praise the lord,
all ye nations:
praise him,
all ye people.

LORD,
make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
And where there is sadness, joy.

dedication

We, the Karisma staff on behalf of the student body, would like to dedicate this 1975-76 edition to Dr. Daniel Bruce Pecota. You have served in many capacities during your 18 years at N.C. A few of your jobs have been to be a professor of practical Theology, Theology, Greek and Bible. You have served as Dean of Students from 1964 to 1967; also the school Librarian and Basketball coach!

Dr. Dan, as addressed affectionately by his students, holds many degrees that enable him to lead, guide and teach his students. Among his degrees are: B.A. from Southern California Bible College; B.D., M. Div. and Th. M. from Fuller Theological Seminary; and D. Min. from Phillips University. Dr. Dan has enriched many of our lives by involving himself in the activities of the students. We have experienced changes in our lives from messages spoken from the pulpit as well as from his class lectures.

Dr. Pecota, your life has surely shown your students how to live richer, fuller lives through Christ. We thank you for giving your life to the students who come and go here at N.C. Thank you for taking time and caring about us.

PRAISE

Praise is becoming to the Christian, is "Comely to the upright!"
It is the language of heaven and is therefore appropriate to the character of the Christian.
Praise approves what God is doing. It says "Yes" to all that God brings to pass in one's life and is therefore the language of thanksgiving.
It says with faith that God is indeed making all things WORK for good!
Praise says condemnation is a "lie." It attacks the enemy at his weakest point with the Lord's strength, the enemy who would "accuse," test and seek to destroy.
Praise joins God's side in all false cases laid against the believer!
Praise invites the presence of God for, as the Psalmist said, "God inhabits the praises of His people."
Where God IS solutions abound!
To have His presence is to have His power!
To have His power is to have His victory!
To have His victory is to be free!

a dream comes true

Northwest College urgently needed its new library building. The present facility in the basement of Butterfield Chapel provided only 6,400 square feet of space and housed over 46,000 volumes and provided approximately 100 study positions for students. There was no more space for books! In fact additional shelves had been placed in the library for books, and chairs and tables were crowding out the students!

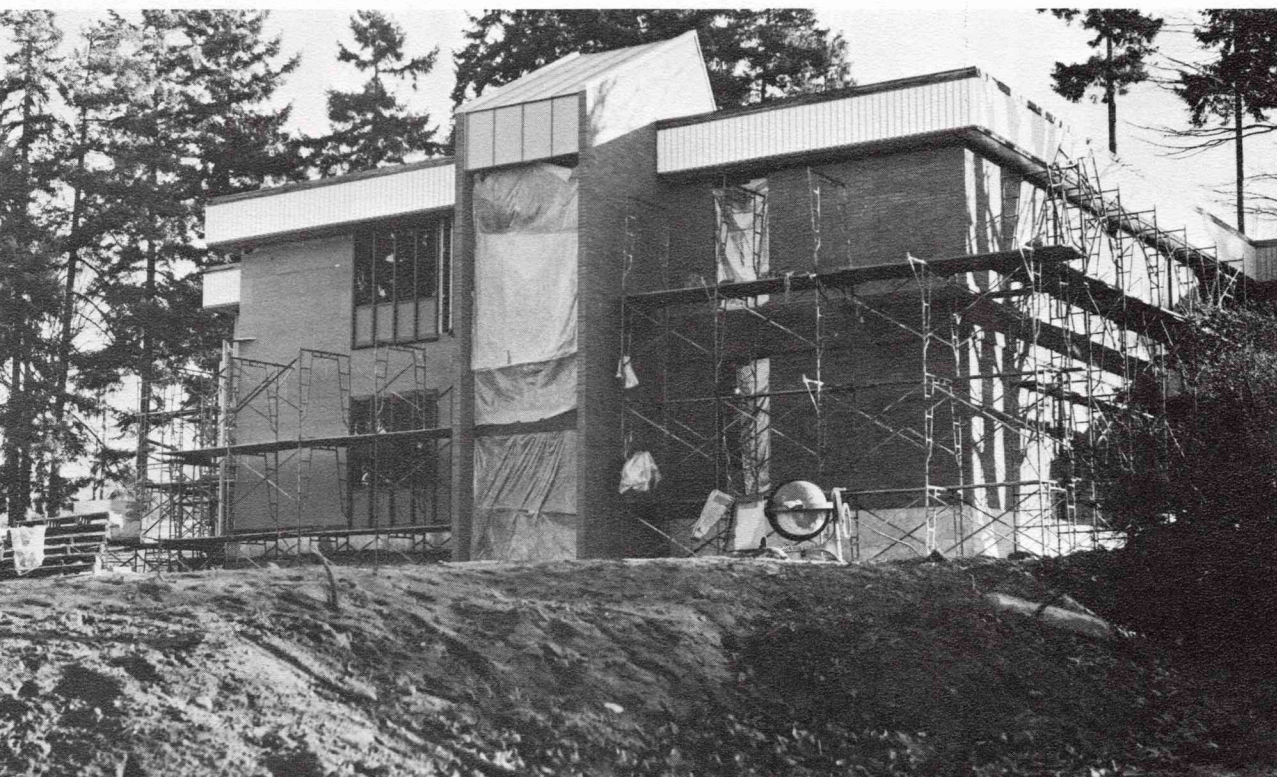

Two years of study, consultation, and planning went into the development of the new library. This was followed by two years of fund raising. Fund raising progressed well however, and the college was able to break ground one year early.

