FOREWORD

OUT of the past, with a radiant glow, streams the light from the beautiful Gospel message. The command "Go ye" did not exhaust itself upon the little group of believers that first heard it fall from the lips of the risen Saviour; but today ours is the privilege to go forth with the true Gospel message.

This challenge and responsibility of spreading the message rests upon every true follower of Christ. We have found that obedience to this high calling requires a full surrender and a complete consecration to the will of our Great Leader. In addition to these requirements for a fruitful Gospel ministry, proper Bible training is essential that the fundamental doctrines of His message may make an indelible imprint upon our lives. The assurance is ours that we have been guided to a right selection of principles.

Through the pages of this book we have endeavored to share with you the living reality and spirit of the priceless days spent in training and practical experience at N. B. I. Embodied between the covers of our yearbook are memories that may be mellowed, but never erased, by the passing of the years.

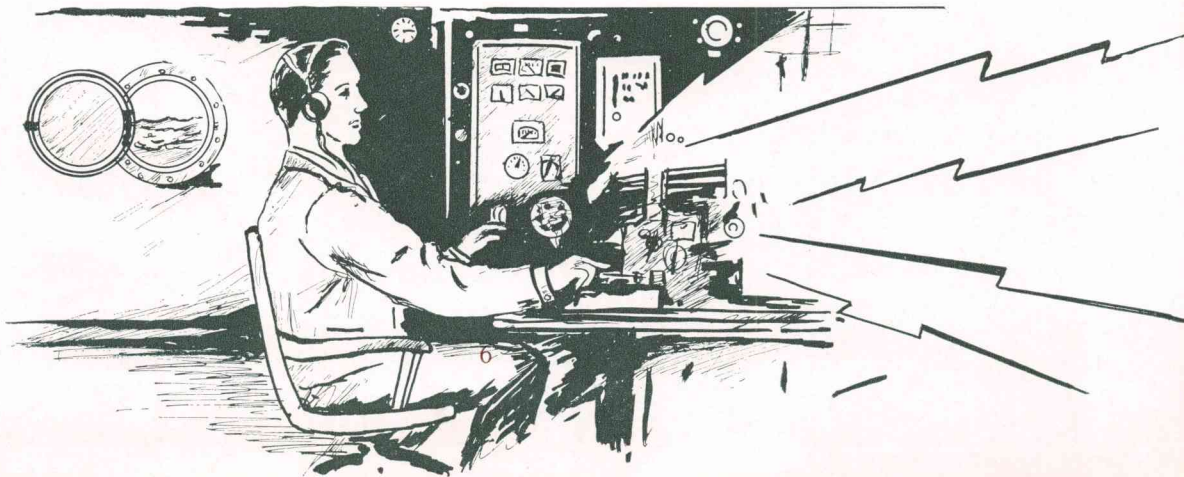

DEDIC

"BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me." Malachi 3:1.

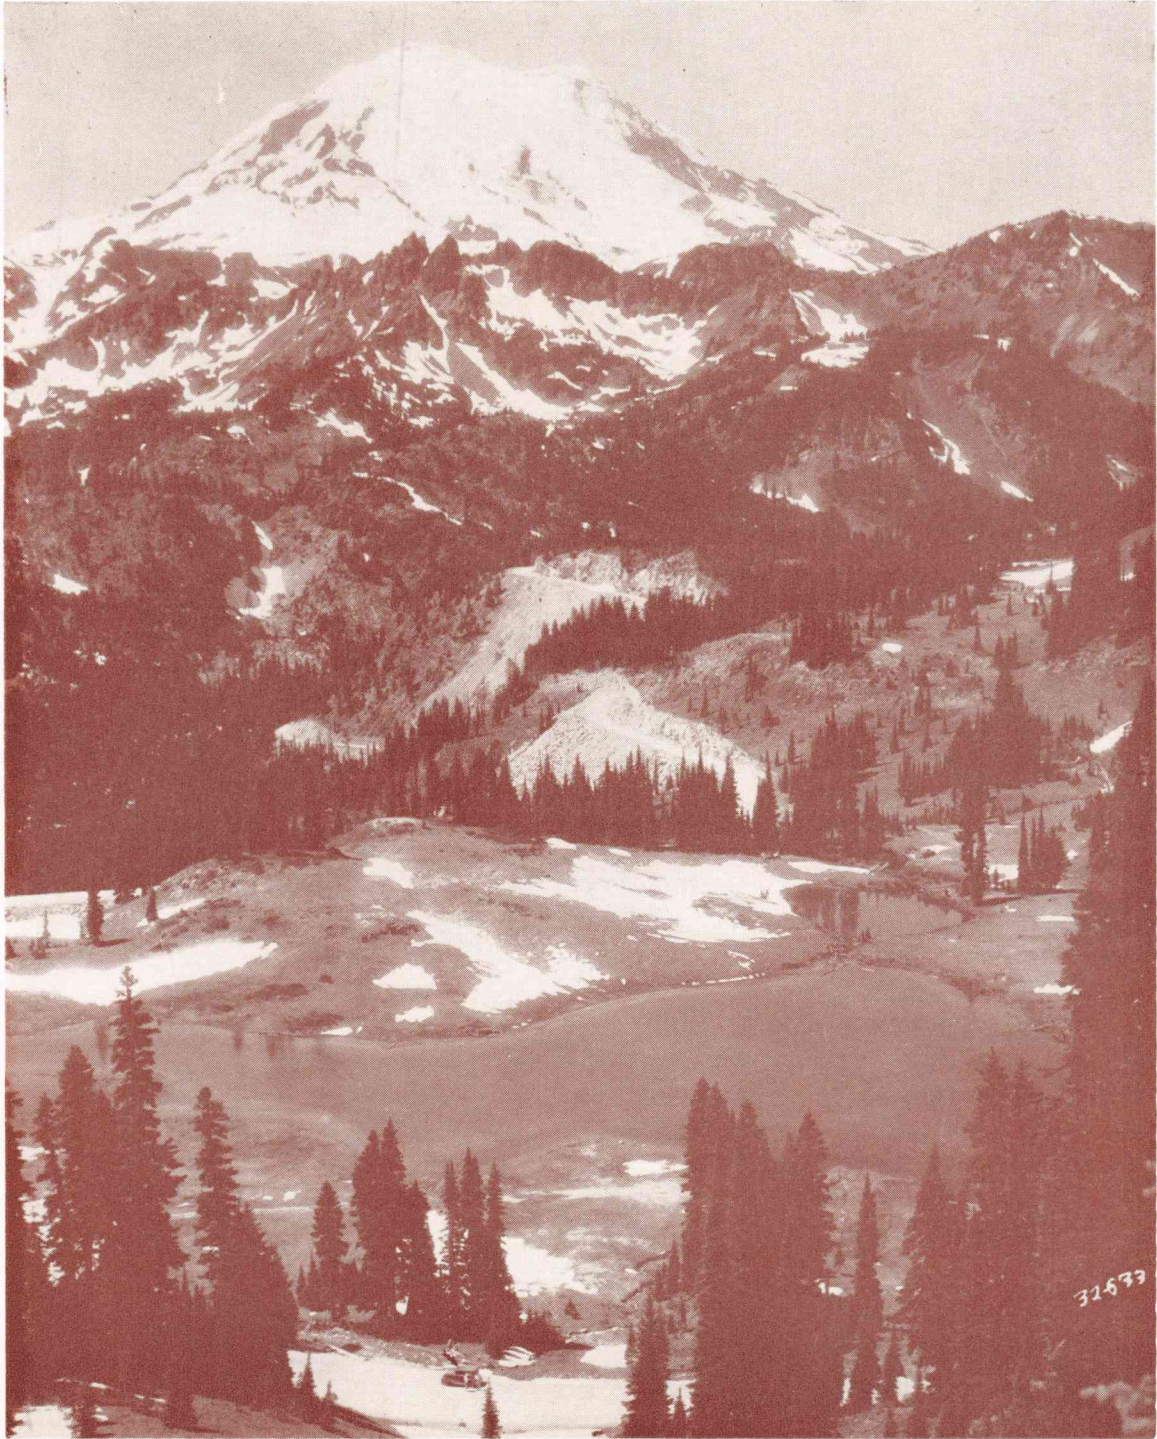

Messengers of the Old Covenant prophesied concerning the birth of Christ and a servant of God who would prepare the way before Him. These faithful prophets brought warnings of the judgment of God upon those who transgressed the Holy Commandments. The spilt blood of animals, which alone could restore favor with God, typified the blood of Christ, "The Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world."

Messengers of the New Covenant have carried to every corner of the earth the glorious news that JESUS SAVES, proclaiming the truth that His blood alone is efficacious to cleanse from sin. Today, those who herald the good tidings of salvation are awaiting with joyful anticipation the return of Jesus Christ, the stimulus of our message.

