

KARISMA

This annual is dedicated to Professor Dwayne Turner, Professor of Christian Education. Professor Turner will be leaving Northwest College at the close of the school year 73-74 to fulfill God's call to the mission field of the Philippine Islands. Professor Turner has given a quality Christian Education training to many NC graduates. We will miss his quality teaching, but we will also pray that God will protect and guide him as he follows God's perfect will.

ORGANIZATIONS

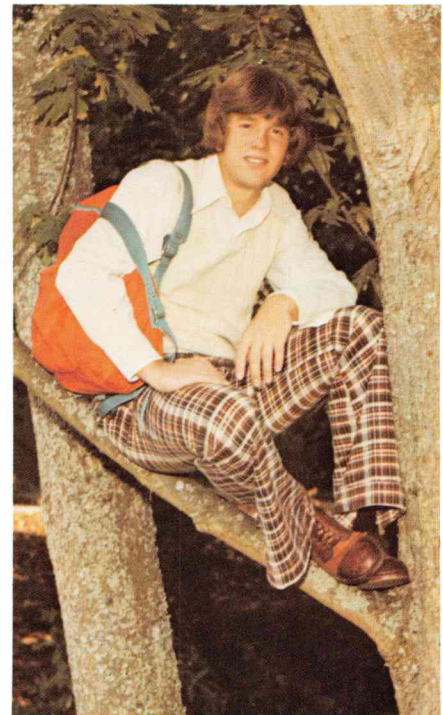

Leadership doesn't begin when the first bell rings for classes to start. Before any students even darkened the doors of classrooms, preparation, planning and many hours of discussion were spent talking about the upcoming school year. A retreat was held at Coronet Bay near Deception Pass on the Washington coast just for this occasion. Not only were the student leaders involved, but the faculty and administration made important contributions to the work that was accomplished.

The success of a school year depends upon the dedication of the people who are in positions of leadership. Northwest College grew in many aspects. A lot of its growth was a result of the leadership qualities exhibited by our A.S.B. officers.

The "Eagles" finished the season with a 18-6 record. DEAR LORD

Help me
As I walk this way of life,
To leave
An impression (like footprints in stone)
In the Lives of the people
I touch
Each day I live.
For it is
My desire to make my life
Patterned after
You.
May I Remember how
You
Left a
Permanent mark in the lives
Of people
As you walked thru
Their hearts.

REGISTRATION

OCTOBER

AT NORTHWEST...

I am sad
But, I'm happy!
I am discontented with myself;
Yet, this is where I'll stay for now.

I am lonely.
I have lots of friends...
I am lonely.

I am afraid
But, I've got confidence.
I see things clearly
But my mind feels so foggy.

I am discontented
But God is speaking through my discontentment
So, I want to stay for now.

ONE DROP OF LOVE AND A LITTLE DOVE

God took one drop of His great love,
And He fed it to a new-born dove.
Then He sent that dove to peck a hole in my heart,
And to hide that love in a secluded part.

If He'd left it that way, it would have just died,
But Christ watered it with the blood from His side,
And that little drop grew 'til it filled all the space.
It crowded out the evil, and cleaned up the place.

Now it's starting to show to the people around,
And they all want to know what it is that I've found.
I tell them to ask for a drop from above.
Just one little drop of His almighty love.

NOVEMBER

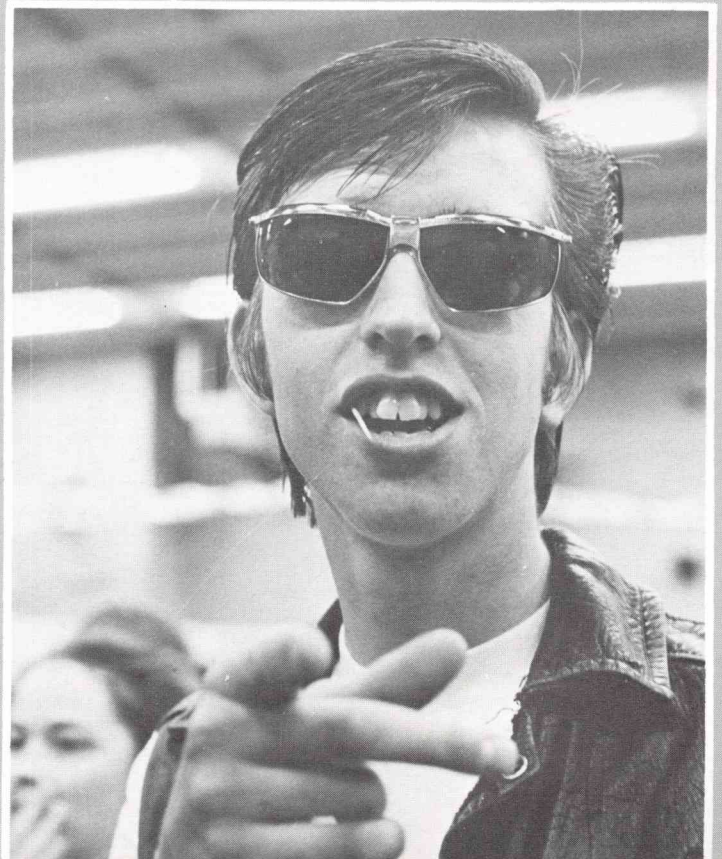

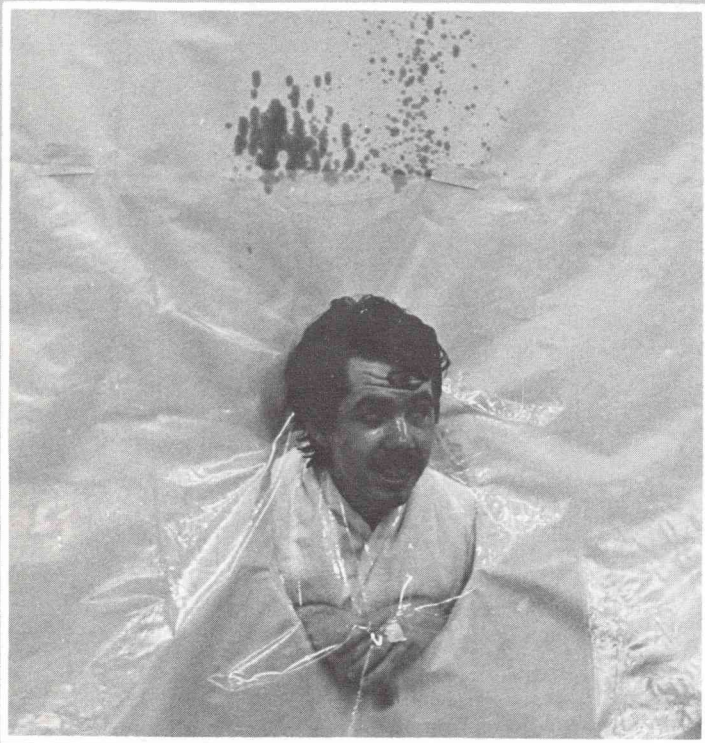

An undefined source of communication
A glance speaks freely
Eyes render hidden truths
Guarded secrets lost
Deep feelings exchanged
A special love beings.

