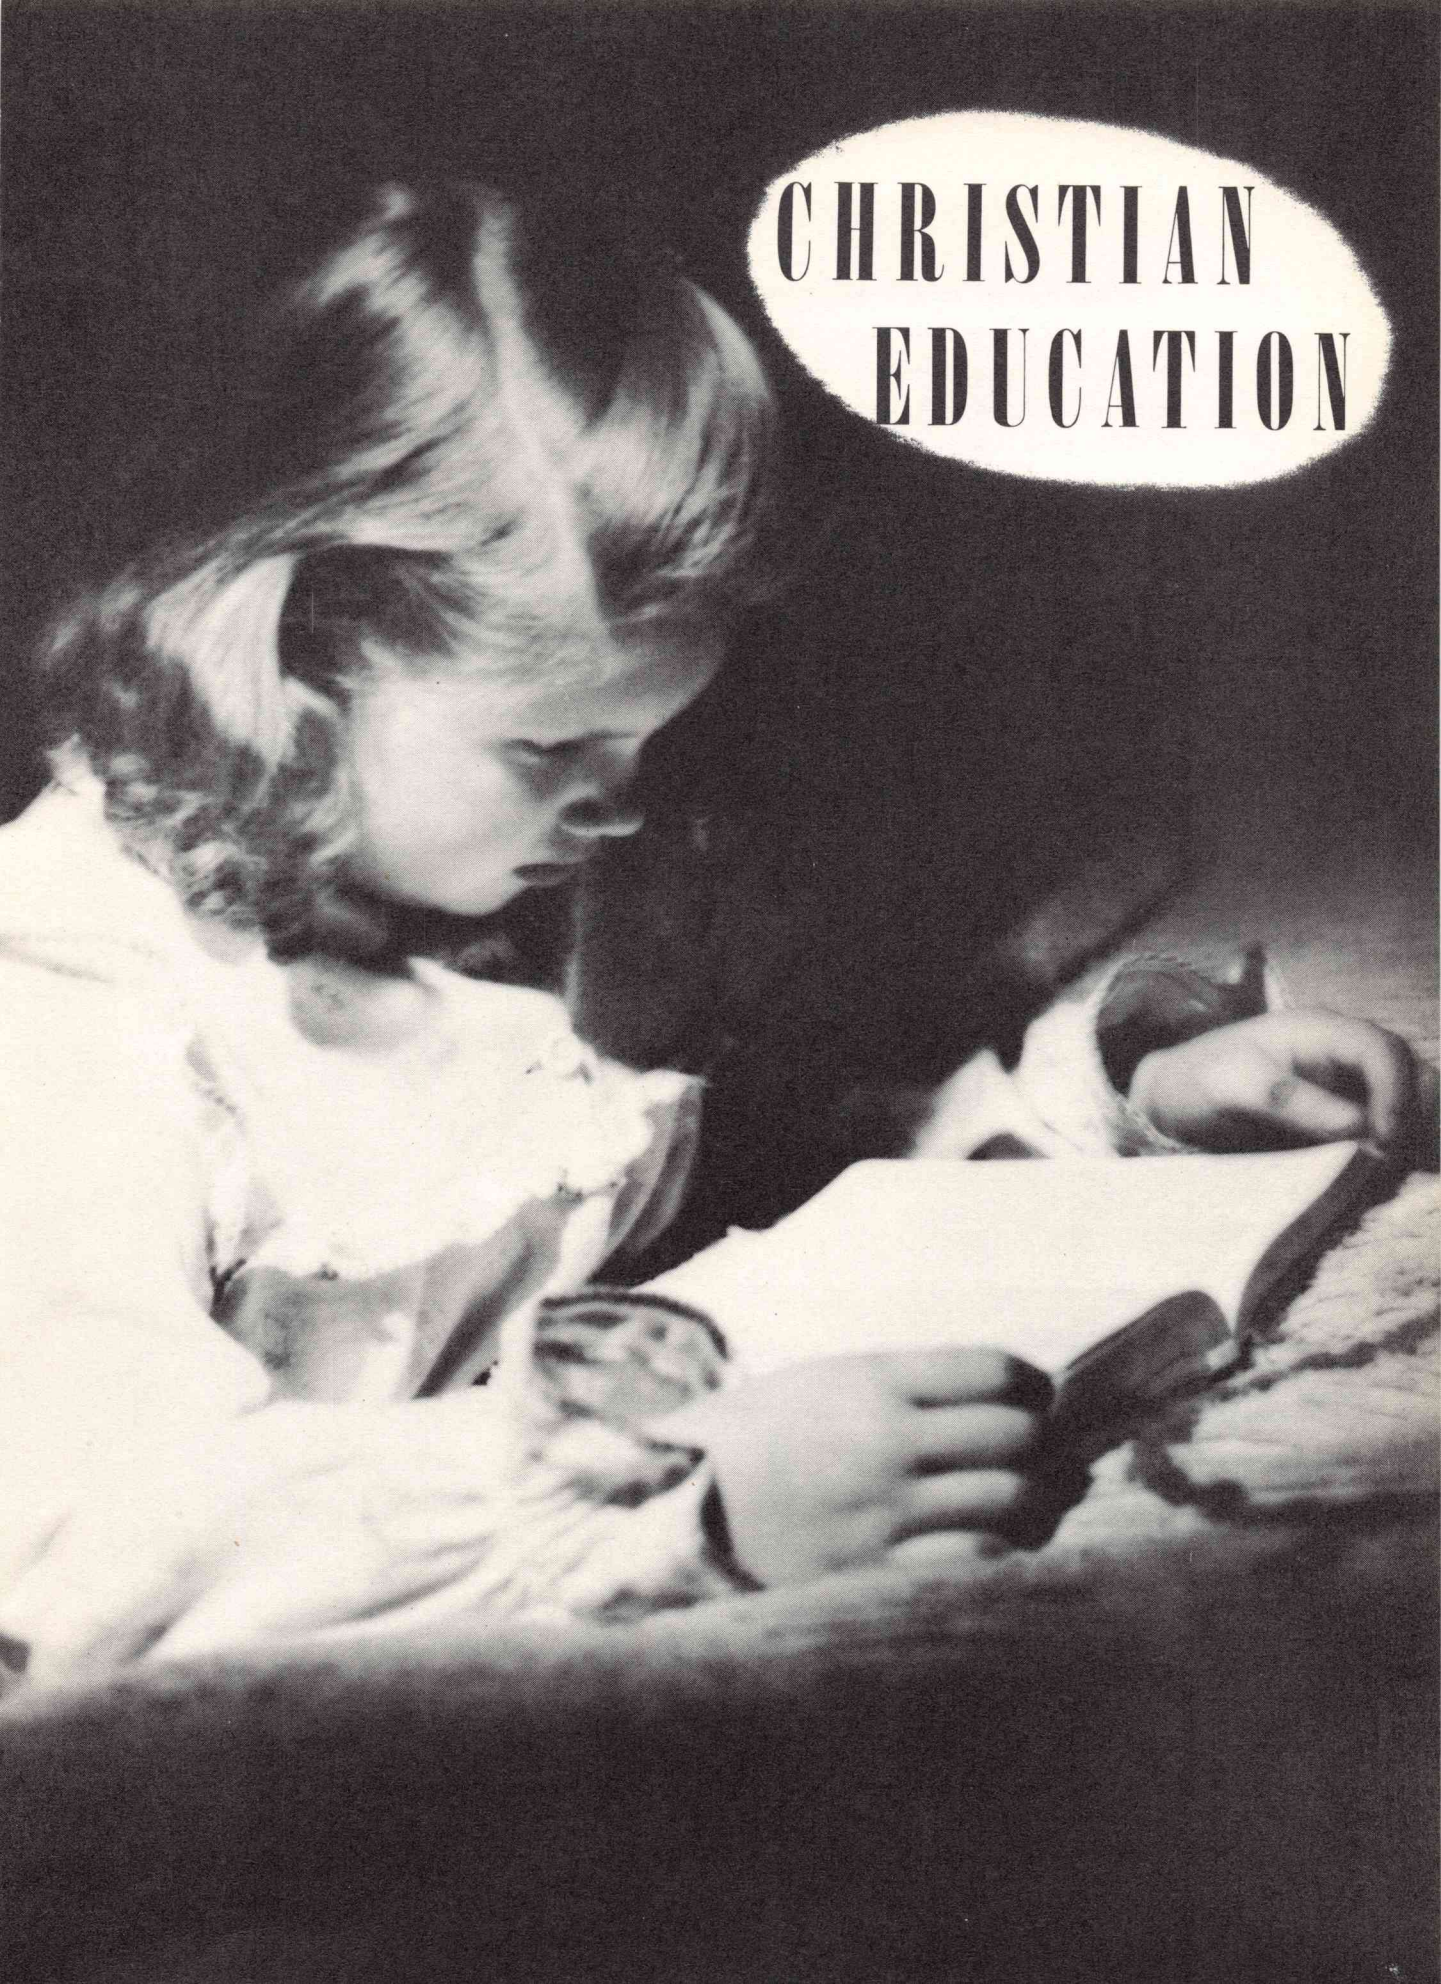

Pastors are constantly calling for Gospel Teams to take charge of their morning and evening services, or to do house-to-house visitation on Sunday afternoons. Other calls come from leaders of Christ Ambassador groups in various churches.

Rescue missions' services are a regular weekly assignment and afford opportunities for street-meetings and personal evangelism.

In addition to these, the Marine Hospital, the jails, and the Boys' Reform School open up wonderful avenues of service.

The student body is divided into several gospel teams, each with its speaker, song-leader and pianist, and other musical talent. Every student has the privilege of going on at least one gospel assignment a week.