First plans called for three phases in the development of the building. Plans changed however and a three-story building was erected. Thus, the building has three floors of 8,100 square feet each, totalling 24,300 feet. The second and third floors will be fully finished, newly furnished and functioning in the fall quarter of 1976.

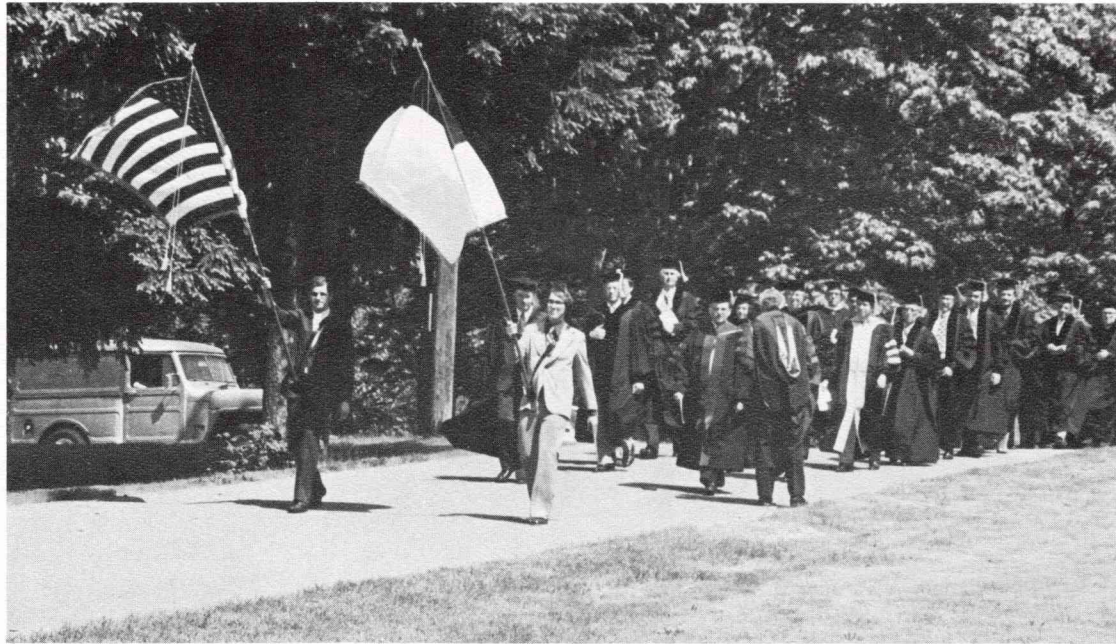

These two floors will house between 70,000 and 80,000 volumes, provide up to 200 study positions in a variety of settings-individual, group, lounge, reading, listening lab. It provides spacious audio-visual and technical processing areas as well as a conference room which will alternate as four group study rooms.

It's a traditional happening for the Sophomore class to present the fall Harvest Time Social. This year the theme was the "Red, White and Blue Revue." This was to include every era in American History. There was plenty of entertainment and lots to eat. Just ask those professors who were used as targets for flying pudding cups! (Thank you for your co-operation faculty.) There were hot dog stands, ice cream cones and gold mining booths. We enjoyed floor skits and singing. The evening was funfilled and relaxing. Steve Millin played his guitar and sang songs that ranged from hand-clapping-foot-stomping-barn-burning style to nice and easy mellow music. For the great success of this years social we must say thank-you to each and everyone in the Sophomore class!

200 years of thanks

“Two-hundred years of Thanks” was an appropriate theme for the Thanksgiving Banquet as the United States swings into its bicentennial year. It was portrayed by having the cafeteria walls decorated with huge posters showing American life throughout the last 200 years. The banquet is annually sponsored by the Freshman class, directed this year by president Ernest DuToit. Master of ceremonies was Darrell Johnson. Servers were dressed in the costumes of the 18th century—George and Martha’s days.

Faculty, staff, and students joined in a mouth watering meal starting with Bing Cherry Nut Mold Salad, and continuing with Carrot Bread, Herb Dressing, Giblet Gravy and Mashed potatoes, Cranberry Relish, Cauliflower with White Cheese Sauce, Baked Marblehead Squash, Butterflake Rolls, and of course Roast Tom Turkey. The menu was topped off with pumpkin, mincemeat, or apple pie.