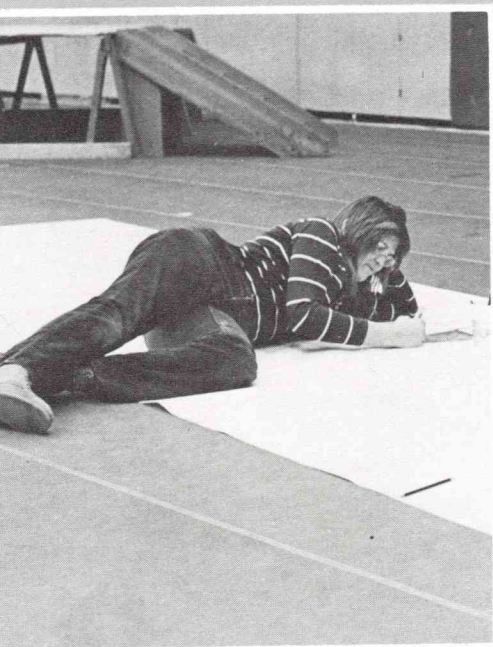

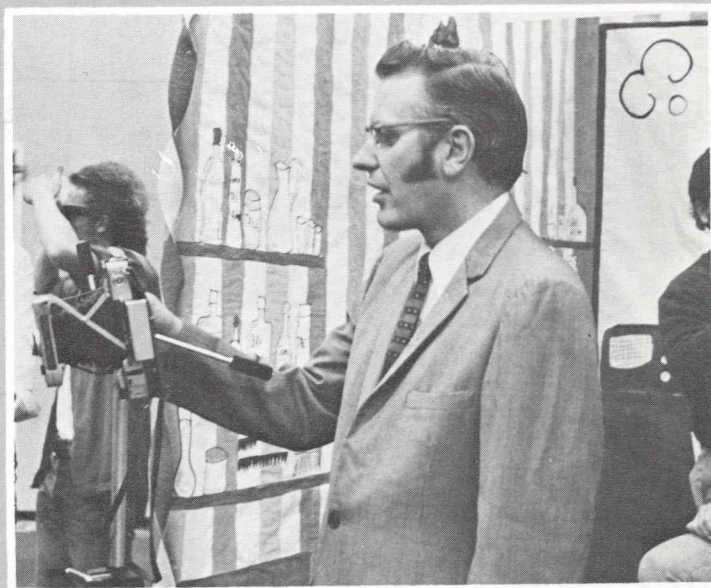

A. Dickson

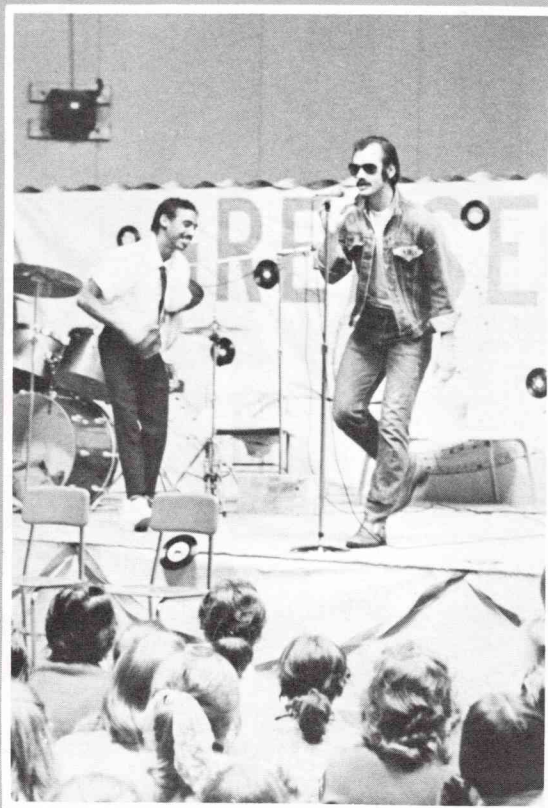

Lord, I love Thy morning
When the sun breaks through:
When the birds are glad with singing,
And the grass is wet with dew:
When all the world is full of living,
An all nature seems to pray,
"Thou hast kept us through the darkness,
Father, guide us through the day!"
For it always will remind me
It was morning in my soul,
On the day I met my Saviour,
When He touched and made me whole.

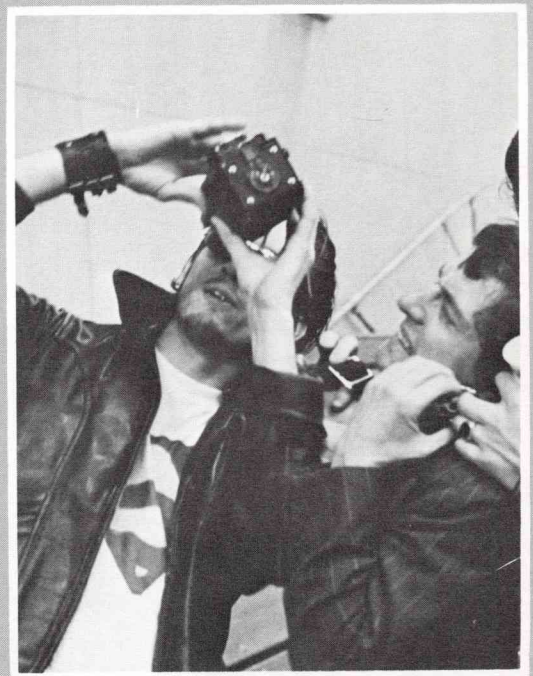

by Barbara E. Cornet

DECEMBER

When you're around, I'm not aware.
When you're gone,
The silent boredom pierces my senses.
When I think I may have hurt you,
I shudder,
For it was not an intentional act,
Just a result of my uncertainty.

A. Dickson

"Unto you is born this day a Saviour"
Which is Jesus Christ the wondrous Lord;
Not a "teacher," not a "good example,"
But the Son of God, the Living Word.

No "philosopher," his fancies weaving,
Warp of dreams and woof of visions vast,
Not a "prophet," peering down the future,
Not a "scholar," delving in the past.

"Unto you is born this day a Saviour";
Shine, O star! and shout, O angel voice!
Unto you this precious gift is given;
Sing, O earth! and all ye Heavens, rejoice!