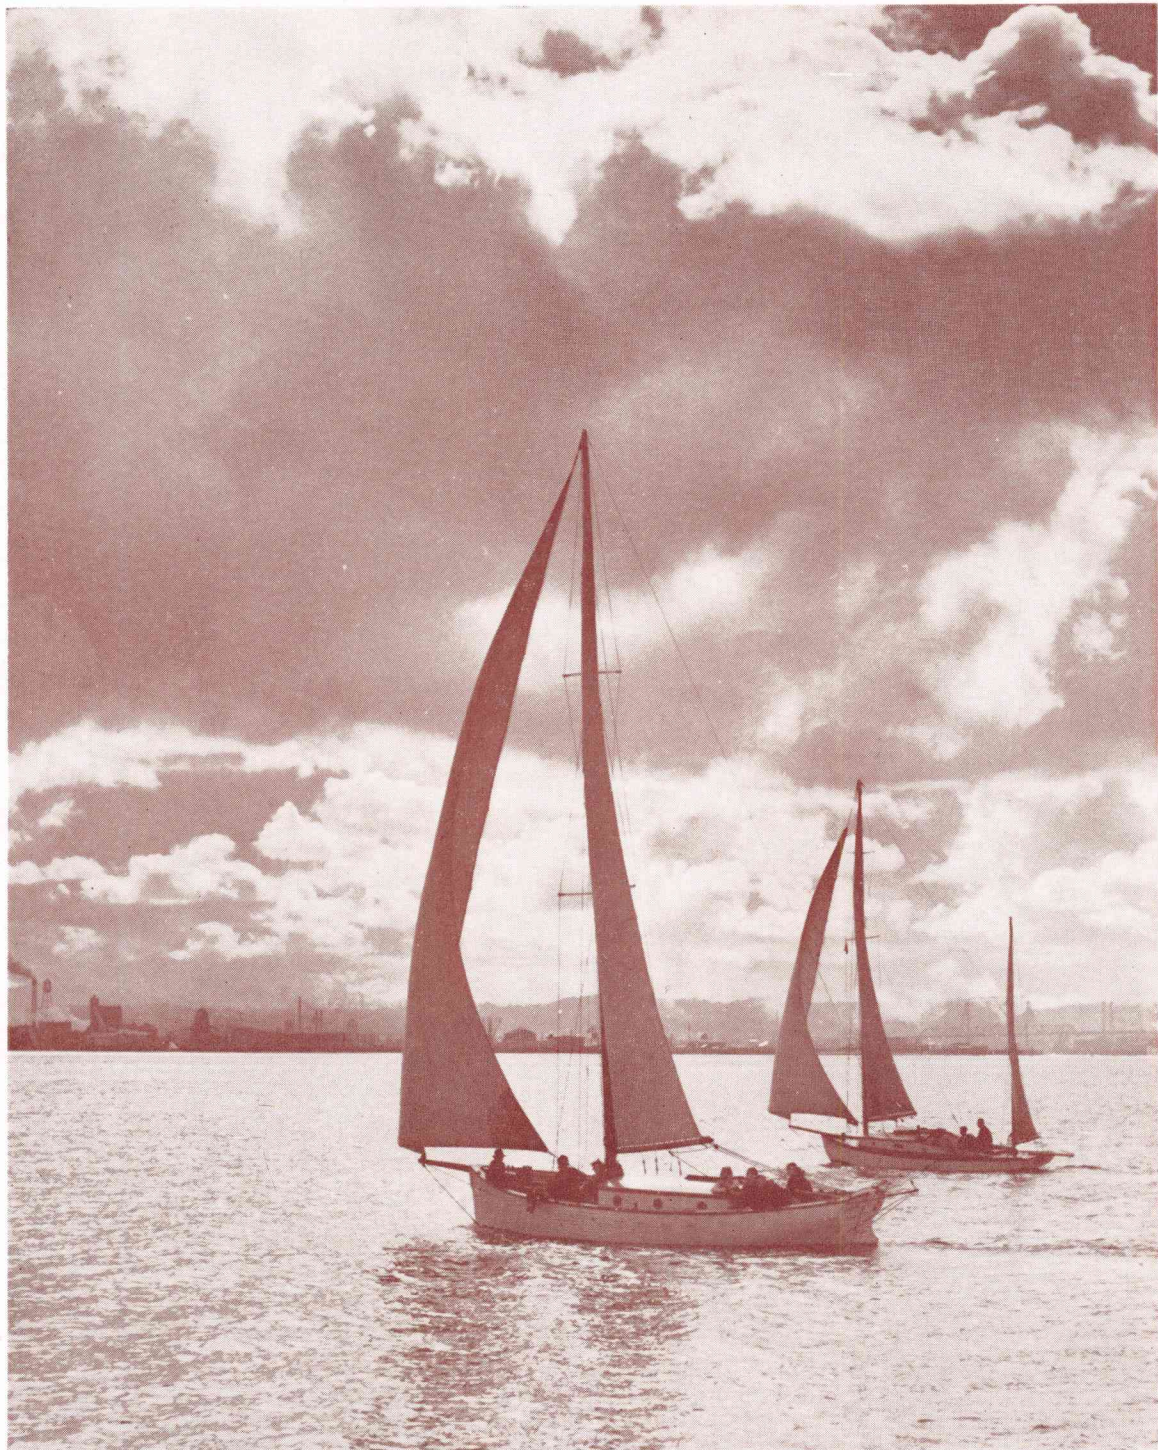

We take pleasure in reverently and respectfully dedicating to all of God's faithful messengers the N. B. I. yearbook of 1942.

A Message from Our General Superintendent

Christian messengers are "stewards of the mysteries of God." To them is given the duty of unfolding to mankind truths concerning relationship with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ; impressing upon men the fact of a hereafter, a place of woe for the unrepentant, and a place of bliss and fellowship for them who believe. They are entrusted also with the burden of instructing and leading men into a life of holiness, wherein the inward life is brought into harmony with the will, the Spirit, and the purpose of God.

To "make full proof" of such a ministry, the messenger must keep in close touch with Him whose message he is to convey, lest, like Ahimaaz, he ran, but in vain. Keep close to Christ, keep in fellowship with God, and you will be a worthy messenger.

May the Messengers of the Northwest Bible Institute prove through consecrated faithfulness the full value of the title which they have adopted. As they go forth, they may be assured that He who has said "Go ye" will go with them. As they trust His promises and do His bidding, He "will never leave them, nor forsake them."

ERNEST S. WILLIAMS.

A Message from Our District Superintendent

When one is commissioned to carry a message, he is responsible, not only to the one who is sending him, but also to those to whom he is sent. Your years at the Northwest Bible Institute have helped you become more familiar with your message, and now it is your duty to carry that message effectively.

The nature and authority of a message determines the importance of its delivery. The messenger has no right to alter it, and is not responsible for the contents, but must deliver it intact. The Apostle Paul says concerning the message with which we are entrusted, "To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other a savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?" And again he says, "Our sufficiency is of God."

The success of your ministry and the effectiveness of your message will largely be determined by your faithfulness to the Lord Jesus Christ, who has given you your commission. Yours is not an earthly ministry, but one dealing with the eternal welfare of the souls of men. You are not striving for earthly gains, but Christ will bring you reward when He comes.

"For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ: that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad." II Cor. 5:10. Messengers, we desire for each of you a ministry that will bring you a rich reward when you meet the One who has sent you forth.

FRANK GRAY.

OUR PRINCIPAL SPEAKS

“They are the messengers of the churches and the glory of Christ.” II Cor. 8:23.

The Apostle Paul, in the above scripture, is speaking of Titus and others to whom he refers as “Messengers” of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

As messengers, always keep in mind that you are directly representing the Church of God, as well as the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ. By the “glory of Jesus Christ” I believe Paul refers not only to Christ as a glorious person, but all for which he stands, and also to the many glories which we have in and through him.

As messengers of God, then, we are to proclaim the glory and ministry of the church, as well as the glory and ministry of Christ. The glory of Christ constitutes all the glorious provisions which Christ provided through His sacrifice on Calvary. There we find the glorious victory which Christ provided over Satan, sin and death; and we find provided glorious baptism with the Holy Spirit, the glorious provision of sanctification and power for the believer over sin, the glorious hope which is the second coming of Christ, and the reception of the believer into Heaven.

As true messengers of God, it becomes our duty not to discuss what we believe or do not believe concerning these things, but to declare unto a dying and needy world these glories as plainly set forth in the Word of God. The Word of God can not be improved upon, and if we preach the Word concerning these things, then we shall be true and faithful messengers of God.

You have now spent three years studying God’s Word. You should have a good conception and spiritual understanding concerning the glorious things of Christ, which will enable you to become profitable servants and messengers of the kingdom.

May God bless you and keep you true to Him and to His own Word.

H. H. NESS.

A Message from Our Dean

“Swift messengers, return to your people.” Isa. 18:2, Moffatt’s Translation.

For three school years you have been in training, but now the time has come for you to go out and put into practice the things which you have learned. Some of you will return to your people, as suggested by our text, while others will go to new, unexplored places and among strange peoples.

Wherever you go, remember that you are His Messengers and that your chief business is to deliver His message.

The world will bid highly for your time and talents. There will be more inducements to enter and follow secular pursuits than you have ever dreamed. To all of these you must turn a deaf ear if you have the call of God upon your heart. “No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please Him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.” II Tim. 2:4.

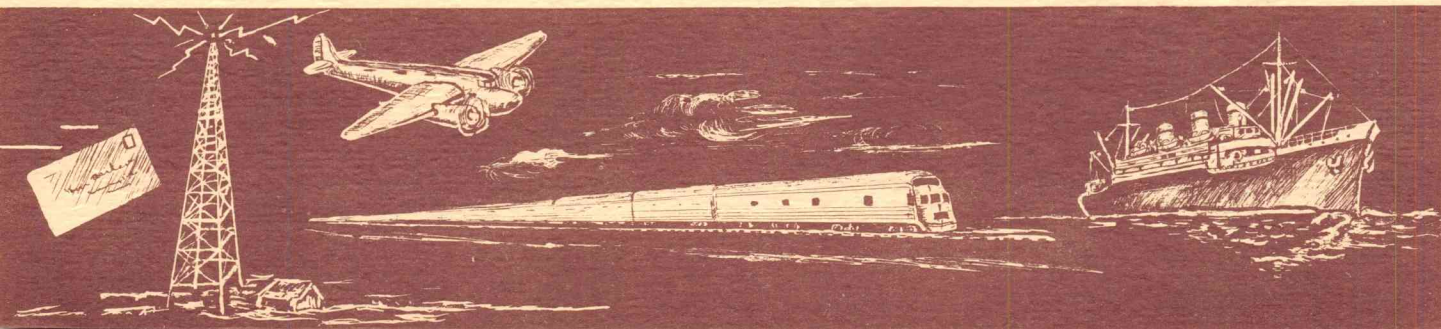

If, however, you do not have a call to the ministry and shall follow secular employment, bear in mind that you are God’s Messengers just the same, and you owe allegiance to Him and His service.