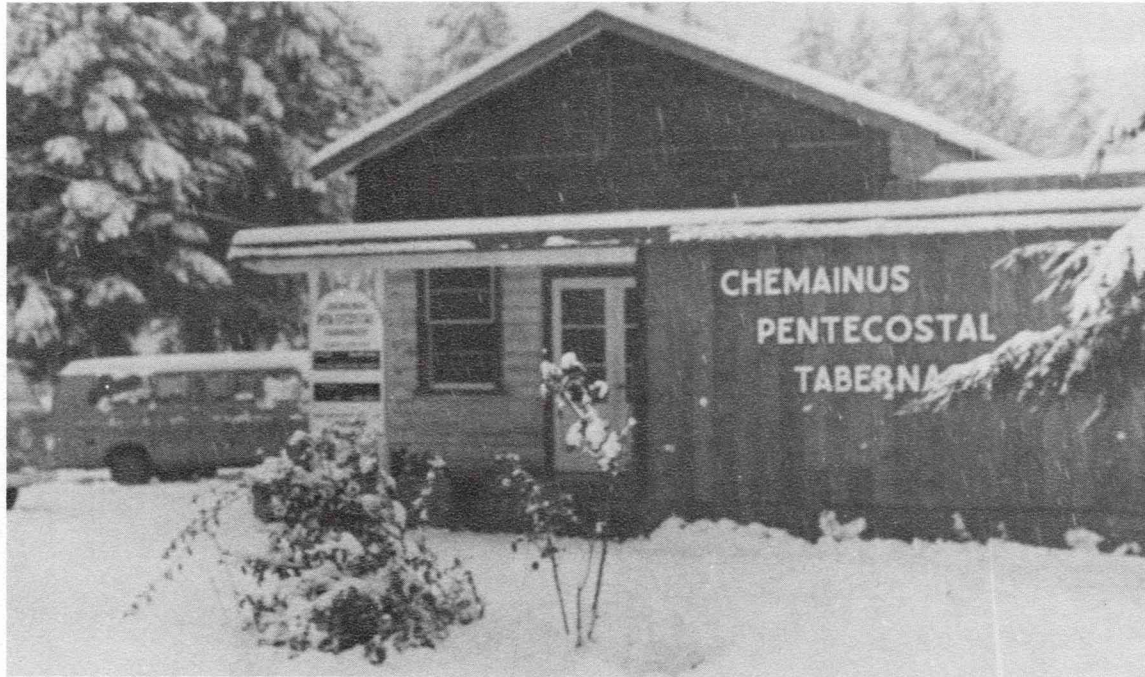

While being served, the guests were entertained by Jan Phillips who presented a monologue on “Cinderella,” by Sue Stewart, and Stan Simpson who sang. Guest speaker was Rev. Jim Davis who spoke on “Donut Holes!” The large turnout of people enjoyed a wonderful time of food, fellowship, and entertainment.

operation gobble-gobble

Operation Turkey is a tradition here at N.C. Every year at Thanksgiving students go in various teams to home mission churches that need help. This help ranges from outreach in the community to construction of buildings.

