

Dear NU Family,

As this week begins, I would like to draw your attention to Northwest University’s first annual Faith and Society Speaker Series, featuring Richard McClure and Sharon Buchanan-McClure (pictured below). They will be part of three events this Wednesday: chapel services, a student forum, and an evening session (Spiritual Life credit offered for all). At an incredibly timely moment in our nation’s history, their topic is “Why Ferguson Matters”. In keeping with President Castleberry’s email to us all last week, I encourage you to join the community of San Diego in prayer as they lament last week’s shooting and work towards reconciliation in the racial tensions surrounding the situation. Our nation has a long way to go and many honest conversations to have, and I believe that prayer and genuinely loving people is always a good place to start.