Long the world has waited such a Saviour,
Sunk in sin and torn by fear and doubt;
Long in darkness groped for truth and wisdom;
Glory, glory, now the light shines out!

"Unto you is born this day a Saviour,"
Earth's one hope, the Life the Truth, the Way,
Mighty God and glorious Redeemer,
Jesus Christ the Lord is born today.

by Annie Johnson Flint.

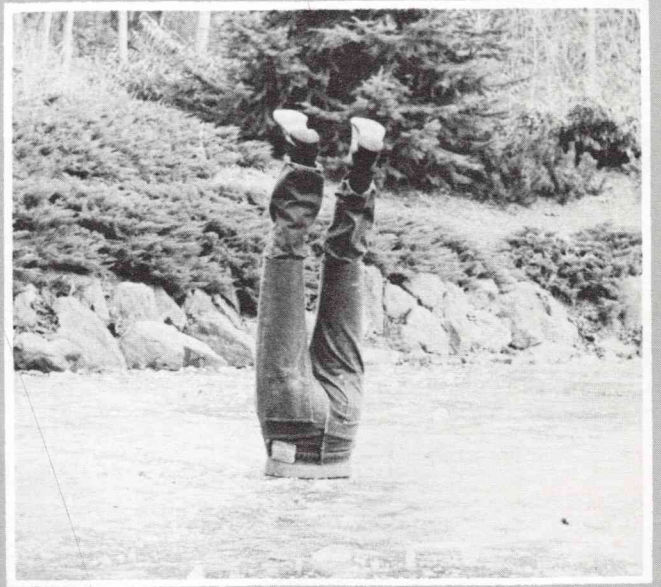

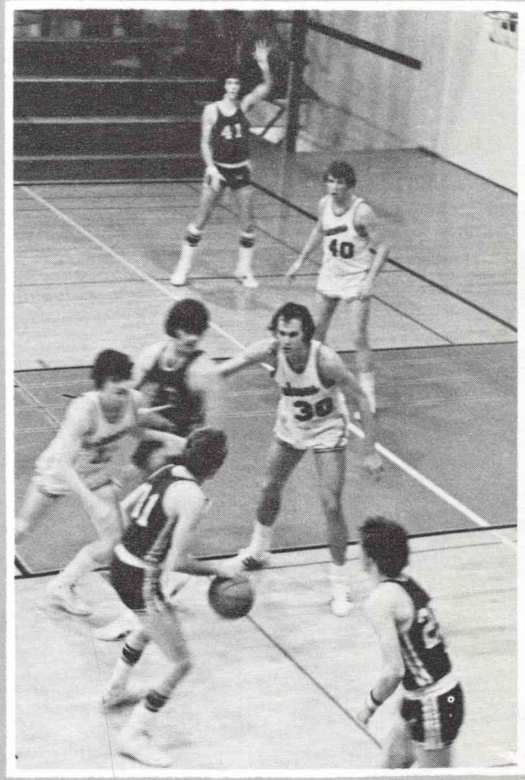

JANUARY

When the snow comes . . .
It leaves a blanket of clean white covering
It excites one to see this beauty God has given to man
There is just no end to God's giving
Jesus, his life was given for man,
So that our hearts could be as clean as the blanket of snow.
But not like the winter snow which melts come spring.
Our hearts can be pure and white as long as Jesus is in our lives.

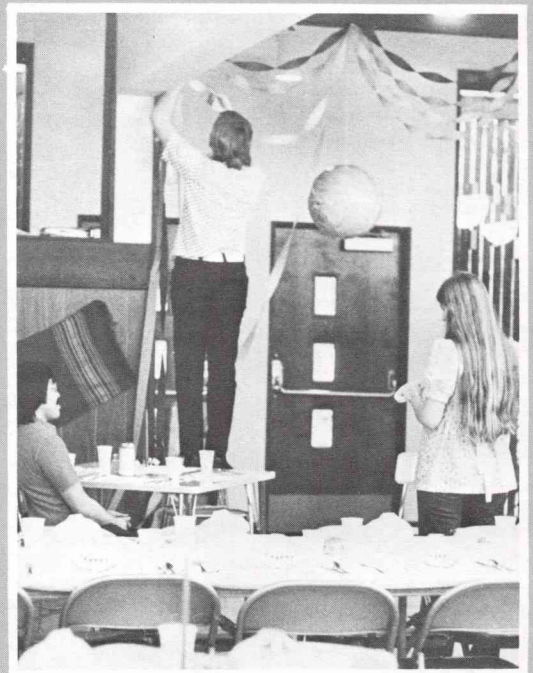

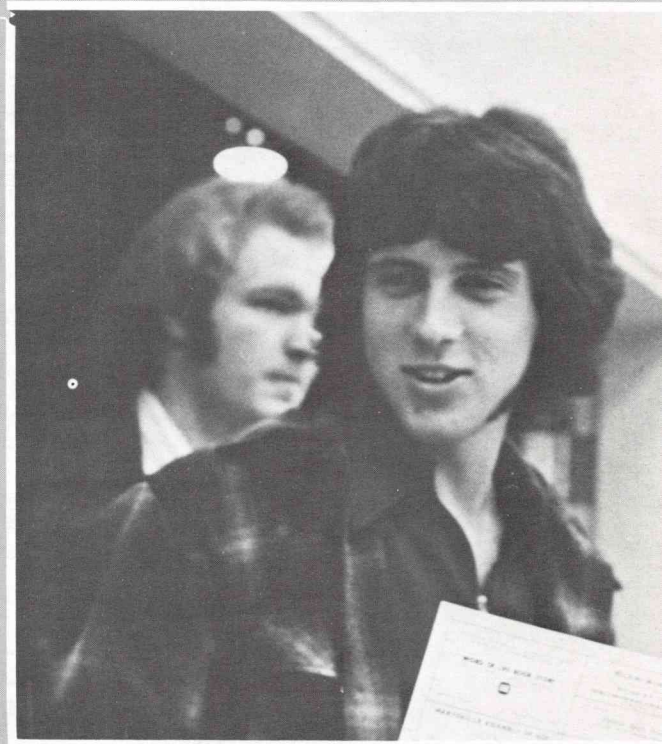

Cindy Pospisil

In such a quiet time as this
The beautiful music,
The glittering snow fall,
I can only think of Jesus . . .
the creator of all beautiful things
Such as this quiet moment.

FEBRUARY

SUNDROP KEEP

From under God's blazing bright
Son-Light sky.
A small twinkling sun,
You shone and sparkled
Through a dew-drop on a leaf!
A single, glowing ray,
Smiling a rainbow
Across the dawn shadow.
One simple and tender reflection touched,
and warmed me!