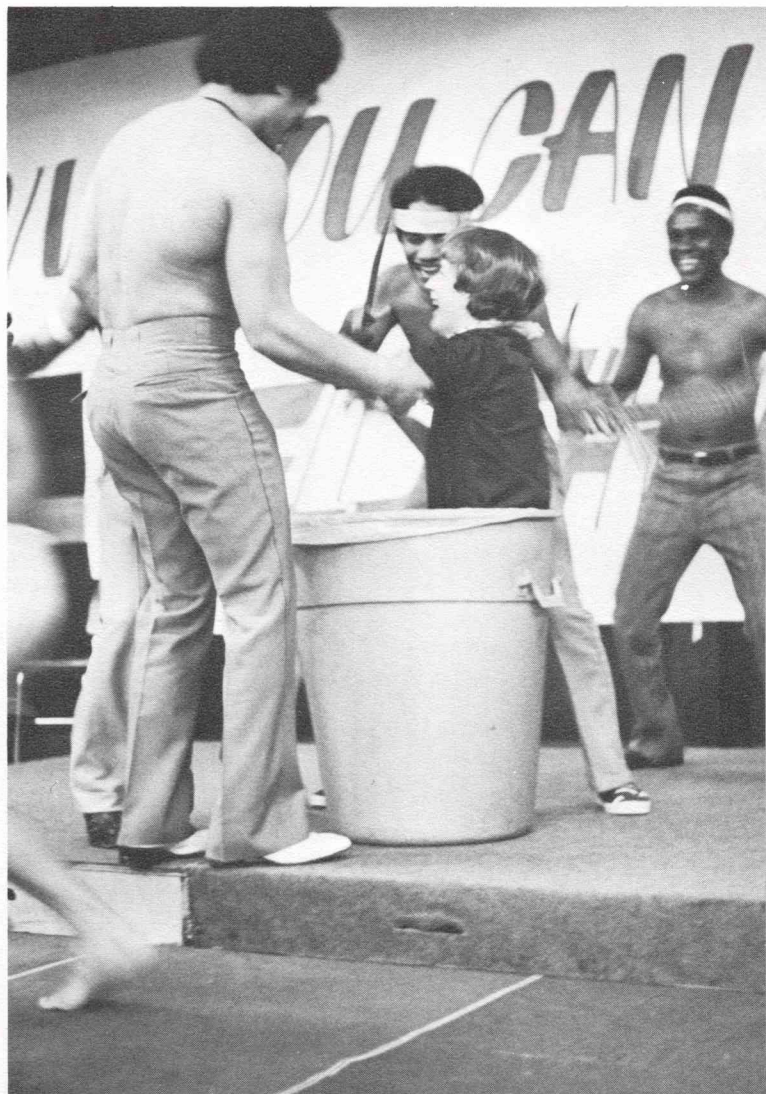

Three teams were sent out this year. Darrel Johnsen headed up the group to Silverton, Oregon. Those that went along were: Jackie Weaver, Gene Grunberg, Stan Simpson, Debbie Stewart, Debbie Roberts, Mark Ross. Keith Robertson led the group to Neah Bay, Wash. His group consisted of Mike Case, Terri Flood, Beverly Redhead, Rick Nelson, Jerry Springer. Marty Colvill led a group to Chemainus, Wash. Joyce Chase, Kandy Kennedy, Anders Paulson, Chuck Ruby, Dean Lincoln, Mark Kirkland and Carol Hearron made up this team.

"You Can Give, You Can Pray, You Can Go: Tell Them Now!"

The International Food Fair, which serves to introduce the week-long emphasis on missions, stressed the part each can have in sharing the gospel now! The food, costumes, souvenirs, many of which were provided by missionary Jim Davis, teaching missions, and entertainment brought the missionfield right into the campus. The skits, though hilarious and fun, as well as the music provided by Ruth Arneson and three young men from the Marshall Islands, dramatized missions and the many needs of the missionaries.

From the theme song "Far Away Across the Sea" sung by Janice Rice and her dolly, to the closing prayer by Rick Vickery, WOM Vice-Chairman and Master of Ceremonies the students were able to catch a new vision of missions.

The Far East was emphasized in the menu as students made the rounds for Won Ton Soup, Kim Chee and rice, shrimp chips, beef curry on rice, and an orange and Fortune Cookie. No one had any complaints when it was announced there were seconds for all!

The International Food Fair was planned and prepared under the direction of Rick Vickery and the Missions MIG. The annual event was initiated when WOM was first organized by one of its officers. It involves hard work and long hours, but the fruits can be seen as we look around the world and find Northwest College alumni serving on many mission fields.

box social

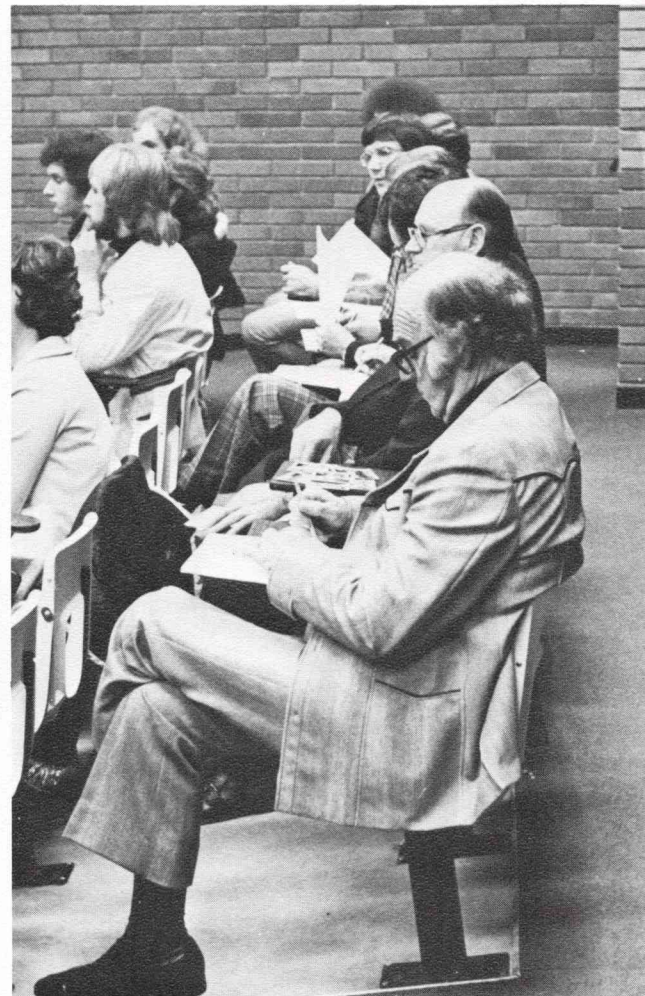

The annual box social is sponsored each year by the A.W.S. It is a fund raising project for missionaries. This year we gave the monies to the McKinney's, who are missionaries to the Philippines. The McKinney's presented slides of their beautiful country and their work. Bro. McKinney gave a short sermonette on missions.

public relations teams

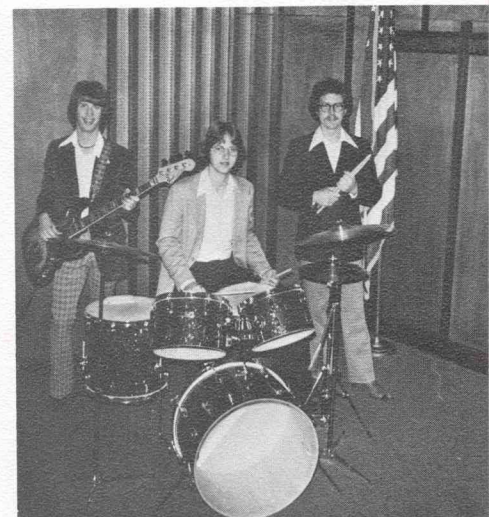

Our Summer Public Relations teams are selected through an auditions program provided by the Public Relations Department of the College. They travel over our region, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming, as well as Colorado and Utah, for ten weeks, ministering in Camp Meetings, Teen Camps and local churches. They have the privilege of contacting personally hundreds of young people who are potential students at N.C.