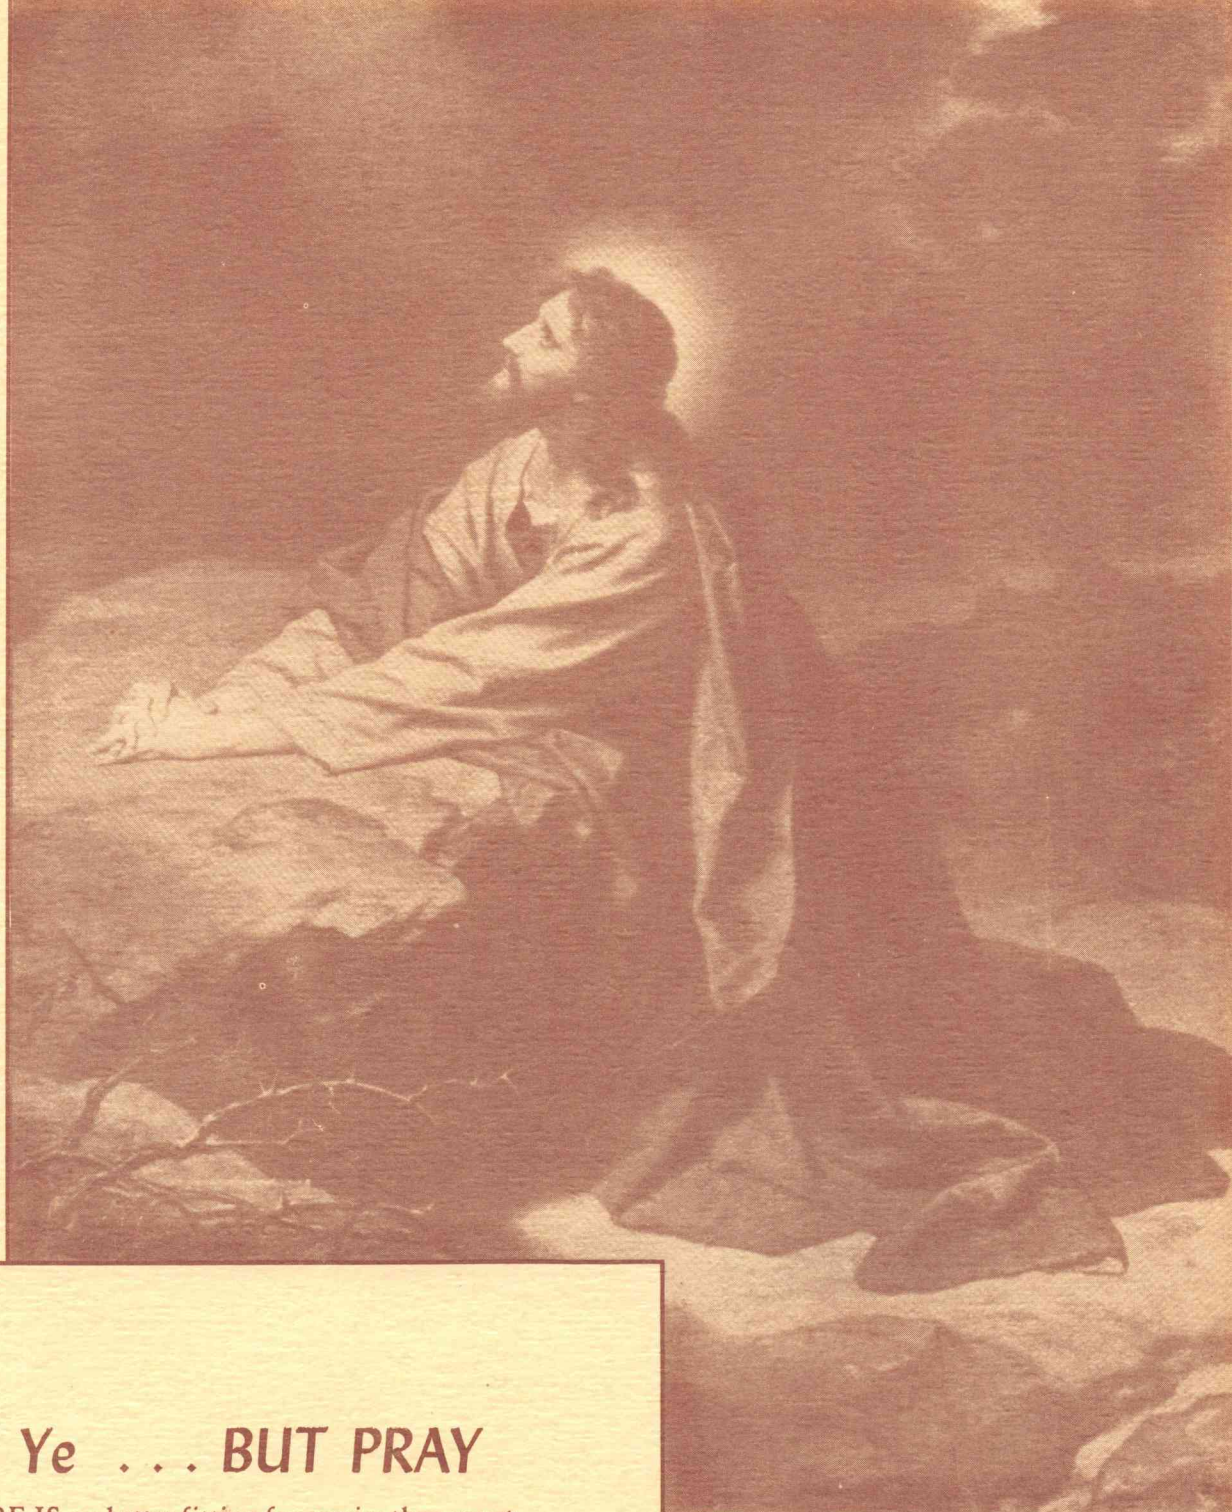

C. C. BEATTY.

ADMINISTRATION

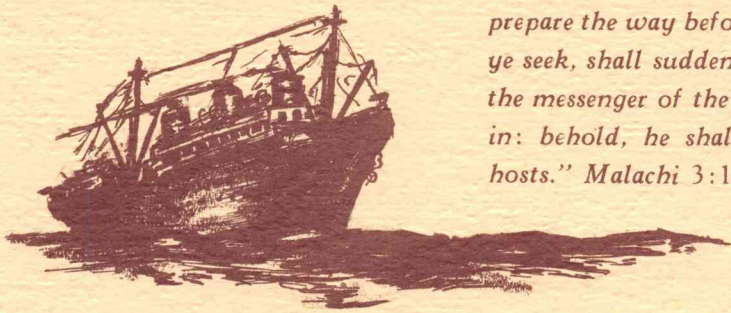

Go Ye . . . BUT PRAY

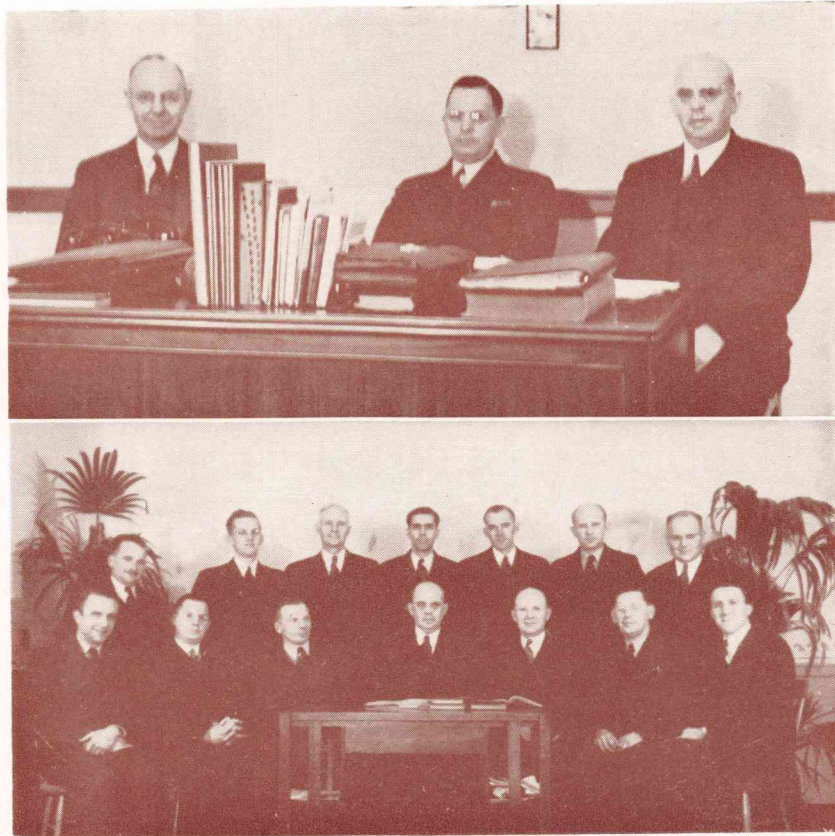

“THERE IS no better fitting for service than secret communion with the Divine.”

Jesus sought the solitude; often He went into the seclusion of the mountains to pray and meditate. These hours of aloneness were a necessity to Jesus. These were the supreme hours of His life. They were the hours that made His work divine. Out of these hours He issued to do many things for which they had strengthened and prepared Him. Our strength for service comes from the same source, and we must obtain it in the same way.

MESSENGERS OF THE KING

REV. E. V. BRONSON

Two thoughts are suggested in the title, the One who sends, and the ones who are sent. The word "messenger" occurs in the Bible over one hundred times, and in nearly every instance it is in connection with the word "sent." Whether the one who did the sending was God or man it is written, "He sent messengers." The One who sends us is Jesus, our King.

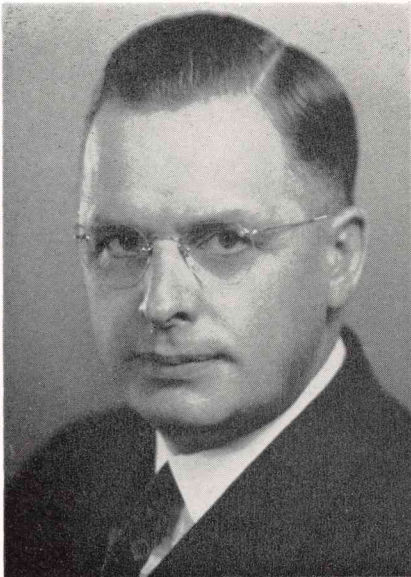

John the Baptist was sent to prepare the way for Jesus. "It is written, 'Behold, I send My messenger before Thy face, who shall prepare Thy way before Thee.'" That was all that John claimed to be, "one sent before Him."

Jesus was "the Messenger of the covenant." God so loved us that He sent His Son to be our Saviour. Jesus gave us, in His life, an illustration of what messengers should be. He "delighted to do His Father's will," He "finished the work His Father gave Him to do," and "He was obedient even unto the death on the cross."

Jesus said, "As the Father sent Me, even so send I you." He has given to us the Great Commission, to take His Gospel to "all nations," "every creature," and "the uttermost parts of the earth." It is a wonderful privilege to be messengers for the King. It was said of the Priest of Old Testament times, "He is the messenger of the Lord of hosts." It was the same with the prophets. "Then spake the prophet Haggai, the Lord's messenger, in the Lord's message, unto the people saying, 'I am with you saith the Lord.'" That is the best statement to be found anywhere concerning those who are called to preach the Gospel, "the Lord's messengers with the Lord's message." It is the same now as of old. We are messengers for Jesus, our King, and we are to give His message.

In some of the Scripture references concerning messengers we learn of the qualifications which are to be expected, "obedient" and "faithful." "As the cold of snow in a time of harvest so is a faithful messenger to those that send him, for he refresheth the soul of his masters." It is pleasing to the Lord when we are faithful to our mission. We are to "proclaim the whole counsel of God," both as to grace and judgment. Also it is written of messengers that "they hastened," "they ran," and "they were swift." These speak of instant, exact and glad obedience.

It is not only a great privilege to be messengers of the King, but it also carries with it great responsibility. "Unto whom much is given from him shall much be required." Much has been given to those who are saved and called to His service. This world is in need, and we have that which can meet that need. The messengers not only went forth with the message, but they returned with their report. The Scripture declares that "we watch over souls as they who must give an account." We trust that all of us will be able to give a good report to the One who sent us, and that we may receive His words of commendation, "Well done."

Proclaim The Message with Boldness

“Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men they marvelled; and took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.” Acts 4:13.

One of the essential qualifications of a messenger of God is boldness. This boldness is not mere human fearlessness, but spiritual fearlessness based upon divine principles.

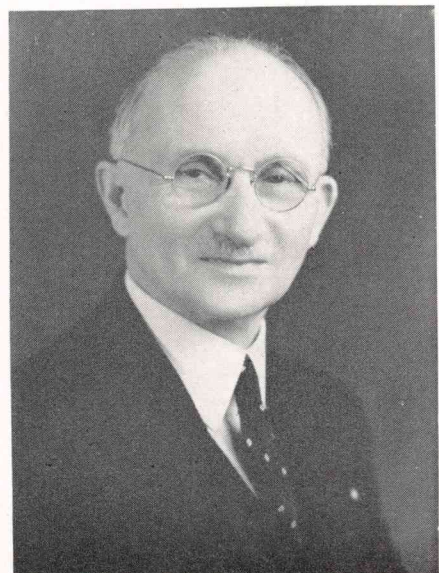

There are four things which contribute to the spiritual boldness of a true messenger of God: First, a definite experience of salvation and sins forgiven; second, a real call of God to the ministry; third, the baptism with the Holy Spirit; and, fourth, a positive knowledge and faith that the message is the very message and Word of God.

Proclaim The Message with Faithfulness

“—So is a faithful Messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.” Prov. 26:13.

A faithful man is one who is firm in adherence to his promises. Never are his vows or his contracts broken, and nothing can move him from his honest conviction. He is true in his affections, and his unwavering allegiance is pledged to Him in Whom his trust is stayed.

It is your task to be faithful in all that the word involves, but you may be assured that when you have finished, the Lord will be on hand to fulfill His promise: “. . . Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.” Rev. 2:10.

Proclaim the Message

WITH PRAYERFULNESS

If you shall successfully proclaim the message you must do it fervently with great urgency and perseverance. You must feel the pressure of the great cause, and moreover, that it can not prosper without God's interposing power which comes only through the channel of prevailing prayer.

J. A. BOGUE.

WITH CAREFULNESS

As the message which we are privileged to proclaim is God's message, it must be given forth exactly as He intends it to be given. This will require carefulness on our part, by keeping in touch with God through the prayer life in order to know His mind, and by systematic study of the Word to give forth the truth. Also we must know people to minister to them the message which they need.

E. V. BRONSON.

WITH HAPPINESS

Happiness is the true characteristic of a Christian. It is God's purpose that all of His Messengers proclaim with joy and happiness the glad tidings of hope. Genuine happiness is a divine gift and only those who have experienced salvation may possess such an attribute. Happiness is the reflection of God's love in the soul of the redeemed.

DELBERT L. COX.