Thomas A. Neumann

World of Love Within

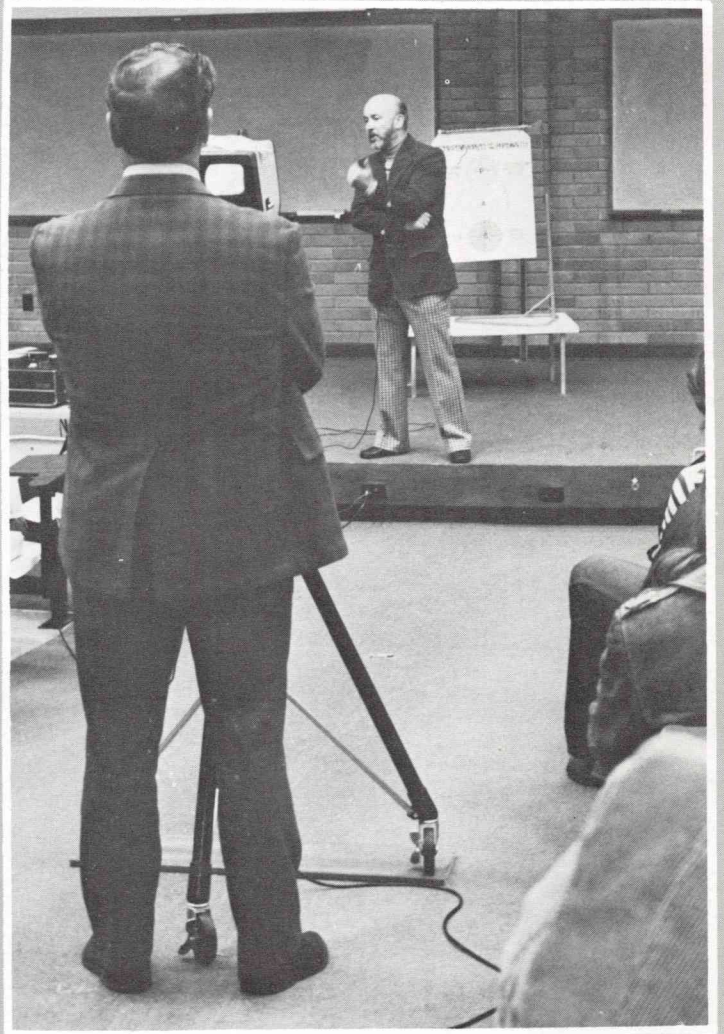

The sun's shining down on a world of love and Jesus is here within me.
He's not hidden from me in the clouds above
but He's near and most real to me.

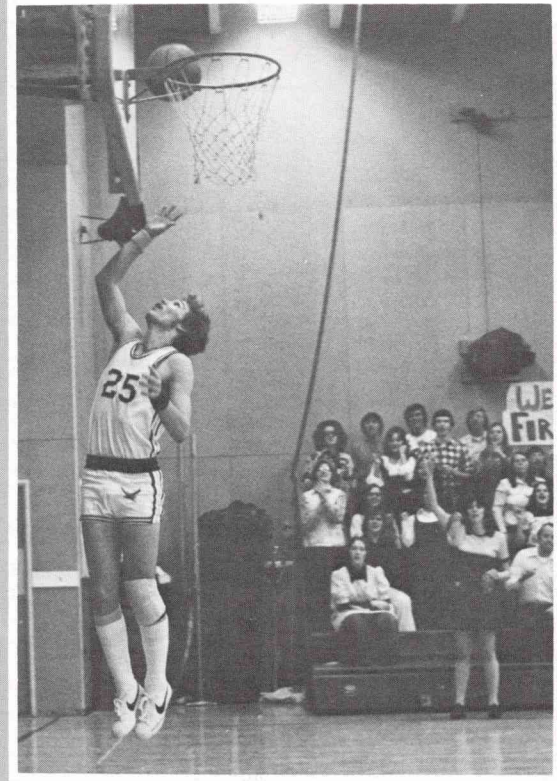

Though the world's filled with heartbreak and sorrow
I have nothing to fear.
I have a bright shining hope for tomorrow because Christ is always so near.

The blue sky covers this abode of sweet life, life from creation intended to be Free of the troubles and problems and strife that plague this mass called humanity.

The sun's shining down on a world filled with love and I too am glowing most brightly,
Because I have known the touch of the lamb, the spirit dove,
as they soothed so gently so lightly.

Victoria Lynn Walgren

MARCH

"An old man, going a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide,
Through which was flowing a raging tide.
The old man crossed in twilight dim;
The sullen stream had no fears for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," said a fellow-pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building here;
Your journey will end with the closing day;
You never again will pass this way.
You've crossed the chasm deep and wide.
Why build you this bridge at eventide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head.
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said
"There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm which has been as naught to me,
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."

