ELF Christmas Party

Friday, December 7th | 8:30 pm in the HSC

This annual tradition just got even more exciting because this year's theme is the movie Elf! Christmas crafting, ugly sweater competition, cookie decorating, gingerbread house building, photobooth, and so many more exciting things that you won't want to miss it! And did we mention that all the attendees on the Christmas Party Facebook Event will be entered to win a $25 Starbucks card??

Chapel to Honor Fall Graduates

Midnight Breakfast! Monday, December 10th | 10:00 pm — Midnight!

Twas the night before Finals, and all through NU
Not a student was stress-free (not even a few)...
When all through the Caf there arose such a clatter –
Professors with pancakes all piled on a platter!

Don't miss out on this tasty late night study break for all NU undergrads! Let faculty and staff serve you "breakfast", win raffle prizes, hang out with the NU Eagle & take a short breather before returning to cramming.

Don't forget about your books!

Rented textbooks must be returned during finals week
Purchased textbooks may be sold back (get cash!) during finals week
Textbooks for Spring Semester can be purchased online during Christmas break.

Cold Weather Safety

Please be sure to click here to read important information about cold weather plans at NU! Also, check out our winter safety driving tips:

- Most tires are considered all-season tires; if you see an M and/or S on the tire's sidewall, it is rated for Mud and/or Snow. Consider winter tires, which use unique tread patterns to better grip the road.
- Don't use cruise control in snow or ice; always be in full control of your acceleration and deceleration.
- Allow plenty of room to stop, and don't slam on the brakes. Braking gently will allow your wheels to have time to react.
- Low gears can help your vehicle maintain traction, especially when you are on hills.
- Lastly, if the conditions seem too harsh to go out in, don't go out in them.