The College in appreciation for the good work of these students provides a partial tuition scholarship for each team member plus all expenses while on tour as well as small weekly allowance.

"Poems"

Poems are really different things
Some are dull and some are bright
Some couldn't stand against A candle light.

Some are read and some are looked Upon with awe.
Some are only see and saw.

Beautiful, ugly, magestic, ruff.
Some poems even tuffy stuff.

Learning to Become!

As the flower, to stand in its beauty,
it is free.
As the bee, to fly from flower to flower,
it is free.
As the bird, flying in the air to soar,
here and there.
Possibly!
But to become as the Lord has planned, now that is free!

Moss on a Stickerbush

I sat with him;
the first time in so long.
"Papa, can you tell me, what is love?"
He was thoughtful for a long moment.
"I'm not sure I can say," he said.
He nearly blushed at his inadequacy.

Then as I reflected on the man who had comforted me at night when I was young,
and held me in his giant arms,
who cried when I left home;
I blushed that I had asked.

Jim Heugel

Life seems to be a drudgery at times.
There is loneliness that only the lonely can know.
There are heartaches known only to the brokenhearted.
There are frustrations beyond belief,
Happy times come through.
Times when laughter causes tears to run down my face.
There are friendships broken in tears.
There are little things God gives to us to bring joy to a broken heart.
Through all the pain, all the tears, all the laughter, and all the joys,
You are there Lord just waiting for me to look to you.
I praise You for loving me in spite of my weaknesses,
Through all this I can say thank you for the drudgeries of life.

Kandy Kennedy

If we've come too far
to look at the poor in heart
If we've come too far to forget where we got our first start and if we've come too far to step our good selves down and if we've come that far we had better turn around.

Do you remember when you first began tryin' to give your life to God in the only way you can Sometimes the loneliness seemed to get you down
So many times you wished someone would come around.

Look at the children, which no one will care if they really look at us will they find it there
What about the ones, so different from me do I really have the time, to show them calvary?

Is the change that's takin' place really come from me
Or was it a miracle that Jesus did in me?
Help me to understand that I'm just like the rest
Let me see it's God in me, I'm not the best.

Douglas E. Snow

To You

You brought me some sunshine
Whenever you could;
You entered my world
—And you understood—
Oh, you were good!
I want to say thank you
To the friend I once knew.

You were what I needed
In that brief lonely while;
You gave me a planet,
A rainbow,
A smile.
I listened to you
And you listened to me;
I'm glad I could give you
The right to be free,

You told me to live
—For a moment I could—
Thank you! I'm glad
For the friend that I had.

The Little Things

I just want to thank you, Lord
For the little things you've done.
For giving me a brighter day
With Golden drops of sun.

The little things seem so unimportant
To me in the world today.
But actually they prepare my life
For the larger problems on the way.

The little things that hinder me
Are always for my best.
Even though I complain a lot
For every little test.

I just want to thank you Lord
For the little things You've done.
For through these answered prayers I find Relief in Jesus Your Son.

The little things are helping me
To learn great patience each day.
They teach me Lord to praise you
In everything I do or say.

The little things show me God's love
In so many ways.
Lord Jesus, I thank you for the little things
That are in my life to stay

Meleani Hutton

The day I saw your face, I knew God's grace the day He gave you to me the love He gave to me, He gave me liberty the day He gave me to you.

A new vibration came, I'll never be the same the day that Jesus showed you me a new sensation came, a love more than a game
the day that Jesus showed me you.

My life is reassured, since the day I heard the words that said how much you love me
My life is being changed, everything rearranged
Since the day I found I love you.

Life's worth livin' now that I've givin'
all my life to you.

Douglas E. Snow

Flickering light, within you I see life.
You are flexible, you move gracefully with the wind, the changes. Every movement is beautiful. The spirit within me longs to move like you. It wants to accept what comes its way with grace and understanding. It wants to reach out with the warmth of its flame and bring new life to an icy heart. That radiant beauty, how my spirit longs for it . . .

Sally Sonju

Love, true love, is like a beautiful flower.
A very precious flower like unto a rose.

Once, several years ago, when I was a child,
I chanced a walk through a garden. I happened upon a very pretty rose; a rose that stood out from all the rest because of its wondrous beauty.

As I drew near, my desire to possess the rose overwhelmed my cautions. And, like a child,
I picked it.

I had picked this innocent flower before fully understanding the responsibility of my deed.

For a time it became so beautiful, for the flower was all mine. But because the bud had not yet blossomed, it wilted ever so quickly.