L. B. Cowman

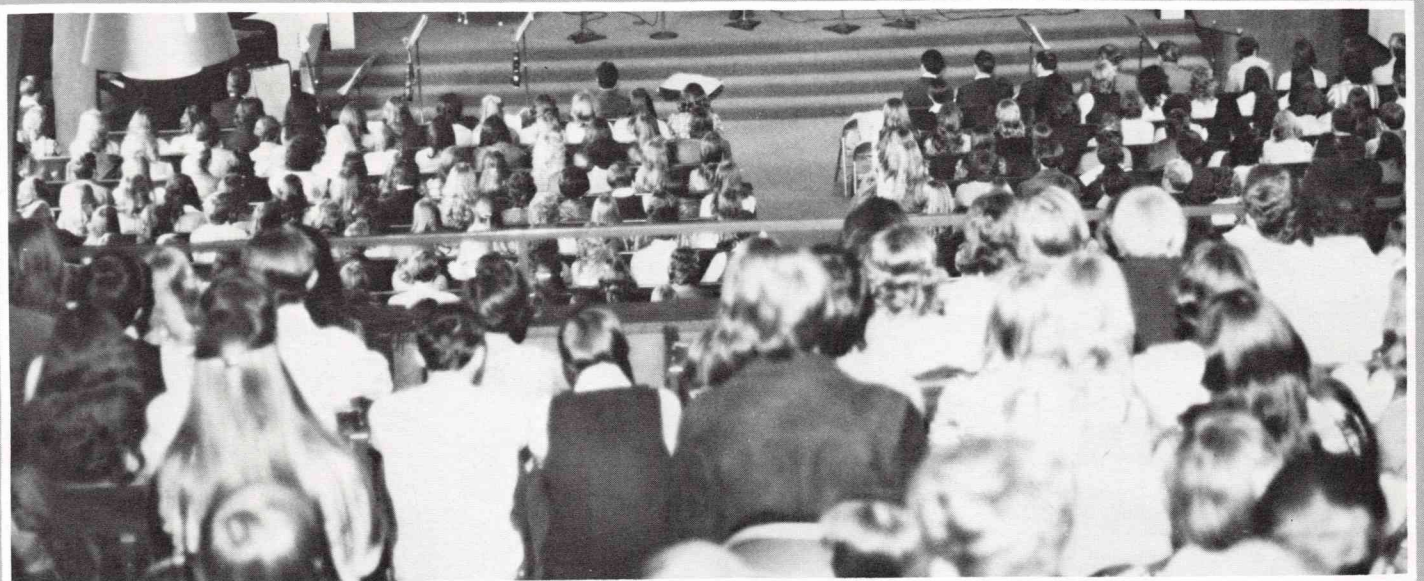

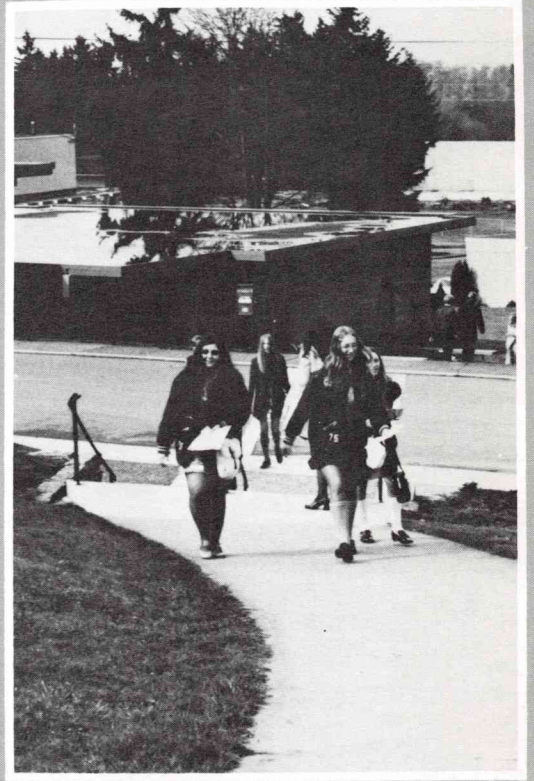

The gentle tenderness of Love
So sweet to see in an elderly couple holding hands;
So sweet to see in a couple just starting a new life together.

To experience this precious Love
Is to know just how never-dying, ever-growing Love is.

Hopefully our Love for Christ is like this Love or greater.

For God is Love and He gave us Love to reap,
Not to stifle, but for us to use.
For the more love we give,
the more we have to share with others and Christ.

Cynthia Pospisil

APRIL

And what might you mean by love, dear sir?
Is it to hold and clasp for the moment I am there or is it for all to believe in, hope for, strive to receive?

Or can it be that we should simply let it fill,
control and invade us?

Love can be forceful and insistent. The Love of Jesus is . . .

It is there so powerfully, there to be taken.
A constant love.

Love can be forceful but not forced upon you.
It can wrap itself around us, enclose us and I like to think that it warms us,

When I come to love you, I want it to be as with Jesus, always there, forceful, insistent, warm and constant.

by Cyndie Hutchinson

This Love From God

Nothing more can two people share
than this Love from God

Nowhere is there another that I could care for and to share with this Love from God