God's blessing has attended the efforts of the students during the year. Encouraging reports have been received from pastors telling of souls saved and spiritual uplift among their young people through the visit of a Gospel Team.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

"And he gave some to be teachers. A pastor must be apt to teach." This department is designed to train workers in the expression of the knowledge gained in Biblical studies. In the second year the student is introduced in a survey course to the multiplied forms of Christian Education—youth work, adult education, Sunday schools, week-day church schools, vacation Bible schools, camps, and the various agencies that co-operate in such education. In the quarters that follow, particular skills are developed: the art of teaching, the ability to organize and plan Vacation schools and Sunday schools, the art of story-telling, and the proper use of many forms of visual aids. Because "learning is the residue of pupil participation," the series culminates in a course of practice teaching in a local church under the supervision of an experienced teacher. All of these courses are in addition to the many studies in the Bible and its related subjects.

In recognition of work done in this department, the Northwest Bible College, in addition to the degree with a major in Christian Education, grants the Workers' Training Master Diploma issued by the Sunday School Department of the General Council of the Assemblies of God, and the diploma of the Evangelical Teachers' Training Association.

Praise him with the sound of the trumpet. Praise him with stringed instruments and organs. Praise him upon the loud cymbals. Praise him upon the high-sounding cymbals. Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord!

