"The Boys Next Door"

When one thinks of neighbors, perhaps the picture that comes to mind is that of an elderly lady watering her flowers, or a family who is constantly bringing in the groceries, or a little boy who rides his tricycle up and down the driveway. Instead, "The Boys Next Door" focuses on the everyday life of four developmentally disabled men who live together in a group home. Says Professor Lisa Peretti, "it all revolves around human dignity and realizing how these people are usually so marginalized."

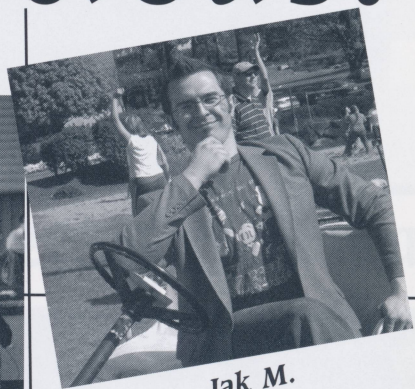

The all-star cast of Brandon Clark, Heather Cook, Stephanie Epp, Glenn Settle, Matt Welk, Justin Chu, Jesse Bryan, Neil Allendar, Amy Oliver, Katie Valnes and Jeremy Schweder do an excellent job of portraying the different sides of life facing each of the characters.. Student director, Stephanie Epp, says "Mostly we want people to come and see that developmentally disabled are human, too, and each have a dignified life, despite their handicaps."

Chris Judd

Rock-o-licious creator Jak Moroshan had a couch-littered amphitheater in mind when developing a first of its kind, low-key, music and people fest at Northwest College. Several bands from Northwest, as well as Seattle Pacific University took center stage playing set after set as students lingered into the evening hours welcoming yet another excuse to put studying off just one more day.

of the earth...

A hallmark of the Buntain School of Nursing program is a cross-cultural course taken in the final semester of the senior year. Students are required to participate in a month-long nursing and ministry immersion experience that requires effectiveness in a cultural setting different than one's own. This year, Northwest College sent twenty-three students to one of four locations: Alaska, India, Taiwan, or Zimbabwe.

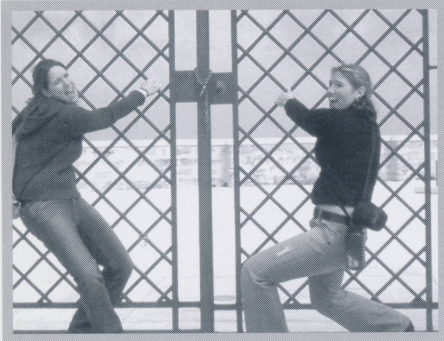

Spring Break Trip Italy

Brave Northwest College staff members Andrea Ide and Nathan Moser accompanied several NC students on the trip of their lives.

“It’s always tough to leave what you love. I love coaching and I love the student-athletes I have coached. It’s even harder to leave something you created from nothing, but a constant in life is change and with change comes the opportunity for growth. I don’t know what God has planned for me next, but I look forward to rising to the challenge. I will greatly miss the student-athletes in the Cross Country and Track programs and am immensely proud of what we all have accomplished over these past ten years...it has really been remarkable. Academically, socially, spiritually and athletically I could not have asked for better people to work with. It is the reason we have achieved so much success here. I thank my athletes for allowing me to be a part of their lives and for them being a part of the life of my family. It has made a tremendous impact on my life. Thank you and God bless!!!”

ASB presents...

Marissa Camp and Catherine Lewis get all dolled up for Banquet.

Phil and Brenda Rasmussen greet students upon their arrival to the Stadium.

Kari Thomas, Rebecca Mar and Rose Hall, each adorned with shawls, make a classy entrance at Banquet.