WITH HELPFULNESS

Helpfulness, what a challenge to every Christian! We are saved to serve, and that means being helpful in the little things as well as the greater things in the Kingdom. If we would follow Paul's admonition, how blessed our life would be, for he said, "I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak; and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus. . . . It is more blessed to give than to receive."

MRS. HELEN GILES.

WITH WATCHFULNESS

These are days of watchfulness. Governments have instructed their subjects to watch. Frequently the "alert signal" is sounded; the world prepares for battle and watches for the enemy. God calls this old sin-cursed world to prepare for eternity and to watch for His coming. God's "alert signal" has been sounded—Let us watch and pray.

MRS. A. B. CHRISTENSON
Matron.

There was rejoicing in a certain home, nestled in the shadow of the King's Palace in the City of Oslo, Norway, one summer day in 1894, as Hans and Dora Ness welcomed their first born son, hoping and praying that this son would become a servant of God. Their faith and prayers were not in vain. Boyhood days quickly passed, and in the autumn of 1911, an enthusiastic youth left the shores of the Land of the Midnight Sun, crossing the deep of the Atlantic Ocean, to seek fame and fortune in the land that flows with silver and gold, namely America.

Upon arrival in this country he began a successful career in the drug business in Chicago. He then moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he operated his own drug store in the commercial center of the city. It was at this time the war started and he joined the Armed forces, where he served as Corporal. At the end of the War he again returned to Minneapolis where in 1919 he married a young lady of Danish birth. Later he accepted a position with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and made rapid advancement, inasmuch that he became the leading man on the sales force. At this time God began to deal with him concerning his soul's need. On a Sunday night his wife was converted, and two weeks later Mr. Ness knelt in his own home and definitely consecrated his life to God. He resigned his position to accept a call to pastor a small church in Northern Minnesota. After laboring there for some time he moved to Fargo, North Dakota where in process of time a Tabernacle was erected. After seven and a half years of ministry in that city he was called to Seattle in the fall of 1933 to become pastor of the Hollywood Temple. His earnest zeal for God led to the founding of the Northwest Bible Institute in 1934. Hundreds of young men and women who have trained for Christian service in this school are still feeling the Godly influence of their consecrated Principal.

In definite answer to a consecrated mother's prayer, a young man nineteen years of age knelt at the altar in Glad Tidings Mission in San Francisco, and Joseph Alfred Bogue found Jesus Christ as his personal Saviour. A year after his conversion he received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit.

He returned to his home in Turlock and continued in his successful career of Mechanical Engineering. God's hand rested in guidance upon him, and a year later there was a decided change in this young energetic life. After spending some time in the ministry he felt his need of further training, and entered Glad Tidings Bible Institute. During his third year in school he acted as assistant to Reverend Craig in the institute and Glad Tidings Temple. Upon graduation with the Pioneers he devoted his time to evangelistic work throughout the United States.

In the year of 1928, while engaged in Gospel work in the Northwest, he was united in marriage to Miss Esther Peterson of Seattle. For the past eleven years he has served with the Northwest District Presbytery of the Assemblies of God, in which he now holds the offices of District Secretary and General Presbyter.

In 1936 Reverend Bogue was called to be an instructor in the Northwest Bible Institute. Eternity alone will reveal the accomplishments achieved as a result of spiritual advice and sound knowledge imparted to students both in and out of the classrooms.

A native of Seattle, Miss Helen Pettit was born on April 30, 1900, of Christian parents. At an early age she accepted the Lord as her personal Savior and became a member of the First Baptist Church. After her graduation from the Seattle Public Schools, her desire to become a nurse led her to attend the University of Washington. During her years in school she was active in church work, being president of the Young People's Society and the Girls' Missionary Guild. She was also sent as a delegate to the National Student Volunteer Convention in Des Moines, Iowa, where 10,000 Christian students from all parts of the world gathered for a ten-day missionary and inspirational convention.

Following her graduation from the University in 1923 with a B. S. in Pre-Medico, Miss Pettit entered the Minor Private Hospital for further training. She became a graduate registered nurse in 1925 and did special duty nursing until her marriage to Mr. Harry Giles two years later.

It was while they were residing in the Green Lake District near the Hollywood Temple that God used the large neon sign "Jesus Saves" to lead them into the light of the Full Gospel. Three weeks later, while nursing at the bedside of Reverend Ness in the Swedish Hospital, Mrs. Giles received the glorious infilling of the Holy Spirit.

In October of the same year the Northwest Bible Institute welcomed her as a member of its faculty. As the students and graduates strive to bring the Gospel of Christ into the homes of those whose lives are filled with sickness and sorrow, they have been made to realize more fully the great value of the knowledge imparted by our faithful hygienics instructor.

Our music instructor, Delbert Lee Cox, was born in Nez Perce, Idaho, in the summer of 1909. He was reared in the fear and admonition of the Lord by his mother, the chorister of the local Brethren church. At the early age of eight years he was converted and some years later during a summer session at Glad Tidings Temple he received the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

From the time of his youth, his secular interests have been predominately toward music. His musical foundation began with the study of piano and violin. During his training at the University of Washington he majored in the field of Public School Music and in 1936 received the degree of Master of Arts.

Throughout his life he has worked extensively in gospel circles in the United States and Canada. During a camp meeting at Lake Geneva, Minnesota, he met a young lady, Ruth Remley, to whom he was married in the summer of 1936. They have a daughter, Barbara Lee, who is nine months old.

When the Northwest Bible Institute was opened he was called to be Music Director, and under his able leadership the student choir and orchestra have been organized. Besides devoting much time to private teaching, Professor Cox is the organist and music director of the local church. His interest in the development of musical talents for Christian service, and his patient and cheerful nature have been a constant source of inspiration to the students.

Charles Clifford Beatty was born in the little town of Knox, Indiana, on the 8th day of July, 1870. Death claimed his father while Charles was yet young, leaving his widowed mother to assume the responsibility of providing for her three children, of whom Charles was the eldest. At the age of sixteen, he was given the opportunity to learn telegraphy, and after a year of hard work he was able to take a position as Station Agent's assistant. The following years were spent in railroad work, one promotion succeeding another until he became a train dispatcher.

In the good providence of God, he was converted in April of 1898, and was called into the ministry. Three years later he was ordained in the Baptist denomination.

On June 10, 1902, he was married to Miss Hattie M. Leonard of Elgin, Illinois. After five years of pastoral work in Indiana, he and Mrs. Beatty were led into evangelistic work, holding campaigns in different cities throughout the country. In 1918 they received a call to Duluth, Minnesota, to superintend the Bethel Mission, an interdenominational work for men. After several years of service there, God definitely led them into the Pentecostal experience through the ministry of Doctor Charles S. Price. Immediately they became affiliated with the Assemblies of God, and Mr. Beatty was called to be Field Superintendent for the North Central District Council. Later he was elected to the office of Assistant District Superintendent.

Together with Reverend F. J. Lindquist and other ministers, Reverend Beatty caught the vision of the need of a training school for young people, and was largely instrumental in the launching of the North Central Bible Institute in Minneapolis. He served as Dean of this school for five years.

In 1934 he accepted a call to assist in the founding of the Northwest Bible Institute. The enthusiasm and zeal of our Dean have been an inspiration to both students and faculty.

Eugene V. Bronson, the youngest of twelve children, eight of whom are still living, was born in Urbana, Illinois, February 24, 1883. After attending public schools in Urbana, he entered the University of Illinois where he majored in Entomology. He expected to make this his life work, but at the age of nineteen he was converted and felt God's call upon his life. After finishing four years of study at the University, he entered Garrett Biblical Institute, a Methodist Theological school on the campus of Northwestern University. At the conclusion of his first year of theological training he met a young woman during a meeting of University students who had volunteered their lives for foreign missionary service. A friendship developed and after his graduation in 1907 they were married. They received appointment as missionaries to Iquique, Chile, but illness prevented their going; consequently they went to the West coast where he accepted the pastorate at Hood River, Oregon. In eighteen years as a Methodist minister, he labored in churches in Idaho, Washington, California, and Nevada. During the World War, he served as Army Chaplain with the 91st Division in Camp Lewis and overseas. After receiving the Pentecostal Baptism in 1925, Mr. Bronson became affiliated with the Assemblies of God, and since then has spent most of his time teaching in their Bible schools. He taught for a few months in Glad Tidings Bible Institute in San Francisco, after which he went to San Diego where for four years he served as Principal of Berean Bible Institute. Before coming to Seattle he spent one year as Principal and one year as Dean of Southern California Bible School in Pasadena. For the past five years the students of N.B.I. have been greatly blessed by Reverend Bronson's faithful teaching.

The privilege granted by God to Dagmar Haugen was that of spending her childhood days in a Christian home. She early accepted Christ as her Saviour and with Him as her Guide and Friend began a life of Christian service and devotion to others.

In 1909 her family moved from North Dakota to Washington where she received her public school education in the Tacoma and Seattle schools. While in Tacoma she and her father through the ministry of music found opportunity to serve their Master in the church which they attended. After moving to Seattle several years later, she became active in Sunday School work and hospital visitation. For a number of years she was pianist and choir director in one of Seattle's Baptist churches.

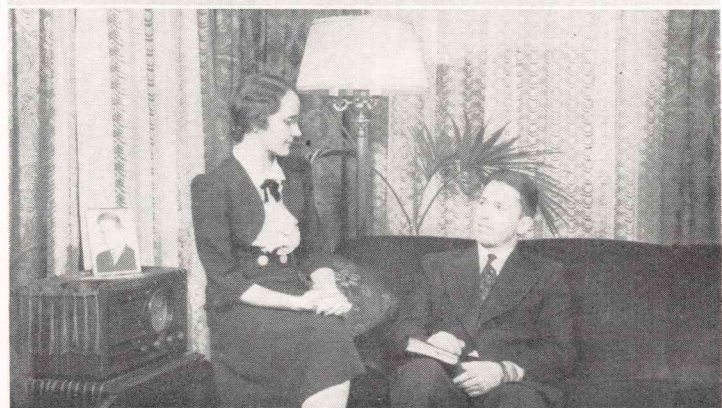

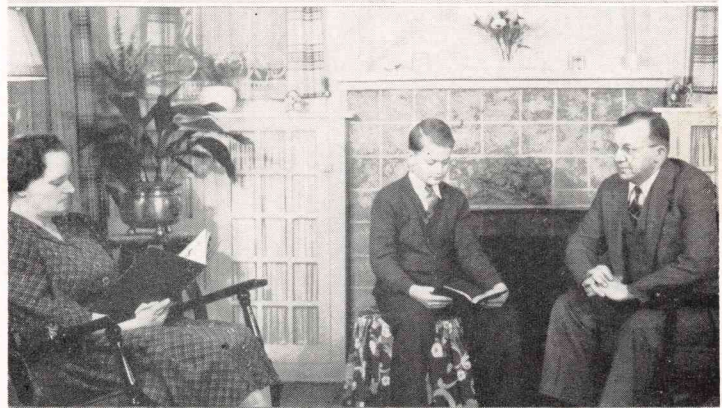

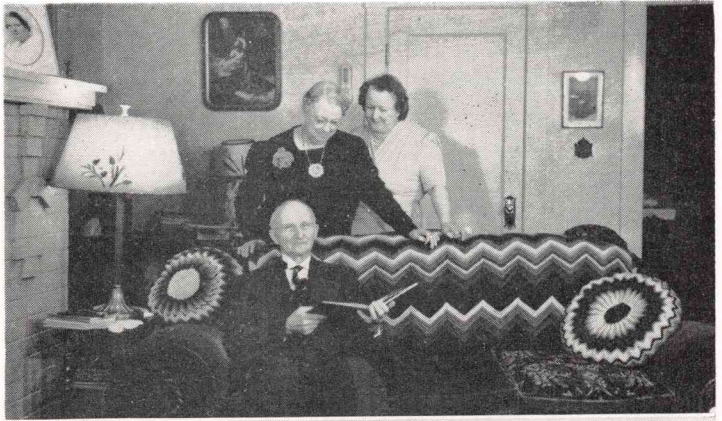

Soon after her marriage to A. B. Christenson in 1923 she received the light of the Full Gospel. At the opening of the Northwest Bible Institute she accepted the position of matron and since that time she has been sincerely devoted to the welfare of each student. She has proven to be one from whom wise counsel and Godly instruction can ever be obtained.