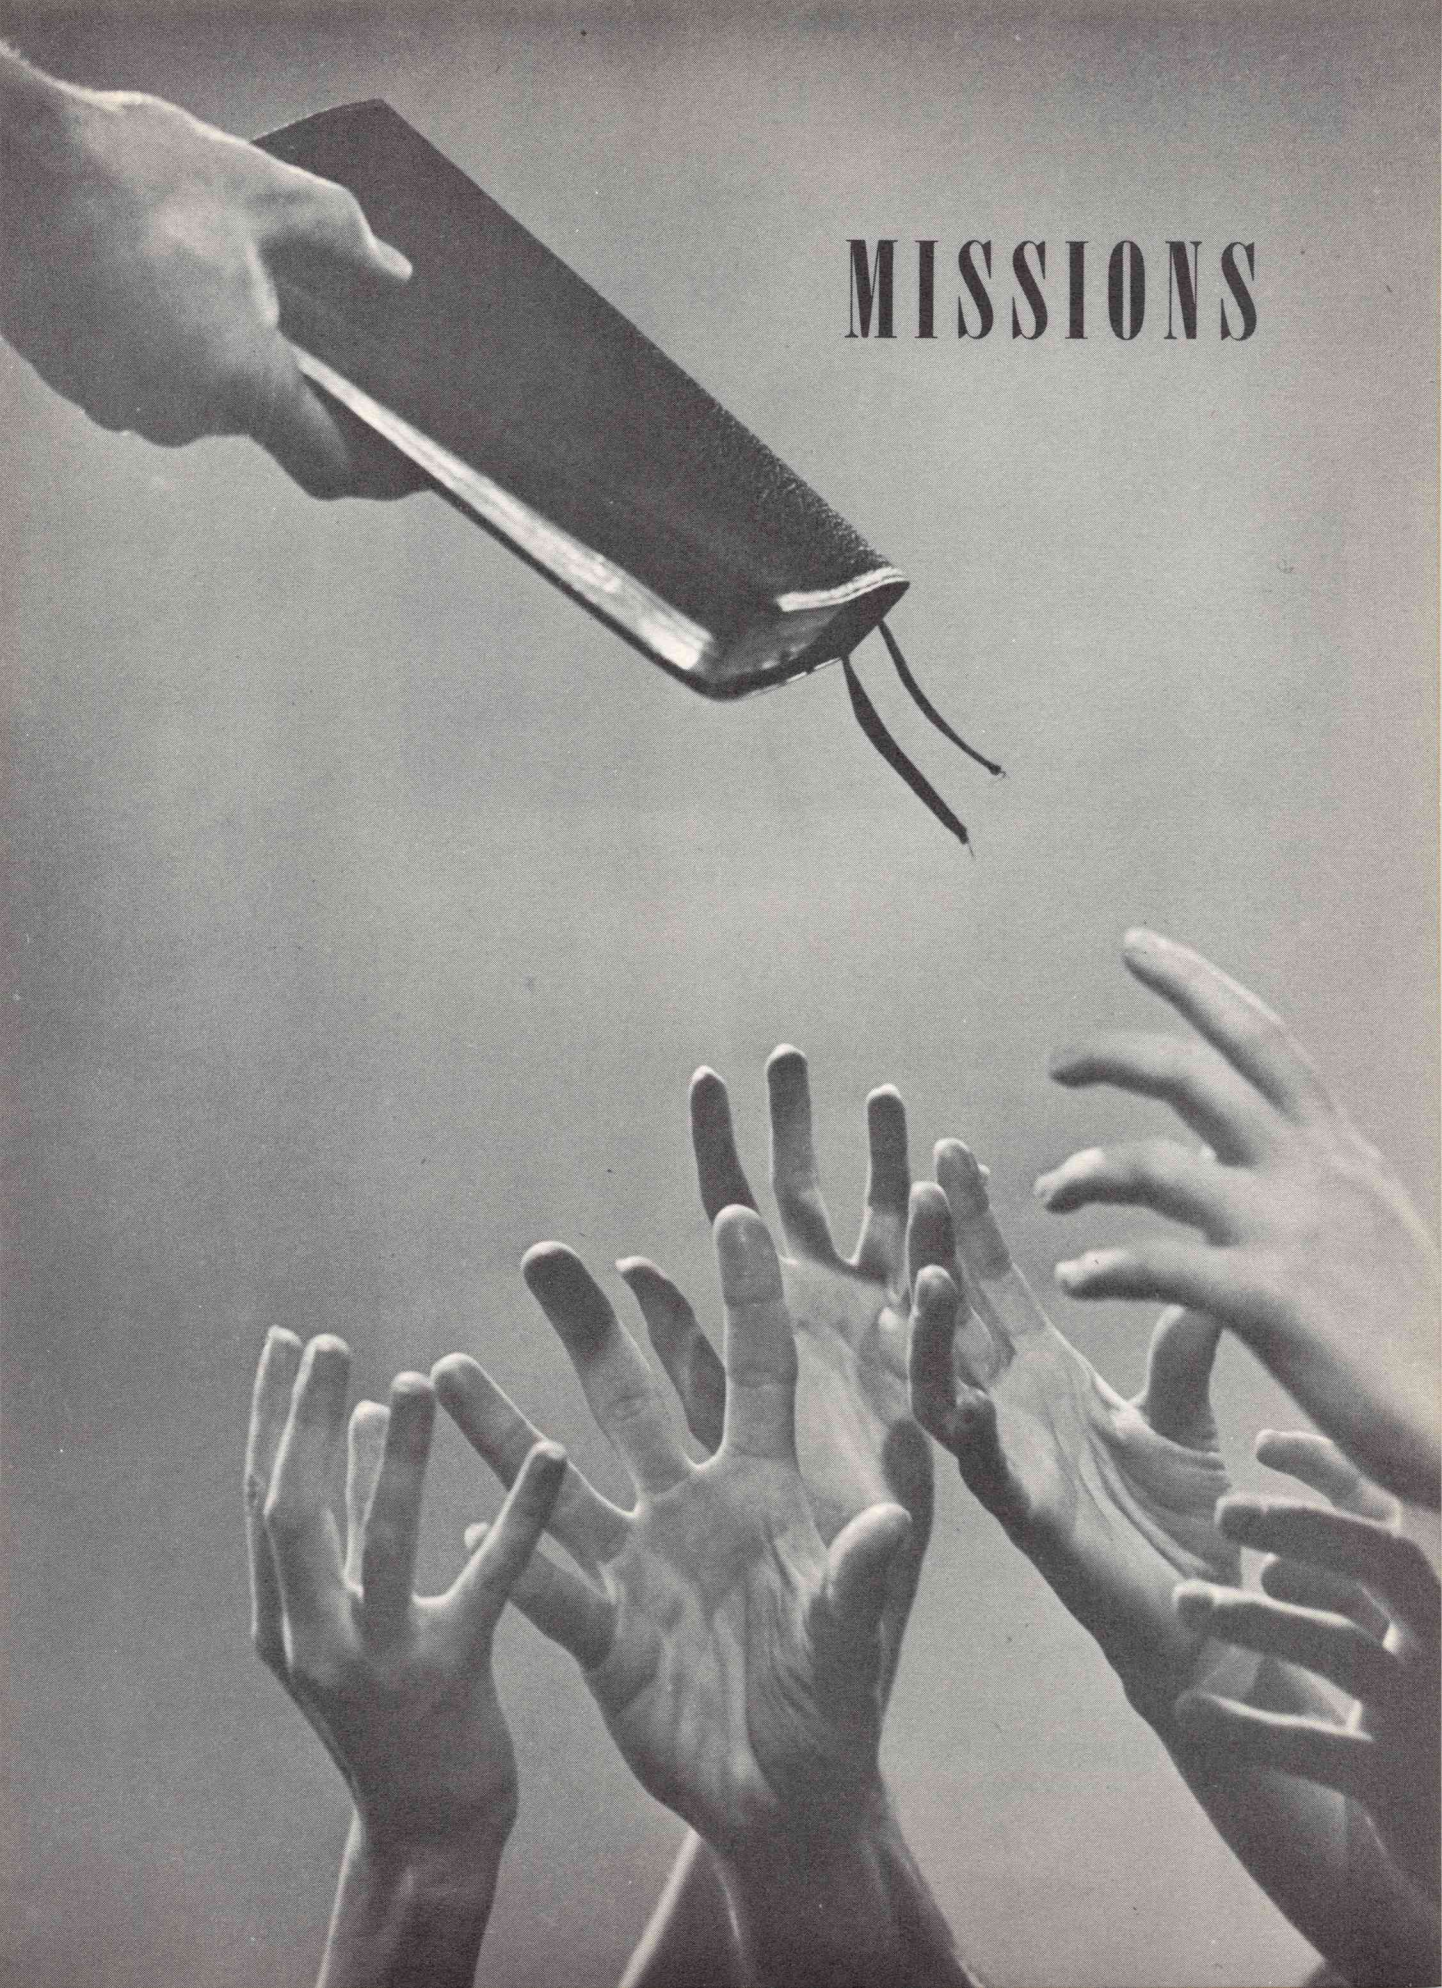

The band has added to the atmosphere of prayer and praise in our morning chapel by beginning each service with a prelude of gospel songs. Throughout the school year, the band has also accompanied the choir on musical assignments.