Never is my heart to break for always shall remain this Love from God

Always is a long, long time and happy am I to share this Love from God

I continue and it grows more each day
this Love from God

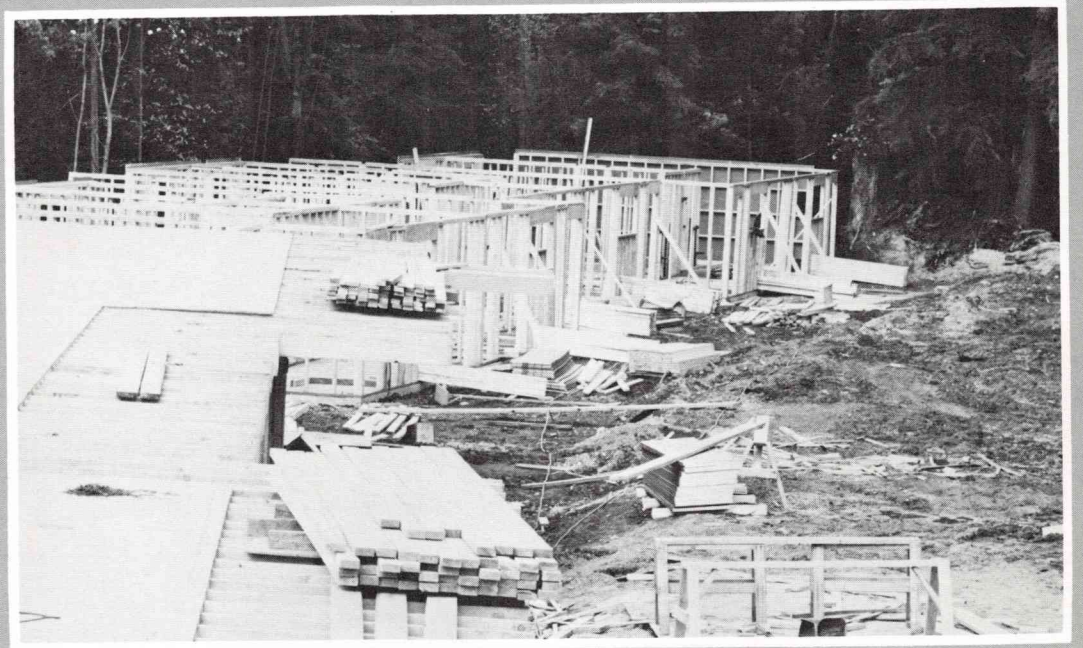

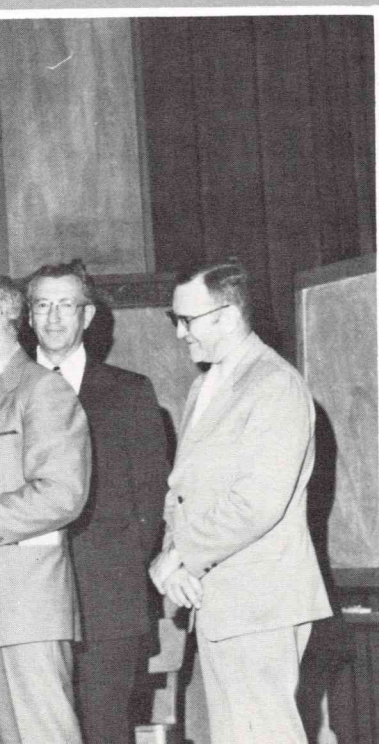

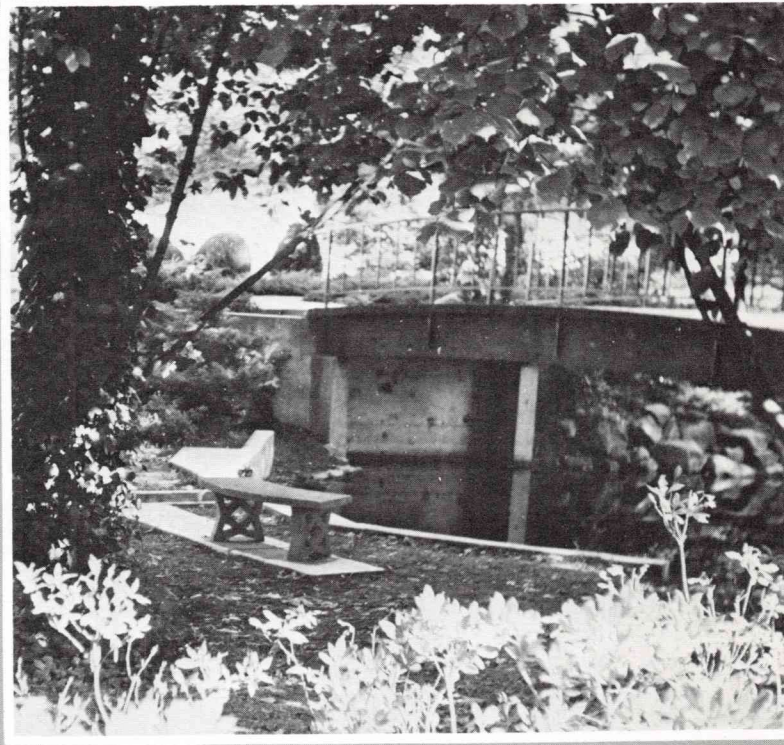

If we walk together or apart something remains deep within our hearts

this Love from God.

MAY

Five years from now
will I wish I could return to this moment.
Alone, and at peace with my thoughts,
unattached and sure of my past,
Will I pray to recapture this moment or will I wish I could assure myself that my future is brighter than my past and that my life grows in brightness as the years progress.

