Dear Friends,

Welcome to Cincinnati Bible College & Seminary, home of the Golden Eagles and host of the 1991-1992 NCCAA Division II National Basketball Tournament.

For 68 years CBC&S has been a leader in educating young men and women for Christian life and service. Just as Jesus grew in "wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men" (Luke 2:52), our programs of study and campus life, as well as the programs within the schools represented by the NCCAA, are designed to encourage our students to grow mentally, physically, spiritually, and socially. The young men and women involved in the athletic programs of the NCCAA represent student bodies from around the United States who are preparing to make their lives count for Christ and for His Church.

Nothing pleases us more than to welcome friends of the National Christian Collegiate Athletic Association to our campus. We hope you will always feel at home at Cincinnati Bible College & Seminary. Enjoy the tournament.

God Bless You,

C. Barry McCarty, Ph.D.
President

1991 TOURNAMENT SUMMARY

The 1991 Division II National Tournament was highlighted by spirited competition and tight finishes. In both the Division II tourney, as well as the newly inaugurated Division IIA tourney, close finishes and overtime contests were the norm rather than the exception. In Division II, Kentucky Christian College, the eventual Champions, barely survived the first round defeating Central Bible 64-61. Central Bible, the sixth place finisher then barely escaped the consolation round by defeating eventual eighth place finisher Moody Bible 108-106 in overtime. These tight scores show how closely contested and evenly matched the eight participants were as five points were all that seperated first from eighth. All the schools that participated, Northwest College, Central Bible, Kentucky Christian, Maranatha Baptist, Baptist Bible, Southeastern, Jimmy Swaggart Bible, and Moody Bible Institute, were well deserving of the honor of participating in the tournament and left all they had on the court. Congratulations to them all as they continued the combination of athletic excellence and Christian character that exemplifies the NCCAA.

The Division IIA tournament, a new tournament in the NCCAA which highlights those schools with an enrollment of less than 200, was even more closely contested than the Division II tourney, if that can be believed. Out of the four contests two were decided by one point and another by just eight. In the battle for third place Hillsdale Freewill Baptist squeaked by Grace 78-77 and in the Championship contest Miami Christian barely outlasted Atlanta Christian 72-71. Just as in the Division II tournament these four participating schools have much to be proud of not only in their effort during the games but of the character and sportmanship that will provide a great foundation to build this smaller school tournament upon.

One thing is certain, for excitement and competition, the 1992 National Championships here in Cincinnati have much to live up to. Good luck to all the participants and may our Lord Jesus Christ be glorified!

LUTE OLSON, UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA "We have found the ball to be of great value in ball-handling and shooting. The concentration that has resulted has improved our play considerably."

JIM CORRONA, CINCINNATI BIBLE COLLEGE "THE BIGBALL helps poor shooters find proper shooting form and helps good shooters maintain it. Passing, dribbling, catching, ball-handling and rebounding will also improve by using THE BIGBALL"

TERESA GREUTZ, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY, 1992 OLYMPIC WOMEN'S BASKETBALL COACH "Whether practicing shooting, ball-handling, rebounding, post moves or any other part of the game, the woman's BIGBALL will have a profound effect. It may have a greater influence on the women's game than the move to the smaller game ball."

GENE KEADY, PURDUE UNIVERSITY "When you use it enough, the regular-size ball seems like a marble. It's amazing."