GATHER JEWELS...

Seated: Jean Shah, Secretary-Treasurer; Francis Beardsley, President; and Morris Hayes, Vice-President. Standing: Walter Swanson, Hubert Rhymes, Duane Buhler, Alvin Peterson, John Beardsley, Troy Hillis, and Elvin Irwin.

Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel (Mark 16:15) is the last recorded instruction given by our Lord to His disciples. As in the days of the Apostles, the crying need of the world today is action in the fulfillment of this command. The only hope for the salvation of the world is the realization of the plan of Christ by the young people of this generation. Thus it is the responsibility of our generation to see that the last great command of Christ is carried out.

The Missionary Society of Northwest Bible College is composed of seven individual bands representing all of the mission fields of the world. In these bands, which convene weekly, correspondence is read, projects are proposed and discussed, and lectures are given. Most important of all is the time spent in prayer for these fields and their laborers. This missionary program is financed by a weekly missionary offering which is dispersed by the Missionary Society.

We are saved to serve Christ. Although we can't all be missionaries, there is a place in the ministry for each of us. The missionary program of our school presents an opportunity for us to help preach the Gospel to all the world. By taking an active interest in a definite field, a student is not only helping others but is developing an interest in missions himself.

We must do our best for God; we must obey His command; then we shall hear Him say, Well done thou good and faithful servant: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

HOME AND ALASKA

HUBERT RHYMES, Leader

LOVETA SHUMWAY, Monitor

God is Light—essential, original—and in Him is no darkness at all. Christ is the manifestation of God, the brightness of the Father's glory, and, as such, is Light. He clothed himself in a pillar of fire and led the children of Israel on their journey to the promised land. He was prefigured in the golden candlestick that threw its radiance upon the ceremonies of the Holy Place. He was that Shechinah which dwelt between the cherubims. Christ said of himself, I am the light of the world.

Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. The Home Missions throughout the nation have risen to the call, realizing there lies within our country vast territories unreached by the Gospel light. There is gross darkness even in this land where there is abundance of light. Sin abounds on every hand. Lost souls are fading into eternity. We, with our faces reflecting as a mirror the Gospel of God, are commissioned to lift up Jesus Christ. We are separated from the world, separated for one purpose—to proclaim the Gospel light. The night is far spent, the day is at hand; we cast off the works of darkness and put on the armour of light. With Paul we can say, It pleased God to reveal His Son in me that I might preach Him.

LATIN AMERICA

ELVIN IRWIN, Leader

ELEANOR CADE, Monitor

In his Gospel, St. Matthew records these words of our Lord Jesus Christ: The harvest truly is plenteous but the labourers are few. We of the Latin American Mission Band count it a privilege to work and pray for the cause of missions.

The area referred to as the Latin American field is tremendous. It is comprised of over seven million square miles of land, including all of Central and South America and Cuba. The inhabitants of these lands are numerous and represent many stages of civilization; yet each person, regardless of his color, language, or customs, needs our Master as his Saviour.

Pictures have been shown to our Band, short talks given, correspondence carried on with various missionaries on the field, and time given to prayer, with the hope that God will use these means to familiarize us with the peoples, countries, and customs of Latin America. This, we trust, will encourage us to give of our means, to pray more, and even to go if the Lord so leads. It has been our desire that the Spirit of God would speak to us, and that we might be ready to say, Here am I Lord; send me.

The night cometh when no man can work; then let us speed the Light of the Gospel while it is still day, so that the multitudes who sit in darkness may find Christ as their Saviour before the night comes.

AFRICA

DUANE BUHLER, Leader

GLORIA RUSSELL, Monitor

Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen. The Lord has ordained us to take our testimony to every creature in all the world, even to those in darkest Africa. We cannot bring the world to Christ, for it will not be brought. The heart of natural man is enmity against God, and in all its power refuses to come to Him. But we can take Christ to the world and bear our testimony to man with such compelling power and persuasiveness as to overcome enmity and melt hearts into penitence and saving faith.