In the city of Grand Forks located on the banks of the Red River of North Dakota, a happy Norwegian family welcomed a baby girl into their home on October 25, 1908. Little did they realize that day what blessing and inspiration this daughter would bring to hundreds of lives, both young and old.

Immediately after finishing high school, Margaret Knutsson's zeal for souls led her to enter gospel work. She became affiliated with the North Dakota District Council and traveled in evangelistic work throughout the Dakotas and Montana, also serving as pastor's assistant in several assemblies. Among these were the churches in Hettinger and Bismark, North Dakota and in Great Falls, Montana.

In 1934 she came to Seattle and enrolled in the Northwest Bible Institute. Upon graduation three years later with the Pioneer Class, she returned to Montana to minister in the Great Falls Assembly of God church. She labored there for over a year, and then, under the auspices of the district council, went to Rugby, North Dakota, where meetings were conducted in the district's portable tabernacle. In 1939 Miss Knutsson came back to Seattle to be the Hollywood Temple church missionary. Some time later she accepted the position of Registrar and Practical Work Director in the Northwest Bible Institute. Since coming to Seattle she has been happily joined in matrimony to Mr. Wentzel Hansen.

Mrs. Hansen's spiritual life has been an example to us all, and we have learned to appreciate her efficient work among us.

Go Ye . . . BUT STUDY

“GOD’S WORD is the standard and the rule for Christianity. To know its meaning for ourselves, to rely on its promises, to trust in its Redeemer, to obey Him from delight of love, and to refuse to follow any other teaching is Christianity itself.”

The messenger’s chief thought should be, not of men’s approval, but of the approval of God. Although some aim at the applause of a crowded assembly as they minister the Word, the true messenger must study to approve himself and his ministry to God.

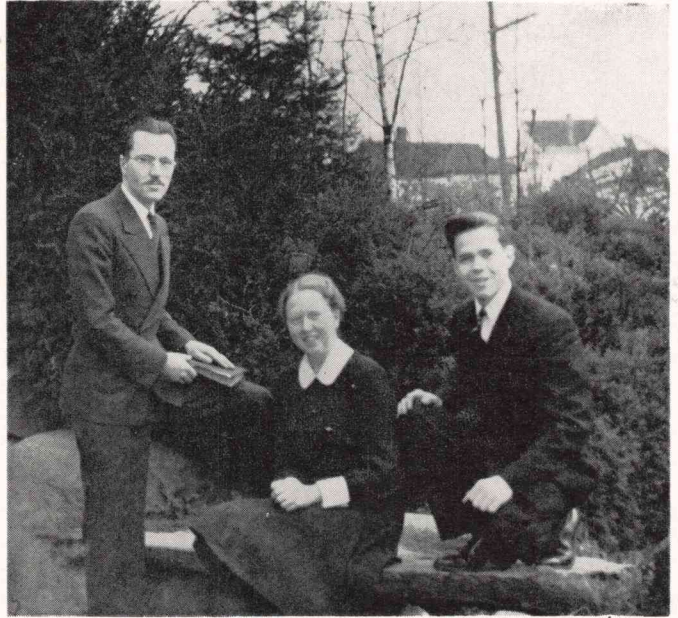

The only safety in these troublesome times lies in an unbroken communion with God and an experimental knowledge of the Scripture gleaned in hours of study.

Senior President's Message

Dear Fellow-Messengers:

"Come over into Macedonia and help us" was the soul-stirring cry that came to Paul. This plea for help from a land of spiritual dearth constituted Paul's call to take the message of salvation to them. "Come and help us" has been the motivating call which has prompted messengers throughout the centuries to take the Gospel to needy souls.

All around us men and women are passing into eternity without having made peace with God. With new forcefulness the call of God rings in our hearts as we realize that many are waiting for us to tell them that Jesus Christ is willing to lift their heavy burdens of sin and give them rest.

We have just completed three years of training and preparation under the guidance of Godly teachers. With this Christian background, we have before us a wider field of service and a greater responsibility in taking the message of salvation to those who are ready and willing to receive it.

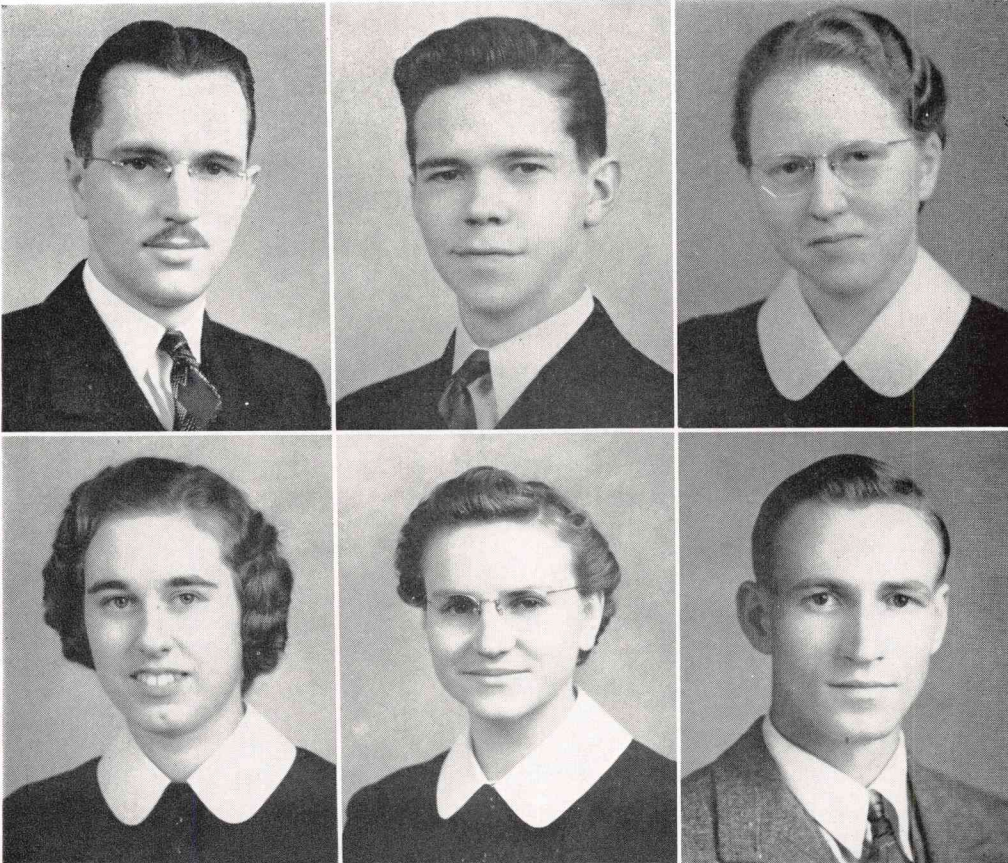

Messengers, my prayer is that each of us will be faithful in answering that God-inspired call, "Come and help us."

Yours in service,

Junior Class Message

We, the Junior class, pause at the close of our second year of privileged study at N. B. I. to reflect upon the past and to meditate on the future.

Our hearts are made glad as we recall the many bountiful blessings that we have received from the hand of our Heavenly Father. Many times classes have been set aside as we have experienced glorious outpourings and visitations of the Spirit of God. Invariably these times of soul refreshing have lifted our burdens and given new courage and determination.

To the world the future is vague and uncertain, but to us the outlook is bright as we claim the promises of God. We have confidence "that He which hath begun a good work in us will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ."

SPECIAL STUDENTS

One of the features in our curriculum at N. B. I. is the provision for special students. This arrangement makes possible the selection of subjects that are desired by students who are not privileged to enroll in regular classes. Some students who find it impossible to spend three years in preparation for Gospel service select practical subjects which may be handled with less expenditure of time and money.

Although this course is offered to accommodate those who cannot enroll in the regular work, it is not recommended for students who are able to take the standardized course.

Freshman Class Message

Another year has passed and the call of God has gone forth for more recruits to fill the ranks being vacated by the Messengers. The Master's call to service has been answered by more than a hundred new students who have turned deaf ears to the allurements of comfortable jobs and worldly careers during this period of prosperity.

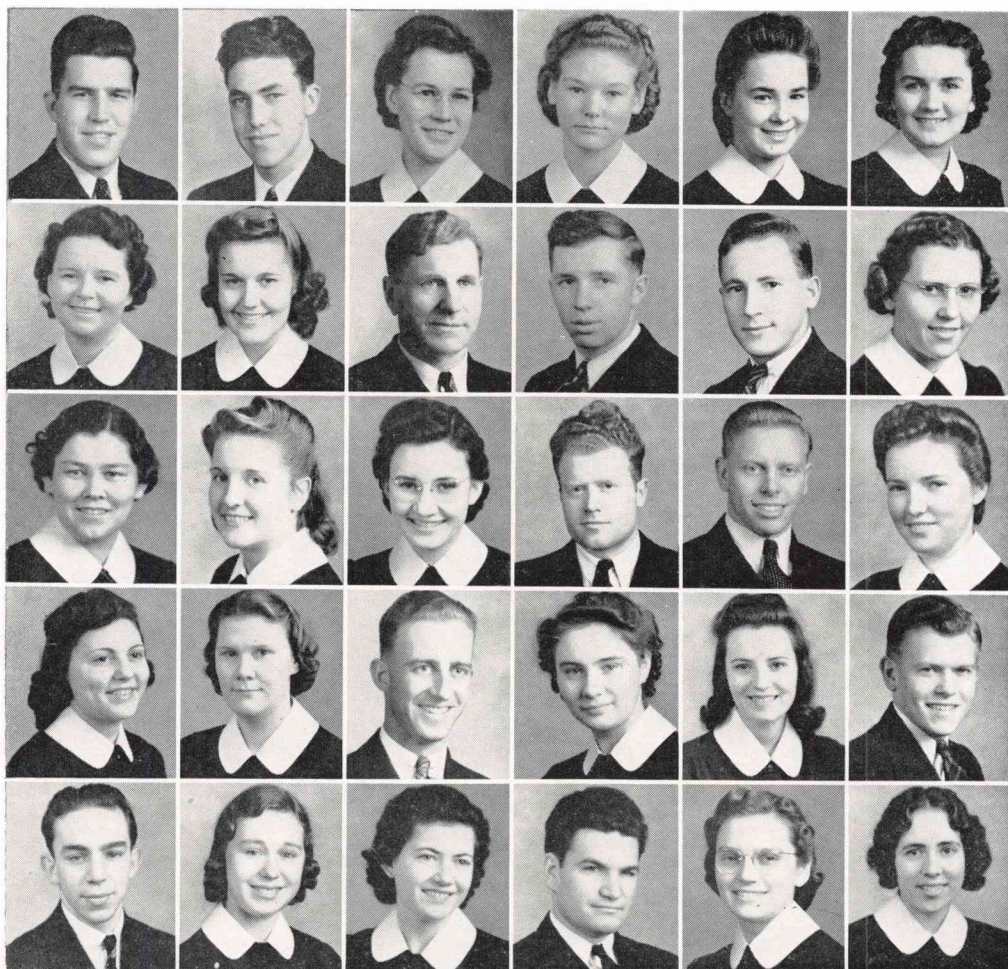

We are conscious of the high mark toward which we are striving, and we believe a thorough foundation in Bible School is God's way of preparing us for spiritual warfare.