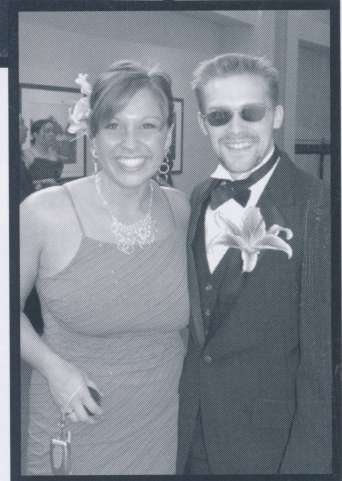

"Downtown"

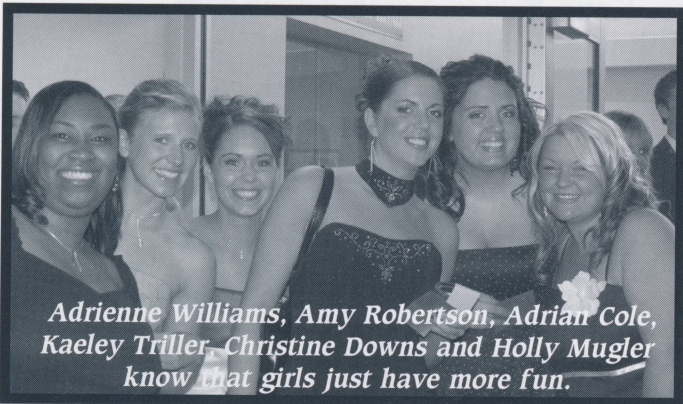

A surprised Dan Hickman gets a pat on the back from wife Colleen as he is chosen as the yearbook dedication recipient.

A time-honored tradition of Banquet is the revealing of the yearbook dedication. In recognition of faithful service to the development of Christian community at Northwest College, the Karisma yearbook staff dedicated the 2003-2004 yearbook to RLS Director, Dan Hickman.

Delta Tau

The Delta Tau Faculty Honor Award, presented to Faculty Emeritus Dr. Dwaine Braddy, recognizes noteworthy contributions of services and resources to the development of Northwest College.

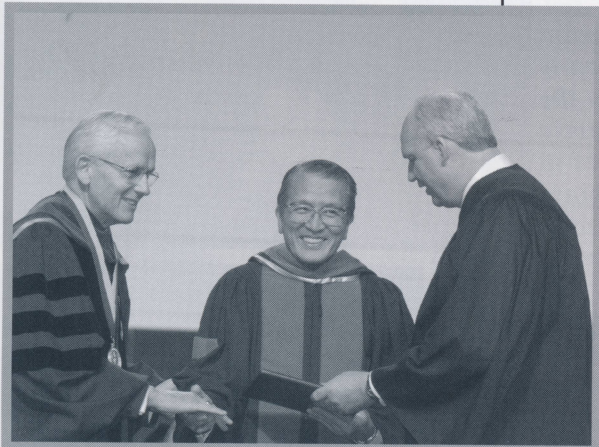

5 Memorable Points from Chancellor Kraiss

1. It never rained before Noah built the Ark.
2. Turtles and cheetahs traveled at the same speed in the Ark.
3. Engineers built the Titanic; Noah built the Ark.
4. The storm on the outside wasn't as dangerous as the two wood peckers on the inside.
5. There may be violent storms, but every storm ends, and with out a storm, there is no rainbow.

*Student Speaker,
Christina Reasner*

Student address speaker, Christina Reasner, was chosen by fellow graduates and faculty to speak at Graduation. She graduated Magna Cum Laude with a BA in Communication and wishes to pursue studying business and politics. Since graduation, Christina has been crowned Miss Alaska and will compete in the Miss America Pageant. We wish you the best, Christina!

President's Award

Dr. J. Melvyn Ming is congratulated by President Argue and Reverend Les Welk as he receives recognition for significant service and contribution. Dr. Ming serves as the Executive Director of Pastoral Development and Care for the Northwest Ministry Network of the Assemblies of God.

Sigma Chi Pi

Sigma Chi Pi is an honor society established for graduates of endorsed Assemblies of God colleges. Taken from Romans 12:8, the name means "Diligent Christian Leaders". The faculty of Northwest College choose their selections from graduates and alumni exhibiting outstanding academic scholarship, approved Christian character and recognizable achievement in leadership, service or vocation.

Twelve Northwest graduates accept Sigma Chi Pi awards.

Northwest Classic - Providing scholarships for Students

Editor's Note...

The Karisma Staff hopes "One Body, Many Parts" showcases the variety of working parts at Northwest College that individually and collectively contribute to the body of Christ. Karisma yearbook attempts to capture and archive the people and events that make each facet of student life unique.

A portion of your student activity fees makes the production of Karisma possible and therefore, YOUR yearbook! Your contributions are encouraged to help Karisma portray an accurate representation of each year.