I discovered that out of my haste, I had robbed this rose of its potential, its life.

So it began, so it ended.

The garden is still there, and the many flowers ye yet remain. But I have learned a wise lesson:
Many roses will I admire, and a few I will touch, and I shall not pick one. Not until it has fully blossomed, and until such time that I know I am capable of cherishing it.

Why must one decide on a flower when one has not become familiar with the garden? Our youth is yet an infant. We have time to seek and test the fragrance and beauty of other roses.

We must learn to stand alone in this garden.
We must not desire to pick a rose for our own security, our own comfort.

I have seen the flowers and learned of their value.
I am still a child, but I have grown a little wiser by my experience.

I have stopped running through the garden, for the day is yet begun and I must not spoil another rose, for the memory of the first is still with me.

It takes time to know life, to sense in the dark, the presence of Roses.

What is Love, within our lives?
A special look,
A kiss,
A sigh?
A squeeze of our hands,
A sparkle in our eyes,
A gentle embrace that strengthens our tie?
Ah yes, all of the above are there.
But most of all . . .
God's Love is There.

WORDS

Words so often go unspoken.
Words that need to be said.
We take for granted one knows how one feels without them.
Yet to express what one feels is important. So many times when words of praise or comfort or sympathy are needed desperately, you fail to respond. Not that you don't know what to say, you just refuse because of pride and selfishness. It takes too much time and effort to express, so you just let the time slip past, without a response from your lips.

If you could only realize what it does to someone to share an expression of your love by just a simple word or two.
Yet you refuse them to those who love you most. Why?
I'm not real sure.
Why don't you tell me?

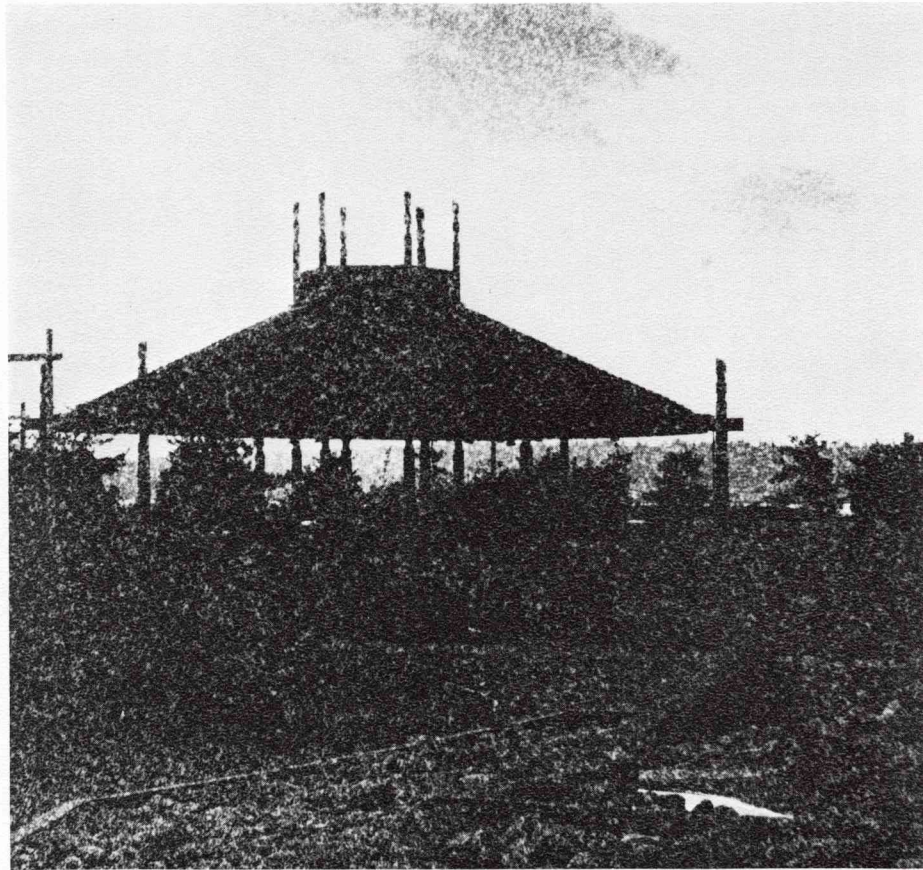

Carolyn Pior

To be free;
to live as we choose to walk in the sun, or the rain.

I've chosen my style and I love it.
I realize seasons change, and mature, undoubtedly, so will I.
But I can accept that.
Change is most often a mark of progress,
and progress brings joy,
not fear.

Sally Sonju

You've got some problems in your life,
Wishin' and hopin' they'd turn out all right.
But the problems get harder and harder to bear.
Thinkin' that life is a drag and you don't really care.

Before your life goes right down the drain
You better look past the mist,
the fog, and the rain.
To see the Savior standin'
and waitin' for you.
The road that leads to Him is straight and it's true.
Jesus my Jesus
Can be your Jesus too
Yes He can, I know He can.

I once had those problems like you.
But now I can see those problems are through.
I know that I've found the way that is free.
He freed me, He'll free you;
this can't you see?