With confidence in the strength of the Lord, we step forth in the power of His might to fill these ranks.

Seniors, our prayer for you is that God will bless and use you in His great harvest field, and make you true Messengers of the Cross.

THE KING'S MESSAGE

REV. J. A. BOGUE

One of the great fundamental doctrines of the Bible is repentance; yet it is one of the truths that many people do not understand. There are possibly more people in darkness concerning this important message than any other fundamental doctrine. Moreover, it was one of the great messages, if not the message of Christ.

No one is ready to receive the Gospel and be saved until he is willing to repent and turn from sin. John the Baptist had but one message until he met Christ, and that was, "Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Matt. 3:2. Then he added, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." John 1:29.

When Christ commenced His earthly ministry, he took up the same message, "Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Matt. 4:17. When He sent forth His disciples, He gave them the same message, "That men should repent—" Mark 6:12. After the resurrection and ascension, Jesus sent for the Holy Spirit, and we find Peter on the day of Pentecost raising the same cry, "Repent." It was this preaching of repentance and believing in Christ that brought such great results. Acts 2:38-47. When Paul went to Athens, he proclaimed, "God commandeth all men, everywhere, to repent." Acts 17:30.

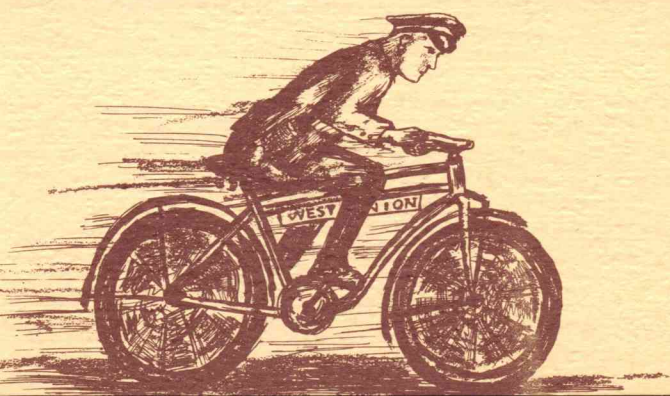

What is true repentance? It is laying aside every sin and turning to God with the whole heart. In short it means "right about face!" Turn away from the paths of sin which lead to hell and commence to walk in the path of righteousness which leads to heaven. Again, repentance means a change of the mind and purpose. It is the abandonment of all self-confidence, self-righteousness, and trusting entirely in the mercy and grace of Christ. Godly repentance and saving faith always go together. You need not worry about salvation and deliverance from sin if you believe in Christ.

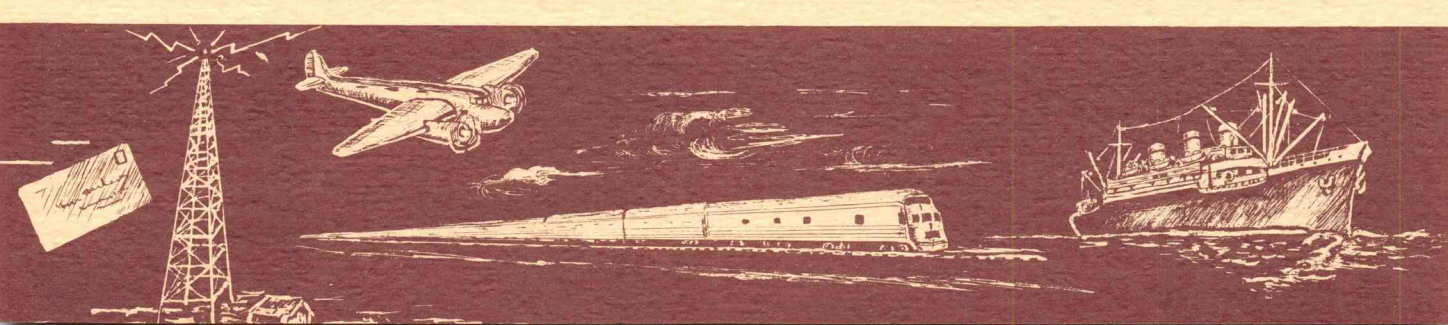

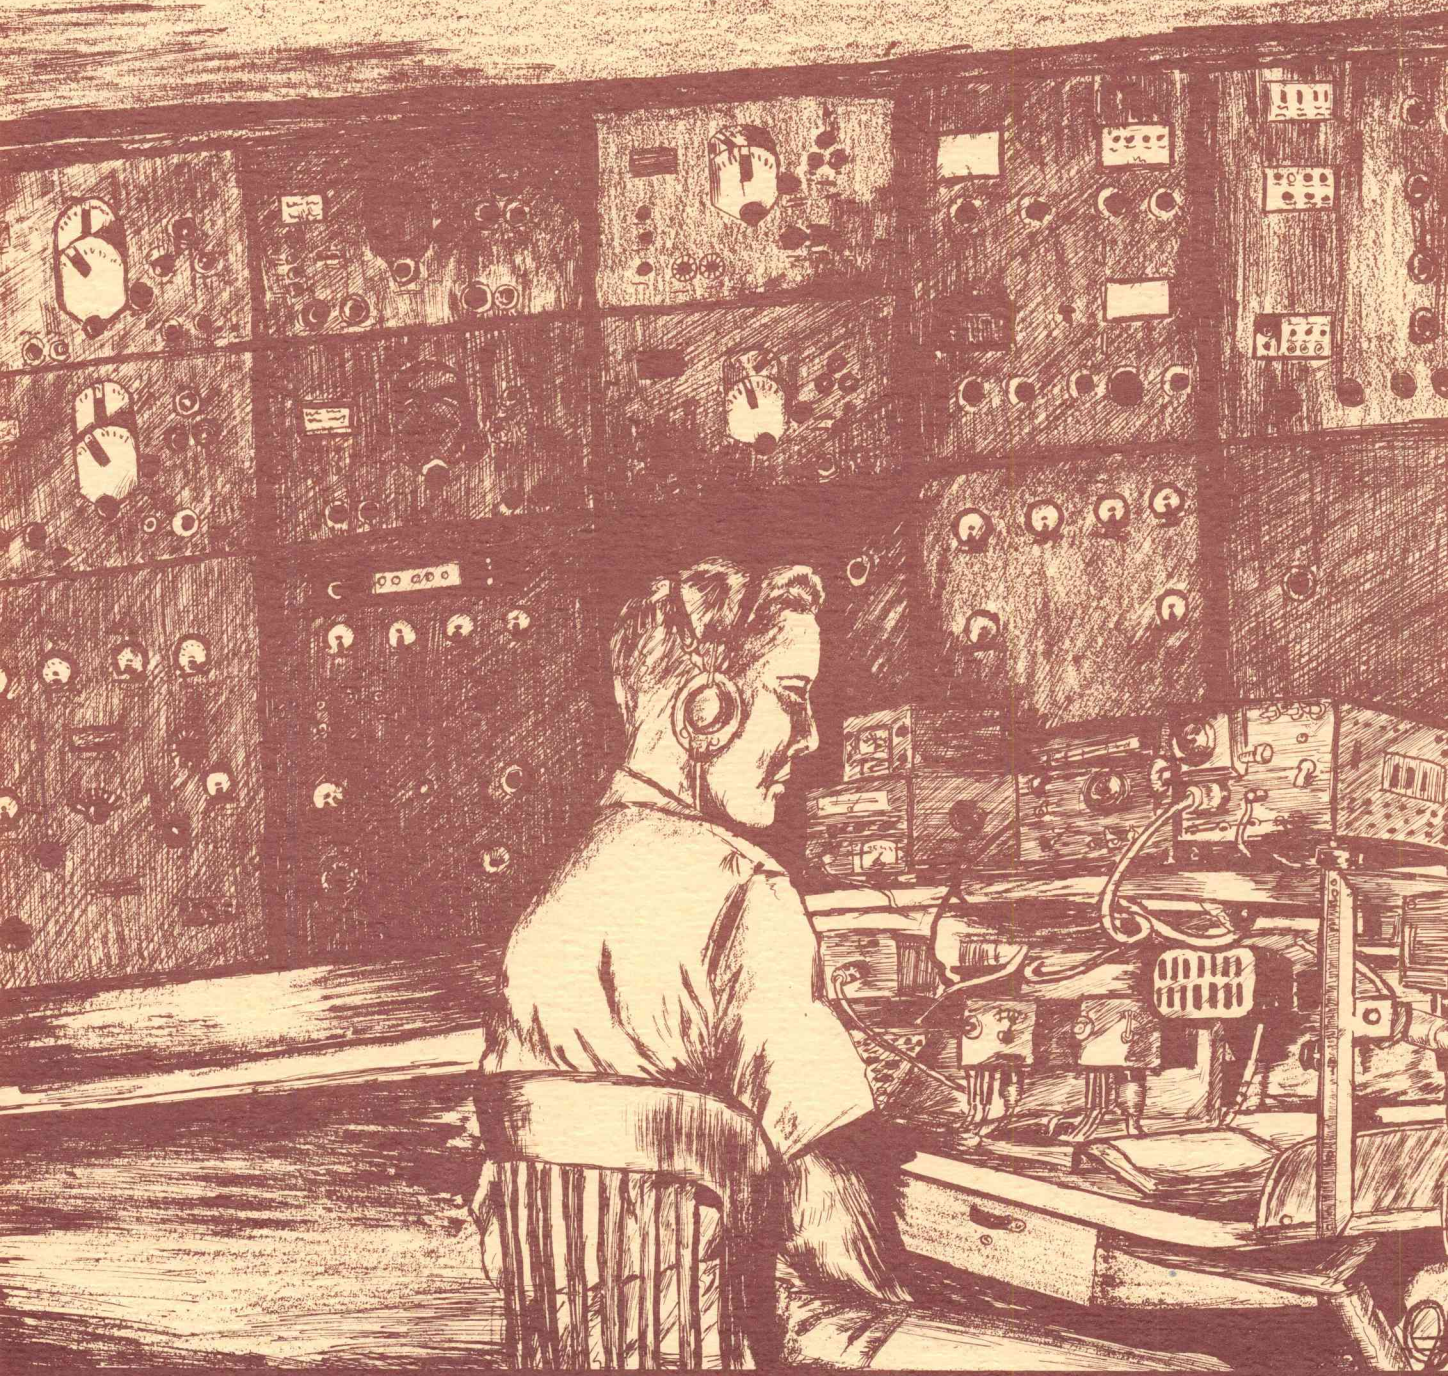

You may be in darkness and in the bondage of sin because you are not willing to repent. The Bible does not have any message of forgiveness unless you are willing to confess and forsake your sin. Bear in mind that this is the only day of mercy you will ever have. You can repent now and have that awful record of sin blotted out. God is seeking you and is patiently waiting for you to repent, that He may forgive you. The Message of the Bible clearly states that there is no repentance after death. You have time enough to repent and be saved now; you can turn from your sins this moment if you will.