Children of the world are reaching people with their propositions; the children of light can do the same. Everyone is being reached commercially in this modern day. Is everyone being reached spiritually? Has the Gospel been taken to everyone?

This work must be done, not by might nor power, but by the Holy Spirit. Our lives are necessary, but the Living Spirit must anoint our lives before they will bear the lost to God. Therefore, prayer! prayer! prayer! is something we cannot overdo. Everything that is done must be bolstered by the spirit of prayer. Then as we go out to the lost, the Holy Spirit will go before us, and such conviction of sin will result that many will be won for Christ.

EUROPE

TROY HILLIS, Leader

RUTH ROBINSON, Monitor

We are unable to depict the magnitude of the events the world is witnessing in these the closing moments before the striking of the midnight hour when God shall gather "the redeemed" from the four corners of the world. This home-coming cannot be shared by the multitudes who are doomed to an endless eternity without Christ.

The times of the Gentile are running out. The Jews are returning to Israel according to prophecy. The hour is drawing nigh when no man shall work. Time waits for no man. We cannot prevent this hour from coming, but with the Spirit upon our lives, we have the assurance that as we go forth to win souls for Christ, others will be prepared for that notable day.

The harvest is ripe, indeed, but while our sickle is being sharpened, we are doing what we can by praying and by giving of material supplies. The need is enormous; conditions are perplexing; but the power of God is overwhelming. We pray for lost and needy humanity; and we know that God hears our cry, for we have received reports that many have found Him as their Saviour. It is a comfort to know that there is One who understands concerning the hunger-pain, the chilled body, the shattered nerve—One who cares for both body and soul.

INDIA

ALVIN PETERSON, Leader

JEANETTE BARLEAN, Monitor

Because of the rapid increase of India's already teeming population, approximately ten thousand lost souls pass into eternity each day, never having heard the good news of salvation.

The Lord has called us to be fishers of these men. If we are to catch men for Christ, we must go where they are. We must leave the shoreline and go out into the deep where the multitudes are.

The Lord has also called us to be reapers. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth labourers into his harvest. We are not exhorted to pray for the harvest, for the harvest is always ready. We are commanded to pray for harvesters, the supreme and crying need of the hour.

The harvest will never come in from the field; it has to be gathered. Fish will never jump out of the sea; they have to be caught. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

Behind the creation of the demand for harvesters lies prayer. Prayer is the background for all real soul-winning. We pledge ourselves to intercessory prayer for India's millions until the Lord opens the way by which we may go.

ISLANDS OF THE SEA

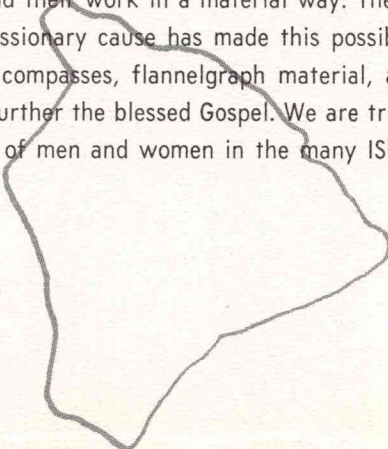

JOHN BEARDSLEY, Leader

JEAN SHAH, Monitor

Dotting the two great oceans, the Atlantic and the Pacific, are many islands where our Missionaries are laboring. The Islands of the Sea Mission Band is composed of about twenty-two students who are interested in and burdened for this phase of the foreign field. Our main and foremost task, yet our greatest privilege, is that of praying for the missionaries who are now laboring in these many islands. Some of these islands are extremely beautiful in their tropical and semi-tropical dress. Often times they are considered vacation lands for travelers and are, in the natural, very attractive and appealing. All of these pleasant features, however, do not save sinners, but, contrarily, increase wickedness and Godlessness. The missionaries laboring there need our prayers. We must intercede for the salvation of the souls to whom they minister.

Our other objective is that of helping the missionaries and their work in a material way. The splendid response on the part of the student body in giving to the Missionary cause has made this possible. Emergency support, songbooks, public address systems, marine compasses, flannelgraph material, and many other necessities are sped on their way from our school to further the blessed Gospel. We are trusting God to use our efforts for His glory and the salvation of the souls of men and women in the many ISLANDS OF THE SEA.