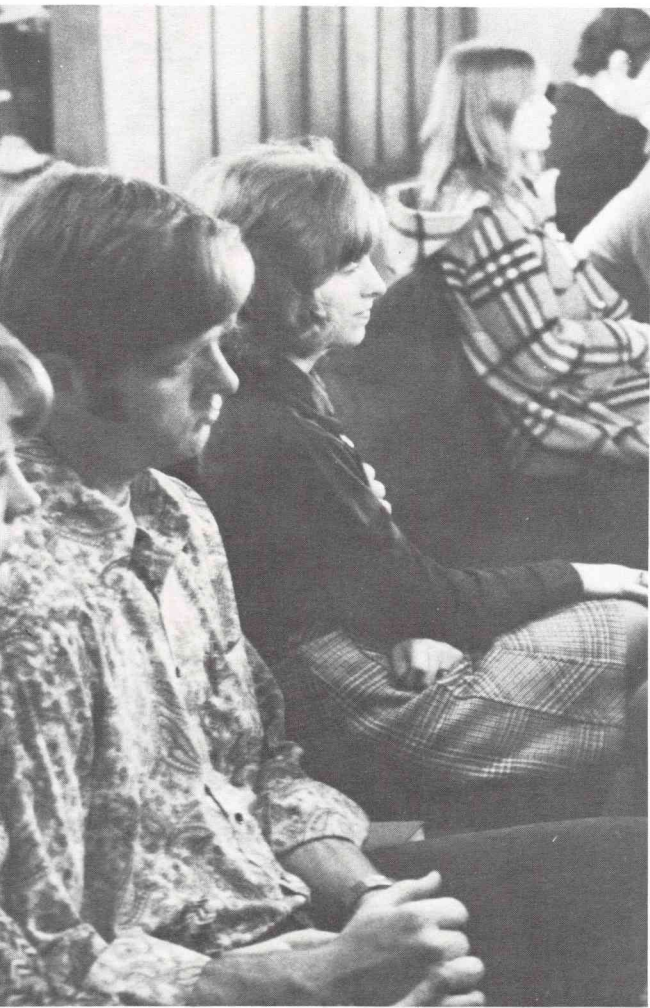

A. Dickson

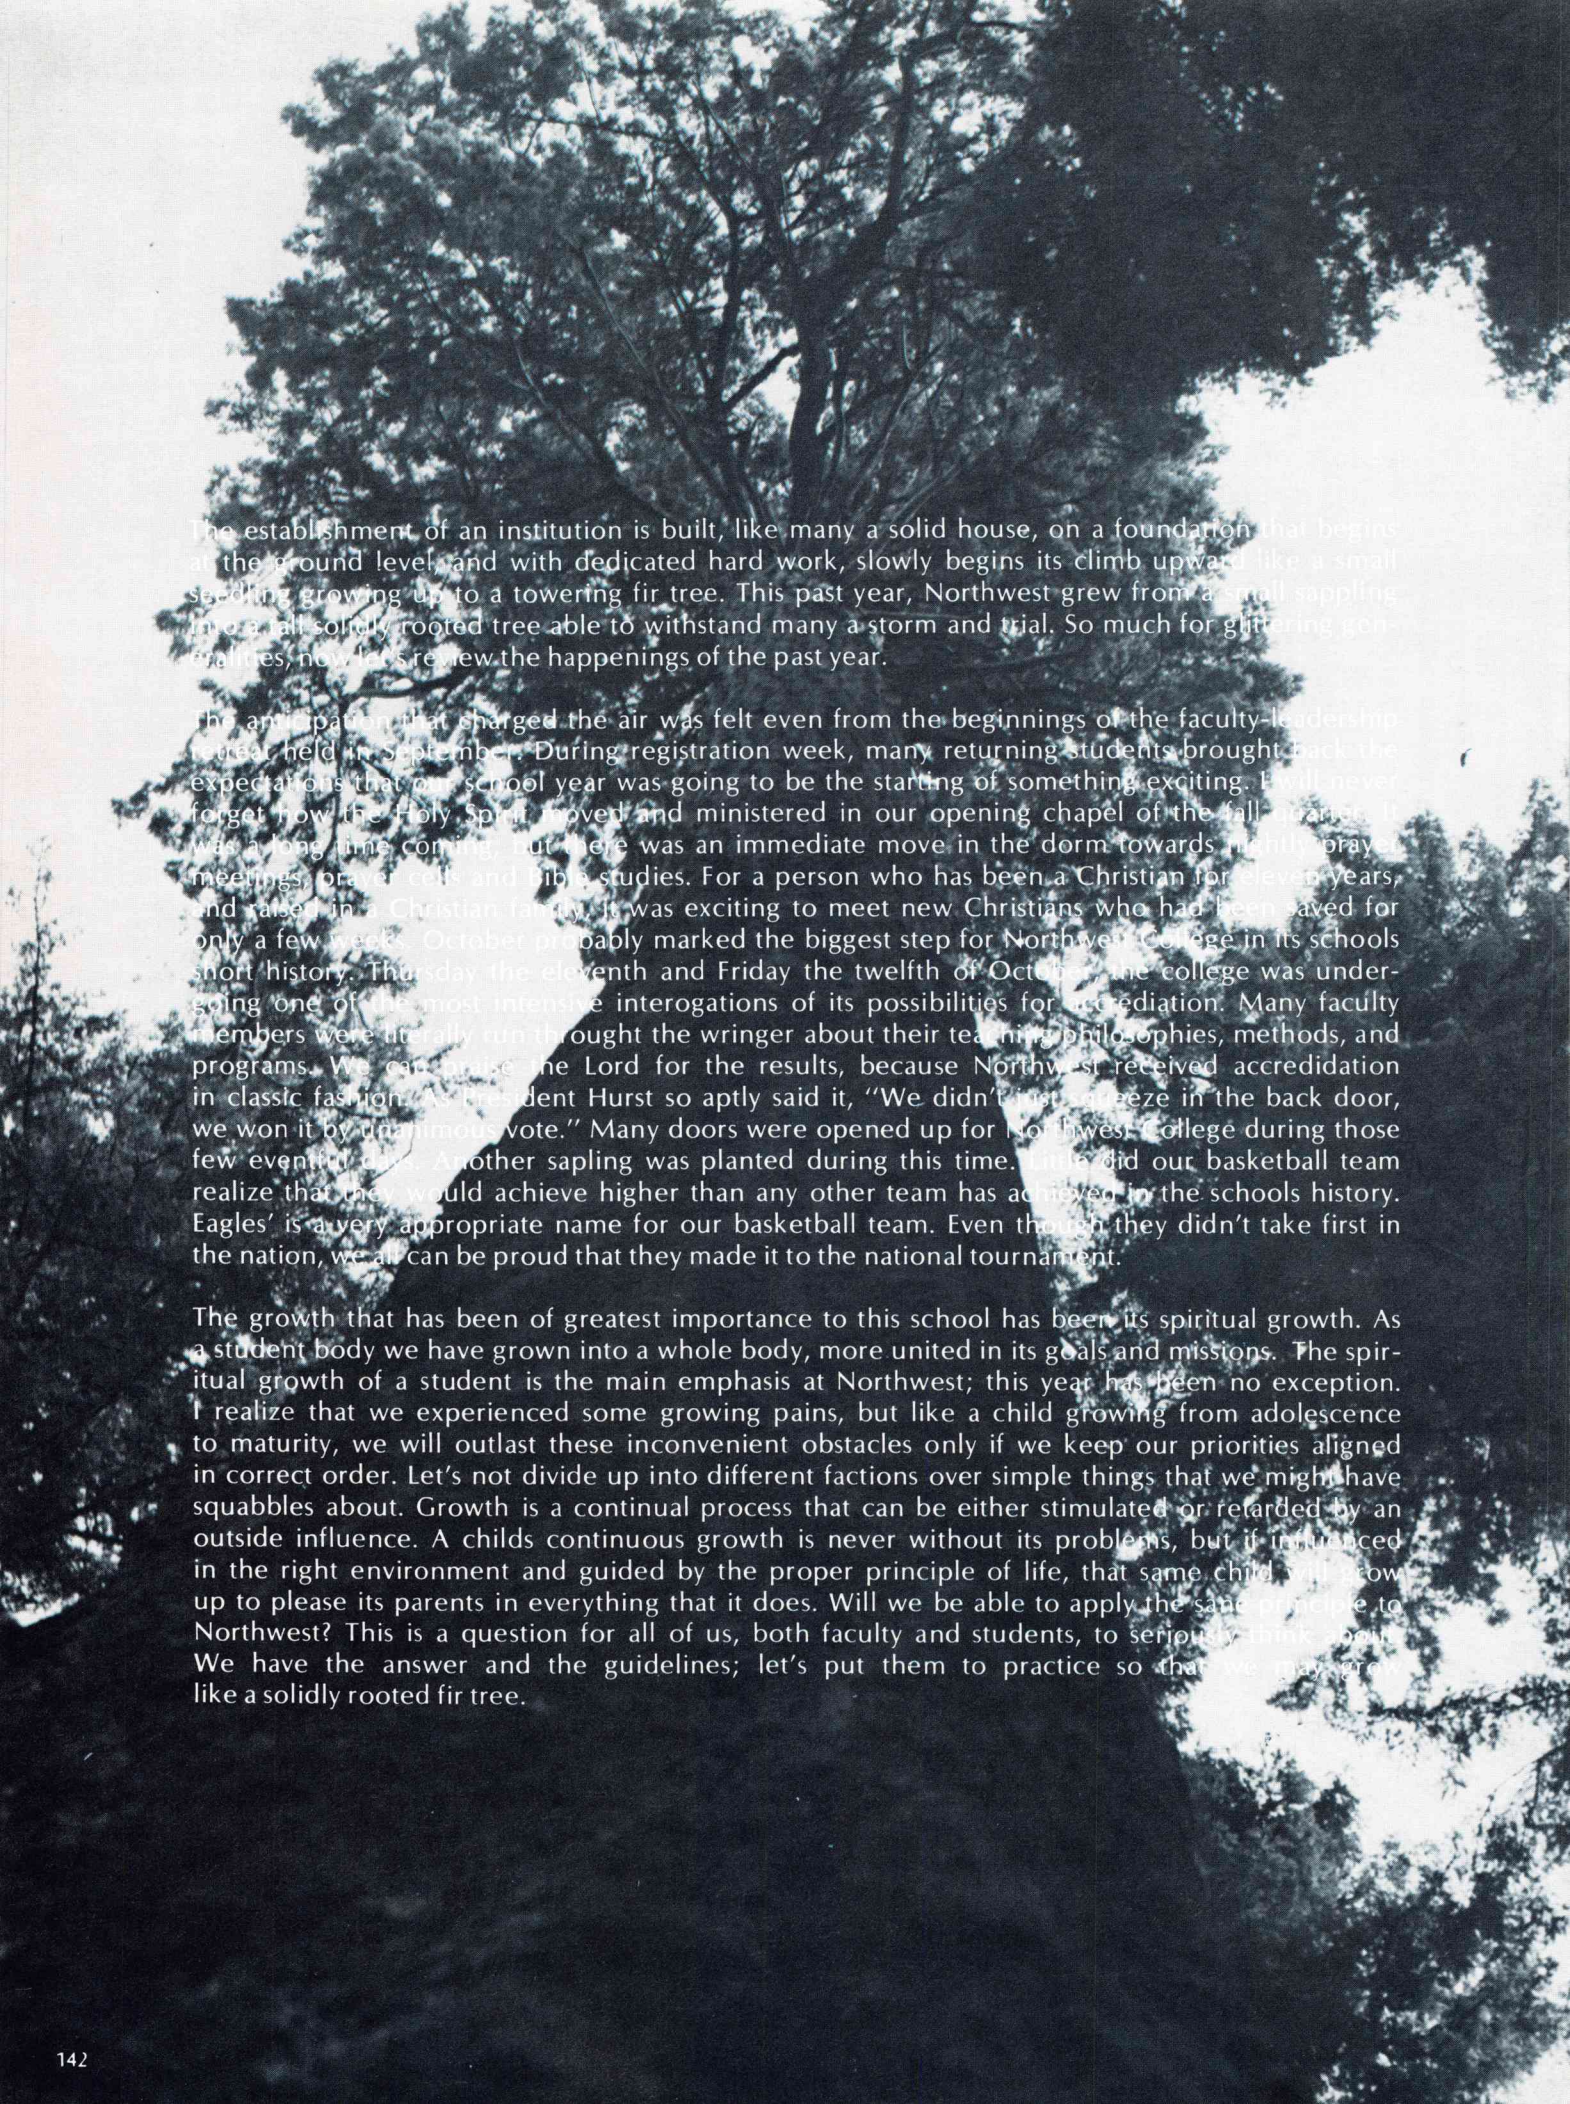

It's hard to believe this day is gone
The sadness is over, no longer to go on
With tomorrow to bring real Joy like a child with a new toy.

Ellen Cook

The establishment of an institution is built, like many a solid house, on a foundation that begins at the ground level and with dedicated hard work, slowly begins its climb upward like a small seedling growing up to a towering fir tree. This past year, Northwest grew from a small sapling into a tall solidly rooted tree able to withstand many a storm and trial. So much for glittering generalities, now let's review the happenings of the past year.

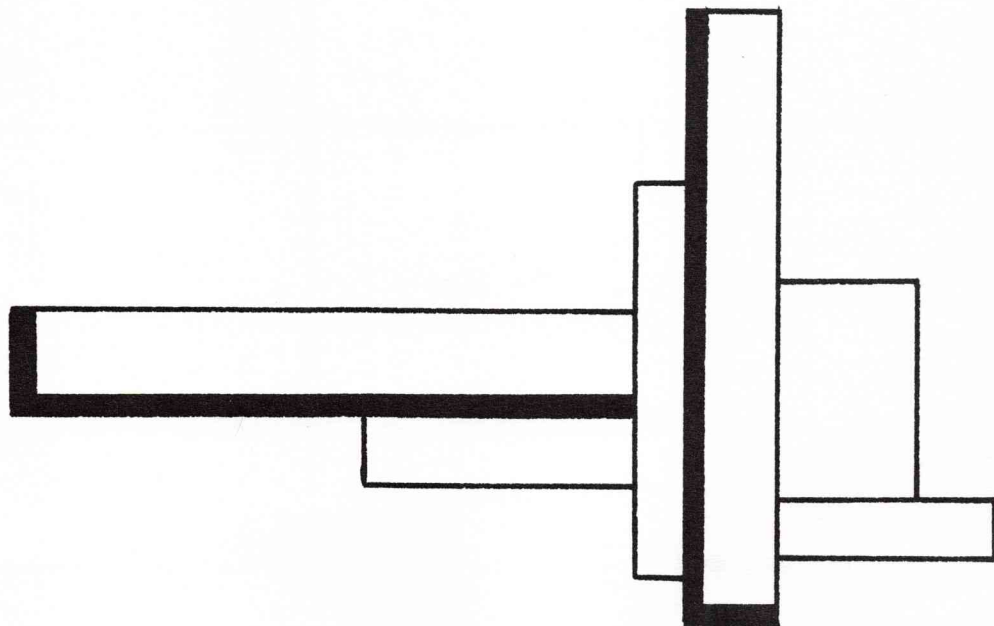

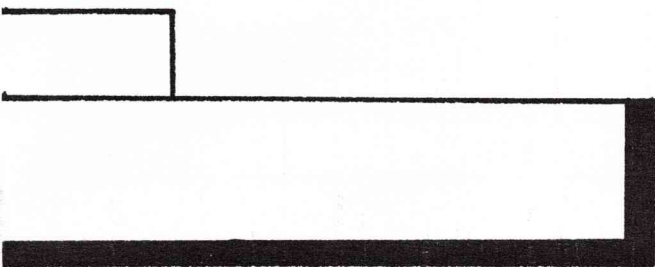

The anticipation that charged the air was felt even from the beginnings of the faculty-leadership retreat held in September. During registration week, many returning students brought back the expectations that our school year was going to be the starting of something exciting. I will never forget how the Holy Spirit moved and ministered in our opening chapel of the fall semester. It was a long time coming, but there was an immediate move in the dorm towards nightly prayer meetings, prayer cells and bible studies. For a person who has been a Christian for eleven years, and raised in a Christian family, it was exciting to meet new Christians who had been saved for only a few weeks. October probably marked the biggest step for Northwest College in its schools short history. That day the eleventh and Friday the twelfth of October, the college was undergoing one of the most intense interogations of its possibilities for accreditation. Many faculty members were literally run through the wringer about their teaching philosophies, methods, and