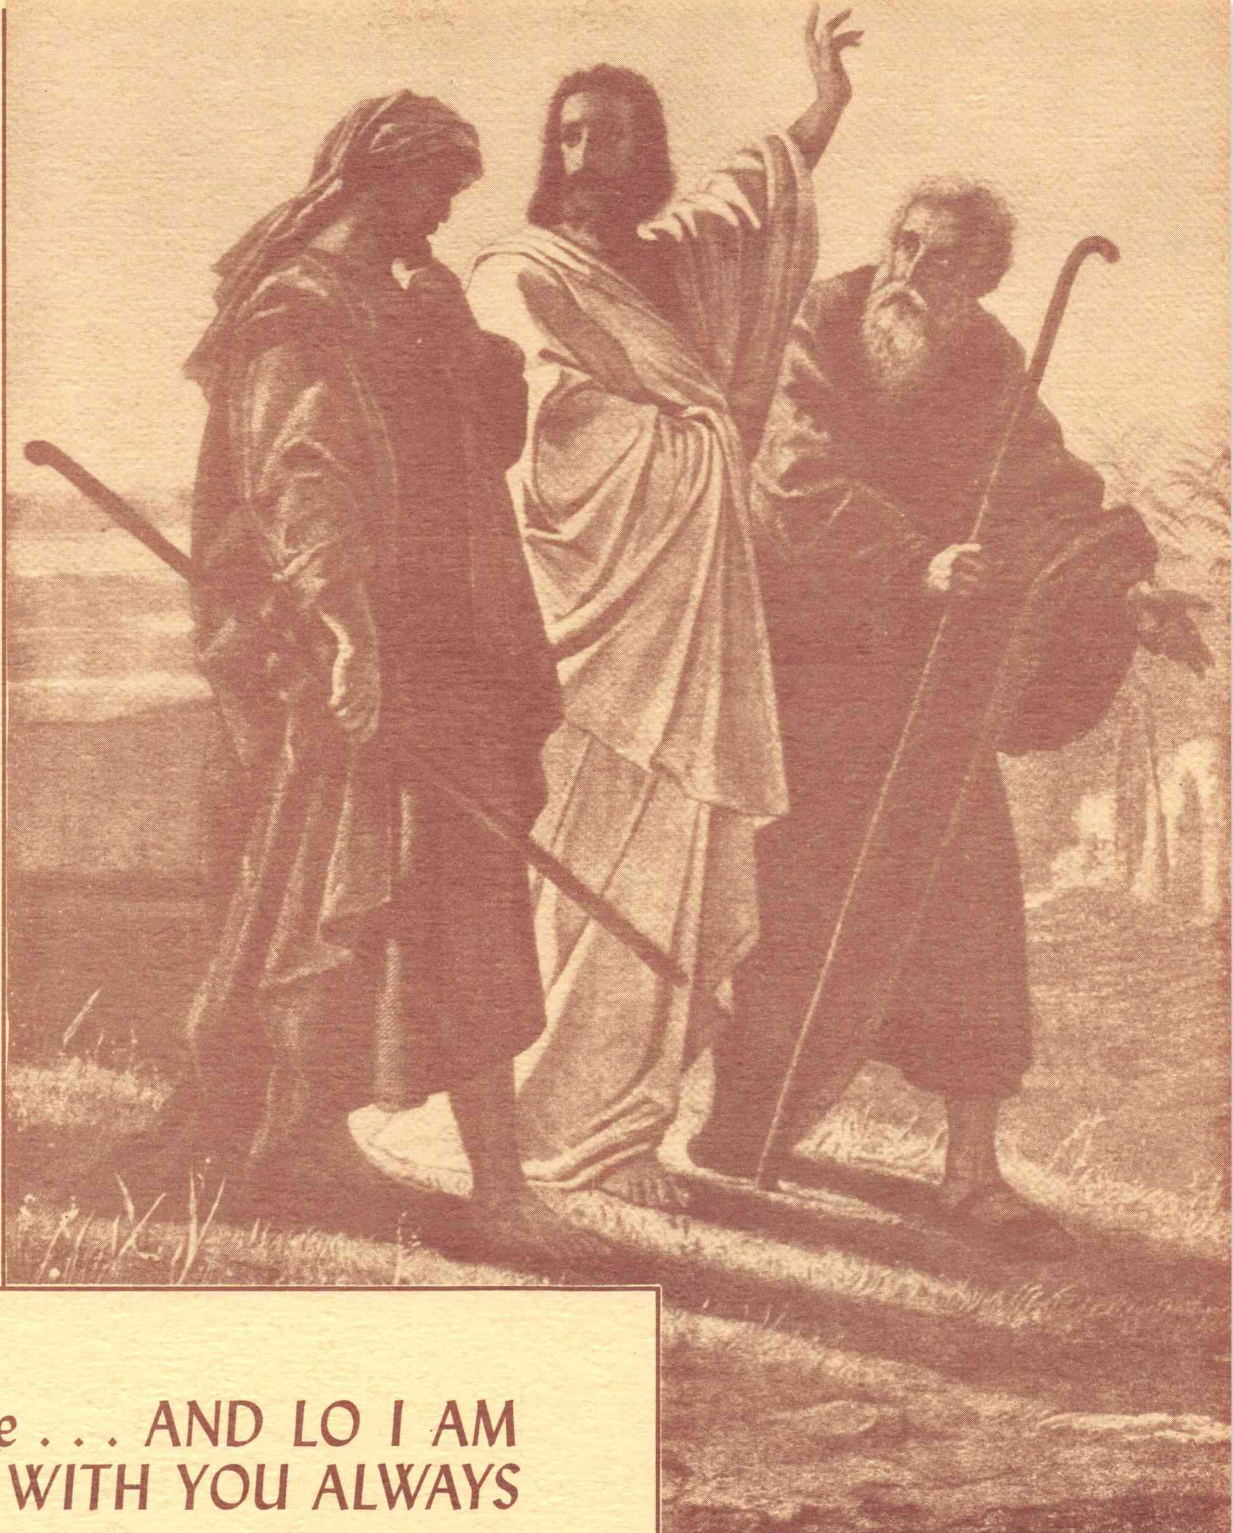

Christ said, "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance." Are you a sinner? Are you unsaved? Then this message of repentance is addressed to you. Acknowledge your guilt; say, like the publican of old, "God, be merciful to me a sinner!" and see how quickly He will forgive you. He will give you full assurance that you are ready to live or die. You will have joy unspeakable and full of glory. "Turn ye, turn ye, for why will ye die," is the message of your Redeemer.

ACTIVITIES

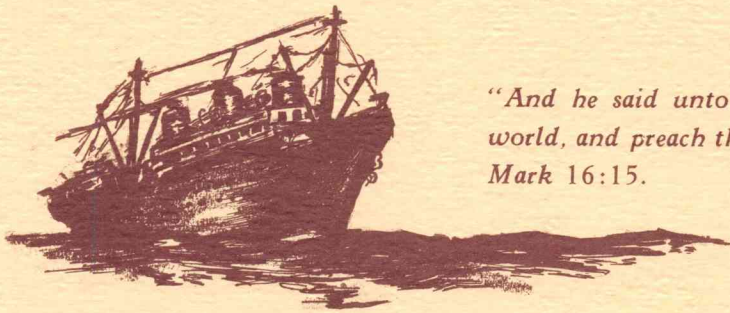

Go Ye . . . AND LO I AM WITH YOU ALWAYS

“THIS EXCEEDING great and precious promise is ushered in after implicit obedience to the Great Commission.”

For many years the disciples had trod the dusty roads of old Judea in company with the Christ. He knew that they were grieved with the thought of His soon departure and that fear of being left alone gripped their hearts. But grief and fear were dispelled as the risen Redeemer comforted them with these words, “Lo, I am with you always.”

This is an encouraging word to all the faithful messengers of Christ, that what was said to the apostles, was said to them all, “I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.”

Missionary

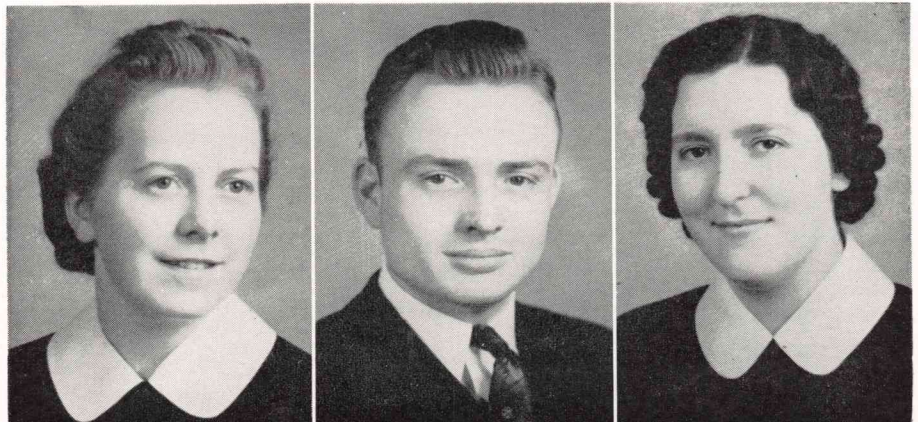

"The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."

This tragic picture of the backslidden tribe of Judah, though painted centuries ago, is an amazing view of the world in which we live. Such a condition stirs the heart of every missionary-minded Christian to greater efforts in behalf of the unsaved.

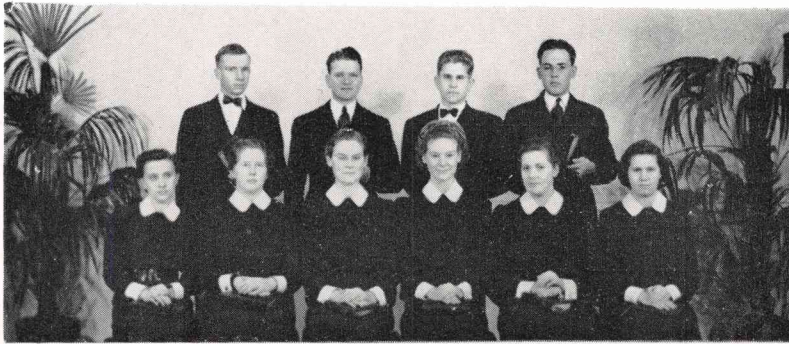

Our student body has been organized into eleven Missionary Prayer Bands in order to intelligently study the needs, possibilities, and difficulties confronting missionaries throughout the world. We are endeavoring to keep in contact with these missionaries, and are praying for God's richest blessing on their lives.

In previous years, projects such as scrapbooks and banners have been sponsored to promote a better understanding of missionary activity. During this past year we have collected some interesting articles from various fields.

At frequent intervals our student body has been privileged to hear inspiring lectures from returned missionaries. Through these special missionary services we have gained direct information concerning conditions on the fields. God has definitely touched our hearts, creating in us a desire to pray more fervently for an abundant harvest of souls.

at the microphone

Like a beam of bright golden sunlight radiating life, love, inspiration, hope, and joy into the despair of total darkness, the message of Christ and His love is wafted on the wings of the evening to bring hope and peace to all who will hear. As the soft, mellow strains of the studio organ are sent forth over the air, the Gospel in song and testimony is again broadcasted by the students of the Northwest Bible Institute.

The value of music as the language of persons from all walks of life is fully realized. But the greater opportunity is afforded students in proclaiming the Gospel of Jesus Christ in music over the radio. Our students, trained in the Institute Music Department, present the Gospel in music every Friday evening over radio station KJR.

The message reaches over the mountains to the East as far as Kansas City, Missouri, South to lower California, and Westward to the Hawaiian Islands and ships at sea. In the North we have regular listeners in the Yukon territory and Alaska. Even as God's all-seeing eye searches and knows the hearts of men, so has God's Word by ether waves pierced into regions almost inaccessible by any other means.

Above is a map showing the extent of our practical work activities. Our opportunities for Gospel work are not limited to the confines of the city of Seattle. During vacations and week-ends students sometimes travel within a radius of two hundred miles or more on assignments.