Howard Flaherty

You know, I'm so afraid to show it—
To look in your eyes
Lest you surmise
What lies behind mine—
You must not know it.
Yet—what am I feeling?
My mind is still groping,
Shy, frightened, hoping,
Afraid of what I may soon be revealing.
How could you understand
The hows and the whys?
Why must I hide
What trembles inside, Hiding the hope, newly born in my eyes.
My mask will crumble,
It will fall away—
Yet I'll go along
Stifling my song—
Hoping you'll leave me,
Hoping you'll stay.
Close your eyes, feel the music
Let it set you free;
Learn your own song,
—Sing it loud, sing it strong—Then look through my mast and see me.

Fulfillment

Count not any sacrifice a tragic thing;
If it is done in love the soul can sing;
Count not any offering a tedious drain;
Joyfully proffered, alms return joys's gain;
Taking is not at all as delightful as giving;
The one who gives is the one who is really living;
"It is more blessed to give than to receive,"
A seeming paradox and hard to believe;
Yet Jesus spoke this bit of wisdom new—
And those who try it find that it is true;
A giving heart is an attitude to cherish;
Unselfishness insures that it will not perish;
And though some takers would try to devastate
the giving heart survived—serene, sedate;
So much of the truth of God is self-contained
In this "Giving plan," by the Son of God explained;
It does so much more than taking, ever can;
Wise is the one who promotes this "giving plan."

Rev. Otis Keener was our guest for Winter quarter. Along with the theme of "You can give, You can pray, You can go: Tell Them Now," he spoke from the Word of God to challenge our hearts. We enjoyed the many fascinating stories he related to us. Especially the miracle concerning his gem studded belt buckle of the Taj Mahal. As always, Friday ended the week with the Missionary Parade, displaying all of the colorful costumes. It was another fantastic week in the Lord.

karisma staff: overcoming the obstacles

Karisma . . . How we loved you, and sometimes how we hated you. We loved you when things went right: no pictures ruined, all the copy written all the deadlines met. We loved you for making us all friends so we could share all the good times and a few bad ones.