programs. We can praise the Lord for the results, because Northwest received accreditation in classic fashion. As President Hurst so aptly said it, "We didn't get in the back door, we won it by unanimous vote." Many doors were opened up for Northwest College during those few eventful days. Another sapling was planted during this time. Who did our basketball team realize that they would achieve higher than any other team has achieved in the schools history. Eagles' is a very appropriate name for our basketball team. Even though they didn't take first in the nation, we all can be proud that they made it to the national tournament.

The growth that has been of greatest importance to this school has been its spiritual growth. As a student body we have grown into a whole body, more united in its goals and missions. The spiritual growth of a student is the main emphasis at Northwest; this year has been no exception. I realize that we experienced some growing pains, but like a child growing from adolescence to maturity, we will outlast these inconvenient obstacles only if we keep our priorities aligned in correct order. Let's not divide up into different factions over simple things that we might have squabbles about. Growth is a continual process that can be either stimulated or retarded by an outside influence. A childs continuous growth is never without its problems, but if influenced in the right environment and guided by the proper principle of life, that same child will grow up to please its parents in everything that it does. Will we be able to apply the same principle to Northwest? This is a question for all of us, both faculty and students, to seriously think about. We have the answer and the guidelines; let's put them to practice so that we may grow like a solidly rooted fir tree.