During Thanksgiving recess and on Thanksgiving Day special assignments have traveled to churches in the Yakima Valley and Centralia. At other times groups of students have gone to points in Southwestern Washington and on the Olympic Peninsula, and also east as far as the Wenatchee Valley.

Practical Work

"Therefore they that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the Word." Acts 8:4.

After tarrying and receiving the gift of the Holy Spirit, the believers could not be content to stay at home and revel in the joys of salvation, but went forth in the power of the Holy Spirit and proclaimed the saving grace of Christ our Lord. They "went everywhere preaching the Word," into streets, lanes, highways and hedges; we believe that the same responsibility is ours. We try to parallel our Christian experience with this marvelous example of missionary zeal and practical Christianity.

The following sketches give an insight into the different places where students herald forth the glorious gospel of Christ in message, song and testimony. CHURCHES—Our many Pentecostal churches and branch churches of the Hollywood Temple, together with numerous denominational churches, are open for the services of N. B. I. students.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS—One of the most important phases of Christian work is among the little ones of whom Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Each week our students reach boys and girls of all nationalities in the Sunday Schools in and around Seattle.

MISSIONS—Several missions in the downtown district welcome our young people to aid in conducting evangelistic services. Many wretched and unfortunate souls are delivered by the power of Christ from drunkenness and despair to become earnest Christians and respectable citizens.

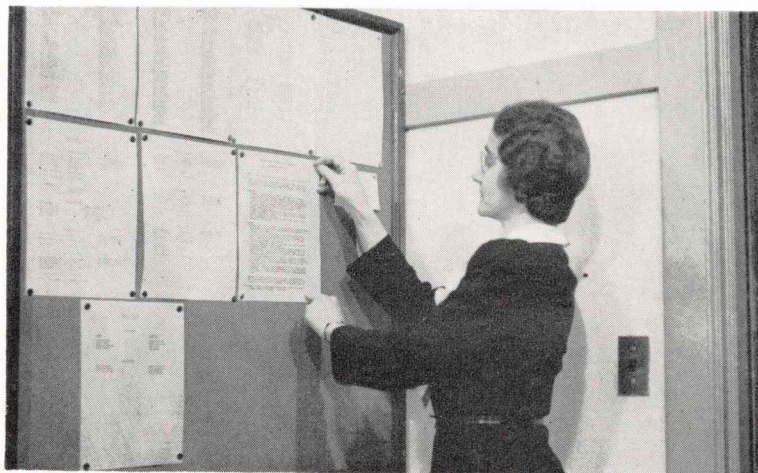

STREET MEETINGS—Many street meetings are held by the students in the downtown section of Seattle. In this way large numbers of people, who never would enter a church or mission, hear the Gospel and are led to the Saviour.

HOSPITALS—Even today, pain-filled bodies are relieved and fevered brows soothed by the nail-pierced touch of the Christ of Galilee as students, filled with the love of this same Jesus, move about on errands of mercy in hospitals of this district. "The Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him" is the good news spread abroad in this ministry to the sick and afflicted.

PARENTAL SCHOOL—Twice a month our students are privileged to visit the Mercer Island Boys Parental School. Here they combine forces with other Christian workers in bringing the Gospel of Christ to these under-privileged youths.

JAILS—Each week students carry the light of the Gospel to hundreds of men and women who sit in shadows of sin far more cruel than the shadows cast by the steel bars of the City and King County Jails of Seattle. Many of these souls have been triumphantly set free from the bondage of sin by the power of Jesus' blood.

MUSIC

Music opens the door to a richer and fuller life. Living in a mechanistic social order such as we do, and in an age of strife and turmoil, music awakens sympathy and quiets a ruffled spirit. Who would suggest that music does not militate against melancholy, gloom and distress? Its unseen force stimulates faith, courage and hope.

Music was born in the heart of God countless ages before mankind was created. Man's original and only use of music was in divine worship. However, mankind has departed from his intended relationship with God and the divine gift of music has been used for other purposes.

The Psalmist says, "Sing unto him a new song; play skillfully with a loud noise." Jesus came into a dejected world that had lost its song, and on Calvary's cross He gave us a new song which is still growing in majesty and power! Indeed, a Christian who has a definite knowledge of sins forgiven cannot repress a triumphant song of victory.

Our aim is not to become professional musicians, but to gain a love and appreciation of good music, as well as a better working knowledge of the art, that we might glorify our Saviour and herald the message of salvation.

DORMITORY LIFE

Students who reside in the dormitories are privileged to enjoy a certain Christian fellowship which is not to be had elsewhere. These students learn to live together, to share and sacrifice for one another.

Before and after school hours the dormitories are the center of activity. Meals are prepared and served in family style, and everyone has a share in the consequent work which is involved.

Precious times are enjoyed during the morning and evening worship hours as the groups of students meet together voluntarily to study the Word and to pray for the varied needs represented by each individual. Since the students have realized the value of the words found in Galatians 6:2: "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ," many victories have been won and God's name has been glorified.

LIFE WITH THE STAFF

Prayerful and strenuous labors! Few words could more efficiently describe the activities of the annual staff. Letter and copy-writing, patient photography, endless paneling, numerous errands and the handling of business details are all in a day's work. The staff, composed of thirteen students, has spent many long hours during the year producing the 1942 "Messenger" with the hope that you will enjoy it, and with the prayer that the message of the redeeming love of Christ will be made plain to all.

It was not an easy job, but a truly gigantic task, demanding unlimited patience, good nature, and willingness to give wholeheartedly several hundred hours to diligent duty. Starting without delay in November, a campaign was opened urging the students to have their pictures taken before the deadline date. Meanwhile, the staff began to organize into efficient machinery which would produce the "Messenger" by the first of April.

Taking pictures of musical combinations, practical work activities, and committees accupied the winter months; and early in the spring came the task of photographing the students for the choir, orchestra, and missionary groups. Many informal shots of student life were added to make our finished book live before you. This being completed, there loomed the task of editing the articles and prayerfully compiling each word of the message. After a final proof-reading and re-checking, the completed copy was submitted to the printer.

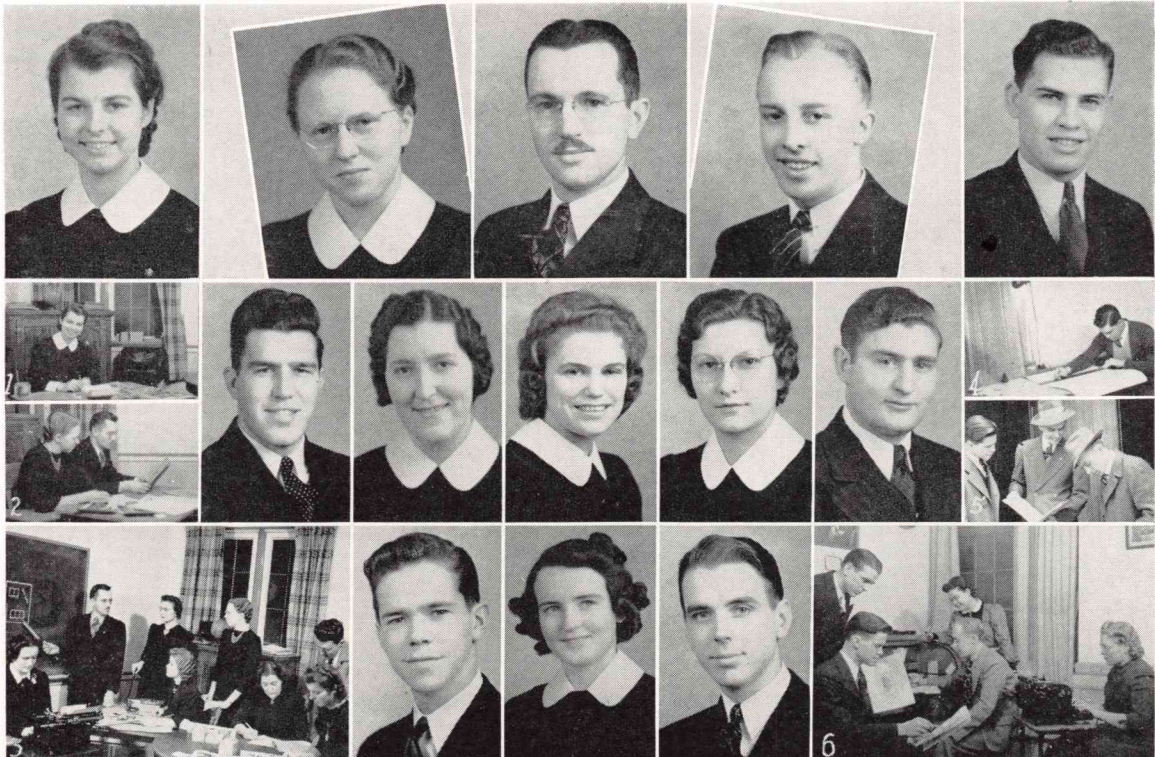

"An anual without art would be like gladness without a smile." Our artist has labored with prayer and earnest effort to brighten the pages and vividly describe the theme of the book.

Every hour of our "hidden ministry" has been a lasting pleasure as we have looked forward to presenting this book to you. Its publication marks the completion of the sixth year-book of N. B. I. We have tried to vividly portray our school life to you, but our supreme desire is that the message of Christ might live forever in the lives of all who read these pages.

On February 19, 1937, the first graduating class of N. B. I., the Pioneers, officially organized their class for the purpose of forming an Alumni Association. Their object was to promote Christian fellowship among graduates and former students and to cooperate in advancing the interests of the school.

They elected as officers, Harry Pennington, President; Margaret Knutsson Hansen, Vice-president; and Irene Langdon, Secretary-Treasurer. In 1938 the fifty-seven members of the Conquerors' class were combined with the Pioneers to form the embryo of the present Alumni organization. In the absence of Harry Pennington, Velmer Gardner was chosen Alumni President in 1939 and has filled that office until the present time. Bessie Guy and Janet West have served in succession as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Alumni Association keeps in contact with the interests and activities of its members by semi-annual publications of the Alumni News. Once a year those Alumni who are not laboring in foreign mission fields or distant home missions come together for a picnic and a time of fellowship, combined with a business session. God's blessing has been upon these meetings and the Association has been strengthened. At present there are two hundred sixty-one members, in addition to many associate-members.

As graduates of N. B. I., we welcome you, Messengers, into our Alumni Association. Great is the task before us, but we have a Great Commander who said, "Occupy till I come." With one accord let us work in the power of His might, for soon we shall hear those precious words, "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

Yield to Me your all.
Give to Me your time, your life,
The days are speeding by;
Soon your service will be ended;
Messengers! Heed the Master's cry.

As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful Messenger to them that send him.

Prov. 25:13.

VOICE of WORSHIP

He Cometh!

"Behold, He cometh!" Lift your head,
Redemption draweth nigh;
That One Who suffered in your stead,
Ascended now on high,
Who doth your sorrows feel,
Himself will come, God's Holy One,
Who died, Who lives, the Father's Son
All glory to reveal.

Doth not this overwhelming thought
Your every sorrow drown,—
That richest grace shall yet be brought,
When He Who cometh down,
With all His angel-train,
Will all His sleeping ones awake,
And all His waiting ones will take
With them, to share His reign?

BARTELL'S BRING OUT THE BEST IN YOUR

SNAPSHOTS!

All the care in taking pictures is wasted if your snapshots do not receive proper treatment. Bartell's modern temperature controlled equipment insures scientific development and printing. A staff skilled in camera technique sort and grade your film for the proper finishing paper to be used, each type of film requiring a specific grade of paper. Thus snapshots may be slightly under or over exposed yet are automatically corrected in the Bartell laboratories. Bartell's bring out the best . . . the detail . . . in even a novice's pictures.
