11220 Building Access

Over the next several months, contractors will be completing remodeling work on the 11220 building. While the impact will be minimal, some entrances to the building may be blocked and restrooms may be inaccessible while work is in progress. Signs will be in place to redirect you should you need access to the building or the Eagle Fitness Center during these times. Questions about this work can be directed to Steve Sankey, Director of Campus Planning and Construction.

Midnight Breakfast

All students are welcome at the Midnight Breakfast on Monday, May 3 from 10p-midnight in the Caf. No meal plan required! There will be drawings for door prizes, and faculty and staff will be helping you load up on your carbs before the studying marathon begins.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Kyle Wall, Laura LoPresto, Kristi Bramono, Jack Petersen, Brandon Screen, and Justin Turner for their 3rd place finish in the 4th Annual Seattle Pacific University Social Venture Competition. They were among 24 students that represented Northwest University at the competition. They competed against over 20 teams from SPU and impressed both their faculty and administrators with their professionalism and sound business skills. Their project, called Direct Drug Solutions, focused on pharmaceutical delivery for the elderly.