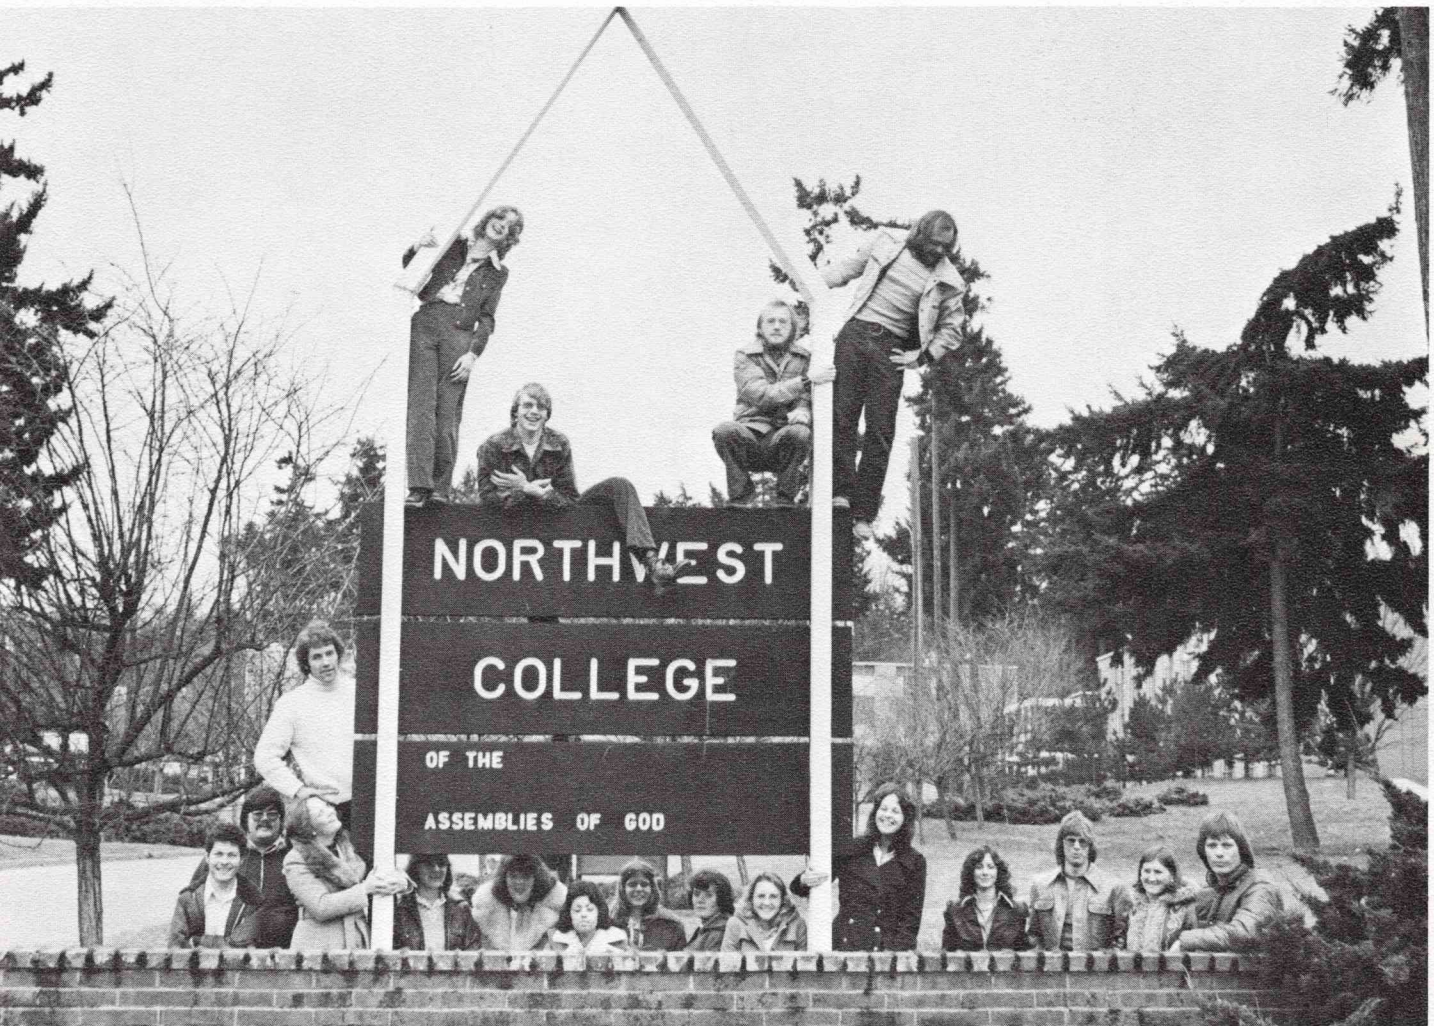

We hated you for lost sleep, sick bodies, suffering grades, and lots of stress and strain. But, when we can sit down and look at the finished yearbook, we realize it was worth it all.

To the staff we say "Thank you" for all the help you have given us this year.

gospel teams

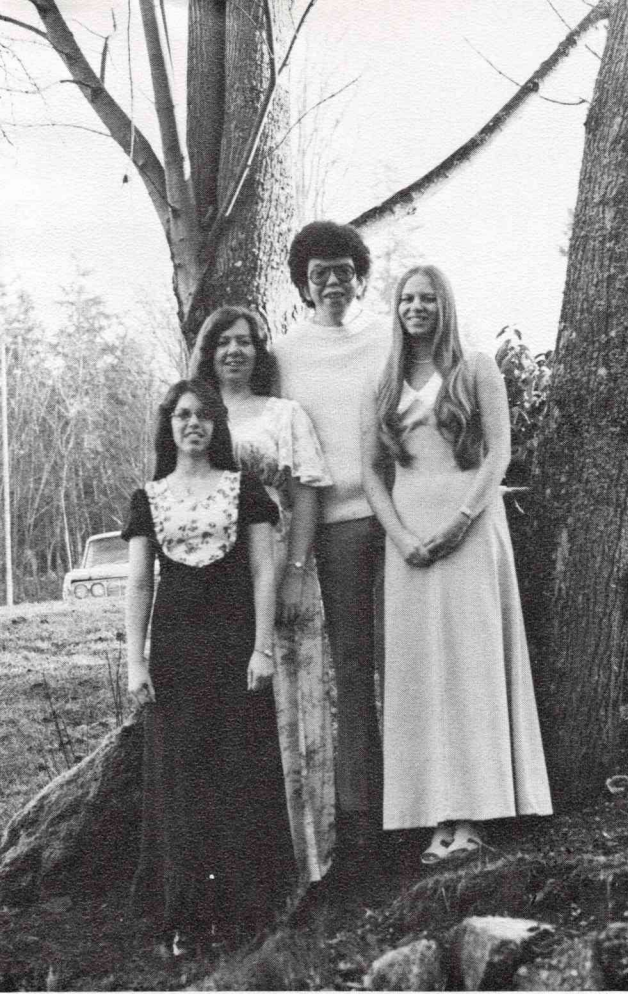

Each year Gospel Teams are formed to go out and minister to churches in and around the Seattle area. Prospective teams must "try-out" before being approved. Gospel teams minister with music, personal testimonies, and a brief sermonette. This year, there are five teams representing Northwest College. They operate under the leadership of Don Ross, the Gospel Team Mig leader.

This fragment of a revolutionary declaration is as much in point now as in 1776, or in 76, after Jesus said it and just before St. John recorded it. It is Christ's word to you, and your challenge to your world. Proclaim it boldly. We congratulate you, and wish you Godspeed!

The time for memories is creeping upon us. To take over our thoughts of reality. They play upon our fondest, most cherished feelings of yore. We do not remember the unlovely, sad memories, for they hurt us, only the good will be remembered in our hearts. The laughter in the halls, in our rooms, the crazy pranks we pulled. The ones we've grown to dearly love will slip away into individual worlds of our own. Ones who have been placed in our paths to learn from and to share with, will always be in our memories. ... Ah memories, so so sweet, so tender, so very dear to me. I will always remember.
Carolyn Pior
