exposing the hidden thoughts that destroy us

health & science center hallway

february 24-march 1, 2014

brought to you by Residence Life & Psi Chi club

When we begin to tell our secrets we invite others around us to do the same. How do you feel about your body? What secret messages and lies have you been telling yourself?! People want to know that they are not alone. "What one person thinks is his or her deep secret is mine too. Just knowing someone out there has this going on can be helpful."

Let's DARE to create a space for people to be honest, confess, and at the same time feel like they're not the only ones out there.

Look for envelopes on your door with more information about how to write down a secret, where to turn them in and where they will be posted.