ORIENT

WALTER SWANSON, Leader

MAY DALAN, Monitor

The Orient has long been considered one of the most difficult fields to reach for Christ. These difficulties have arisen because of the complex language, superstition, base heathenism, and the native misunderstanding of missionary motives. The prevalence of near intolerable social living conditions, augmented by hunger and dreaded diseases, has made many of these countries appear repulsive to the Gospel messenger of today. There are, however, open doors which present a challenge to young Christian vitality.

We of the Oriental Band have purposed to keep in contact with missionaries in our respective field. We have endeavored to make our prayers for them both fervent and effectual. Each member of our band has chosen a missionary for whom he daily prays, and with whom he communicates as he feels led. In this manner we believe that our minds can be open to a God-given burden for a definite person.

A great door and effectual is opened unto us, and there are many adversaries. The seriousness of the situation in the entire East creates in us an even more fervent zeal to carry out Christ's commands. Each day as the sun sets upon our land, and as it points its rays toward the Orient, we remember that the same sun that shines on our land of plenty also shines on millions of starving yellow children for whom Christ died.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

REV. VIRGIL DICKINSON, President

Send the light!

The challenge that is before our NBC Alumni Association is tremendous. The world is enveloped in a darkness that is almost impenetrable. Our graduates are scattered to the four corners of the earth; many on the foreign fields and hundreds in the homeland are bringing the Light of salvation to a world engrossed in darkness. Some have sacrificed their lives for the Gospel; others have suffered hardships for Christ's sake. From various fields of labor come victorious reports of God's blessing upon their consecrated service. Only eternity will reveal the sacred accomplishments of our growing alumni association.

An Alumni Homecoming Banquet is an event looked forward to by members of the association. It is held on Matriculation Day of the Autumn Quarter. In the evening of Matriculation Day, the alumni join with ministers and friends from over the District in the official opening of school.

To the graduates of NBC who will be joining the ranks of our alumni go our prayers that God's richest blessing shall rest upon them in their various fields of labor.

REMEMBER ALASKA

Up in the Northland, there's a fair country,
The land of Alaska, with glaciers so cold,
And beautiful mountains, grand and inspiring,
But souls lost in sin and far from the fold.

Many brave hearts work hard for a living,
Seeking for wealth, and searching for gold,
Giving no thought to God and Salvation,
How shall they find the Great Shepherd's fold?

There are dear children, needing the Gospel,
Needing a home, and God's love so true;
Groping in sin, and lost without Jesus,
He who has said to feed the lambs too.

Jesus has said: Go, preach to all nations,
Tell them a Saviour has died for their sin.
Soon He is coming for all who are ready,
Hasten, and help to gather them in.

Pray for Alaska, send them the Gospel,
Take it to all, the aged and the youth.
What are you doing to win them for Jesus?
Help us to spread the Full Gospel truth.

—Florence Personcus

Acknowledgments

We gratefully acknowledge the co-operation of those who have shared in the production of our yearbook. To members of the staff who have given so willingly of their time and energy and to all those who have co-operated in any way to make a dream unfold in a yearbook of lasting memory, goes our heartiest thanks.

Special mention is made of the co-operation of the faculty and our faculty adviser, Miss Mildred Zoppelt, who has so tactfully guided us past various publication snags, and of Mr. Leland Despain, who has given much of his limited time to aid us in our literary work.

With appreciation we acknowledge the fine work of our commercial photographers, the White Studio, Rowland's Studio, and the Dolph Zubick Studio. Many thanks go to Lowman & Hanford Company for their excellent production of the Karisma for 1952, and to Mr. Earl Lightner who has so patiently advised us and guided us through the hard places.

We trust that all who scan the pages of our annual will be conscious of the fact that God, in a wonderful way, has met with us this year in chapel, classroom, and in all phases of our school life. This book portrays the life of our school and is published to the glory of God. The wealth of experience gained and the thrill of accomplishments have made all our efforts and time spent on this publication extremely worth while.

To all who have shared in the hard work associated with this publication we repeat, Thank you.
